Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., says: I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

Your Attention,
Please!

It becomes my duty to ask all who are indebted to me to call and settle (cash or negotiable paper) immediately.

About nine months ago, I changed from a credit business to a STRICTLY CASH BASIS. My reasons for so doing were many. The principal one was, I could sell goods for a smaller rate of profit, as there would be no loss from poor accounts, etc.

Now, having put it to the test, I find my expectations fully realized. Trade with me is good and constantly getting better. The public is slowly but surely learning that and that it's the only satisfactory way of doing business—better for you—better for all concerned.

At the time of closing my books and going on a cash basis there was, and still is, a very large number of accounts on my books. Some have been paid, but there are too many that remain unpaid.

I need the money. If you have an account on my books, be it small or large, an immediate settlement is requested. If you do not come in, I will certainly have to call on you.

Thanking you for your patronage, and trusting that by square dealing, good goods, one cash price to all, (and that price less than credit dealers' prices), to deserve a share of your trade, I beg to remain,

Sincerely yours,

ALVA SPAYDE.

AFTER A LONG SEARCH

Relatives Separated Years Ago at Last Reunited.

ANN ARBOR PEOPLE MADE HAPPY

Mrs. John Schneider, Jr., and Mrs. John Haarer Have Found a Cousin and Mrs. Zimmerman a Wealthy Nephew.

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 11.—Mrs. John Schneider, Jr., and Mrs. John Haarer of this city have found a first cousin they have long been looking for, and Mrs. Christine Zimmerman has located her long-lost nephew in the person of George J. Titus, a Chicagoan, 60 years old, and wealthy. The relationship was traced by Mrs. Schneider and Leonard Zimmerman of Chicago, Mrs. Schneider's brother. Mr. Titus is overjoyed to find that he has more relatives than he had been brought up to believe he had.

Frederick Imel and wife and one daughter set out from Rosefelt, Wurtemberg, Germany, many years ago, bound for America. The nearest seaport was Bremen and the best way of getting there was by canal boat. The wife and daughter started out on one of the boats, with the understanding that the husband should follow a short time later, and that they would meet in Bremen. A storm delayed Imel's boat thirty days and when he reached Bremen what was his horror to find that the boat on which he had engaged passage for himself and family to America had sailed, and that the wife and child were on board. He could do nothing but wait for the next boat, and after a forty days' voyage he landed at New York. The sailing boats had no fixed destination in those days so he was utterly at loss to know where the family had landed. He instituted the best search possible, but they were nowhere to be found.

Had Their Own Troubles.

In the meantime the wife and daughter had been having troubles of their own. Their boat had landed at Philadelphia instead of New York, as had been expected, but through their ignorance of the country and the language they did not have a very definite idea of where they were. The mother took her daughter with her to Buffalo and within a short time a son was born. Mrs. Imel resided in Buffalo for two years and finding no trace of her husband married a man named Titus. The two children took the name of their stepfather and the Titus family removed to Chicago after a short residence in Buffalo, and purchased land from the government where Lincoln park is now located.

In 1854 Frederick Imel chanced to be in Buffalo and he learned that his wife had formerly lived there and had married and moved away. He did not care to play Enoch Arden nor did he fancy sacrificing himself for his wife's peace of mind, so he hunted up another spouse and went back to New York. He died there at the age of 76, in 1892.

The parents of George J. (Imel) Titus are both dead, and it was the fact that he had taken his stepfather's name that made the search for him so difficult. His change of name was finally learned through an uncle in Norfolk, Ont., and with this as her guide Mrs. Schneider went to Chicago a few weeks ago determined to locate the long lost relative. There are two large estates in Germany which could never have been settled if he had not been located.

Mesdames Schneider and Haarer are daughters of Mrs. Zimmerman, who was Frederick Imel's sister. She came to America several years after her brother's tragic experience.

Birds That Lay Four Eggs.

The spotted sandpiper and killdeer plover and most of the other snipe and plover lay four eggs at a clutch. The eggs are arranged in the nest or on the bare ground with their small ends together, and as they are pyriform in shape they join in to perfection. The eggs of the snipe and plover groups are proportionately exceedingly large for the size of the bird, and the saving of space by this arrangement undoubtedly answers a purpose.

LAND COMMISSIONER WILDEY.

His Report Shows Large Increase During Past Year.

Lansing, Mich., July 9.—Land Commissioner Wildey has completed his report for the fiscal year, which ended July 1. This report shows that at the close of the year the state held a total of 680,508.85 acres of land of all classes for sale and homestead entry.

The whole number of acres of land held by the state at the beginning of the year was 643,360.79; acres of part-paid lands forfeited to the state during the year, 365.07; acres of swamp homestead land forfeited to the state, 1,440; acres of tax homestead land deeded to the state by the auditor-general under the act of 1893, 92,715.50; acres of tax homestead lands reverted to the state, 134,625.51; acres of swamp land patented to the state by the general government, 30.95; total, 872,538.72.

The total number of acres of all classes of land except tax homestead sold during the year was 28,741.12; acres of swamp land licensed, 360, acres entered as homesteads, under act of 1893, 12,098.18; acres of tax homestead lands sold, 150,750.57; acres restored to the state as tax lands from tax homestead lands by reason of certificates of error issued by auditor general against deeds by which such lands were conveyed to the state, 80; acres held by the state for sale and homestead entry, 680,508.85; total 872,528.72. The lands held by the state July 1, 1904, are classified as follows: Primary school land, 41,671.33; agricultural college land, 52,254.12; salt spring land, 240; asylum land, 958.98; swamp land, 28,759.51; tax homestead land, 553,508.85; total, 680,508.85.

The receipts of the state land office for the year on account of lands sold during the year and for principal, interest and penalty received on sales made in former years amounted to $320,391.04, an increase of about $125,000 over last year.

B. Y. P. U. A. OFFICERS.

Convention Will Be Held Biennially Hereafter.

Detroit, Mich., July 9.—The B. Y. P. U. convention transacted its regular annual business at the Light Guard armory meeting, electing officers, receiving reports and voting to hold biennial conventions hereafter. John H. Chapman of Chicago was re-elected president. The vice-presidents were all re-elected in spite of the statement of George Miller of Baltimore, Md., that he positively declined re-election. Miller is at present fighting for his eyesight in a darkened room. Rev. H. W. Reed, Ph. D., of Rock Island, Ill., was again appointed recording secretary and H. B. Osgood of Chicago will continue as treasurer. G. Jay Vinton of Detroit was again elected member of the executive committee. A. H. Finn, also of Detroit, was elected member from Michigan on the board of managers.

Overheated Knives Cause $50,000 Fire.

Manistee, Mich., July 9.—A blaze was started in the Canfield East Lake mill by grinding knives working hot, and in a short time the entire plant, covering nearly two acres, was a complete wreck. The plant was acquired two months ago by the Peters Salt & Lumber Co. at a cost of $50,000 and was leased to McKillip & Hopper. A salt well in connection, operated by Peters, was the only thing saved. One hundred and fifty men are thrown out of employment, as the mill will not be rebuilt. It was fully insured.

Thumb's First Postmistress Dead.

Bad Axe, Mich., July 9.—Mrs. Eunice Brown, aged 92, a resident of Michigan since 1837, and of Bad Axe for forty years, is dead. Her father was an officer in the revolutionary war and her son in the civil war. She was the first postmistress in the Thumb.

Bay City Man Found Dead.

Mason, Mich., July 9.—James Bligh of East Bay City was found dead in bed. Bligh was about 60 years old and for some time had been foreman of a gravel pit owned by Hugh Campbell of Bay City. An inquest will be held.

Ticket Scalpers Enjoined.

St. Joseph, Mich., July 9.—Judge Coolige has handed down an opinion sustaining the injunction secured by the Pere Marquette railroad company to prevent fourteen ticket scalpers in this city from selling their tickets.

PARKER AND DAVIS

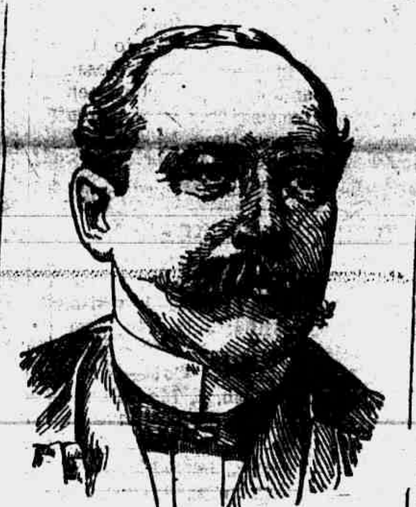
Nominated by Democrats as Their Standard Bearers.

HELD AN ALL-NIGHT SESSION

Only One Ballot Taken For President—Parker Says He Regards the Gold Standard as Firmly and Irrevocably Established.

St. Louis, July 11.—Chief Judge Alton B. Parker of the New York state court of appeals was nominated by the Democratic convention for president, and ex-Senator Henry G. Davis of West Virginia for vice-president.

Only one ballot was taken on presidential nomination, but it was after an all-night session Saturday morning. The vote was made unanimous after reaching 667 to Hearst's 194.



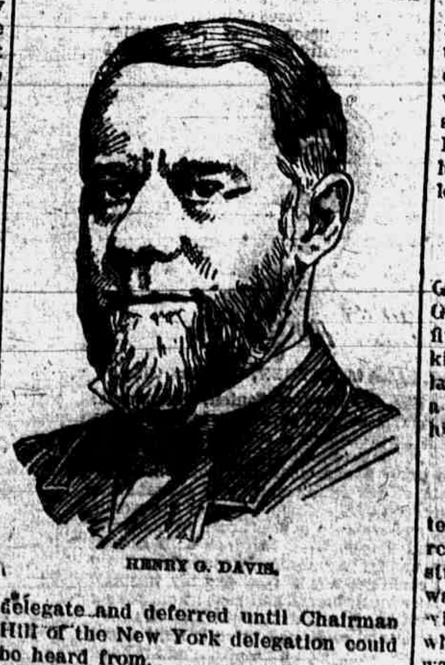
ALTON B. PARKER.

The convention did not go into session Saturday night promptly at the time appointed, although the greater number of delegates and alternates were in their seats, keyed up to a pitch of excitement over the possible events of the night. The news that there would, in all probability, be all sorts of political fireworks had spread rapidly through the city, and the people commenced to pour into the building anxious to see what would be done.

At 9:10 o'clock Chairman Clark pounded vigorously with his gavel and asked that the delegates be seated and the aisles cleared. He did not formally call the convention to order, but as soon as some degree of quiet had been restored Gov. Vardaman of Mississippi rose and, without formal recognition by the chairman proceeded to address the convention on the subject of the mysterious telegram.

"Let us find out what this rumor is," said he, "that has caused disorder in this hall. Let the gentleman from New York to whom the telegram is addressed read it. Let the truth be known and then let us proceed to business."

Chairman Clark put the motion that the telegram be read, but it was withdrawn at the request of a New York delegate and deferred until Chairman Hill of the New York delegation could be heard from.



HENRY G. DAVIS.

The conference committee then reached the hall and filed slowly along the crowded aisle in the center of the convention floor. John S. Williams addressed the convention, after which Gov. Vardaman read the following letter:

"Hon. W. F. Sheehan, Hotel Jefferson, St. Louis.

"I regard the gold standard as firmly and irrevocably established and shall act accordingly, if the action of the convention of today shall be ratified by the people. As the platform is silent on the subject, my views should be made known to the convention, and if it is proved to be unsatisfactory to the majority I request you to decline the nomination for me at once, so that another may be nominated before adjournment.

(Signed) "A. B. PARKER."

Senator Tillman was asked to read the reply formulated by the conference committee, which it was moved to send to Parker, as follows:

"The platform adopted by this convention is silent on the question of the monetary standard, because it is not regarded by us as a possible issue in this campaign, and only campaign issues were mentioned in the platform. Therefore there is nothing in the views xpressed by you in the telegram just received which would preclude a man entertaining them from accepting a nomination on said platform."

The reply was bitterly opposed by Mr. Bryan who, though ill, went to the convention hall and led the fight against it. Senator Tillman and John Sharp Williams were the principal defenders of Parker.

At an early hour Sunday morning the Democratic national convention voted its confidence in its nominee for president, nominated Henry G. Davis, former United States senator of West Virginia, for vice-president and adjourned sine die.

FAMOUS MONTANA BANDIT.

Tennessee Detective Has Secured Identification of Kid Curry.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 11.—Lowell F. Spence, a detective employed by a Chicago agency, has returned to that city after securing local identifications of two pictures which he had in his possession, supposed to be photographs of the famous Montana bandit and train robber, Harvey Logan, alias Kid Curry.

Early on the morning of June 8 a gang held up a Denver & Rio Grande train near Parachute, Col., but after blowing two safes and shooting one railroad employe, they secured only ten dollars. A posse of cowboys was at once organized and chase given. In the chase one of the bandits was shot from his horse by a cowboy, and as soon as he fell was seen to shoot himself through the head. Pictures were taken of the dead man. Believing the photoghaphs to be those of Logan, Spence came here to identify the bandit through jail officials where Logan had been confined for more than a year. Sheriff Fox, from whom Logan escaped, positively identified the photographs as those of Logan. So did Jailer Thomas Bell, whom Logan held up at the point of a pistol while escaping from jail. The outstanding reward for the bandit is variously estimated at between $18,000 and $30,000. It is probable that the remains will be exhumed and further identity established, as Logan had many bullet marks on his body. When he escaped from the Knox county jail he was under sentence of some twenty years for bringing into the state and passing unsigned notes of the Bank of Montana, $40,000 worth of which he and his gang secured in a Great Northern express hold-up near Wagner, Wyoming. Before he was captured here he shot two policemen, but they recovered.

Farmers' Mutuals In Default.

Lansing, Mich., July 11.—The commissioner of insurance has petitioned the circuit court for the appointment of receivers for the Monroe and Lenawee Counties Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of Schoolcraft, Delta and Menominee counties, both of which have defaulted in the payment of losses.

Accidentally Killed His Brother.

Niles, Mich., July 11.—Howard Goodrich, the 9-year-old son of R. R. Goodrich, a prominent farmer residing five miles east of Niles, was shot and killed by his 13-year-old brother. The latter fell and accidentally discharged a 22-caliber rifle, the bullet penetrating his little brother's heart.

Bay City Bakers Settle.

Bay City, Mich., July 11.—The master bakers and journeymen have reached an understanding whereby a strike will be averted. A compromise was effected whereby the union label will be used by the manufacturers while the shops remain "open." There was no trouble over wages.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Marriage in the Orient.

In the east in India, China and Japan girls are married very young. With us they would still be considered children and would be in bibs and pinafores. But over there girls of twelve are considered of full marriageable age, and it is not at all uncommon to find wives of six or eight or ten years. When a proposal of marriage is made the father of the young girl is applied to, and the following style of answer is considered stylish and elegant.

"I have received with respect the marks of your goodness. The choice that you deign to make of my daughter to become the wife of your son shows that you esteem my poor daughter more than she deserves. My daughter is coarse and stupid, and I have not had the talent to bring her up well. Yet I shall nevertheless glory in obeying you on this occasion."

This is the proper and accepted mode of reply. But, fortunately for the girl wives of the east, individuals are often kinder than the law itself, so that a family is often bound together by happy and cordial relations, such as could not exist if a man really felt his wife to be coarse and stupid.

Best Fed Sailors In the World.

The navy ration is of course provided for by law, and the daily diet of the enlisted man must conform in some degree to this prescribed regime, but infinite is the variety and ample is the dietary realm of Jack, the sailor. As compared with the daily bill of fare of the workingman on shore the odds are greatly in favor of the sailor. Should he be inclined to grumble at his daily fare it must be from caprice of appetite, for what laboring man enjoys better and more wholesome food? His food must be well cooked, for no bad cooks are allowed in the navy. Where a cook is incompetent he is reported, for Jack Tar's stomach must be kept in a healthy condition if our ships are to be manned with a sturdy lot of sailors. His food must be of the best quality, for it is no secret that Uncle Sam demands the best article in the market and gets it.—Gunton's Magazine.

Weather Wisdom.

A very curious method of making weather predictions has been discovered by an old French farmer.

"On Christmas eve," he says, "when the bells begin to ring for midnight mass, take twelve onions and place them in a row on a table. The first onion will represent January, the second February, and so on. Next make a large slit in each onion and pour some salt into it. If at the end of an hour you find that the salt in the March onion has melted you will know that there will be much rain in March, and, on the other hand, if the salt in the April onion is not melted you may be certain that April will be a dry month. Moreover, if the salt in any onion is melted at the top, but not at the bottom, the first fortnight of the month will be wet and the second fortnight dry."

The Hoopoo Bird.

The hoopoo is essentially a bird of the desert. A pretty tradition regarding the crest upon this bird's head tells that the crest was a gift from King Solomon in gratitude for shelter from the midday sun provided by a flight of hoopoos. The first decoration was a crown of gold, but as this brought unwelcome attentions from fowlers the monarch changed the crown to a crest of feathers.

The characteristic note of the hoopoo is produced as follows: The bird swallows as much air as possible and then taps its beak upon the ground. The escaping air produces the "hoo-hoo-hoo" which has earned for the bird its popular name.—London Mail.

Drummers In King Henry's Time.

King Henry V. had a band which discoursed sweet music during his expedition to Harfleur, each member being recompensed for his services with the sum of 12 pence per diem. When the citizens of London were mustered in the thirty-first year of the reign of Henry VIII. we hear that "before every standard was appointed one dromslade at the least." Each company of 100 men at this time possessed a couple of drummers.—All the Year Round.

When Washington Was Inaugurated.

On the occasion of Washington's second inaugural many of the members of congress were desirous of waiting on him in testimony of respect as chief magistrate. Watches Slower at Night.

"You know that the vital energies are at lower ebb at night than in the day time," said an old watchmaker. "Would you believe that some watches—especially the cheaper ones—are similarly affected?

"You know a good watchmaker always wants several days in which to regulate a timepiece. That is because the only way to regulate it properly is to compare it with a chronometer at the same hour every day. Otherwise the variations in the speed of the watch will baffle his efforts.

"The man to whom I was apprenticed told me this, and I thought the idea absurd. We were working late one night and he called my attention to a lot of watches that were regulated and ready to deliver. It was near midnight, and every watch was slow. The better timepieces had lagged behind some seconds. The cheaper watches were a minute or more out of the way. Next morning every one of the lot was exactly right.

"The fact is you can regulate a watch to make exactly twenty-four hours a day, but you can't persuade it to make just sixty minutes in each of the twenty-four hours. Why this is no one can tell."—New York Times.

Woman and Her Books.

It is the book a woman marks that is the only true index to her character. This conclusion has been arrived at after a long and persistent study of the sex. A woman never marks a book openly, as a man does, with a flourish of marginal notes and references conveying the impression that he is conversant with other books besides this one. He who has a pencil always handy will think nothing of using it on any and all occasions. It is like entering the holy of holies to read books that some women have marked. It is a violent rending asunder of the veil which she hangs before the door of her heart. The marks with which a woman scores her favorite passages at eighteen will be effaced at twenty, and she must have changed but little to leave those of twenty uneffaced at twenty-five.—New York World.

Power of the United States Senate.

The senate is today the most powerful single chamber in any legislative body in the world, but this power, which is shown daily by the wide attention to all that is said and done in the senate of the United States, is not the product of selfish and cunning usurpations on the part of an ambitious body. It is due to the original constitution of the senate, to the fact that the senate represents states, to the powers conferred upon it at the outset by the makers of the constitution, to its permanency of organization and to the combination of legislative, executive and judicial functions which sets it apart from all other legislative bodies. Without the assent of the senate no bill can become law, no office can be filled, no treaty ratified.—Henry Cabot Lodge in Scribner's.

A Business Precaution.

A caller at the boarding house of Mrs. Irons was surprised to see a fine greyhound basking in the sun outside the kitchen door. "I didn't know you had a dog," she said. "He's a beautiful animal. How long have you had him?"

"Two or three years."

"How does it happen I have never seen him in passing along here?"

"We don't allow him to leave the back yard," replied Mrs. Irons, with emphasis. "What kind of an advertisement would it be for a boarding house to have a creature as lean as that dog is standing round in front of it?"

Jules Verne's Romance.

The story of Jules Verne's courtship and marriage is a most romantic one. Verne was a shy young fellow who had a great dislike to the society of women, and it was only his affection for his brother which led him to go to the latter's wedding. Verne, however, arrived too late and found that the whole bridal party had left for the church with the exception of the bride's sister, a charming young widow, who explained the matter. The friendship thus accidentally begun rapidly developed into a warmer feeling and ended in a marriage which may be described as ideal.

Dentists Use Much Gold.

If there is a scarcity of gold during the twenty-first and twenty-second centuries dentists, according to a German statistician, will probably be more to blame than any one else.

He asserts that they use every year in filling teeth and other work about 800 kilograms of gold, the value of which is $500,000, and that at this rate the graveyards of the various countries will contain in 300 years from now $150,000,000 worth of gold.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

JUDGE LYNCH AGAIN AT WORK.

Jesse Tucker, a Negro, Hanged by a Mob at Houston, Miss.

Houston, Miss., July 11.—"We, the jury, find that the deceased, Jesse Tucker, came to his death by hanging at the hands of unknown parties," was the verdict of the coroner's jury Sunday, delivered while standing on the overhead bridge of the Mobile & Ohio railroad, under which hung, at the end of an inch grass rope, the body of Jesse Tucker. Saturday night while a number of people of the city were attending a circus the negro entered the bedroom of Mrs. J. E. Johnston, where she was asleep with her children, turned out the light, went to the bedside and caught Mrs. Johnston by the throat with one hand and told her that if she screamed he would blow her brains out. Mrs. Johnston reached after her pistol and told the negro that she would blow his brains out, frightening the negro off. He then turned and made his escape through a window. Mrs. Johnston's outcries brought assistance and a party went to the nearest house, in which lived Jesse Tucker, and found him hiding between two heavy mattresses. The crowd then dispersed and some time before day the negro was carried to the bridge by unknown parties and hanged.

Some lose so much time complaining of lack of opportunities that they fail to make use of those they possess.

Constipation, headache, backache, feel mean, no appetite, all run down, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well and keep you well. Money back, if it fails. 35 cents Tea or tablet form. JOHN J. ORR.

The gas man's favorite hymn, the long-metered doxology.

Many a person goes to the day's work or play dull, listless, dispirited. They don't know what real joy there is in life. A sane mind is only possible in a sane body. Indigestion, liver complaint, dizziness, constipation and its hundreds of accompanying ills all vanish like smoke before wind if you use Greene's Little Laxative Beans. B. J. Pulver sells them.

Churches as Places of Refuge In War

Our ancestors transacted a good deal of business of one kind or another in and about their churches. To begin with, the churches of old England in turbulent times were regarded as places of safe custody for public and private property. In the border land of England and Scotland the idea was carried out still more completely, and churches, or at least their towers, became regular fortresses and not infrequently were objects of offense and defense. We may note in rural England that in the case of ancient churches the towers are often not merely disproportionate in size to the rest of the church, but are carefully and strongly built, evidently with an object.

Even in peaceful Surrey and Sussex the belfries are veritable strong rooms with barred windows and massive doors and often contain a massive treasure chest. Hither, at the first alarm, money and valuables were hurried, for beyond the security of thick walls and bars and bolts there was an ægis of sanctity which in a superstitious age protected the building from the most ruthless of foes. The fortress-like construction of many of the border land churches is an interesting study of antiquarians.—London Standard.

The Dahlia In England.

The dahlia has become popular among English gardeners. In the wild plant the flowers are single, with a dull ray and yellow disk. The varieties of the cultivated forms are almost endless.

The original was discovered in Mexico by Vincent Cervantes about 1784 and was first brought to the botanic gardens of Madrid, and the same year it was introduced into England by the then Marchioness of Bute. The plant became extinct in Britain. It was again brought there in 1804, and in that year is found the earliest mention of the dahlia, named from Andrew Dahl, a Swedish botanist and pupil of Linnæus.

In Mexico the tubers are cultivated as food on account of the quantity of inulin they contain, but in Europe, though many times tried, they never became popular.

The Evolution of Names.

The evolution of names from foreign tongues into English is in many cases easy. From the German Bauer to the English Bowers and from the French Boulanger to the English Bullinger is but a step, as it were. But there are no people who are oftener more humorously accused of altering their names than the Irish. Thus Crehan has become Rehan; Carroll, Karl; Dillon, Dyllyn; Divver, Devere and Devyr; McCarty, Macartee and Makart; Slattery, Slater and Satterlee; O'Brien, Obrion and Breen; McGinness, Guinness and Innes; Reilly, Relyea; Duffy, Dufay; McGuffin, Magoffin; Quinn, Queen; Fogarty, Fougert; Haggerty, Haggart; Sully, Soule. The English singer, Braham, merely dropped a letter when he went on the stage. He was a Hebrew, and his real name was Abraham.

Old Custom Handed Down.

How many can tell the origin of the habit of closing the eyes in prayer? Far back in the past the sun was the universal object of worship. As it rose above the horizon the devotee thanked it for its return to bless the world. As it set in the west he implored its early return. His face was always toward the sun in prayer, and his eyes were closed to prevent blindness. The habit has passed down from father to son for thousands of years. Though the object of worship has been changed, the custom survives.

Comets are made of substance 150,000,000 times lighter than our air.

Small waists are no longer in style It's the round plump waists that come by taking Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea; that's all the go. 35 cents. Tea or tablet form. JOHN J. ORR.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25; large size, 75c. JOHN J. ORR.

M. F. STEIN

THE FAMOUS OPTICIAN of Detroit,

The eye, when properly cared for affords the keenest delight because of the pleasures we are able to enjoy through its medium When not cared for and its warnings are unheeded, it becomes an instrument of torture. Headaches, eye pains, burning, itching sensation, strained vision, nervous troubles and many bodily ills are the results accruing from over worked eyes, eyes that need help. My examination reveals all hidden troubles, and it is my province to fit the right glasses to any and all defects of vision. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED BY

At Atlantic City, N. J., during the week of July 11th. This is the general assembly of Mystic Shriners of the United States. Moslem Temple of Detroit, will send a large delegation, among them their Arab Patrol of 50 drilled men. Adrian Knights Templar Bugle corps, 33 men, have been engaged to accompany the Detroit Shriners.

Among the buglers from here are F. B. Wood, J. H. Smith and L. C. Hayden. They left here yesterday morning for Detroit, the delegation leaving there yesterday afternoon by boat for Buffalo from Buffalo they have a special train to Atlantic City, arriving there Tuesday night.

Talented Vocalist.

Miss Floy Freeman returned last Friday evening from London, Ont., where she has been taking an extended course in voice culture with Mrs. Roblyn-McKillop, Canada's most gifted soprano. Miss Freeman's return was delayed on account of taking a leading role in an operetta, "Dame Fire-fly."

The following press notices in regard to it are taken from London papers:

The principle role, that of the child, Vetta, was played by Miss Freeman, the well-known soprano soloist of the First Congregational church. Miss Freeman's voice at all times sounded sweet, well trained and charming in tone.—London Advertiser.

To the part of Vetta, Miss Floy Freeman of Tecumseh, Mich., did ample justice. She displayed dramatic ability in a high degree. Her interpretation being graphic in the extreme, while to a charming stage personality she added singing powers that earned enthusiastic encores.—London Free Press.

In the role of the little runaway girl of Norway, Miss Freeman played her part admirably through out the operetta and her clear sweet soprano voice was heard to good advantage.—The Echo.

Birthday Party.

Last Friday, July 8, J. C. Schreder was 75 years old and Uncle John thought he would have a birthday spree, so he gathered up all the younguns of the neighborhood, Dutch, Irish and freckled, hired a rig and started for Sid Cadmus'. Roy Cadmus, not being able to get out, we thought we would make it hot for him for a little while or words to that effect, but Uncle John got very nervous, for before he could get the ice cream and other goodies loaded in them youngsters were howling loud enough to make Mike Malone forget that he was dead.

Well, they signaled the deaf driver to go ahead just in time to get over the corporation line before the marshal with the big feet and small nose hove in sight. Then Uncle John turned and put his big brown thumb to his big brown nose and so did the whole bilm of youngsters. Well they were now sailing into the country most beautifully singing songs, poking fun at the cows, sheep ducks and geese.

They soon brought up at the Cadmus ranch where they all skuted in and made themselves at home. Soon the table was spread with the lickem goods and I tell you the way they stowed away the ice cream and bananas was just terrific. Then came singing, speaking and a bear story by Uncle John after which, thinking they had about fun enough for one day, they jumped into the wagon and took a ride for home.

Geo Burnham while working on the section last week between Tipton and Tecumseh was unfortunate enough to drop a rail upon his foot completely crushing the big toe. Dr. North of Tecumseh, dressed the injured member. He is obliged to go about on crutches. —Onsted News.

On Friday of last week the barn of Edwin Smith, two miles southwest of the city, was struck by lightning under the cornice, then runing down knocked the corner post into splinters and finally tore a large hole in the ground. Two horses were in the barn and were considerably stunned, but not injured.—Post.

An Adrian man is in favor of the large hats which women wear. He says they have their faults, but at times they are a blessing, for many times he has sat behind them in church and slept undisturbed throughout a whole sermon.

Chas. Heller, formerly of this vicinity, is spending a short vacation with old time friends. He is fireman on a Lake Shore freight and a few days ago was on an engine pulling into Kendallville. The Robinson circus trains were in the yards, which may have been the reason for a switch being left open and which caused the train to be wrecked, the damage being thousands of dollars. Neither Heller or the engineer were injured, but the head brakeman was badly knocked out. The affair, however, unsettled Heller's nerve and he applied for and was granted a vacation.—Hudson Post.

The game between the Newsboys and the Bull dogs played here this morning resulted in a score of 17 to 9 in favor of the Bull dogs.

ROUND ABOUT US.

R. M. Gillett was throwing belts from the pulleys in the Page fence factory at Adrian last Saturday evening and was using a broomstick, when it caught in the pulley and circling the shaft, struck him in the face with such force that for some time he was unconscious. His nose was broken.

A raid was again made on "Peachblow" the blind pig located west of the city, north of the Cold Spring woods, and a warrant was sworn out for Job Crouse for selling liquor without a license. It is said that Mr. Croose has been selling liquor at this resort for the past three Sundays and the boys have been holding high jinks. The officers got onto the joint and made the raid Sunday. This place was pulled some years ago for the same offense. Mr. Crouse is out on $500 bail.—Hillsdale Standard.

Henry Wirts of Medina, has purchased a $500 monument of an Adrian firm. He certainly got value received and is one of those farmers able to buy what he wants. But what any man wants of a $500 stone to mark his grave is something no one can explain on rational lines. Better have left $475 of it to some charitable institution and put up a head stone on which could be written, "Here lies a public benefactor. He brought nothing into this world and left nothing foolishly wasted."—Adrian Press.

Perhaps the strangest use to which music can be put is to stop the flow of blood from a wound. An army doctor noticed, that when a wounded soldier was taken to within an easy hearing distance of music hemorrhage was greatly reduced or stopped. Neither he nor others, who confirmed his observations, could understand how this phenomenon was brought about but it is now believed that the vibration of the air produced by the music causes the patient to become faint, in which case the action of the heart is so considerably lessened that the overflow of blood is reduced.—Ex.

Mr. M. Morrison met with almost a serious accident while working around his planing maching last Friday afternoon. He was dressing some lumber and one board was to thick to feed good it stuck and while Mr. Morrison was adjusting the rolls so that the board might pass through, his right hand, in some way struck the revolving knife head, cutting his thumb and fore finger severely. He said that he did not know that anything had happened until he saw the blood but now he realizes that the thumb is useless. It certainly seems strange after a man was 82 days in the front in battle during our great rebellion and railroaded 24 years, without a wound, should, by a little carelessness, receive his first scratch.—Deerfield Journal.

Night was her terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long" writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough dreadfully and spit blood but when all other medicines failed three $1 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds. It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at C. A. Wright's drug store.

Old Papers.

For house cleaning uses. Bundles of 30 for 5 cents at the HERALD office.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, July 9, 1904.

The decree of the St. Louis convention is received with great satisfaction by prominent democrats here. The gentleman whom the convention has handed down as the party's candidate, while he does not excite instantaneous enthusiasm, is thoroughly acceptable as an able, thoughtful, courageous and quiet statesman. The platform as finally rounded into shape is also regarded as a fit piece of work, a high plateau of statesmanship for the candidate to stand on. Some who did not go to St. Louis and are still to be found at democratic headquarters would have preferred a plank committing the party to an income tax while others are disappointed at the victory of Colonel Bryan in securing the defeat of the so-called gold plank, affirming that the tremendous gold finds of the last few years have removed the "money standard" question from the field of political contention.

Senator Gorman thinks that this last named negation will probably receive attention at the hands of Judge Parker who, in his official letter of acceptance, may feel at liberty to reaffirm the discarded plank. Gratification is felt among democrats here that the acerbities of the convention did not rise into hostilities and that the earnest differences between Hill and Bryan did not degenerate into an open quarrel.

Your correspondent has attended a good many presidential conventions and therefore desires to make a few observations: 1, the convention halls both here and at Chicago, were three or four times as large as they ought to have been, for on such occasions the official public ought to be practically excluded; 2, there never has been a national convention of any party so admirably reported by the Associated Press as this convention at St. Louis. The end of the campaign is obscure, but Messrs. Roosevelt and Fairbanks find themselves confronted with a "sane and reasonable" opposition.

One of the best beloved and most brilliant young men in Washington, a young lawyer but 26 years of age, John J. Hill, lost his life in San Francisco on July 1st, where he had arrived a day or two before to sail for Manilla, as an employe of the government in the quartermaster's department. He was brutally murdered by thugs who gave him knockout drops, sandbagged him and left him on the sidewalk of Mission street, at three o'clock in the morning, to die. He remained unconscious until half past four of the afternoon of the same day when he expired. The transport Sherman, upon which he was to be a passenger, left its dock at one p. m., taking his trunks. Young Hill was last seen at the Grand hotel at nine o'clock in the evening of the night he was killed. The autopsy revealed the cause of his death. He had been robbed of all his valuables. Three or four similar cases of thugism have very recently occurred in San Francisco, in the same part of the city, where unsuspecting men have fallen victims through the administration of choral. The city has an evil reputation as a dangerous place for strangers. Mr. Hill was a graduate of the Law School of the National University of the class of 1899, when he took the highest honors. His classmates here have adopted resolutions of affection and sympathy and a wide circle of friends is horror-struck at the fate which befel a young man of brilliant prospects in a far-away and strange city.

There are a great many republicans in Washington, from all parts of the United States and naturally they joined in celebrating the anniversary of their party which was organized half a century ago. A very enthusiastic meeting was held on the 6th inst., presided over by ex-Senator John M. Thurston, of Nebraska, who made an eloquent speech and as some one in the audience said, "gave it to them hard." Ex-Secretary Cortelyou sent a letter in which he said the politics of the republican party "have been among the mightiest forces in our moral and material development." Mr. Thurston paid a high tribute to the honesty, capability and trustworthiness of President Roosevelt.

The alarm and apprehension prevailing in Texas over the boll weevil have stirred up the Agricultural department to measures of prevention. Dr. Cook has just brought from Guatemala to Galveston a large colony of the red ants which are said to be a deadly enemy of the weevil. The ant is very fond of a juice distilled in the cotton plant, but when the cotton bud is early infected by the eggs of the weevil no nectar is forth coming. The enraged ant, hunting for the cause, finds it and straightway it stings the weevil to death. The weevil lives almost exclusively on the heart of the cotton bud, the ant, also, will eat nothing else if it can get this nectar. The ant thus protects the cotton plant in Central America; the question is, will it survive the Gulf State winter, and prove an antidote to the bane in our borders. The affectiveness of the ant is to be tested in captivity; none of them will be turned loose until it is demonstrated that they are harmless to vegetation. The destruction of the weevil pest is a matter of importance from Virginia to Mexico as he advances eastward at the rate of 50 miles a year and a single female weevil can lay 18,000,000 eggs in a season. The destruction insect has already cost $50,000,000 and is now advancing to the Mississippi.

A college has just been opened in Washington in connection with the Catholic University for the training of missionaries. The graduates are not to be sent into foreign lands to convert the heathen, but will work in the United States for the conversion of Christians to Catholicism. In a recent address before the graduates in a college in Boston Mr. Burke Cochran said he regarded this proposition as perfectly practical. He advised the young graduates not to be anxious to accumulate money, but rather labor for the conversion of the non-Catholic community.

A Gerry kid and bucking pony mixed on circus day; the pony humped, the boy went up the elevated way; there was a lack of harmony twixt pony and the lad, whose ride was ended in a way which was extremely sad. He landed where the water stood after the rain and flood, and people who were looking on said, "lad, thy name is mud."—Post.

NEW WAY TO SELL MEDICINE

C. A. Wright gives guarantee bond with Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia.

C. A. Wright has made arrangements to sell Mi-o-na, the marvelous digestion regulator in a new and hitherto unheard of way, furnishing a guarantee bond with every package.

GUARANTEE BOND

In purchasing a 50c box of Mi-o-na, the purchaser is requested to have this guarantee signed by C. A. Wright as his personal agreement to refund the money on return of empty box if Mi-o-na fails to cure dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

Signed. ....

C. A. Wright will give the above bond with every 50c. box of Mi-o-na he sells. You run no risk in buying Mi-o-na.

That everyone may have faith in this scientific cure for dyspepsia, Mi-o-na is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

Everyone who is troubled with dyspepsia, headache, distress after eating, dizzy feeling or loss of appetite or who is losing weight and in a run-down condition, should take the guarantee bond to C. A. Wright and commence the use of Mi-o-na at his risk, remembering that the treatment costs you nothing unless it does all that is claimed for it.

Between sixteen and seventeen thousand barrels of water will be required to fill the experimental tank to be used in the study of marine engineering at the U. of M. the coming college year. This tank which is in the now engineering building, is one of the largest under cover in the country. It is 300 feet long 22 feet wide and from 10 to 12 feet deep. At one end is a dry dock. There is machinery for towing the model ships, which are here tested at the rate of 800 feet per minute. By variation in the ballasting, the models can be tested for different trimmings.—University News Letter.

Prevents Hay Fever.

All who are subject to hay fever or rose colds should use Hyomei daily for two or three weeks before the time of their annual attack and thus prevent it. The worst cases are quickly relieved and cured by Hyomei and Hyomei Balm.

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE

Hyomei, the guaranteed catarrh cure, prescribed by physicians.

No one should confound Hyomei with patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians.

Is it not foolish to try and cure catarrh by swallowing tablets or liquids? The only natural way to cure this disease and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

This treatment has been so successful, curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

WHAT A FEMALE REGULATOR IS

A vegetable liquid for governing or equalizing the flow of women's menses which occur once in every lunar month.

BRADFIELD'S Female Regulator

is the essential quality of powerful herbs. It is a concentrated essence best adapted for women's delicate organism, and put in such form that it is always properly assimilated and taken into the system.

Stoppages, suppression, painful or other irregularity of the menses and sickly flows are corrected and cured by the regular use of this superior emmenagogue.

Menstruation, or periodic flows, necessitate a breaking down of cells lining the mucous membrane and a reconstruction after every sickness, which is accompanied with marked congestion and loss of blood. Such changes are very apt to produce chronic catarrh. Leucorrhea or Whites is the result of these irritating discharges. Regulator cures these troubles and restores to perfect health the patient who suffered the debilitating losses.

LOCAL ENTHUSIASM.

On one subject Tecumseh people grow enthusiastic.

The increase of popular enthusiasm on the following subject is almost daily manifested by public expression and local endorsement. Read what this citizen says and discover the cause for the constant showering of praise which follows in the wake of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Henry Keyser, the retired farmer and capitalist, resides in the southwestern section of Tecumseh says: "I am thoroughly convinced of the superior merits of this popular remedy Doan's Kidney Pills. They deserve naught but the highest praise. Before going to C. A. Wright's drug store for a box, I had a dull aching pain in my back which had annoyed me for some time and the secretions from my kidneys were unnatural and irregular. To say that I was surprised at the effect is putting it mildly. In a very short time the trouble disappeared. I never knew a medicine that worked so quickly and satisfactorily.

Your Heart.

When Your Heart Fails to Pump Your Blood, Trouble Results.

Have you heart trouble?

You have, if you find it hard to breathe after walking up stairs, exercising, etc. If you have pain in your left side, in chest, back or shoulder. If you suffer from cold extremities, pale face, blue lips, dry cough, swollen ankles.

If you have fainting spells, breast pang, palpitation, redness of the face, discomfort in sleeping on one side.

The only scientific treatment for this whole train of troubles is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the prescription of a famous specialist, whose great success in treating obstinate nervous heart disease has made his name pre-eminent in the medical and scientific world.

The medicine will cure you. We know it. We want you to prove it. If first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will give you back your money.

"I have for several years suffered at times with heart trouble. I got so bad I could not sleep half the night, and had to sit up on the side of the bed lots of times to get breath. Three of my brothers have died of heart trouble, and I thought I was going the same way, but about two and a half years ago I got a pamphlet about Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and thought I would try a few bottles. After using them I recovered, and have had better health since then than before for several years. I can heartily recommend them for heart trouble."—REV. KAI-PING STRONGHOLD

Japanese Force Dislodge the Russians From Position.

TWO RUSSIAN SHIPS MISSING

Reports of Conditions at Port Arthur Contradictory — Russians Report That the Japanese Have Lost Ten Torpedo Boats.

"Gen. Oku reports that our second army commenced operations July 6 for occupying Kai Ping. After successfully dislodging the Russians from their positions we finally occupied Kai Ping and the neighboring heights July 9.

"Gen. Kuroki reports that on July 6 our detachment, after expelling 300 Russian cavalry, occupied Hsienchang, thirty miles northeast of Saimachi. There were no casualties on our side. On July 5 we repulsed a Russian cavalry regiment under Col. Chichinsky, which came to attack us near North Fenshulleng. Our casualties were four killed and three wounded."

Reports From Port Arthur.

Chefoo, July 11.—A fair wind brought a fleet of junks from Port Arthur Sunday, carrying both Chinese and Europeans. Reports which they bring of conditions at Port Arthur are contradictory, but they all say that a Japanese division from the northward is entrenching seven miles from the marine camp, while another division from the eastward is fighting continuously and with the aid of the fleet is endeavoring to gain a position commanding the town and naval basin.

Russians say that the Japanese occupied the summit of Takushan mountain, which is about three miles from Port Arthur, on the night of July 6, with a mounted battery of artillery.

On July 7 the Russian cruiser Novik and four gunboats went out under protection of the guns on Golden Hill and shelled a Japanese battery, which was surrendered and captured finally by Russian infantry.

The fighting to the eastward of Port Arthur had been very heavy since July 4. The Japanese ships along the shore are shelling the Russian position in the hills. The smoke from the artillery in the hills around Port Arthur is seen almost continuously. Dead and wounded are being brought in at all hours and many private houses have been turned into hospitals. Only skirmishes have occurred to the northward. The main Japanese force is ten miles away, but Japanese scouts have been seen in the vicinity of the main camps, which command the principal pass to the hills, directly back of Port Arthur.

Russian Ships Missing.

No further night attacks have been made since July 4. A Chinese mechanic from the Port Arthur drydocks says that two large three-funneled ships have been missing from the Russian fleet since the fight off Port Arthus on June 23. The battleship Sevastopol is still undergoing repairs and four torpedo boat destroyers are in drydock. The Russians, on the other hand, say that their fleet is intact and that as a matter of fact the Japanese have been the losers in the fights off Port Arthur.

The Russians assert that the Japanese have lost no less than ten torpedo boats in their attempts to reach the Russian guardship, which was protected by the entrance to Port Arthur. The guardship anchored behind the wrecked vessels. An entrance was opened around the foot of Golden Hill, but the rest of the channel was closed with booms, making it impossible for torpedoes to pass. Seven hundred Russians and one hundred Chinese mechanics are still at work in the dockyards at Port Arthur.

Some of the torpedo attacks of the Japanese have been almost fanatical. Frequently they have made attacks where success was impossible and when the torpedo boats have been sunk. The Japanese have refused assistance, either committing suicide or fighting off their rescuers.

Torpedo Boats Make Attack.

Tokio, July 11.—Gen. Kuroki reports that on Wednesday, July 6, a detachment of Japanese troops drove off 300 Russians cavalry and occupied Kan Chang, the enemy retiring northward. The Japenese had no casualties. The Russian losses are unknown. On the afternoon of July 5 1,300 Russian cavalry attacked a Japanese detachment near the north entrance to Fen Shui pass. The Russians were repulsed and the Japanese retained possession of the entrance to the pass. The Japanese had four men killed and three wounded. On Friday night, July 8, during a storm, a flotilla of torpedo boats of Admiral Togo's fleet approached Port Arthur. On the following morning one of the torpedo boats found and attacked the Russian cruiser Askold, but the result of the attack is unknown.

Commerce Commission Upholds U. P.

Washington, July 3.—As a result of the investigation of the allowances made by the Union Pacific railroad to the grain elevators of Peavey & Co., at Council Bluffs and Kansas City, the interstate commerce commission has upheld the contentions of the railroad. The commission holds that the compensation paid for the elevator or transfer service by the Union Pacific is not unreasonable; that the Union Pacific is entitled to perform the work itself or hire it done by others and is not guilty of wrongdoing, because incidentally those employed to transfer the grain are aided more or less in another line of business in which they are engaged. The Peavey company erected the elevators under contracts with the Union Pacific, charging 1½ cents per 100 pounds for the service.

New Process For Armor Plate.

New York, July 11.—Charles M. Schwab will sail for Germany to confer with the Krupp people as to the virtues of a new process of manufacturing armor plate, which is said to be much superior to that used by American manufacturers. Mr. Schwab expects to meet at the Krupp works several other men from this country and abroad interested in the manufacture of armor plate. If the new process is found to be all that is claimed for it it will be adopted in the Bethlehem steel plant.

MANNIX MOVED.

Recorder of Teller County, Colorado, Accorded a Military Escort.

Victor, Col., July 11.—Frank P. Mannix, clerk and recorder of Teller county, has left Victor, having been accorded a military guard as far as Canyon City. The guard was commanded by Adjt.-Gen. Bell. Mannix had been before the citizens' committee several times during the last week and his resignation demanded. This he refused to give, and the county commissioners were requested to remove him. They replied that they were advised by counsel that they had no authority to remove Mannix and declined to meet the request of the committee. Mannix feared for his safety and a guard of military was placed at his residence. He finally decided to leave this district and Gen. Bell and a detail of soldiers accompanied him. Mannix said he was not being deported.

Discussing the case, Gen. Bell is credited with saying: "There is no telling what would happen if Mannix [illegible] in the district. It seems to [illegible] a case of settling up old grudges and one can't tell what will happen. We are doing the best we can with soldiers who sometimes work day and night."

St. Johns Man Hanged Himself.

St. Johns, Mich., July 11.—Bensley P. Conn, one of the oldest residents and most respected citizens of this city, hanged himself in the barn of his son-in-law, Edward Brown, in this city. Last week Conn was married to a Mrs. Hildrith, a widow 48 years old. Mr. Conn was 76. The marriage was against the wishes of his children, and it is believed he so regretted what he had done that he resorted to this means of ending his life. He was a man of considerable means, well known and highly respected.

Five families were rendered homeless and five children were forced to jump from the second story of their homes, but escaped with slight injury.

Acre Boundary Dispute.

Washington, July 11.—Information has come to the state department of a prospective settlement of the Acre boundary dispute, which for a long time has been a source of friction between the governments of Brazil and Peru. The contention involves the ownership of a large tract of country rich in rubber production, which is claimed alike by both countries. The information reaching the state department is to the effect that the plenipotentiaries of the two countries, who have been meeting at Rio Janeiro and Petropolis, Brazil, have come to an agreement on the disputed questions at issue.

Lapeer Boy's Sudden Death.

Lapeer, Mich., July 11.—Louis, the 6-year-old son of George Kaler, after eating a hearty dinner Friday, left his home in high spirits with a party of boys to spend the afternoon. They went to Flint river, where they found a lot of bottles and decided to play drug store. Kaler picked up a bottle that contained some drug and, filling it with water from the river, drank some of the contents. At 4 o'clock he complained of a severe headache. Medical assistance was called but he had convulsions and died.

Branch County Farmer Drops Dead.

Coldwater, Mich., July 11.—Elias Vaughn, a Girard township farmer, while working in a hay field, stuck his fork in the ground and, leaning heavily upon it, remarked: "I feel awful bad." He then settled slowly to his knees and fell dead. Heart trouble is thought to have been the cause of death.

Prosecuting Officers to Meet.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 11.—One of the largest conventions ever held by the chiefs of police, sheriffs and prosecuting attorneys' association of Michigan is being planned for July 28 to 30, inclusive, to be held in this city.

Charged With Robbing Church.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 11.—Andy Boyle, Simon and George Vanderkoal and Marinus Mass, ranging in age from 16 to 20 years, are under arrest here charged with burglarizing the Third Reformed church of this city.

Loeffler Gets Life Sentence.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 11.—Frank Loeffler, the man who murdered his sweetheart, Louisa Wakel, here on July 4 because she would not marry him, has been sentenced to life imprisonment at Marquette.

MEAT FAMINE IN SIGHT

Monster Strike of Employes in Packing Industry.

40,000 WORKERS ARE INVOLVED

The Cause of Unskilled Laborers Led to the Difficulty—Employes in Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and St. Joseph Are Affected.

Chicago, July 13.—As the result of a stubborn disagreement, chiefly over wages for unskilled labor, one of the most extensive strikes in the history of the meat packing industry of the United States is on in Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph, Mo., and other cities where large packing plants are located. The unanimity of the strike was complete. More than 45,000 employes are directly involved. In Chicago alone 18,000 men are on strike.

The effect of the strike upon the food supply of the country and the prices of meats is being earnestly discussed, notwithstanding the announcement that the packing houses, contrary to somewhat general expectation, will continue operations without any closedown, employing whatever help may be obtainable. How much alleviation in the furnishing of supplies to the public this course may afford is a matter of wide variation of opinion.

All Work Completed.

The walkout here was started by the employes of the killing departments at the various packing houses. The killers were followed by the workers in other departments as fast as the current work left by the slaughterers could be cleaned up. Thus as the workers in each department disposed of their part of the work they threw off their aprons and departed.

This consideration was shown the peckers, the labor officials announced, because it was not the desire of the men to cause the employers any financial loss as a result of neglecting meat that was on hand to be dressed.

Watched by cordons of police, the strikers filed briskly out of the packing houses. A picturesque scene was presented when the sausage factories and canneries were left by their forces. There are 1,000 girls employed in these two departments of the meat industry. Clad in the variegated garb of factory girls, this army of feminine strikers tripped blithly along the main thoroughfare of the stock yards and were cheered as they emerged through the gates and stood and talked over the situation with their male companions in the movement.

"How long do you think it will last?" inquired one of them, looking quite serious.

"I don't know," one replied, "except that President Donnelly says the men managed to hold out fifteen months in Buffalo, and I guess we can do as much."

President Michael Donnelly of the Amalgamated Meatcutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, the leader of the strikers, said in a conversation last evening that he believed the strikers would have little difficulty in withstanding a siege of more than a year with the strike funds the unions have on hand.

Price of Meat Advanced.

New York, July 13.—As soon as the butchers in this city learned that strikes had been ordered in the meat packing plants in many of the large cities, they at once began to advance the price of meat from 2 to 3 cents a pound.

Boy Drowned Near Arden.

Benton Harbor, Mich., July 14.—Harry Thompson, a Chicago lad, 9 years old, was drowned while swimming in the river near Arden. The boy was taken with cramps and the others could not rescue him. Another boy was reported drowned near Twin Springs resort this morning, but his name was not learned.

Boy Swallowed Nail.

Saranac, Mich., July 14.—While playing Howard Benson, a young lad swallowed a nail. Physicians began at once to work with him, but he died from loss of blood in about an hour.

JACKSON SAYS "NO"

DECLARES HE'S OUT OF POLITICS

Cannot Afford to Neglect His Private Affairs—Thinks That Lorenzo T. Durand of Saginaw Could Be Elected on Democratic Ticket.

Bay City, Mich., July 14.—George D. Jackson, whose name is being talked of among leading Democrats as a candidate for the nomination of governor, said that he could not accept the honor even if it were tendered him. His reasons are that he cannot afford to neglect his private affairs for politics which he declares he is out of. Asked his choice for the nomination, Mr. Jackson's answer was emphatically:

"Durand of Saginaw. I know he has said he would not take it, but I think he will. He ought to be renominated, and I believe the people will elect him."

CHARGED WITH ARSON.

Edward Philip of Port Huron Pleads Not Guilty.

Port Huron, Mich., July 14.—Edward Philip was arraigned in the police court on a charge of arson, to which he pleaded not guilty and his examination was set for July 15 and his bail fixed at $750.

This is the culmination of a long series of annoyances to which it is alleged Philip has subjected George Downer, a farmer living near this city because the latter objected to Philip Marrying his daughter. He lived for some time at the Downer home and became very much attached to 15-year-old Laura Downer. When her father found this out he forced Philip to leave. Soon after that Downer's barn was burned and a number of valuable fruit trees girdled and other acts of vandalism committed on and around his farm.

There was much circumstantial evidence against Philip and the officers after carefully investigating the case, arrested him on the charge upon which he was arraigned. He has been arrested several times before, the last time being for smuggling.

His Years of Life Were Many.

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—Patrick Marnaugh, aged 104, and for twenty-three years an inmate of the Wayne county house, died at that institution Tuesday night. He broke his hip while employed as a carpenter on the Michigan Central railway and was unable to work for a long time, finally being compelled to go to the poorhouse at Eloise. The old man used to appeal to each incoming superintendent not to send his body to a medical college when death should summon him, and his wishes will be respected.

Charged With Stealing $10,000.

St. Paul, July 14.—William I. Stine, formerly chief clerk to General Manager Scott of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway, was arrested upon a complaint sworn out in the county attorney's office on a charge of stealing $10,000 in bonds from a safe in the general manager's office. It is charged that Stine took the bonds shortly after the death of Mr. Scott last year. Stine is supposed to have disposed of the securities in the east with the aid of other parties.

Juror Received Sad News.

Corunna, Mich., July 14.—While the damage suit of Robert Coats against Ira Barnes of Byron was being tried Juror H. J. Cady received word that his 4-year-old child, who was in good health when Cady left home Monday, was dead of diphtheria. Several other members of his family are ill, and at his urgent request he was excused from further service and the case is being carried on with eleven jurors. Coats is suing Barnes for $20,000 for injuries received by falling down a hay chute in Barnes's barn.

Alleged Mail Box Robbers.

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—On the charge of breaking into eight mail boxes on the west side of the city and stealing the contents, two young men are locked up at the central police station and probably will be turned over to Postoffice Inspector Larmour for treatment by the federal method. The accused are John Kubalnski, aged 21 years, and Julius Kozlowski, aged 20. Both live at 560 Hancock avenue.

AWAITING SIEGE GUNS

Japs Near Tatchekiao and Preparing For Attack.

VLADIVOSTOK SQUADRON SEEN

There Is Yet No Confirmation From St. Petersburg of the Alleged Tremendous Japanese Loss Reported Near Port Arthur Monday Night.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—Reports of the Japanese movements in the direction of Tatchekiao are conflicting. A special dispatch from Tatchekiao, dated July 11, says: "The Japanese, coming within seven miles of the town, stopped apparently to extend their line or to await the arrival of siege guns. No attempt has yet been made to land at Yin Kow."

Tokio, June 14.—Two warships and four torpedo boats belonging to the Russian Vladivostok squadron were seen off the island of Yezo Wednesday morning.

St. Petersburg, July 14.—A special dispatch received from Mukden, dated July 12, repeats the story of a Japanese repulse at Port Arthur with the loss of 30,000. The dispatch says:

"News has been received from reliable sources that the Japanese third army on the night of July 11 attacked Port Arthur and was heavily defeated, an immense number being killed by Russian mines. The total loss is about 30,000."

There was great interest throughout St. Petersburg for further details of the reported disaster. It has developed that the official report, which was at first supposed to emanate directly from Viceroy Alexieff, was not specifically fathered by him, but was given out as a report reaching his headquarters from "Japanese sources." What these sources are has not yet been explained. Possibly the report was intercepted by wireless telegraphy but it is more likely that it came from the Russian consul at Chefoo or the Russian consul at Tientsin.

Gen. Oku's Movements.

Steadily and cautiously Gen. Oku's army from the south and Gen. Nodzu's army from the east are closing in upon Tatchekiao, where Gen. Kuropatkin is reported to be entrenching. One hundred and thirty thousand men are involved in the movement. The next few days will determine whether and to what extent Gen. Kuropatkin intends to make a stand at Tatchekiao, the possession of which by the Japanese would compel the immediate evacuation of New Chwang. The outposts of the armies are scarcely fifteen miles apart.

Chefoo, July 14.—A dispatch received here from Lloyd's agent at New Chwang says:

"Japanese scouts were seen this morning at Blackwoods pond, six miles south of here.

"Gen. Oku, with 50,000 men, is advancing rapidly between this place and Tatchekiao.

"Shipping and trade are progressing as usual."

The Mullah In Full Control.

Aden, July 14.—The mullah is reported to be fifty miles from Berbera (the capital of Somaliland). A dispatch to the London Daily Mail from its Aden correspondent, dated July 6, said that the mullah's forces had attacked the Somali, killing fifty, levying on the natives friendly to the French and looting about 1,000 sheep and 50 cattle. They then retired, pursued by Pioneers, who shot down twenty of the mullah's men. The correspondent of the same paper at Berbera maintained that the whole of the Somaliland campaign had been fruitless, the mullah retaining full control of his particular region.

"Over the Hills."

Coldwater, Mich., July 14.—D. W. Dodge, superintendent of the poor in the northern part of this county, arrived at the county poor farm with Mrs. Lydia Saunders of Union township, who has wealthy relatives.

Paid the Penalty.

Columbus, O., July 14.—Al and Ben Wade were electrocuted this morning at the Ohio penitentiary annex for the murder of Kate Sullivan at Toledo in 1900. Al Wade went to the chair first. Only one shock was administered, and he was pronounced dead at 12:11 o'clock. Ben Wade was strapped in the chair at 12:16 and only one shock was given. He was pronounced dead at 12:26. Both electrocutions were successful.

A MISPLACED SWITCH

Passenger Train Crashes Into Rear End of Freight.

OCCURRED NEAR GLENWOOD, ILL.

Twenty Persons Were Killed and Sixty-Eight Injured — The Train Was Running at Rate of 40 Miles an Hour at Time of Derailment.

Chicago, July 14.—Twenty persons were killed and about sixty-eight injured last night in a collision on the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad at Glenwood, Ill., twenty-three miles south of Chicago.

The collision occurred between a picnic train from Chicago, which was returning from Momence, Ill., and a freight train, into the rear end of which the excursion train dashed at high speed. The picnic train was coming north and the freight was on the southbound track. A misplaced switch threw the picnic train over on the southbound track, and before the engineer could apply the brakes it ran at forty miles an hour into the rear of the freight. The locomotive, the baggage car and the first coach of the picnic train were demolished, and all of the killed and injured were on the locomotive and in the two cars.

Nearly all of the passengers in the first coach were caught beneath the mass of debris, and it was here that the loss of life occurred.

The people in the rear coaches were hurled from their seats and many of them were bruised, but all of the serious casualties occurred in the first car. The uninjured passengers and trainmen at once hastened to the relief of those who were pinned under the wreckage. The wreck was two miles from anywhere and much delay ensued before some of the injured, who were held down by heavy timbers, could be extricated. Nothing could be done for them until lifting machinery came from Chicago Heights, and it carried six physicians. A short time afterwards a second train arrived from Glenwood, bringing additional physicians and a number of nurses. Darkness had fallen and rescue went on by the light of bonfires.

A regular relief train was made up at Glenwood and it brought the dead and wounded to Chicago.

Engineer Explains.

In explanation of the accident Engineer Hoxie and the crew of the freight train say that their train parted at Chicago Heights and the break was not noticed until the train was near Glenwood, causing delay. The engineer knew that the excursion train was coming, but believed that it was on the northbound track and was switching his train from the northbound to the southbound track in an effort to keep out of its way, when it came north on the southbound track and smashed into the freight train.

KING IN A POORHOUSE.

Edward VII Visits His Unfortunate Subjects.

London, July 14.—King Edward yesterday added one more to the many informally democratic incidents that have marked his relations with his poorer subjects since he came to the throne. Slipping away from the crowded Newmarket race track, where he had been watching his own horses run, the king drove to a neighboring poorhouse.

In the poorhouse hospital his majesty noticed a mandolin on a bed where a stable boy lay dying of cancer. In answer to the king's question if he could play it, the boy said he would like to try the national anthem.

"Let us hear you," said King Edward, and summoning all his remaining strength the boy sat up in bed and played "God Save the King." His majesty stood by the bedside until the familiar air was finished.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Some lawyers consider it a crime to confess a crime.

Doctors could not help her.

"I had kidney trouble for years," says Mrs. Raymond Conner of Melton, Wash. "and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say to much for it." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

One man's greatness is due to the aid of many smaller men.

Brutally tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Mr. Golobick of Colusa, Cal., writes, "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it is the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright.

Piles upon top of piles.

Piles upon top of piles of people have the piles and DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve cures them. There are many different kinds of piles but if you get the genuine and original witch hazel salve made by E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago, a cure is certain. E. Tisdale of Summerton, S. C., says "I had piles 20 years but your salve cured me after every thing else had failed." Sold by C. A. Wright.

Every man imagines he is some other man's best friend.

A cough may wear itself out; it's more likely to wear you out. A chronic cough will cause consumption or other serious lung or bronchial troubles as surely as such diseases will cause a chronic cough. Don't get them; get Greene's Cough Cure ("Pure, Safe, Sure") of B. J. Pulver.

Bitter medicine, like bitter experience, is usually the best.

Without a gripe.
To cleanse the liver without a quiver,
Take one at night.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers are small, easy to take, gentle in effect, yet they are so certain in results that no one who uses them is disappointed. For quick relief from biliousness, sick headache, torpid liver, jaundice and all troubles arising from an inactive liver, Early Risers are unequalled. Sold by C. A. Wright.

Weak Hearts

Are caused by indigestion. If you eat too much or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, the stomach expands—swells and puffs up against the heart. This crowds the heart and shortens the breath. Rapid heart beats and heart disease is the result. Kodol Dyspepsia cure digests what you eat, takes the strain off the heart, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach and contributes nourishment, strength and health to all organs. Sold by C. A. Wright.

"It is better to be sure than to be sorry." Blood poisoning is as liable to follow a pin scratch as a bullet wound: a strained muscle may mean the loss of use of a limb, "A little leak may sink a great ship." Don't neglect such things; don't put off attending to them quickly. I sell Greene's Infallible Liniment and guarantee it positively to afford immediate relief and quickly and surely heal cuts, bruises, burns, wounds, muscle soreness, sprains and aches. Your money back if you want it more than you want the liniment. B. J. PULVER.

"GOLDEN RULE" JONES DEAD.

Toledo's Mayor, Like Detroit's Pingree, Was Beloved of All.

Toledo, O., July 13.—Samuel M. Jones, the golden rule mayor, is dead as the result of a complication of diseases. The immediate cause of his death was an abscess on his lungs. When this abscess broke the mayor was not strong enough to throw off the poison from his system, and death resulted. The mayor had suffered for years from asthma, and this was the primary cause of his fatal illness.

The death of Mayor Jones caused the greatest sorrow all over the city. Although many did not believe in his ideas on sociological problems, everybody loved and respected him. His one great stronghold with the people of Toledo was his honesty. The mayor was taken ill two weeks ago last Thursday and for the last forty-eight hours previous to his death was in a comatose condition. All the members of his family were at his bedside at the time of his death. He leaves a widow and three sons, Percy, Paul and Mason Jones. He will be succeeded as mayor by Robert Finch, president of the city council.

G. A. R. GENERAL ORDERS.

Dept. Com. Hopkins Issued Them For Boston Encampment.

Lansing, Mich., July 13.—George H. Hopkins, department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, has issued a general order apropos the thirty-eighth national encampment at Boston Aug. 15.

Michigan headquarters will be established at the Hotel Brunswick. The parade has been arranged for Aug. 16. Chief of Staff George W. Stone will have charge of forming the department in the parade.

The special department of Michigan headquarters train will start from Detroit at 1 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 13, from the Union depot.

PITIFUL CASE.

Young Polish Girl May Have to Answer For Death of Her Child.

Detroit, Mich., July 13.—Mary Myndryk, the 19-year-old Polish girl who attempted to dispose of her baby boy two hours after its birth on July 2, was locked up by the police today on suspicion of causing its death, the little one having passed away at the House of Providence this morning from what Coroner Toepel is inclined to believe was starvation.

The girl arrived in this country about a year ago and up to within a short time of her illness worked in a west side factory. She is without friends or money and is in a pitiful condition.

Struck by Flying Board.

Flint, Mich., July 13.—Just before quitting time Bert Fuller, a young man employed at the W. A. Patterson carriage factory, was severely if not fatally injured. He was engaged in ripping up lumber, when the saw caught one of the boards and threw it back with great force, striking Fuller in the abdomen, knocking him down and rendering him unconscious. Dr. Handy found that his injuries are of an internal nature and so serious that he may not recover.

Killed by Street Car.

Benton Harbor, Mich., July 13.—Mrs. Lucy Davis, aged 61, was knocked down by a street car and died as the result of injuries. The woman was deaf and while walking down the track she failed to hear or see the car coming toward her, though facing it. The motorman undertook to stop the car when he saw the danger of the woman, but too late. The motorman is vindicated by witnesses, who saw the woman on the track.

Injured by Mowing Machine.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 13.—Louis Pearl, while working in a hay field had his foot nearly severed by a mowing machine. The wound was roughly bandaged and then he was put into a carriage and driven seven miles, the horse galloping all the way to town. He reached Butterworth hospital very weak from loss of blood, but still alive. It is thought he will recover.

Circus Hand Killed In Alpena.

Alpena, Mich., July 13.—William Watson, a teamster in Main's circus, was instantly killed while loading, being jerked from a heavy truck and a wheel passing over his head, breaking his neck. His home was in Columbus, O., and he was 35 years old.

Shot His Own Child.

Gaylord, Mich., July 13.—Charles Close of Gaylord was cleaning his revolver when the weapon was discharged, the bullet striking his little girl, 8 years old, in the hip. He supposed that all the bullets had been removed.

Shock of Son's Death Killed Father.

Niles, Mich., July 13.—Oliver H. Smith, aged 70, is dead. His son, Irving, was drowned July 4, and the shock is believed to have hastened the old man's end.

Additions to Kalamazoo Asylum.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 13.—Additions to the extent of $200,000 will be made this summer to the Michigan asylum for the insane.

Thrown From Buggy and Killed.

Camden, Mich., July 13.—James Haskett, a veteran of the civil war, was thrown from his buggy in a runaway and instantly killed.

Michigan Egg Men Organize.

Lansing, Mich., July 14.—The Michigan Wholesale Egg Dealers' association was organized here with the following officers: President, C. C. Hubbell, Marlette; secretary and treasurer, W. A. Ross, Tecumseh; executive committee, F. W. Brown of Detroit, J. E. Weter of Richmond and W. H. Comfort of Bad Axe. A meeting of the new organization will be held in Lansing on Aug. 1 and 2 for the purpose of acting upon bylaws to be prepared by a committee consisting of H. L. Williams of Lansing, O. H. Laflamboy of Alma, and F. P. Van Buren of Williamston.

Frank Wheeler Is Missing.

Lansing, Mich., July 14.—The local authorities are endeavoring to locate Frank Wheeler, son of J. C. Wheeler, who left home to work in the beet fields. No work was done in the fields, but the boy failed to return home. One of the missing boy's friends says he saw him board a freight train just as it was leaving the city. The boy is only 10 years of age.

CLAIM MEASURE IS UNJUST.

Establishment of Custom House In the Canal Zone.

Panama, July 14.—The decree of Gov. Davis, establishing a custom house in the canal zone, has created exciting comment here. The principal merchants of Panama and Colon assembled in the Commercial club to discuss the situation and unanimously decided that the establishment of custom houses in such form means the ruin of the commerce of Panama and Colon and consequently of the republic.

The chamber of commerce at a meeting appointed a committee to communicate with the government. The chamber considers the application of the Dingley tariff act not only detrimental to the interests of commerce and of the government, but against the spirit of the canal treaty. The newspapers have started a campaign to prove to the people and the government of the United States the injustice of the measure.

The steamer City of Pekin of the Pacific Mail Steamship Co. arrived from San Francisco. On arriving at Corinto the City of Pekin got clearance papers for Ancon, the American port in the canal zone, and the captain of the port of Panama refused to receive the steamer, claiming that under the treaty with the United States all ports in Panama are under jurisdiction of the Panama authorities.

SPERRY WILL GO.

Olivet Man Draws the Cecil Rhodes Oxford Scholarship.

Albion, Mich., July 14.—The Rhodes scholarship committee for Michigan consisting of Presidents Angell of the University of Michigan, Dickie of Albion, and Slocum of Kalamazoo, met here and awarded the scholarship for this year's competition to William G. Sperry of Olivet, son of the former president of that college. The three candidates who successfully passed the examinations at Ann Arbor in April were Mr. Sperry and R. C. Platt of Cadillac and F. G. Steeker of Lexington. The two latter were from Albion college.

The choice between Messrs. Sperry and Platt was stated by Dr. Dickie to have been exceedingly close and should the former, for any reason, be unable to go to Oxford the latter will be named as the beneficiary without further consultation by the committee. Sperry will go to Oxford in the fall for three years and will receive $1,500 a year by the Rhodes will.

They Didn't Loop the Loop."

Jamestown, N. Y., July 14.—Miss Irene Broadwell and Miss Ethel Boyd, both of Cleveland, were dangerously injured in the "loop the loop" at Celeron. The car in which they were riding became stalled at the top of the loop and both fell to the track, a distance of twenty feet. The car shot backward, running over both of them. Miss Broadwell's chest was crushed and Miss Boyd was internally injured.

Big Mining Case Non-Suited.

Marquette, Mich., July 14.—The plaintiff in the case of H. R. Palmer of Cleveland vs. W. B. Jeffs of Rockland, Mich., involving a 10 per cent commission for selling the Minnesota mine to the Michigan Copper Mining Co. for $200,000, in the federal court consented to a non-suit. The action followed a notice by the court that he likely would direct a verdict for the defendant.

French Vessels Smuggled Bait.

St. Johns, N. F., July 14.—French fishing vessels from the Grand Banks have been unable to obtain bait at St. Pierre and they are alleged to be busily smuggling bait from Newfoundland waters in defiance of the bait act. One vessel eluded a colonial cruiser after being chased into the St. Pierre roadstead. Several local fishermen have been fined $200 each for supplying bait to the French vessels.

Desperado Captured.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 14.—Charles Renner, an alleged outlaw and pal of Pat Crowe, captured after a desperate fight with Patrolman John Reychen, will probably die of his injuries. His skull is fractured and he has been unconscious for several hours. Renner was preparing to take part in the holdup of a railway train, the police say. A new lantern with a red globe, revolvers and dynamite were found in Renner's room.

Died In Lockup.

Harbor Beach, Mich., July 14.—Albert Mischnick, a well-known local character, was found dead in the village lockup. He had probably gone there to sleep. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from excessive use of alcohol.

Lovejoy Denied New Trial.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., July 14.—Judge Law has denied the motion for a new trial in the case of the Macomb county board of supervisors vs. Gilbert Lovejoy, ex-county treasurer. This is the case in which the county got judgment for nearly $11,000 against Lovejoy, and Judge Spier, attorney for defendant, says the case will be appealed to the supreme court at once.

Detroit's Population 353,238.

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—At the meeting of the board of water commissioners the annual report was rendered showing that the commission now has upon its books 70,087 families that are being served. Estimating an average of 5.04 persons to a family, the population of Detroit is today 353,238.

A Precautionary Measure.

Mr. Kidder—Ah, how-der-do, doctor? If you have a few minutes to spare I wish you would come over to my house and chloroform my youngest boy.

Dr. Price—What is the matter with the lad?

Mr. Kidder—Oh, his mother wants to comb his hair.—Harper's Bazar.

Roundabout Killing.

Captain O'Bull (explaining curios)—Faith, I bought this little powther from the Karribboo islanders, an' I assure you wan dhrop placed on the tongue of a cat is enough to kill the strongest man!

A Good Excuse Lacking.

"I wish I had a rich father."

"Why?"

"Then I'd have some excuse for being so worthless."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fortune has often been blamed for blindness, but fortune is not so blind as men are.—Samuel Smiles.

The Grand Canyon.

Once, crossing a little tributary of the Colorado, I found that every drop splashed on my clothes hardened to a lump of mud and that where the water was but a foot deep my horse was nearly washed away by its force.

That fact, Roger Pocock says in an article in Pearson's, told me the secret of the Grand canyon. Like the Nile, the Colorado flows through a desert, but the river of Egypt meanders softly and muddily over low plains, spreading when it is full into harmless lakes, whereas this headlong sluice of running sand, launched at the naked rocks, has the cutting powers of a huge steel saw. The country has risen perhaps an inch a year, but the torrent instead of spreading out over the land, has sawed through the lifting rocks. The country has risen to a height of 8,000 feet, while still the Colorado flows at the ancient level, only 2,000 feet above the sea. That is the reason of this profound abyss for 600 miles through the very foundations of the world. In all, 30,000,000 cubic miles of solid rock have been ground in this vast mill and hurled into the gulf of California.

Human Breath and Bees.

Bees are revived by human breath, even when apparently dead. An old writer on the subject describes how, during a very wet May, he discovered a hive which had been working well previously whose tenants seemed to be dead, but by putting a few of them into his hand and breathing upon them for several minutes he at last observed some motion at the second joint of their horns. By persevering he revived them all, and they became the best hive in his garden. He is, however, careful to remark that those who use pomatum, perfume or hair powder should not make too free with the insects during the process of restoration.

The secret, of course—though at one time the thing was regarded as miraculous—is in [illegible]; but, besides this, there is no doubt that bees are roused by human breath, to which they have such an antipathy that they are much more easily handled if the operator draws his breath gently and takes care not to direct it against them. —London Standard.

A State That Breathes.

If ever a state might be said to breathe, that state is California. It has a magnificent lung action, says the Sunset Magazine. Deep and long drawn are the breaths of ocean air taken by the great valleys. And you can almost see this breathing if you will go to the top of any of the hills bordering the bay of San Francisco. In general, air movement or wind is initiated by difference of temperature. Therefore on summer afternoons while the broad ocean lies tranquilly sleeping at a temperature of 55 degrees F. the inland valleys are basking in the same sunlight, but the air a few feet above the ground is quivering at a temperature of 100 degrees F. In other words, there is a temperature gradient of 1 degree per mile, and this brings about a marked movement of the air, the motion being from the cool to the warm locality.

The Rhodum Sidus.

An amusing story told by Hood describes how a country nurseryman made a large sum out of sales of a simple little flower which he sold under the name of the Rhodum sidus. This charming name proved quite an attraction to the ladies, and the flower became the rage of the season. It was one of those freaks of fashion for which there is no accounting. At length a botanist who found that the plant was not an uncommon weed requested to know where the nurseryman got the name from. He elicited the following reply: "I found this flower in the road beside us, so christened it the Rhodum sidus."

All Fixed Beforehand.

It is said that one of the most inveterate writers out of speeches was the late Lord Derby, of whom the story went that the manuscript of one of his most statesmanlike discourses, being picked up from the floor, where it had fallen, was found not only to be freely sprinkled with "Hear, hear!" "Laughter," and "Applause," but also to contain a passage beginning, "But I am detaining you too long [cries of 'No, no!' and 'Go on!']."

Too Much For the Nerves.

"Your husband," said the doctor, "has worried himself sick. He needs a change."

"Where ought we to go?" asked the anxious wife.

"To the city," replied the doctor promptly, "where he will not live constantly in a harrowing atmosphere of suburban trains and time tables."—Chicago Post.

Grows Genial.

"How do you like Tipton?"

"He seems cold and reserved."

"He does at first, but he soon thaws. After you have met him a few times he will come up and slap you on the back and ask you for a dollar, just as cordial as can be."—Kansas City Journal.

MRS. ELLA M. SNYDER, Canton, Ohio.

Mrs. Ella M. Snyder, Canton, Ohio, says; "About 20 months ago I gave birth to a little baby girl; during pregnancy I suffered greatly with bearing down pains and had a miserable feeling all the time; I was weak and could not gain strength, and in three months was almost down with nervous prostration, falling of the womb, swelled and diseased ovaries, pain in back and sides, and dizziness. I doctored with several doctors, and for five months I was confined to my bed; I could not walk. One day my husband saw your advertisement and sent at once for a sample bottle. I used the sample and also got a large bottle, and continued using it until now I feel entirely well. Can walk all day and if I feel tired at night I take one dose of Zoa Phora to keep me from getting run down. Many thanks for what you have done for me, and may God add his blessing."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by Commissioners Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, county Lenawee. ss.

The undersigned having been appointed by the probate court of said county, commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at the law office of G. R. Gillespie in the village of Tecumseh, Lenawee county, Michigan, on the 6th day of August, 1904, and on the 21st of December, 1904, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days.

And that six months from the 21st day of June, 1904, are allowed by said probate court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated June 21st, 1904.

FRANK B. BAUER,
JOHN F. SCHREDER,
Commissioners.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, county of Lenawee. ss. Probate court for said county.

At a session of the probate court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the probate office, in the city of Adrian, on the 25th day of June in the year one thousand, nine hundred and four.

Present, Harry L. Larwill, judge of probate.

In the matter of the estate of MARY C. McKEE, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Albert C. Aylesworth, administrator with the will annexed upon the estate of said deceased, alleging that the funeral expenses and debts of said deceased, and the expenses of administration thus far incurred, have been fully paid, and praying that his final administration account may be allowed and for such other order and decree as to this court shall seem proper.

It is ordered, that Monday, the 25th day of July next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition.

And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

British Move on Lhassa.

Gyangste, July 14.—The advance of the British mission on Lhassa, the capital of Thibet, has commenced. Col. Younghusband has issued a lengthy proclamation announcing that it is the intention of the British government to secure reparation from the Thibetans for their "overt acts of war," and that any interference with the progress of the mission "will meet with condign punishment and only result in making the terms demanded more exacting and the measures to enforce them more severe."

Haywood and O'Neill Furnish Bonds.

Denver, July 14.—William D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, and John M. O'Neill, editor of the Miners' Magazine, furnished bonds, Haywood one of $10,000 and O'Neill one of $5,000 to insure their appearance at Cripple Creek next September for trial on the charges filed against them in connection with the riots at Victor, Col., June 6, following the Independence station dynamiting.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly say "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They can't as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by John J. Orr.

The gas man's favorite hymn, the long-metered doxology.

Many a person goes to the day's work or play dull, listless, dispirited. They don't know what real joy there is in life. A sane mind is only possible in a sane body. Indigestion, liver complaint, dizziness, constipation and its hundreds of accompanying ills all vanish like smoke before wind if you use Greene's Little Laxative Beans. B. J. Pulver sells them.

M. F. STEIN

THE FAMOUS OPTICIAN of Detroit,

The eye, when properly cared for affords the keenest delight because of the pleasures we are able to enjoy through its medium. When not cared for and its warnings are unheeded, it becomes an instrument of torture. Headaches, eye pains, burning, itching sensation, strained vision, nervous troubles and many bodily ills are the results accruing from over worked eyes, eyes that need help. My examination reveals all hidden troubles, and it is my province to fit the right glasses to any and all defects of vision. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED BY

Gleason Bros. have taken one more step forward in their bakery department—having installed a machine for mixing the dough in their bakery. The machine is run by a small gasoline engine. Mr. Crossman, "the jolly baker man," says it is just the thing, as it greatly lessens the labor and at the same time increases the quality of the bread and enables him to get the days' baking in shape that it may be put in the hands of the public much earlier in the day. The machine has a capacity of six hundred loaves at one mixing therefore Bryanites in the future can have no fear as Gleason's bakery will always have on hand good bread to supply all demands.

Ginseng a Veritable Gold Mine.

Without doubt, the public at large has come to view any new profit acquiring industry with skepticism, especially of late years, during which period various "bubble concerns" have flourished in all their glory, only to return into the nothingness from which they sprung, leaving hordes of victims to the realization of having "invested not wislet but too well."

If the public would be satisfied to invest small amounts in legitimate pursuits, where the results would be in proportion to the personal attention expended, they would in the long run find the balance accumulating on the other side of the account.

Ginseng, while not as rapid in action as "Vitiated Air Preserved" or "Toboggan Common" is assuredly more certain in solid results.

We often see a lie masquerading in the garb of truth and generally swallow it whole when it comes our way, but the most plain and unvarnished statement of yield and prospect, made by a successful ginseng grower, will cause the most accomplished liar, one who has all the chosen tricks of his profession at his finger tips, to take to the tall timber in dismay at his inability to frame a prevarication which will come anywhere within shouting distance of such undeniable facts as those developed by an investigation of ginseng culture. The ginseng grower is compelled to use great circumspection in his speech for fear of being stigmatized as an Ananias by the incorrigible Doubting Thomas, who is ever ready to cast a stone at anything which does not come within the radius of his ken, although ginseng culture is a matter which is readily understood and easily accomplished even by the novice, who is willing to follow certain rules and leave the rest to nature.

The value in ginseng unlike your get-rich-quick-affair lies at the end of the road and consists of a natural increase of valuable substance at a compound ratio.

One ginseng seed produces a root and plant which in turn brings forth in its second year 20 seeds and each year after 50 seeds, the original root all this time acquiring weight and size, in accordance with the laws of nature.

As each seed with proper care and attention will do likewise it will readily be seen that but a few years are required to acquire from a small start a garden of comfortable size and corresponding value.

As ginsing roots can be made to average at the end of five years, 5 ounces green or 1½ dry which will be worth on an average $9 per pound the possibilities of this crop can be ascertained by any one who will do a little figuring on his own account and the result will bear me out in my statement that this is the most profitable crop taken from American soil.

There are quite a number of growers, who have realized fortunes from the small gardens they started a few years ago. Probably the largest garden in the United States belongs to W. Bates of Cuba, N. Y., who has about one acre of matured plants and one acre of young roots in a nursery garden, which when transplanted this fall will give him in the neighborhood of five acres of ginseng in permanent beds.

In speaking of ginsong Mr. Bates says: "Anyone can start in the ginseng business who has the will and a plot of ground. I have started quite a number with a few seeis and roots from my garden, who are today in position to realize a comfortable fortune therefrom in the next few years."

By the courtesy of Mr. Bates, whom I have always found to be willing to assist others in procuring a start, I am enabled to show a bed (4ft. x 186 ft) of five year old plants, ready to harvest as soon as the seed falls, which will realize at market prices about $3400.00 or as much as the entire income from a large farm planted to ordinary crops.

This should cause readers to pause and consider the propriety of planting, at least, a small lot.

The expense attached to an experimental bed is so trivial that no one can afford to neglect this matter.

—CLIVE HALL DYE, Cuba, N. Y.

BASE BALL

Tuesday's game with the

ADVANCE THRASHER TEAM

Was extremely one-sided. Home team won with a score of 30 to 1.

The Advance Thrasher Co. base ball team from Battle Creek had best take to the woods, instead of trying to play ball. The game between the locals and the Battle Creek aggregation resulted in a decided victory for the home team, the score standing 30 to 1.

Kaopp, the Battle Creek twirler, was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning, the local team getting 20 hits off him, Garner pitched the remainder of the game allowing four hits. Their errors were many, having 8 and the locals but three.

The locals again furnished the features, having 6 two base hits and three 3 base hits and one double play. Killian was in the box for the home team, pitching a good game, holding his opponents down to 5 hits. Their only score was made in the ninth inning when Garner made a hit and got to third on errors and scored on a passed ball by Beasley.

The score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Battle Creek	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	6	8

BASE BALL NOTES.

The Tecumseh base ball team again play Montpelier at Montpelier tomorrow and the same team at Pioneer, O., on Monday.

The Tecumseh base ball team played Montpelier, O. in Butler, Ind. yesterday afternoon and won by a score of 7 to 0. Killian pitched for Tecumseh and only allowed 1 hit. Merritt Martin of Adrian, pitched for Montpelier, O., our home team getting 12 hits. They play Montpelier, O. today at Montpelier.

Tuesday afternoon the Everetts of Detroit play the Tecumseh team at the base ball park. It will be remembered that earlier in the season the Everetts were booked for a game here and on account of rain it was only partly played. The Everetts have been winning all of their games since playing here and have crossed bats with some of the fastest teams in the state. An interesting game is looked for.

The Bull dogs crossed bats with the Newsboys here yesterday and were beaten by a score of 7 to 8. Pocklington umpired the game. Following are the players and positions:

Newsboys	Bull dogs
Hazlett p	Dewey 2b
Goye s	Coller s
Schreder cf	Eckert 1b
Wells rf	Shurtz 3b
Birdsall lf	Service p
C. Tansley c	King rf
Eccles 2b	Skinner lf
G. Tansley 1b	Darling c
Aldrich 3b

Night was her terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long" writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough dreadfully and spit blood but when all other medicines failed three $1 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds. It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at C. A. Wright's drug store.

Another Pioneer gone.

MRS. MARIA HIXON,

The Oldest Person in Lenawee County, died Saturday, July 9.

Mrs. Maria Hixson, the subject of this sketch, died on Saturday evening at 11 o'clock, of old age. A few days before her 105th birthday she was taken sick, and although she was not thought to be seriously ill at first, she failed gradually and the end came near midnight on Saturday, July 9th.

Mrs. Hixson has lived in Tecumseh the past seven months, and has made many friends during her stay here. She was always cheerful, with a pleasant word for the old and young and delighted in telling of her experiences in pioneer days, remembering the dates so well.

MRS. MARIA HIXSON.

Maria Ketcham was born in Armenia, Duchess county, N. Y., June 26, 1800. At the age of 17 years, she with her parents, moved to Ithaca, N. Y., where she resided until the time of her marriage to Daniel Hixson, which occurred September 4, 1824.

Two years after in October, 1826, she came to Michigan with her husband and little girl. They went up the Erie canal to Buffalo and there being but one steamer on Lake Erie, they waited a week but seeing nothing of it they took a schooner, five days after they reached the Monroe wharf, five miles from the town. This distance was covered on donkeys, Mrs. Hixson and baby on one, while her husband rode the other. In Monroe they met old acquaintances, one of them with his ox team brought them to Tecumseh by the Monroe turnpike, where Jacob Ketcham, a brother of Mrs. Hixson's was living.

Only four families were living in Tecumseh at that time. They lived here 16 months, during which time, two children, a boy and a girl, were born to them. In May, 1828, they went to their own home in Clinton where a log house had been built by the aid of Tecumseh's population. Clinton was a dense forest from Tecumseh and Mrs. Hixson was the first white woman to make the journey, this being only an Indian trail over which she had to travel.

Here with their three little children, surrounded by Indians and wild beasts, Mr. and Mrs. Hixson entered upon pioneer life. As the country grew and more people settled around there, Mr. and Mrs. Hixson moved from their log house to the frame. On February 3rd, 1870, Mr. Hixson died and soon after Mrs. Hixson moved into Clinton village.

Of the eight children born to Mr. and Mrs. Hixson, but two are living, Miss Helen, of Clinton, with whom Mrs. Hixson had lived until last November, when she came to Tecumseh to spend her last days. Mrs. Henrietta Kedzie, the other daughter, of Evanston, Ill., came here soon after and has since remained with her mother.

Mrs. Hixson is a charter member of the Presbyterian church of this village and a member of the Congregational church at Clinton. Rev. W. F. Jones officiated at the funeral, which occurred Monday afternoon at two o'clock from the house. Surrounded by beautiful flowers which she loved so well, she was laid at rest in the Clinton cemetery.

Mrs. Hixson leaves beside her two daughters, five grandchildren and three great grandchildren and a number of nephews and nieces of the second and third generations, to mourn her loss.

NEW WAY TO SELL MEDICINE

C. A. Wright gives guarantee bond with Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia.

C. A. Wright has made arrangements to sell Mi-o-na, the marvelous digestion regulator in a new and hitherto unheard of way, furnishing a guarantee bond with every package.

GUARANTEE BOND

In purchasing a 50c box of Mi-o-na, the purchaser is requested to have this guarantee signed by C. A. Wright as his personal agreement to refund the money on return of empty box if Mi-o-na fails to cure dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

Signed. ....

C. A. Wright will give the above bond with every 50c. box of Mi-o-na he sells. You run no risk in buying Mi-o-na.

That everyone may have faith in this scientific cure for dyspepsia, Mi-o-na is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

Everyone who is troubled with dyspepsia, headache, distress after eating, dizzy feeling or loss of appetite or who is losing weight and in a run-down condition, should take the guarantee bond to C. A. Wright and commence the use of Mi-o-na at his risk, remembering that the treatment costs you nothing unless it does all that is claimed for it.

THE CHURCHES.

The pastor will preach in the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning on the theme, "World's Interest in Christ." At the union service in the evening Rev. Sedweek will preach in the Presbyterian church.

E. C. Knapp of Three Oaks, will tell about his trip to the Holy Land at the Methodist church Sunday evening, July 24. Mr. Knapp is associated with the International Sunday school work and was sent as a delegate to the worlds Sunday school convention held in Jerusalem. Mr. Knapp comes to us highly recommended as an entertaining and very forceful speaker and the Y. M. C. A. is very fortunate in being able to secure Mr. Knapp for this address. Every one invited to hear him.

Prevents Hay Fever.

All who are subject to hay fever or rose colds should use Hyomei daily for two or three weeks before the time of their annual attack and thus prevent it. The worst cases are quickly relieved and cured by Hyomei and Hyomei Balm.

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE

Hyomei, the guaranteed catarrh cure, prescribed by physicians.

No one should confound Hyomei with patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians.

Is it not foolish to try and cure catarrh by swallowing tablets or liquids? The only natural way to cure this disease and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

This treatment has been so successful, curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

INFORMATION

Given to the Public by our Local Druggist.

We want the public to know that the most valuable and delicious tasting cod liver oil preparation known to medicine is Vinol.

Vinol contains ALL of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but not a drop of oil.

For this reason it is recognized throughout the world as the greatest health restorer and strength creator known to medicine, and we do not believe there is a man, woman or child in this vicinity but what Vinol will benefit them.

It makes health and strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and to make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

For sale by C. A. Wright.

Women are not much force in a political campaign; it takes them too long to find the money in their pocket books.

LOCAL ENTHUSIASM.

On one subject Tecumseh people grow enthusiastic.

The increase of popular enthusiasm on the following subject is almost daily manifested by public expression and local endorsement. Read what this citizen says and discover the cause for the constant showering of praise which follows in the wake of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Henry Keyser, the retired farmer and capitalist, resides in the southwestern section of Tecumseh says: "I am thoroughly convinced of the superior merits of this popular remedy Doan's Kidney Pills. They deserve naught but the highest praise. Before going to C. A. Wright's drug store for a box, I had a dull aching pain in my back which had annoyed me for some time and the secretions from my kidneys were unnatural and irregular. To say that I was surprised at the effect is putting it mildly. In a very short time the trouble disappeared. I never knew a medicine that worked so quickly and satisfactorily.

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Girls are partial to picture hats, but they draw the line at print gowns.

NO SETTLEMENT YET

Packers Will Not Recede From Position Taken Last Week.

STRIKE BREAKERS ATTACKED

Four Negroes, Two White Men and a Policeman Injured in the Melee—West Philadelphia Abattoir in Operation First Time in Years.

Chicago, July 18.—There was little of any change in the situation of the meat packers' strike here today. With Michael Donnelly, the strikers' leader, in St. Louis looking after that end of the difficulty, there was no effort here Sunday to renew the peace negotiations, which lasted through three days last week and were terminated Saturday night without result. Whether another attempt to reach an adjustment of the controversy by arbitration will be made is problematical, as the packers, believing they had the better of the argument in last week's conferences, are little inclined to offer any concessions to the strikers. One thing is certain, the packers say, and that is that they will not recede from the position they assumed in last week's conference and that the strikers will have to conform to the employers' ultimatum before any further peace plans looking to a settlement by arbitration will be successful. To add to the packers' determination to stand firm is the fact that they have steadily increased their working force at the plants by the employment of outside workmen until today, it was said, that things were in almost normal condition at several of the plants. Under these conditions the packers have assumed a more independent attitude and are more determined than ever that they and not the strikers shall dictate the terms on which the controversy shall be arbitrated.

The Sticking Point.

As the strikers declare that they conceded every point possible in last week's negotiations, there is little likelihood that any further conferences, for the present at least, would amount to much toward a satisfactory settlement of the strike. With both sides in this frame of mind the outlook for a speedy settlement is decidedly dark. The sticking point to the whole question of arbitration is the reinstatement of the strikers.

To complicate the controversy still more, the allied crafts at the stock yards, numbering 14,000 workmen, have become restless and are anxious to join the men already out in a sympathetic strike. Whether these men will go on strike or not will be decided tomorrow, when Mr. Donnelly returns from St. Louis.

These unions, representing thirty of the mechanical trades in the packing plants, have decided to quit work if Mr. Donnelly says so, and should he give the signal on his return the 14,000 men will walk out.

In an attack upon four colored strike-breakers by a mob composed of spectators at an amateur baseball game in the vicinity of the stock yards, two white men, one policeman and the four strike-breakers were severely injured. Revolvers and knives were used and three of the injured men are in a serious condition. One of the negroes, named Baker, began slashing right and left. Before the knife could be taken away from him he stabbed James Kiely near the heart, perhaps fatally. Another of the negroes fired into the crowd, two of the bullets hitting William Durand, one of the attacking party.

Philadelphia, July 18.—For the first time in years the West Philadelphia abbattoir was in operation today because of the threatened scarcity of meat, due to the Chicago strike. During the day 50 head of cattle were slaughtered by independent dealers of this city. The Philadelphia houses of the western packing concerns have only a small supply of meat on hand, and the independent butchers of the city are striving to take up whatever business the western houses are unable to handle. The independents declare they can take care of the entire city. There is plenty of live stock in sight, but prices have been advanced about 2 cents.

Working Day and Night.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. These pills change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by C A. Wright.

JAPANESE EVACUATED

The Towns of Sekeyan and Yan Likan.

HEAVY FIRING HAS BEEN HEARD

Situation Unchanged, but the Armies Are in Touch, the Russians Being Strongly Reinforced and Battle May Be Expected Any Day.

Tientsin, July 18.—It has been learned from a Chinese source there that heavy firing has been heard outside of Tatchekiao for the last two days.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—Under date of July 16 Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff reports that the Chassours are driving back the Japanese advance posts southwest of Siakhetan and east of Kanchi. The Japanese, the general says, have reoccupied Kechinha. They are still fortifying the passes between Fonchi and Motien.

The Japanese near Liao Yang have evacuated Sekeyan and Yan Likan. The country from Siaossyra up to Sihu pass is free from Japanese, but the pass itself is occupied by a detachment of the Japanese advance guard.

London, July 18.—The morning papers have dispatches from correspondents at Gen. Kuroki's headquarters, which cover the situation in the far east up to July 16. All of them agree in saying that the situation is unchanged, but that the armies always are in touch, that the Russians are being strongly reinforced and that a battle may be expected any day. Slight skirmishes are reported to have taken place July 15.

Tientsin, July 18.—The Russian agent here has officially stated that the Japanese have not occupied New Chwang. The Russian officials are, he states, administering there as heretofore.

Russians Searching Neutral Ships.

St. Petersburg, July 18.—The news that the Russian volunteer steamships Smolensk and St. Petersburg, now cruising in the Red sea, are stopping ships of neutral nations and searching them for contraband of war, is causing the liveliest interest in all circles. Russia has evidently weighed the question, believing herself to be within her rights and neither fears nor anticipates international complications.

London, July 18.—The Standard's Tokio correspondent, cabling under date of July 18, says the Jiji Shimpo in an editorial expressed the hope that Great Britain will see that Turkey lends Russia no assistance by allowing steamers of the volunteer fleet to pass the Dardanelles.

The Jiji Shimpo declares Great Britain is bound under the terms of the Naglo-Japanese alliance to prevent such assistance being given.

Almost without exception the newspapers this morning in editorials or otherwise, comment upon the Russian volunteer fleet steamers passing the Dardanelles, and the government is urged to take action, especially for the protection of British commerce in the Red sea and neighboring waters.

The Daily Telegraph, concluding an outspoken protest written with traces of government inspiration, says: "There is a limit to complaisance when neutral commerce under the British flag is molested in a way to which we have been for a century and a half unused."

Special dispatches from Berlin echo the feeling of irritation that exists in London.

Father and Son Drowned.

Toledo, July 18.—Henry Yetter and his son Arthur, aged 10, were drowned in the canal near Grand Rapids, Ohio. The boy was seized with cramps while bathing, and the father jumped in to save him. The father had a cork leg and this proved such an impediment that he was unable to control his own movements and both were drowned. The father's body was recovered nearly a mile below the scene of the drowning, where it had floated head downwards.

Child Killed by Train.

Corunna, Mich., July 18.—The 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Morse was fatally injured by a Grand Trunk passenger train. The Morses live near the railroad track and the baby wandered away from the house during the absence of its mother and was run over. The wheels of the engine severed the left leg just below the knee.

DECOMPOSED REMAINS

Suicide Found in Dilapidated Shack Near Grand Rapids.

JOHN W. BROWN OF MILWAUKEE

Well-Known Traveling Shoe Salesman of Grand Rapids House Put a Bullet Through His Temple—Straitened Circumstances the Cause.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 16.—Decomposed beyond all recognition, the body of John W. Brown, whose home was at 780 Thirty-second street, Milwaukee, Wis., was found in a dilapidated shack on the spiritualists camp grounds on the shores of Reed's lake, near this city. A 32-caliber revolver held in his right hand, a bullet hole in his right temple and a clot of blood below his right ear told the story of his suicide.

Financial straits had caused Brown to end his life. In his clothes were pawn tickets issued by local pawn shops. Only a few cents were found in his clothes. An identification card found in the lining of the coat served to disclose who he was.

Brown was one of the best known traveling shoe salesmen in Michigan. He was formerly employed by Rindge, Kalmabach, Logie & Co. of this city, and recommendations from them were in a book of his. His widow is living in Milwaukee. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen, Hill camp, of his city, and of the Elks.

Growth of Michigan Cities.

Lansing, Mich., July 16.—The state census bureau will soon have the total census for the state. Some of the cities have already been figured up. Decreases are shown for Midland and Marshall. Other totals follow: Kalamazoo, 29,782, an increase since 1900 of 5,378; Flint, 14,844, an increase of ,781; Midland, 2,520, a decrease of 13, Sault Ste. Marie, 11,442, an increase of 904; Gladwin, 1,091, an increase of 316; Albion, 4,043, an increase of 424; Ionia, 5,232, an increase of 13; Dowagiac, 4,404, an increase of 155; Ludington, 7,259, an increase of 13; St. Clair, 2,664, an increase of 121; Marshall, 4,361, a decrease of 9; Coldwater, 9,145, an increase of 449; Alpena, 12,400, an increase of 198; Hastings, 3,558, an increase of 600.

A Rush Tieup.

Manistee, Mich., July 16.—Breathless from their own haste, but urging the judge to rush the ceremony, Edward Twiss and Mrs. Mina Twiss of this city were married by Justice Martin of Chicago. Though their names are the same, they protested that they were not related in any manner. Twiss gave his age as 28 years, while the bride confessed to 32. The couple refused to explain the cause of their haste and left the courtroom as soon as the marriage certificate was filled out.

Sheriff Protected His Prisoner.

Newberry, Mich., July 16.—Christ Holt, aged 45, is under arrest charged with a serious crime. On Sunday last he met Ellen Olson, aged 16, and, it is charged, pursued and assaulted her. He pleaded not guilty and was bound over to the circuit court next October. Public feeling ran high and an attempt was made to do him harm by a crowd of men and boys, but Sheriff Cyr finally locked up his prisoner and placed a strong guard around the jail.

Drowned in Pail of Water.

Detroit, Mich., July 16.—Phyllis Heideman, 15-months-old daughter of Albert Heideman, a carpenter living at 302 Brandon avenue, was drowned in a pail of water in the rear of her home.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Rufino Lopez of Irapuato, Mexico, is dead at the age of 107. He was in good health almost to the day of his death and his faculties unimpaired. He leaves a large estate.

It was given out at Scranton, Pa., from an official source that the differences between the Delaware & Hudson Co. and its railroad employes have been amicably adjusted at a conference held in Albany.

Very Rev. Stephen Kealy, provincial of the Passion order in the United States, dropped dead while celebrating mass in the St. Michael's chapel of the monastery of the order at West Hoboken, N. J. He was stricken with apoplexy and fell on the altar steps, dying almost immediately.

VISITORS' RATIONS AT CAMP.

Attorney-General Blair Hands Down a Few Decisions.

Lansing, Mich., July 16.—The members of the state military board and Auditor-General Powers held a conference with Attorney-General Blair relative to the construction of the law relating to expenditures from the military fund for certain purposes about which there have been differences of opinion between the board and the auditor-general.

Attorney-General Blair holds that the members of the board are not entitled to pay at the rate of compensation for officers of the same rank for attendance upon meetings of the state military board. He also holds that the expense of furnishing officers with horses for use during the annual encampment of state troops is a proper charge against the state.

Relative to headquarters mess at encampments, the opinion declares that such portion of the expense of its maintenance as attaches to the feeding of laborers and other persons employed by the state in connection with the conduct of the camp should be paid by the state, but that the state cannot, under the law, be charged with the expense of entertaining visitors and others who have no connection with the camp.

WILL BE FIGHT TO FINISH.

Pere Marquette and Graham & Morton Line on the Outs.

Benton Harbor, Mich., July 16.—As the result of strained relations between the companies through many months, and brought to a head by the rate reduction of the steamboat line between this city and Chicago and Grand Rapids, the Pere Marquette have broken entirely from the Graham & Morton Transportation Co. and will wage a bitter fight for the passenger business out of Chicago.

The railway company have furnished notice that after July 20 they will no longer honor steamer tickets on their trains, and railway tickets sold by the transportation company will be refused by the conductors. The immediate cause of the break was the boat line's new rate to Grand Rapids from Chicago at $1.35. The G. & M. company now propose to secure at once an interurban line between this city and Paw Paw lake and Kalamazoo.

Big I. O. O. F. Reunion.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 16.—I. O. O. F lodges and cantons of southwestern Michigan and northern Indiana will hold a big reunion at Benton Harbor Aug. 10. All cities in the northern section of Indiana and the southern section of Michigan have been invited to attend and many have accepted. Kalamazoo and South Bend will both send their cantons and large delegations.

Detroit Mills Again in Operation.

Bay City, Mich., July 16.—The Detroit mills, which have been idle since the $2 tax was imposed upon saw logs, resumed operations and has timber enough ahead to last from twelve to fifteen years. The mill will be run the year round.

Killed by Train at Midland.

Saginaw, Mich., July 16.—As the the M. C. R. R. train from Bay City was entering the yards at Midland Ernest, son of W. H. Mann of Midland, was run over and instantly killed. He was lying on the track, and when discovered it was too late to stop the train

State Census of Manufactures.

Washington, July 16.—The director of the census has arranged to send forty-one clerks from the census bureau in this city to Michigan to assist the state force in taking the state census of manufactures. "All will be men employed from the division of manufactures. They will start next Thursday. Mr. Stewart, chief of that division, is now in Michigan conferring with local officers and mapping out the work of the government force.

Will Be a Boost For Grand Haven.

Grand Haven, Mich., July 16.—A syndicate of New York and Chicago capitalists are negotiating for the purchase of a tract of a thousand acres of land near Grand Haven on the lake shore, to be used for resort purposes. They also propose to locate upon the site a great summer school, based after Chautauqua.

No pity shown.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result; and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Brutally tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Mr. Golobick of Colusa, Cal., writes, "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it is the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright.

Piles upon top of piles.

Piles upon top of piles of people have the piles and DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve cures them. There are many different kinds of piles but if you get the genuine and original witch hazel salve made by E. C. DeWitt & Co. of Chicago, a cure is certain. E. Tisdale of Summerton, S. C., says "I had piles 20 years but your salve cured me after every thing else had failed." Sold by C. A. Wright.

Weak Hearts

Are causedby indigestion. If you eat too much or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, the stomach expands—swells and puffs up against the heart. This crowds the heart and shortens the breath. Rapid heart beats and heart disease is the result. Kodol Dyspepsia cure digests what you eat, takes the strain off the heart, cures indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach and contributes nourishment, strength and health to all organs. Sold by C. A. The Flax Plant.

Linen is obtained from the flax plant, a small, delicate annual with a tiny blue flower. The plant is pulled by hand in the summer, the seeds, known in commerce as linseed, being removed and the straw subjected to various processes to separate the fibrous part which constitutes the linen. First it is steeped in water and then passed through a drying and heating process on revolving wheels until all foreign matter is removed. It is then ready for manufacture.

Flax has been used from remote ages as a textile fabric, especially in Egypt. Mummy cloths are often found to be of exceedingly fine texture. The chief linen producing countries of the present day are Ireland, France, Belgium and Germany. The flax fiber is round and irregular, is very durable and is capable of extensive bleaching. Plain linen has a simple weave, with the weft threads alternately interspersing the warp ones. When woven with a pattern it is usually called damask.

As a clothing material linen should not be worn next the skin because it is a very good conductor of heat.

Jute and hemp are from plants which are used in manufacturing only very rough materials. In form they resemble very coarse, inferior flax.—American Queen.

Trained Nurses Who Loaf.

"When a doctor finds a nurse reading a book about her profession and not a novel while she watches at the bedside of a patient," said an uptown physician, "that is the nurse he likes to hire and to help. If the case turns out well the doctor sometimes makes her a present of a book with up to date ideas on her profession which she might not be able to buy. One-half the trained nurses of the city are dependent upon the recommendations of physicians, and half the success of a physician depends on a good nurse; therefore a doctor likes a nurse who reads about her business, attends lectures and keeps up with the times.

"You would be astonished to know how many lectures are given by physicians in New York every month that are open to trained nurses, but which few of them attend. There are a good many loafers among the trained nurses. They seem to think their study ended when they got their diplomas."—New York Press.

Mythical as Thirteen.

Modern occultists maintain that the number four plays quite as important a part in mundane affairs as the number thirteen, and for the following reasons:

There are four cardinal points, four winds, four seasons, four rules for arithmetic, four conjugations and four quarters of the moon. Moreover, the Olympiad lasted for four years, a pack of cards is composed of four equal parts and of four suits, an hour is divided into four quarters, and most pieces of furniture have four legs. The occultists even point out that every human being has four canine teeth, that a fork has four prongs, that corpses are placed between four planks and prisoners between four walls, and that at a funeral the coffin is usually borne by four persons.

A Mere Man's Idea.

"First impressions are proverbially dangerous guides unless one happens to be of the sex which always has the gift of making its first impressions rhyme with the issue," says a recent writer. But a woman always awaits the issue before she confides her real first impressions to the outside world. She may "say things" which the male outsider may mistake for her first impressions, but they are not her real first impressions. They come only after the event. This, however, is a profitless digression.

A Man to Know.

One of the chief joys in life is to know men by whom you can swear, to know a man here and there over the world of whom you can say: "Wherever he is tonight, there he is helpful, truthful, sincere, wise, intelligent—an educated gentleman; educated in every faculty of his being, in those things which go to make the body a thing of delight and beauty; educated in conscience, so that even as the eye seeks the light his conscience seeks the right; educated fully and completely."

Feline Aristocrats.

The Siamese is said to be the most delicate and expensive of all cats. It is called the royal cat because, according to Science Siftings, it has long been bred in the family of the king of Siam. It is a short haired cat, which looks curiously like a dog. Its coat is pug dog color and very short, firm and silky—more like a dog's than a cat's. It has black paws and nose and a twist in its tail.

His Idea of Pleasure.

"Yes; we went all over the continent, but papa really only enjoyed himself in Venice."

"Ah, yes, no wonder! The gondolas, St. Mark's, the"—

"Oh, it wasn't that. But he could sit in the hotel, you know, and fish out of the windows."

Easy Enough.

"Do you think Skinner can make a living out there?"

"Make a living! Why, he'd make a living on a rock in the middle of the ocean if there was another man on the rock."

A Possible Exception.

Wife—Isn't it a fact, dear, that handsome men are proverbially disagreeable?

Husband—Well, I don't know. I always try to be pleasant.

Norway's coast line, 1,700 miles in a straight line, becomes 12,000 miles if followed round the fiords. In these fiords are over 150,000 islands.

The Average Man.

The factor which is overlooked by those who fear the ascendency of any quixotic notion is the existence of the average man. This individual is not a striking personality, but he holds the balance of power. Before any extravagant idea can establish itself it must convert the average man. He is very susceptible and takes a suggestion so readily that it seems to prophesy the complete overthrow of the existing order of things. But was ever a conversion absolute? The best theologians say no. A great deal of the old Adam is always left over. When the average man takes up with a quixotic notion, only so much of it is practically wrought out as he is able to comprehend. The old Adam of common sense continually asserts itself. The natural corrective of quixotism is Sancho Panzaism. The solemn knight, with his head full of visionary plans, is followed by a squire who is as faithful as his nature will permit. Sancho has no theories and makes no demands on the world. He leaves that sort of thing to his master. He has the fatalism which belongs to ignorant good nature and the tolerance which is found in easy going persons who have neither ideals nor nerves. He has no illusions, though he has all the credulity of ignorance.—S. M. Crothers in Atlantic.

One of Bill Nye's Jokes.

When Bill Nye one day happened on the modest sign of Major Pond, the lecturer manager, in a window of the Everett House, in New York, he said to a friend who accompanied him: "Here's the man that incites the lecturers. Let's go in and see if we can't induce him to lead a better life." Entering, Nye removed his hat and ran his hand over the hairless expanse of his head and after staring about for a moment said, "This is Major Pond, I believe." "Yes, sir. What can I do for you?" answered the major. "I want to get a job on the platform," returned Nye. "Ah, yes," said the major slowly. "Have you had experience?" "Well, I've been before the public for a couple of years." "Yes? May I ask in what capacity?" "I've been with Barnum. Sat concealed in the bottom of a cabinet and exhibited my head as the largest ostrich egg in captivity."

The Boyhood Friend.

Before he was elected to be the chief executive of the Old Dominion Governor Montague of Virginia met an old classmate on the train. They had not met for years. Mr. Montague was a candidate for governor and the other a plain country lawyer with a small income.

"What can I do for you when I'm governor?" said the candidate as he put his arm around his friend. "What can I do for you, old boy?"

"Just what you have done now," quietly replied the lawyer.

"Why, what's that?" said the other.

"Simply put your arm around me and call me 'old boy.' That's all I want," was the reply of the true friend of boyhood days.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Saved by a Ring.

Lady Catherine Wyndham, daughter of the Duke of Somerset, wife of Mr. William Wyndham and mother of the first Earl of Egremont, died, as was supposed, at Orchard Wyndhams, the family seat in Somersetshire, and was buried in a vault beneath the Church of St. Decuman's, near Watchet. The sexton went down into the vault at night, opened the coffin and endeavored to force a ring off her finger. Lady Catherine awoke from her trance, got up and lighted herself home with a lantern which the sexton had left behind in the vault when he fled in terror. A few months afterward she presented her husband with twins, one of whom became Sir Charles Wyndham and Earl of Egremont.

A Justifiable Evasion.

One time when Sir Walter Scott was asked if he wrote the Waverley novels, the authorship of which was a great secret, he said, "No, I am not the author, and if I were I should say the same." Mr. Gladstone thought this a justifiable evasion.

Sydney Smith once said of some of his anonymous efforts, "I have always denied it; but, finding that I deny it in vain, I have thought it might be as well to include the letters in this collection."

A Family Name.

The teacher of a country school asked his pupils one day if any of them could tell him who Joan of Arc was.

The question was followed by profound silence. Some of the pupils stared at the teacher, and some turned and stared at one another, as if seeking the information in the faces around them.

Finally a boy burst out with:

"Oh, yes, I know. She was Noah's wife."—Lippincott's.

Thackeray's Satire.

Thackeray created quite erroneous impressions of himself by often indulging in irony in the presence of people who were incapable of understanding it. One curious instance which he gave was this: Thackeray had been dining at the Garrick and was talking in the smoking room after dinner with various club acquaintances. One of them happening to have left his cigar case at home, Thackeray, though disliking the man, who was a notorious tuft hunter, good naturedly offered him one of his cigars. The man accepted the cigar, but, not finding it to his liking, had the bad taste to say to Thackeray, "I say, Thackeray, you won't mind my saying I don't think much of this cigar?" Thackeray, no doubt irritated at the man's ungraciousness and bearing in mind his tuft hunting predilections, quietly responded, "You ought to, my good fellow, for it was given me by a lord." Instead, however, of detecting the irony, the dolt immediately attributed the remark to snobbishness on Thackeray's part and to the end of his days went about declaring that "Thackeray had boasted that he had been given a cigar by a lord."

A Wonder of Precocity.

Christian Heinecker was born at Lubeck on the 6th of February, 1721. When only ten months old he could repeat every word spoken to him. At twelve months of age he had memorized all the principal events in the Pentateuch. Before he had finished his second year of existence he had learned all the historical parts of both the Old and the New Testament. At the age of three he could reply correctly to all questions put to him regarding universal history and geography, and in the same year he learned to speak both Latin and French.

In his fourth year he employed his time in studying religions, especially the history of the Christian church. He was not only able to glibly repeat all that he had read, but was also able to reason with considerable of judgment and to give his own opinion of things in general. The king of Denmark wished to see this wonderful child, so he was taken to Copenhagen. After his return to Lubeck he learned to write and was beginning on the study of music and mathematics, but, his constitution being very weak, he took down and died on June 27, 1725, aged four years, four months and twenty-one days. What a wonderful record for such a short life!

Buttered Locks.

In Abyssinia one method of doing the hair that is adopted by warriors is to stroll into the market place, buy a pound of butter and, putting it upon the top of the hair, stand still while the sun arranges things. When the hair is thus dressed with melted butter the Abyssinian knows that fate cannot or will not touch him. He is a picture of well dressed elegance done in oils. Another style is to tress the hair, and every tress means something. A young warrior with a head of hair untressed is of no account. He has not yet killed a man. When, however, he has done so all his hair is shaved off except enough to make one tress, which is of the same signification as a notch on a pistol stock. After that every man he kills entitles him to add another tress until as a conquering hero of 100 tresses he is a formidable man to try conclusions with.

Crinoline.

Crinoline had its origin in a woven fabric composed of hair and linen (flax) warp; hence the name. This fabric was first used for shoes, then for bonnets, the word being coined in 1830. As this article was costly and did not extend the dress to the desired bulk light steel hoops were fitted with tape upon the bird cage principle. So popular was the crinoline in 1862 that the rolling of the steel developed a great trade in Sheffield, and one firm alone averaged an output of from ten to fifteen tons a week. Several deaths occurring by fire through the use of crinoline killed the fashion, but Dr. Richardson in his "Field of Diseases" gives an instance of a lady escaping from the effects of being struck by lightning by the hoops acting as conductors.

Rearranging the Basis.

"You are charging me $7 a week for board and lodging, Mrs. Irons," said the gray haired person of the name of Harris. "May I ask how you would itemize it? What part of it is for board?"

"Five dollars," replied the landlady.

"And $2 for my room?"

"Yes."

"Well, if you don't mind, Mrs. Irons," he said, proceeding to square up for another week, "we'll consider hereafter that I'm paying $5 for lodging and $2 for board. It will seem more as if I were getting the worth of my money."—Chicago Tribune.

New Life and Health for Women.

Zoa Phora Makes Women Feel Young, Strong and Healthy and Gives Them the Glow and Bloom of Youth and Beauty.

Trial Bottle Free to Every Lady.

Zoa Phora certainly does do wonders for women. Every woman who has tried it says so and there are multiplied thousands of them. From all parts and corners of the land come their words of praise and joy and gratitude. Zoa Phora has brought more life and health to women, has relieved more pain and suffering and filled more homes with joy and happiness than all remedies and medicines and doctors combined. Their genuine letters of thanksgiving and rejoicing prove it and prove it conclusively.

Zoa Phora cures all forms of female diseases, misplacements, irregularities, suppressed and painful periods, flooding, piles, kidney, bladder and liver diseases and all the troubles that drag down the life of women and make their lives a burden and a misery. You will rejoice as others now rejoice in perfect health and happiness if you use Zoa Phora.

Mrs. Wm. B. Knapp, 331 E. 8th St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "I write this hoping that it will be the means of helping some suffering sister who has any weakness or trouble peculiar to women. Seventeen years ago last fall I was taken sick abed with weakness, and was in bed all winter. Just as soon as I would get up I would faint and fall. Three of the best doctors in our town could not help me; then my husband wrote to that dear old Dr. Pengelly and he sent medicine and advice. The first dose helped me, and in one month I was up doing my work after being sick in bed from the 21st of November until the next May. The medicine he sent me was Zoa Phora, and if it hadn't been for dear old Dr. Pengelly and Zoa Phora, I would not be here to write this."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by Wild Animals in Captivity.

"Are wild animals happy in captivity?" said the keeper of the zoological gardens, in answer to a question asked by a visitor. "Well, at first thought it may sound strange, but they are happy, and some of them are very, very happy.

"It seems to be the general opinion that when the liberty of an animal used to a free life in the wild woods is taken away the animal will pine away and die. That's a pretty bit of sentiment, but apparently it's all wrong. You would naturally think that a wild animal in captivity would become dangerous, but such is not the case.

"Take the monkeys, for instance. They look very unhappy, don't they? Why, those little imps play from morning till night, and they're as cheerful as larks, excepting when they are ill. Go in the bird house and listen to the songs, the chirps and trills, then look around for an unhappy bird. Watch the bears play and the leopards and other members of the cat tribe roll over each other like little children on a nursery floor."—Philadelphia Press.

The Strain on the Eye.

There is no reason why a muscle or muscles of the eye should not be fagged out just as the muscles elsewhere do. Let one bear a weight all day long, does he not attribute his consequent headache to the heavy burden he has borne? It seems without elaborate thinking we could conceive of the results following upon prolonged use of the eye. Nature has done all she could to protect and prolong the usefulness of the eye. No earthly architect ever yet planned a structure that would not yield, crumble and fall, and the house human, so exquisitely uplifted in curious and mysterious ways, falls and returns to dust more rapidly and surely than need be, for the reason that we do not realize how much one part is sustained or overthrown by another. One tiny muscle is potent enough to disturb the whole economy, especially if intercurrent diseases exist in addition to "eye strain."

The Drug Habit.

Men of talent and brilliance whose mental products have pleased and astonished the world and women around whose fascination and charm has revolved many a distinguished social circle have fallen alike victims to this insidious and degrading habit. The false idea that better and more original work can be done by means of such an unnatural stimulus has been the ruin of many noble characters. Whether it be cocaine, morphia, antipyrine, phenacetin—the shameful list grows almost daily—the fact remains that the highest mental and moral principles of the drug habitue are slowly undermined and dragged down to the dust. The responsibilities of the medical practitioner in prescribing these potent remedies are, therefore, very considerable, while those of the dispensing chemist are hardly less.—London Medical Press.

On the Menu.

"What have you in the larder?" asked the cannibal king of his chef.

"Not so much today, your elevatedness," explained the chef. "Nothing except a printer and an actor."

"Oh, well, fix them up some way."

The chef bowed several times and rubbed his hands together.

"What are you waiting for?" asked the cannibal king.

"Would your serenely altitudinous excellency deign to suggest some method of preparing the two persons—some new dish, for instance, that would be pleasant to your royal palate?"

"Don't go to any bother. Just put the printer in the pi and the actor in the supe."

And the court jester stepped up and resigned.—Judge.

An Anecdote of Ben Wade.

In the early winter of 1861 bluff Ben Wade, the Ohio senator, is credited with saying, "When Chief Justice Taney was ill I used to pray daily and earnestly that his life might be preserved until the inauguration of President Lincoln, who would appoint a Republican chief justice, but when I saw how complete his recovery was and how his life was prolonged I began to fear that I had overdone the business!"—L. Curious Old English Law.

It is interesting to recall in connection with railway accidents that only a few years back any instrument which by accident was the immediate cause of loss of human life became in English law "deodand"—that is, became forfeit to the crown, to be devoted to pious purposes. This law applies to locomotives, but in course of time coroners' juries, instead of claiming the forfeit, inflicted a fine. In the year 1838 a locomotive on the Liverpool and Manchester line which by exploding caused the death of its engineer and fireman was fined £20, while the following year another engine on the same line was fined £1,400.

Horse Sense.

The Care of "Black Sheep."

Many families have the misfortune to include one member who, perhaps from some congenital defect, is not trustworthy. Yet they hate to give him up, and, hoping as he goes from one disaster to another that he will yet learn his lesson, they keep on finding chances for him to throw away. To raise such a person is simply to add to the height from which he must fall. To protect his reputation is simply to furnish him with means to deceive whoever trusts him. The sooner he gets down to the level he belongs in the better for himself, his friends and society. Help him on, but not up. Pay his board, but don't find him a job where he can betray confidence. Keep him out of the poorhouse and out of jail if possible, but most of all keep him out of mischief by making serious mischief inaccessible to him. To put a defective, irresponsible man who is used to ease and the comforts of life into social and commercial competition with persons of his own social grade is to invite disaster. Let him be known, if he is known at all, for what he is and thereby minimize the risk involved in his existence.—Harper's Weekly.

Who Are "They?"

"They say; what say they? Let them say," said Bishop Berkeley. Who are the "they" thus so boldly apostrophized? We may say with one of the fathers, "I know when you do not ask me," but how difficult it is to get nearer! We all have these mysterious "they" on our lips, and yet we cannot define them. Yet, though we cannot define "they," partly because there are so many of them and partly because none of the great elemental things like time, love, death and sleep are capable of definition, we can still know and say a great deal about "they." "They" in Dolly Winthrop's mouth meant Providence. "I wouldn't speak ill o' this world," she was accustomed to say, "seeing them as put us in it knows best." In her sense it is of course rarely used, though the slang expression "as good as they make 'em" recalls it. Still, "they" has generally a slightly mysterious significance. When we say it we allude to some power we cannot define or to the incomprehensible element in some set of people.—London Spectator.

Chalking Sunday.

In the west of Ireland the majority of marriages take place between Christmas and Lent—a great number of them on Shrove Tuesday. In the county of Limerick it is customary on the first Sunday in Lent for the bachelors and spinsters who have allowed the festival to pass without pairing to mark each other on the back with a piece of chalk or with a chalked stick. The marks of distinction are not rigidly confined to eligible parties, but are often bestowed upon boys and girls without regard to their original significance.

It is asserted that the custom prevails in other agricultural districts in Ireland, that the chalking mostly goes on when the people are going to or from church and that in towns where it is carried on to a very great extent the footpaths are white at night with powdered chalk.—London Telegraph.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symtoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother sould be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25; large size, 75c. JOHN J. ORR.

At the cemetery the minister was moved by the grief of a husband whose wife was to be buried and sought to commiserate him in the following manner: "My brother, I know that this is a great grief that has overtaken you and though you are compelled to mourn the loss of this one who was your companion and partner in life, I would console you with the assurance that there is another one who sympathizes with you and seeks to comfort you in the arms of unfailing love." To this the bereaved man replied by asking as he gazed through tears in the ministers face, "What's her name?"—Ex.

The laying of about 75,000 square feet of cement walk in Brooklyn was completed Monday noon by Edgar Ambler and his gang of men. The walk has been put down at the cost of 6c per square foot, the village bearing half of the expense. Making the price 2c lower per foot than was paid last season and everything considered the job is a very satisfactory one in the improvement of Brooklyn's streets and homes. The amount of walk laid is greater than any previous year and as the usual village appropriation for walk building has been used it is probable that no more will be built this year.—Brooklyn Exponent.

We had a little experience with a small mouse Sunday morning that our better half thought the readers of the Local ought to know about. We found the mouse in a basket of corn and took the mean advantage of taking the basket out doors so we could hit the little fellow when he jumped out. What was our chagrin to find that he was 17 times quicker than our club and after dodging around a few minutes he made a dive for our feet and the first we knew had landed on the inside of our shirt just as far up on our back as he could get. When we called to the wife to hit him, she came with a rush and started to hit with the broomstick. Not carrying the requisite amount of accident insurance we objected to that kind of striking, especially on our back. Then she gave us three or five whacks where the bunch showed the mouse to be; we loosened up and the victim fell to the earth. We do not wonder now that a woman always makes for a chair when she finds a mouse in the room.—Clinton Local.

A fellow yesterday in town was loaded with a jag; he sure was boosy-woosy and limber as a rag; he stopped at the cigar store and with a smile benign, gushingly hugged and then he kissed the painted wooden sign. Affectionate, you bet he was, and promised there and then, to return some other day, and hug the sign again.—Hudson Post.

In our last issue we mentioned the fact that the fall of hail was so great in Hudson township Wednesday last, that in a ravine near the home of Will Foster, it measured three feet thick. On Friday the mass had congealed into chunks so large that a strong man could not lift one of them. This is a big story for midsummer, but a true one.—Hudson Post.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Council Chamber, village of Tecumseh.

Regular meeting held July 18, 1904.

Present, the clerk and entire council except President Marsh.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

The committee appointed at the meeting of June 27 to visit the business men in regard to the night watch fund submitted the following report:

Tecumseh, Mich., July 18, 1904.

Mr. President and Council:

Your committee appointed at a regular meeting of this council June 27 to visit the business men in regard to the night watch fund, would respectfully report, that inasmuch as there has been for many years and said to be in force at the present time an association of business men for the purpose of maintaining a night watch and that said association having maintained the night watch each year, with the exception of a certain amount voted each year by the village council for the general public benefit, and as there is no record or other evidence that the village council has ever assumed any responsibility regarding the night watch, it seems to be a matter of no concern to this committee or council, but a matter which should be left entirely with the business men and this committee be discharged.

(Signed) B. J. SLATER,
C. A. WRIGHT,
GEO. U. SMITH,
Committee.

Night was her terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough dreadfully and spit blood but when all other medicines failed three $1 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds. It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at C. A. Wright's drug store.

Base Ball Notes.

The present Tecumseh ball team is easily the champion team in this section of the state and certainly the best organization that ever defended the local diamond. Such a team cannot be supported without money and money is only forth coming from the guarantee committee unless it comes from audiences of respectable size.

The size of Tecumseh ball crowds is the subject of criticism by every visiting team and unless the club can secure better support from the townspeople the guarantee committee will have to "put up" liberally or a poorer class of ball will have to be presented.

The Detroit Everetts, who play here this afternoon, will play Tecumseh in Adrian tomorrow.

There will be a game of ball next Saturday afternoon between the locals and the Clinton team. Clinton has many of the old players this year, among them are Harris, Gillen and Calhoun. A good game is expected.

Last evening the base ball team returned from their trip to Ohio and Indiana, where they have played five games with Montpelier, O., with the following results:

WON.

At Butler July 14, score 7 to 0.
At Montpelier July 15, score 7 to 4.
At Pioneer July 18, score 7 to 5.

LOST

At Montpelier July 16, score 9 to 10.
At Lake Hamilton, Ind., July 17, score 9 to 2.

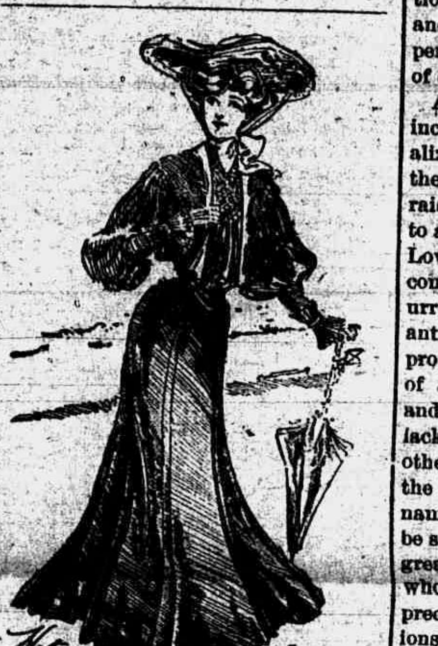
HELEN ADAIR'S LETTER.

What to wear.

An ideal summer trip.

This letter was not written from good "old New York," but from a cool retreat in the charming land of the Evangeline, whence I hied me for rest and change.

Embarking from New York on the Palatial steamer Prince Arthur, and reaching the famous Arcadian retreat by the most attractive and picturesque of routes, I have had a week of perfect rest and enjoyment and am ready for a weeks hard work in preparation for my European trip, taken in the interest of my readers.



But with all its prestage as a tourist and a vacation resort, I did not expect to find much of interest from the viewpoint of fashions and great was my surprise to find, touching elbows with the old fashioned garb of the native Nova Scotian, the latest cry in travelling costume worn by the fashionable visitor.

With the vogue of hygenic dressing, proper breathing and healthful exercise comes the realization that milady needs rest, with all the term implies, to fit her for her social duties in the season and it has become quite "the thing" to seek resorts that are not overcrowded and so the latest fashionable movement in Nova Scotiaward.

A stunning costume worn by one of New York's most fashionable women, on board the luxurious Prince Arthur of the Munson Line was made of a dark green raw silk, which has not the trick of shrinking as has mohair, if touched by dampness and which proved to be an ideal weight of fabric for the delighfully cool Nova Scotian sight-seeing. This gown was of walking length with two side plaits at each of its seven gores. The jacket worn over that always correct standby the shirt waist, was an eton with raw silk facing and full sleeves with side plaited frills falling quaintly over the wrist.

Another dainty sight-seeing gown was a quaint model in gray linen, with its short double flowing sleeve and drooping 1830 shoulder bertha and yoked and ruffled skirt trimmed with an old fashioned frilling of gray linen lace. The hat was built of the gray linen, with many rows of stitching to give it firmness and was trimmed with a soft persian silk scarf, which was carelessly twisted about the crown, falling gracefully at the back.

And nothing could be more interesting than the demonstration that our present fashions are in the majority sensible, than the contrast evident between the apparent comfort and fine carriage of the fashionable visitor in her "straight front," and the natives with their old time corsets, with the deep waist curves in front which enforce the figure drooping to fit the curve and consequent drooping shoulders and sunken chest. The present corset of the best makers, such as the C—B a la Spirite, end under the bust, leaving it absolutely free from pressure of any sort; the waist curve is well below the ribs and the real support comes about the abdomen, where it is needed, leaving the vital organs unhampered.

Not only in the matter of corsets, but in almost every item of dress one can see the great improvement in favor of sensible health-promoting garb for women, which shows the trend is in the right direction in "what to wear" as well as "where to wear."

HELEN ADAIR.

A belated traveler says he hopes the T. & W. Ry. will make enough out of their Sunday excursions to Palmyra to afford at least one light in their ticket office at their station at that point for the accomodation of those travelers who come and go on the late cars.—Blissfield Advance.

Life, Present and Future.

Written for the Medical Brief.

Man's life on earth is a life in death, hence imperfect. As to the future life the best statement given is "a more abundant life," a more perfect; more removed from liability to death. Human life in death will continue so long as the law of death continues to reign; until death is abolished. Until then there is no hope for man to regain physical, mental and moral perfection; and even then he will regain it only by a perfect obedience to the Law of life, the will of God. Adamic death is a penalty for disobedience to that perfect law and has to be met; it cannot be set aside.

Reason alone should teach man that the progenitor of the race had a perfect life, and yet a diable life; its continnance being conditioned upon obedience. Because failing to obey he became a dying creature from that moment, virtue went from him, he died! within the day, a thousand year day. It was a just penalty an absolute death in so far as human wisdom or power could avail to overcome it. Everlasting life being a diable life, must not be confounded with immortality.

Immortality as a condition of life, beyond the possibility of death, is an endowment determining the nature of beings upon a plane of existence above the human plane; having a nature far above even angels, principalities and powers; yet there is authority for believing that SOME of the redeemed race of Adam may attain unto it; but only those who die to the human nature and obtain part in the first resurrection.

Man in and of himself has absolutely nothing to lend a ray of hope for life beyond the grave; his only hope for an awakening from Adamic death lies in that oath bound promise of God to his faithful servant of old and which began to have fulfillment when the Messiah came eighteen hundred years ago. That promise embraces the fact that not only every brain, but that every convolution of every brain shall be duplicated when the "sleepers arise, each in his band or age;" for each will have the same character formed by the habits of this life with which he went into death. Each one will quickly identify himself and be known by others. Each one will at once have a wider range for observation and a broader plane for reasoning and be in a position to profit by the experiences of this life in the horrible pit of death and the mirey clay of sin.

All who are not numbered with the incorrigible will gradually come to realize that only by the infinite power of the voice of the Son of God, were they raised to life. Gradually they will come to a clear appreciation of the infinite Love, Wisdom and Power of God and comprehend the vast meaning of a resurrection by judgement to a more abundant life. Then, in that "due time" promised, shall all hear the testimony of Jesus including idiots and infants and heathen; and all who either from lack of mental capacity or from any other cause have not been blessed with the light of the knowledge of the only name under heaven given whereby to be saved, may hear "the glad tidings of great joy to all people." And then all who will may grow up into a full appreciation of all God's gracious provisions of Love and Mercy and by bowing in glad submission to all His just requirements may attain to full perfection of life; human beings still, but with physical, mental and moral perfection each a perfect earthly image of the divine, a Son of God.

This is the restitution which "God hath spoken by the mouth of all His holy prophets;" this is the consummation of blessing for all the families of the earth, assured by the oath bound promise. All this does not apply to those whom God is taking out as a people for his name, during this gospel age, and who attain to newness of nature as well as of life, spirit beings, no longer men; and some of whom attain even to the divine immortal nature and honored with positions of Glory and service at the right hand of power in heaven and upon earth with and under their already Glorified Head.

Very truly, these apparently dogmatic assertions do not establish truth. Yet every item of truth given by authority of the "spirit of truth" is as a "light shining in a dark place," having a sure promise of recognition by those having eyes to see.

Truth is a progressive force and shall bear fruit where sown upon good ground, thoroughly cleared of the rubbish of past ages. That old falsehood of the father of lies, "the immortality of the Soul," is a blinding force, sealing many blind eyes; and his more recent lie, that "when a man dies he is more alive than ever before," is confusing to the moral and spiritual sense of many good people. The bible is the harp of God, and "still new beauties doth it show and still increasing light."

ROUND ABOUT US.

Inspired by a peach tree in bloom in the front yard a Pee Dee young woman wrote a poem on "Spring" Monday. That night her father went out and chopped down the tree.—Ex.

A story comes from Watts that last week a rattlesnake attacked Miss Ella Martz and squeezed her around the waist so hard that one of her corset steels was damaged. A shepherd dog belonging to the young lady attacked the snake and killed it.—Carleton Times.

The depot of the Lake Shore railroad company was entered after 10 o'clock Friday night by breaking a window in the rear of the building. The money drawer was broken into and some of the change taken. It was discovered when the station agent opened the office Saturday morning. Sheriff Shepherd was notified and Turnkey Horning drove to Weston where he is investigating.—Adrian Times.

A Hudson lady is experimenting with an idea which is said to rid a house of flies. It is to place a few drops of kerosene in water used for cleaning and might be applied to door screens as well as tables, sinks, etc. She says it is all right and that it should be used by every housewife. A few drops might also be applied to any young lady who is out for a "fly time," and there are also some "high flyers" in every community who might try the kerosene antidote.—Post.

KNOWS MI-O-NA WILL CURE

C. A. Wright has such faith in this great dyspepsia remedy that he guarantees it.

It is an unusual thing for a druggist to sell a medicine under a guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. Yet this is the way C. A. Wright, the popular druggist, is selling Mi-o-na, the standard dyspepsia remedy.

Never before has he had so large a number of customers tell him that a medicine has cured as with Mi-o-na. People who a few months ago looked like walking skeletons have put on flesh and today are ruddy and vigorous with perfect digestion and good health, solely due to the use of this remedy.

There is no longer any need of anyone suffering or making their friends suffer on account of dyspepsia, for Mi-o-na can be relied upon to cure. The percentage of cures is so nearly one hundred per cent, that there is little risk to C. A. Wright in guaranteeing to refund the money if the medicine does not cure and he stands ready to do so without any questions.

Headaches, all forms of indigestion, specks before the eyes, dizzy feelings, poor sleep, ringing in the ears and all forms of liver trouble are cured by Mi-o-na, price 50c. A few days' treatment shows considerable gain in health and a cure speedily follows.

These days are the best in the whole year for the enjoyment of good health. And Mi-o-na will put you in such perfect condition that you can enjoy every minute of them.

Mrs. E. Kinney, wife of Judge Kinney of Ann Arbor, died suddenly Sunday morning of heart disease. She has been in poor health for the past month. A son of the Judge died in Colorado a few days before.

A merchant with a big store, a big stock of goods, clerks and equipment who expects to do business without advertising is like the man who pays a lot of money for fine gas fixtures, but hopes to get along without having a meter put in and the gas turned on, "because of the expense." In both instances costly equipment will give poor results. —Ex.

The widows of Reading formed a combination, hereafter each year will have a celebration; an annual picnic is on the program where all the fair ones eat pie, cake and jam; they gossip and each in the rest confide, how greatly she longs to again be a bride; and each one resolves to catch, if she can, before the next picnic some kind of a man; not one in the party will miss the first chance; and you bet if she does she'll sure wear the pants.—Hudson Post.

COSTS NOTHING UNLESS CURED

A fair offer made by C. A. Wright to all sufferers from catarrh.

C. A. Wright is selling Hyomei on a plan that has caused considerable talk amongst his customers.

The plan is different from that followed by other remedies, but the remedy itself is different also. This treatment for the cure of catarrh has such an unusual record of cures to its credit that C. A. Wright offers to refund the money if it does not give the desired benefit. This is certainly one of the fairest offers that can be made and any one who has catarrh and does not take advantage of it is doing himself or herself an injustice.

Do not suffer any longer with tickling, smarting, burning, eye-watering troubles that afflict those who have catarrh. Hyomei will cure you, but if you should not find it adapted to your case, C. A. Wright will return your money.

Prevents Hay Fever.

All who are subject to hay fever or rose colds should use Hyomei daily for two or three weeks before the time of their annual attack and thus prevent it. The worst cases are quickly relieved and cured by Hyomei and Hyomei Balm.

A woman never feels so truly grateful for the advantage of being a woman as when she meets a bow-legged man.

WHEN BABY IS COMING USE
Mother's Friend

Woman's greatest dream of beauty and glory is when nature has chosen her to become a mother. Every faculty is keenly alert as she foresees the joy, ambition, success and the life-long satisfaction coming nearer, day by day, in the dear and innocent being so soon to see light, and the uncertainty whether she shall see a sweet girl or a brave boy face beside her on the pillow adds zest to her expectancy.

Mother's Friend applied externally throughout pregnancy will relieve the pain of parturition, and no mother and child can fail to be healthy, hearty, strong, clear complexioned, pure blooded and cheerful in disposition, who are mutually influenced by the continued use of this great liniment, MOTHER'S FRIEND.

Rubbing a back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure

Bachache comes from the inside—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills get inside.

They cure sick kidneys.

Here is Tecumseh proof that it is so: Mrs. J. H. Welch, who resides in the southwestern part of Tecumseh says: "I wish to express my gratitude for the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. My back troubled me for a long time with a constant dull aching pain across my loins and when exerting myself it became very sharp. If I took cold it always settled in my kidneys and in the morning I was so lame and stiff that I could hardly attend to my work. I used several simple household remedies but they did not bring relief. Seeing the Pills recommended and spoken of so highly I concluded to test their merits and got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store. They took right hold of the cause and in a short time the pain in my back was a thing of the past. I can now straighten after bending without any inconvenience."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

G. T. R. Will Build Track.

Detroit, Mich., July 16.—The Medbury state fair site has come to the front again. Mayor Maybury recently wrote to President Hayes of the Grand Trunk railroad about the matter of building the track from the D., G. H. & M. to the ground, and has received an answer that the Grand Trunk is willing to build it.

Death of Dr. D. C. Spalding.

Lyons, Mich., July 16.—Dr. D. C. Spalding is dead, aged 70. He had lived here since 1858. He was past grand high priest of the grand chapter R. A. M. and physician at the Michigan Soldiers' home in 1892 and 1893. The funeral will be held Sunday.

For Pain

Take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill, and the Pain will disappear Like Magic.

Not by paralyzing the nerves and glands, like opium, morphine, cocaine, and other dangerous drugs, but by increasing the natural secretions.

This action is obtained as a result of modern discoveries in medicine, making it possible to relieve pain without bad after-affects.

You can safely depend upon Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills to relieve and cure such pains as Neuralgia, Headache, Stomachache, Menstrual Pains, Rheumatism, Backache, Toothache, etc.

They will also, by their calming action on the nerves, almost instantly relieve such distressing feelings as Dizziness, Car-Sickness, Indigestion, Irritability, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, etc.

Not merely do they relieve, but they also absolutely cure, because by persevering in their use, you do away with the cause.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are guaranteed that first package will benefit, or your money back. Never sold in bulk.

"I am thankful for the good Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills have and are doing me. Ever since the war I have had spells of severe throbbing headache, caused by catarrh, until six years ago, I began taking Anti-Pain Pills, the only remedy that ever gave me relief. Since then I have not had one hard attack, because I take a Pill and it overcomes the difficulty."—GEO. SAUNDERS, Greensburg, Ind.

LARGEST AND WEALTHIEST.

Ladies of the Maccabees of the World Claim For Their Society.

Detroit, Mich., July 18.—The Supreme Hive of the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World meets only every three years and, though it is a very business-like affair, the members themselves cannot disguise the feminine characteristic of having everything about them as nice as it can be. The parlors of the Russell house have been handsomely decorated for this evening's reception, when Mrs. Hollister, the supreme commander, and the other supreme officers will greet the delegates and visitors. Huge streamers of red, white and black satin ribbon, the colors of the order, are in evidence everywhere and the floral decorations consist of bouquets of deep red roses, which have been adopted as the official flower.

The badge for the convention is of white satin ribbon suspended from a large silver pin, bearing the Maccabee coat of arms surrounded by filagree work and so constructed that it can afterwards be worn as a belt pin, making a valuable souvenir.

The only time that the ladies need the services of a man is when they strike a law point, and the supreme officers stand ready to deny even that to the men as soon as some woman develops a capability to handle fraternal insurance law, which requires special study. Yesterday the law committee was in conference with Attorney F. Zimmerman of Memphis, Tenn., going over the new code that will be submitted to the supreme hive for adoption. The finance committee went to Port Huron to check over the books and accounts of the supreme record-keeper, and the committee on rates also had a session.

The order claims to be the largest and wealthiest fraternal organization in the world, having on July 16, 1904, a membership of 150,298, carrying a total insurance of $99,881,443.26.

Tuesday morning the formal opening of the convention will take place, and for the rest of the week the ladies will devote themselves strictly to business matters.

MACCABEE MATTERS.

Nothing Radical Contemplated In Rearrangement of Rates.

Detroit, Mich., July 18.—While the supreme tent, Knights of the Maccabees of the World, will not open its convention proper in this city until tomorrow, the committees of the order have been hard at work on matters which will be presented to the convention during the week. The committee on laws, which has the most important work of the body in its keeping, has had a hard struggle with the rate problem, but when the matter has been thoroughly threshed out it had practically agreed upon a plan which will undoubtedly be satisfactory to a vast majority of the membership. There will be nothing of a radical nature and the rate problem will be solved in the simplest possible manner. To furnish protection at rates which will keep alive and perpetuate the order and hold it forever on the firm financial basis it now enjoys is the proposition in a nutshell, and the committee is satisfied that this problem has been practically solved and that its action will be ratified by the convention.

Two Pioneers Dead.

Albion, Mich., July 8.—Ostrom P. Merritt, a pioneer farmer, died of organic heart disease, aged 76 years. He had lived within a few miles of Albion since 1853. Burial will be at Marengo. He leaves a widow and one brother and four sisters.

Hollis Bartlett Smith, one of the most prosperous farmers of Marengo township, west of here, is dead, aged 73 years. He was at one time advance agent for the C., B. & Q. railway, and during the granger movement was prominent in that organization, being master of the Marshall and Marengo granges and lecturer of Calhoun county grange. He leaves a widow and one son, Gardner William Smith.

Aged Preacher Dead.

Monroe, Mich., July 18.—Rev. Elias Loose has passed away after an illness extending over two weeks. He was 83 years of age and for the last twelve years was a resident of Ida, ten miles west of here. A widow and five children are left to mourn him. Funeral services were conducted this afternoon from Raisinville church, this county. He was for many years a minister of the gospel and had lived in this county since 1863.

CHICAGO SWELTERED.

Three Deaths From Intense Heat—Temperature Highest In Years.

Chicago, July 16.—Sunday was the hottest day Chicago has experienced in three years and three deaths and a score of prostrations resulted. The maximum temperature of 94 degrees beats any record in the weather bureau since July 21, 1901, when a temperature of 103 degrees was recorded. Since then the mercury has not risen in Chicago, according to the official reports, above 92 until yesterday. The heat and sultriness came with the rising of the sun. At 8 o'clock it was 82 degrees and shortly after noon the 90 mark had been reached. From this point the mercury crept steadily upward, reaching the high mark of 94 at 4 o'clock and remained there for more than two hours. There was scarcely any breeze and the suffering was intense. In the downtown district the heat was several degrees greater than the official records show.

STAND COLLAPSED.

Two Hundred People Hurled to the Ground—Many Broken Legs.

Cleveland, July 18.—Two hundred persons were hurled to the ground by the collapse of a stand at Brighton Park, a suburb of this city.

A ball game between amateur clubs was in progress and the stand was crowded, when, without warning, the entire crowd was thrown to the ground in a heap. Other spectators and the ball players immediately set to work extricating the people from the wreckage, while calls were sent out for ambulances. When all were finally extricated it was found that ten persons had sustained broken arms or legs while a number of others were otherwise bruised and cut. It is claimed the collapse was caused by the removal of some underpinning, which had been carried off by people for firewood.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucin instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

THE RED SEA SEIZURES

Conservative British Press Denounce Action of Russians.

GREAT STORM OF INDIGNATION

Those Who Insisted at Outbreak of Russo-Jap War That Great Britain Should Remain Neutral Now Advocate Physical Force.

London, July 21.—Relative to the seizure of British vessels by steamers of the Russian volunteer fleet in the Red sea, the warlike tone of such papers as the Times, the Standard, the Morning Post and the Daily Telegraph, which in national crises hitherto almost invariably advised caution, has had its inevitable effect. There has been stirred up a storm of indignation among all classes in the United Kingdom, the strength of which the government itself can scarcely guage. Those who deplored the outbreak of the war between Japan and Russia and insisted publicly and privately that Great Britain, crippled financially after her South African experiences, must not at all costs be drawn into the far eastern struggle, are now among the most outspoken champion of a physical force that will prevent the repetition of the Malacca incident in the Red sea.

Czar Displeased at Seizures.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—The Associated Press has just been informed that Emperor Nicholas, in an interview with Count Lamsdorff, the foreign minister, expressed his displeasure at the turn events had taken and at the possibility of complications with Great Britain arising out of the detention of British ships by the Russian volunteer fleet steamers in the Red sea.

Japanese Flanking Russians.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—All advices from the theater of war continue to confirm the opinion that the pressure on Gen. Kuropatkin's southern front at Tatchekiao is being relieved and that the Japanese are pursuing their favorite flanking tactics, working around to the northeast as if to threaten the communications between Mukden and Liao Yang, or to make a direct attack on the latter place.

Gen. Kuropatkin, having developed the great strength of the Japanese at Motien pass by Lieut.-Gen. Count Keller's attack on July 17, reports that a considerable column of Japanese is advancing along the northern Saimatsza Liao Yang road. This column came into touch with Gen. Rennenkampff's force near Sekheyan Monday last. The Russians fell back before the advancing column Monday and Tuesday some thirteen miles to Houtsiatze, twenty-five miles as the crow flies from Liao Yang. Gen. Kuropatkin gives no particulars as to the character of the fighting.

The bulk of the armies are now within striking distance and only a single day's march separates them.

The great importance of the appearance of the Japanese on the northern road is that if the advance should be pushed Gen. Keller's position in the Lian valley would be outflanked, as would later on the strong Russian position at Liandiansian, which commands the Feng Wang Cheng high road and two minor roads from Simoucheng and Siuyen, over which the Japanese would advance to the north.

Japanese Steamer Sunk.

Washington, July 21.—The Japanese legation has received the following cablegram from the foreign office at Tokio:

"At 9:30 a. m. July 20 the Vladivostok squadron fired upon and sunk a Japanese steamboat of 318 tons off the coast of Isoya, about twenty-five miles from Hakodate. All the crew were landed safely at Cana Yesan."

New R. F. D. Carrier at Evart.

Washington, July 21.—George W. McLaughlin has been appointed a rural free delivery carrier on route 3 at Evart.

LADIES OF MACCABEES

Mrs. Hollister Re-elected Supreme Commander.

KNIGHTS ALSO IN SESSION

Opposition Manifested to Proposed Change of Rate—D. P. Markey, In Advocating Change, Was Recipient of an Ovation.

Detroit, Mich., July 20.—The election of officers of the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World took place at the Russell house, when the following officers were chosen for the ensuing term of three years:

Supreme commander—Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, Detroit.

Supreme lieutenant-commander—Mrs. Eva L. McNett, Hornellsville, N.Y.

Supreme finance-keeper—Mrs. C. V. Heppert, Akron, O.

Supreme chaplain—Mrs. Minnie W. Aydelotte, Oakland, Cal.

Supreme mistress-at-arms—Mrs. Anna L. Carton, Dallas, Tex.

Supreme picket—Mr. Anna M. Welch, St. Paul, Minn.

Supreme trustees—Mrs. Helen M. Bradbeer, Port Huron; Mrs. Ellen Downer, Chicago, and Mrs. Grace Meredith, Wabash, Ind.

With the exception of Mrs. Hollister and Miss West and the supreme picket all the officers were changed. There were no contestants for the offices of supreme commander and record-keeper. Mrs. A. Louise Myers, the retiring finance-keeper, was not a candidate.

Supreme Commander Hollister's report showed that during the past term 954 hives were reported organized, of which 289 were reported during 1901; 294 during 1902; 341 reported during 1903. December 31, 1903, we had 2,567 hives in good standing throughout the entire jurisdiction.

Mrs. Louise Myers, supreme finance-keeper, in her report gave figures showing that the total funds on hand at the close of the fiscal year of the order, Dec. 31, 1903, were $1,005,827.97, with the balance in the disbursement fund at $39,973.98. The report of the supreme finance committee shows this to be correct.

Diversity of Opinion on Rate Question—Ovation to Markey.

Detroit, Mich., July 20.—When Supreme Commander Markey completed the reading of his report at the opening of the review of the supreme tent, Knights of the Maccabees of the World, yesterday afternoon there was one of the most remarkable demonstrations ever witnessed at a review of this great order. For more than two hours Mr. Markey delivered a steady stream of argument in favor of the proposed amendments to the laws, and the interest displayed was intense. Time and again he was interrupted with outbursts of applause, and when he closed his address the demonstration lasted fully ten minutes.

Two meeting were held—the first yesterday afternoon and the second last night—at the Light Guard ormory by representatives from a dozen or more states who are dissatisfied with the policy and plans of the supreme tent of the Knights of the Maccabees of the World. About 200 attended the afternoon meeting and some 300 the evening meeting. Sir Knight Levy of Cincinnati presided at both meetings.

Yesterday a committee of the protestors drafted a remonstrance to the supreme tent against any change whatever in rates, and also a demand for a change in the method of selecting representatives to the supreme tent.

The matter of rates was the first order of business for today. Supreme Commander Markey say that it may occupy all day and probably a part of tomorrow. Markey, by the way, has so far a clear field for re-election for another three years.

Wants $10,000 For Husband's Death.

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 21.—Mrs Anna Krasner of Whitmore Lake has commenced suit for $10,000 against James Burke, the Whitmore Lake saloonkeeper, on the grounds that it was as the result of buying liquor at Burke's that her husband was run over by an Ann Arbor railroad freight train.

STRIKE DECLARED OFF

Chicago Butchers and Packers Have Reached an Agreement.

STRIKE LASTED NINE DAYS

The Whole Controversy Will Be Submitted to Arbitration—All Former Employes Are to Be Reinstated Within Forty-Five Days.

Chicago, July 21.—The strike of packing house employes, begun nine days ago and which has demoralized the packing industry throughout the country, was settled here at a conference between representatives of the packers, the officials of the meat cutters' union and representatives of the allied trades employed at the stock yards. The whole controversy will be submitted to a board of arbitrators, both sides agreeing to abide by whatever decision this board may reach. Pending the decision of the arbitration board, the men will be taken back to work as rapidly as possible by the packers, and it is agreed by the packers that all the old employes are to be reinstated within forty-five days from the date work is resumed. If any of the former employes are still unemployed at the expiration of that time such persons are to have the privilege of submitting their cases to the arbitration board for settlement.

Strikers Return to Work.

The strikers will return to work as soon as they can be notified of the peaceable adjustment of the trouble and it is expected that by Friday morning everything will be in normal shape at all the plants in the different cities where the employes were on strike. Half an hour after the decision had been reached to arbitrate M. J. Donnelly, the strike leader, had secured communication by long distance telephone with the leaders of the strikers in outside cities and had notified them that a satisfactory settlement had been reached and directed the strikers to return to work as soon as possible.

The settlement of the difficulty by arbitration was brought about by the allied craft at the stock yards, who would have become involved in the controversy had it continued much longer. The representatives of these unions, which represent about 14,000 men, got together and sent a final appeal to the packers asking for a conference between the packers, the strikers and themselves, in a final effort to get both sides of the controversy together again and arrange some sort of agreement which would prevent the strike spreading to the affiliated unions. This appeal of the allied trades unions received a favorable response from the packers and conference was the result.

Terms of Agreement.

The agreement reached at conference is practically the same as the proposition made last Saturday to the packers by Mr. Donnelly. The only difference is that in Saturday's communication Mr. Donnelly insisted that the strikers be all taken back to work within seven days. This the packers refused, although they agreed to accept every other demand made by Mr Donnelly.

When the men return to work it will be under exactly the same conditions as prevailed before the strike was declared with the exception that the question of a wage scale will be decided by arbitration.

At Kansas City and St. Paul.

Kansas City, July 21.—C. W. Armour of the Armour Packing Company received a telegram from Chicago informing him that the strike had been settled and the strikers had been ordered to report for work. Mr. Armour refused to discuss the settlement stating that he had not received the details of the agreement. The managers of other local packing houses refused to discuss the settlement because they are not familiar with the terms of the settlement. At the headquarters of the strikers the news that the packers and strikers had reached an agreement in Chicago with much satisfaction. The fact that the strikers are to be reinstated was especially pleasing to the strikers here.

St. Paul, July 21.—The officials of the Swift Packing Company's branch, the Union Stock Yards Company and the local branch of the Meat Cutters & Butchers' union all alike expressed delight and satisfaction upon hearing that the conference at Chicago had resulted in the settling of the strike.

DISCUSSION OF RATE

Propositions Submitted to Maccabees of the World.

PRESENT MEMBERS EXEMPTED

Recommend Abolition of Disability Benefits and Increase Age Limit—Over 200 Tents Filed Kicks Against Present Supreme Officers.

Detroit, Mich., July 21.—Increased insurance rates and the abolition of disability benefits were recommended for the Ladies of the Maccabees of the World by the commission on rates at yesterday afternoon's session at the Russell house. According to the plan recommended by the commission, the rates for present members are to remain unchanged, while future members will have to pay more to obtain the benefits of the organization's insurance. The difference will amount to 5 cents a month on a policy of $250 for an 18 to 24-year-old person, and proportional advances are to be made on all other policies. Provision is also made for insurance to the age of 30 years at an unchanging rate, which is 1[illegible] cents for a person between 18 and 20 years of age. All members, both present and future, who select this plan and who attain the age of 50 may continue their protection for the remainder of their lives at the level monthly rate of $2.70 for a $1,000 policy. This privilege is not to be granted to holders of policies below $1,000 value.

The committee on laws suggested that the maximum age limit for admission be raised from 45 to 50 years. Recommendation was also made that a supreme medical board of three be substituted for the present system by which there is a supreme medical examiner and two district examiners—this board to be appointed instead of being elected, and to have its headquarters at Port Huron.

A proposition was also submitted to extend the order into England, France and Germany.

KNIGHTS DISCUSS RATE.

Supreme Commander Markey Explains the Increase.

When the supreme tent, Knights of the Maccabees of the World, resumed their session at the assembly room of the Cadillac, the committee on laws at once submitted its report. The committee's report contained the proposed change in rates. It was a document filled with figures. The one thing in it that the delegates said they understood was that there would be no change in rates for present members under 54 years, that all new members would have to pay a different rate from the present members, and that no old member would have to pay more than $3 per month.

The report was read twice to the committee. Still members did not wholly understand it. They called on Supreme Commander Markey to explain it. He did in these words:

"In the report monthly rates for whole life protection refers only to members who shall hereafter be admitted. These rates commence with 85 cents on the $1,000 at 18 and 19 years of age; at 30 years the rate is $1.20 per month, at 40 it is $1.75 and at 50 it is $2.75. This contemplates that a man entering at 50 will pay $3.55 a month.

"Now these rates are simply whole life benefits. I might further say that they are the fraternal congress rates. These rates, understand, are for life protection."

Over 200 of the 5,000 tents of the order have filed kicks on the supreme officers. It was proposed to read all these. The supreme tent officers were anxious that they should be read. The supreme tent voted to listen to them but when the reading of the first two consumed an hour somebody remarked it would take a week to wade through them. Thereupon the vote was reconsidered and all of the kicks referred to a committee.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Many a bank has been wrecked through recklessness.

"It is better to be sure than to be sorry." Blood poisoning is as liable to follow a pin scratch as a bullet wound; a strained muscle may mean the loss of use of a limb. W. G. THOMPSON DEAD.

Was Well Known Throughout the State—Ex-Mayor of Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., July 21.—William G. Thompson, ex-mayor of this city, died at a sanitarium in Yonkers, N. Y. On April 12 last, while crossing the Campus Mr Thompson was struck by a bicycle ridden by a boy and was thrown violently to the ground. This seems to have been the beginning of the end, for from that time on he gradually failed. He was taken to his rooms in the Lathrop apartments, on Wayne street, and until shortly before he was taken to New York he was constantly confined to his bed.

On July 11 he was taken out of Detroit on President Ledyard's special car over the Michigan Central for Yonkers, N. Y., where it was expected that rest and quiet would restore him to his normal state. He stood the journey well in company with his physician, Dr. J. W. Mann, and recent reports indicated that he was doing nicely. His death was, therefore, a great surprise to his friends in Detroit. Mrs Theodore Freylinghuysen, his daughter, was with him when he died.

THE SOLE SURVIVOR.

Perry Sanford Was Identified With Michigan Historical Event.

Battle Creek, Mich., July 21.—The last survivor of Michigan's most noted historical event, the invasion of the state in 1848 by a force of armed Kentuckians, lies critically ill in this city and small hopes are entertained for his recovery. The attempt to capture fugitive slaves, the failure of the invasion and the subsequent excitement in the south, which resulted in the passage of the fugitive slave act, are historical events which will not soon be forgotten. Sanford is the only survivor of the raid, is a respected colored citizen, who came here in 1848 via the underground railroad. He is also the sole survivor of the famous Cass county raid, made by a party of southerners on the Quaker settlement in that county. He was born and brought up in Greenup county, Kentucky.

"CONGO CLUBS"

Remnants of the Fourth Exploded and Burned Battle Creek Man.

Battle Creek, Mich., July 21.—Robert Shekell, a well-known business man, was terribly burned about the arms and face by an explosion of "Congo Clubs," remnants of the Fourth.

The clubs were covered with some sticky substance, which explodes when struck with another stick. Shekell took hold of the clubs but got his hands fast in the sticky stuff and could not let go. The stuff ignited and burned the flesh to the bone on his arms and his face was also badly burned.

Big Business Deal.

Monroe, Mich., July 21.—One of the biggest business deals consummated here for some time is the absorption of the Monroe Folding Box Co. by the Boehme & Rauch Cordage Co. By this move the latter will increase its capital stock to $200,000 and two new buildings, one 48x250 feet and the other 66x150 feet, will be erected. The plant will have a capacity of from fifteen to twenty tons a day.

Young Arsonist.

Saginaw, Mich., July 21.—Frederick Derum, 19 years old, has confessed by affidavit to committing arson in Carrollton township, setting fire to buildings on May 25, June 13 and July 6, 7 and 12. He is under arrest and in his affidavit incriminates Gus Vivian, Willie Lynch and James Mulper, three other Carrollton boys. They have also been arrested.

Married In an Orchard.

Owosso, Mich., July 21.—In order to escape from their friends, who were anxious to help them celebrate their wedding, Charles B. Finn, proprietor of Finn's tavern, and Miss Mabel Chapman drove out into the country two miles to the farm of William Lyon, where they were married under the apple trees in Lyon's orchard.

Brakeman's Horrible Death.

Port Huron, Mich., July 20.—George Ophengelt of Saginaw, a brakeman on the Pere Marquette railroad, met death in a peculiar accident. He was making up a train in the railroad yard and a box car stood on the siding close to the main line. Ophengelt was riding on the front of the yard engine and was caught between the engine and the box car and horribly crushed. It was two hours before a doctor arrived to attend to his injuries, and by that time he was beyond medical aid. During one of his conscious moments he thought of his wife and two little children in Saginaw and asked that word be sent to them. Then he died. An inquest will be held.

Killed by a Bursted Flywheel.

Detroit, Mich., July 20.—Richard Croninger, 23 years old, living at Military and Michigan avenues and employed at the F. H. Wolf Brick Co. in Springwells was instantly killed by the bursting of a combination fly and pulley wheel. Croninger was hit on the left side by a piece of the flying wheel and nearly every bone on that side of his body and the bones of the arm were broken. He leaves a widow Monument Unveiling Sept. 1.

Monroe, Mich., Sept. 21.—The monument of the valiant Kentuckians who fought and died here in the historic battle known as the Massacre on the Raisin, will be unveiled Sept. 1. It is expected that the monument will reach this city by Aug. 10.

With the Corporations.

Lansing, Mich., July 21.—The Mueller & Slack Co. of Grand Rapids has increased its capital stock from $25,000 to $100,000, and the Pittsburg Shafting Co. of Detroit from $50,000 to $75,000. Articles have been filed by the Tawas Land & Cattle Co. of Iosco county, $75,000; and the Quitman Lumber Co., Grand Rapids, $20,000.

Probably Drowned.

Cadillac, Mich., July 21.—A steamer is out on Lake Cadillac dragging the lake for the body of Ray Bentz. Bentz went out in a sailboat. The boat came to shore empty. Bentz has not returned home and has not been seen at any of the docks about the lake, and it is feared he is drowned. Bentz is 20 years of age and lived with his parents on Cass street.

Good Listening.

Good talking is largely dependent on "good hearing." The fact that a man is able to do his mental powers the justice of brilliant expression may be due to the presence of some receptive mind ready to invite and appreciate. Wits may clash to the point of deafening themselves. The sympathetic and silent listener is the buffer between.

Ruskin is said to have been excellent company. He spoke in a tone of "gentle and playful earnestness." He had floods of thought and knowledge to pour forth, if only he could get the right hearers. But there were the barren occasions when listeners were absent.

One day a friend gave a little dinner for him, Dr. Jowett and Dean Stanley. But no sooner had the dinner begun than the host realized his mistake. He had provided no setting for his jewels, no junior men as hearers. "They wanted to meet one another," he said. "It should have gone off brilliantly, but the soup came and the fish followed and they simply would not talk. At last I said some stupid thing to Stanley about the architecture of Westminster abbey, and that drew Ruskin and started us all off. Then all went well. But I shall never make the same mistake again."—Youth's Companion.

A Lost Island.

Of the various buildings which adorned the island of Philæ there remain today above water only a portion of the colonnade, the top of the kiosk and a part of the temple of Isis. The traveler approaches the ruins in a small boat, in which he may pass down the colonnade and row about in the once sacred chambers. It is a novel and interesting experience, but to those who were familiar with the island in all its beauty it is full of sadness. Of the columns which formed the colonnade only the capitals remain above water. Upon these one sees, beautifully chiseled and ornamented with delicate coloring, Tiberius offering gifts to the gods or Nero presenting two eyes to Isis. A short distance to the right the roof of the kiosk is visible resting upon its exquisite columns, which are partly submerged. By it two unusually large palm trees rear their heads above the inundation.—Century.

A Wasp's Wisdom.

Naturalists have decided that many insects have senses which human beings lack. That of location, shown by the wasp, for instance, is remarkable. One species builds its nest in a sand bank that is only a part of several acres of such soil, and when it leaves in search of food it covers the nest so carefully that no ordinary eye could discover its location—that is to say, it is just like all the surrounding location, and yet the wasp flies back to it without hesitation and finds it without making a mistake. There is another wasp that unerringly locates the eggs of the mason bee under a thick layer of sun baked clay and deposits her own eggs in the same cells that her young may have food when they are hatched.

A Sure Way of Saving.

An ingenious method of putting his savings beyond his own reach has been adopted by a German writer who found from dire experience that all his profits melted away as soon as earned. Having made £10,000 by a fortunate literary speculation, he placed the whole of the money, together with his will, in the Imperial Deposit bank at Berlin and on receiving the receipt from the cashier deliberately tore it up. The cashier thought he was mad and told him angrily that it would take fully three years before he could expect to obtain a duplicate receipt. "That is just why I have torn up the original," calmly remarked the depositor, "and now the money is safe for that time."—Golden Penny.

The Marriage Knot.

Few of those who talk about the "marriage knot" realize that the knot was ever anything more than a mere figure of speech. Among the Babylonians tying the knot was part of the marriage ceremony. There the priest took a thread of the garment of the bride and another from that of the bridegroom and tied them into a knot, which he gave to the bride, thus symbolizing the binding nature of the union.

Changing a Snake Into a Rod.

In a volume on the snakes of Egypt Hippolyte Boussac states that the incident referred to in the Scriptures of changing a snake into a rod is still practiced by the snake charmers. They touch the snake at a certain place in the neck, when it falls into a cataleptic condition and becomes straight and stiff. It is then restored to its former condition by taking its tail between the hands and firmly rolling.

Egyptian Maxims.

An Egyptian papyrus which dates back to about 4000 B. C. has the following injunctions: "Calumnies should never be repeated." "Guard thy speech before all things, for a man's ruin lies in his tongue." The wise men of the race early learned good sense.

Toned Him Down.

"This photograph doesn't look a bit like me," said Snarley to the photographer.

"I know it," said the photographer. "I was afraid to make it exactly like you for fear you wouldn't take it."

Hungarian peasants have a superstition that fire kindled by lightning can only be extinguished by milk.

The Protection of Seals.

St. Petersburg, July 21.—Much satisfaction is expressed in official circles here at the United States' offer to take part in the protection of the seals at the Kommander islands, and it will doubtless be gladly accepted unless objection is made by Great Britain, which has undertaken the task. But there is no reason to expect anything but Great Britain's cordial acquiescence.

Judge Muir Drowned.

Cape May, N. J., July 21.—Judge Upton Muir of Louisville, Ky., lost his life in the surf while bathing. The body was taken to Louisville. Besides the widow Judge Muir left two children. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning.

Another Trolley Road.

Battle Creek, Mich., July 21.—E. F. Layman of Cincinnati, with nine assistants, commenced the survey of the new Battle Creek-Coldwater electric railway. It will run through a rich section of farming country and several small places, including Union City.

FRENZIED FINANCE.

Lawson Publishes First Chapter of History of Amalgamated.

New York, July 21.—"Here you are—all about the great robbery—one hundred million dollars stolen!" This might well be the opening sentence of Thomas W. Lawson's first chapter of "Frenzied Finance," printed as promised last month, in August Everybody's Magazine. In his foreword last month Lawson promised a startling expose of the crimes and misdemeanors of "the system of high finance," and a sizzling roast of its chief spirits. This month he launches the first sections of his promised expose with this opening sentence:

"Amalgamated Copper was begotten in 1898, born in 1899, and in the first five years of its existence plundered the public to the extent of over one hundred millions of dollars."

To substantiate this charge—that of perpetrating the greatest robbery in human history—Lawson gives these figures:

"It is a corporation with $155,000,000 capital, 1,550,000 shares of the par value of $100 each. Its entire stock was sold to the public at an average of $115 per share ($100 to $130), and in 1903 the price had declined to $33 per share."

LEIGH LYNCH DEAD.

Former Jackson Citizen Expires in West Virginia.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 21.—Leigh Lynch, formerly of Jackson, Mich., and well known throughout the United States, is dead at Parkersburg, W. Va. His wife was Anna Theresa Berger, of the noted Berger family, a celebrated cornetist. Mr. Lynch was at one time manager of Mrs. Langtry, Mrs. Lynch and Helen Potter.

He was the originator and manager of the world tour of the All-American teams of baseball champions. He was a special concessionaire for the world's fair at Chicago, collecting exhibits of the natives of the South Sea islands. At the time of his death he was advance agent for an Indian band and was a brother-in-law of the late Lloyd Brezee, an intimate friend of Eugene Field.

Legends About the Moon.

"In Ceylon," says a historian, "it is said that as Sakyamuni was one day wandering half starved in the forest a pious hare met him and offered itself to be slain and cooked for dinner, whereupon the holy Buddha set it on high in the moon that future generations of men might see it and marvel at its piety."

In the Samoan islands these dark patches are supposed to be portions of a woman's figure. A certain woman was once hammering something with a mallet when the moon arose, looking so much like a breadfruit that the woman asked it to come down and allow her child to eat off a piece of it, but the moon, enraged at the insult, gobbled up woman, mallet and child, and there in the moon's belly you may still behold them.

English Street Names.

The English towns have more distinctive and interesting names for their streets than American towns, in most of which many streets are simply numbered. London's Cheapside and Aldwych are more than matched by oddities many times stranger. Bootham is a street in York and Botchergate in Carlisle. Norwich is assertive of class distinctions in its Gentleman's walk, and Shrewsbury may stand almost at the head of a list of peculiarities with its street labeled Dogpole, which may or may not be related to Newcastle's Dogleap Stairs; but, then, Newcastle has Pudding Chare, and what may that signify?

The First Glass Cups.

The first glass cups were made at Alexandria. Some were colored like Bohemian glass and decorated with glass pastes, imitating precious stones and cameos. Some were opaline, others clear as crystal and still others formed of opaque layers welded together like the famous Portland vase, in which the white upper layer had been cut away like that of a cameo, leaving a blue ground around the figures.

Anticipated Him.

"I ran across a remarkable jeu d'esprit the other day," said the casual acquaintance who is ambitious to be entertaining.

"I'm sorry," said Mr. Cumrox, "but my wife has just returned from Europe with a whole lot of art treasures, and I shouldn't have any place to hang it even if I bought it."—Washington Star.

New Life and Health for Women.

Zoa Phora Makes Women Feel Young, Strong and Healthy and Gives Them the Glow and Bloom of Youth and Beauty.

Trial Bottle Free to Every Lady.

Zoa Phora certainly does do wonders for women. Every woman who has tried it says so and there are multiplied thousands of them. From all parts and corners of the land come their words of praise and joy and gratitude. Zoa Phora has brought more life and health to women, has relieved more pain and suffering and filled more homes with joy and happiness than all remedies and medicines and doctors combined. Their genuine letters of thanksgiving and rejoicing prove it and prove it conclusively.

Zoa Phora cures all forms of female diseases, misplacements, irregularities, suppressed and painful periods, flooding, piles, kidney, bladder and liver diseases and all the troubles that drag down the life of women and make their lives a burden and a misery. You will rejoice as others now rejoice in perfect health and happiness if you use Zoa Phora.

Mrs. Wm. B. Knapp, 831 E. 8th St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "I write this hoping that it will be the means of helping some suffering sister who has any weakness or trouble peculiar to women. Seventeen years ago last fall I was taken sick abed with weakness, and was in bed all winter. Just as soon as I would get up I would faint and fall. Three of the best doctors in our town could not help me; then my husband wrote to that dear old Dr. Pengelly and he sent medicine and advice. The first dose helped me, and in one month I was up doing my work after being sick in bed from the 21st of November until the next May. The medicine he sent me was Zoa Phora, and if it hadn't been for dear old Dr. Pengelly and Zoa Phora, I would not be here to write this."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by Curing an Insane Patient.

A patient entered the consulting room walking backward, under the delusion that his head had got a twist round and that his face was turned the wrong way. Instead of laughing at him, as I expected, the doctor entered into the case with the greatest gravity, tapping his patient's head all over, looking into his throat and ears and sympathizing with him. The patient was at once won over and placed the utmost confidence in the doctor's assurance that a complete cure would be effected in a few days, voluntarily exercising the greatest care in carrying out the medical directions, which consisted in elaborate nothings to keep the patient occupied.

A day or two afterward the doctor met him with feigned surprise and congratulated him. "On what?" asked the patient. "Judge for yourself," replied the doctor, handing him a mirror. The man surveyed his corrugated countenance intently for a few seconds, when with the dawn of conviction there stole a grin into his stern features. Thanking the doctor, he skipped out of the room in a frenzy of delight.—London Tit-Bits.

Marvels of Memory.

A postal clerk in a civil service examination did not make a single error in properly sorting 42,000 test postal cards, each representing a post office in a certain territory assigned. This was done at the rate of thirty-three and one-half cards a minute. "Far more noteworthy," thinks American Medicine, "is the memory of an expert piano player, who will play an entire season's concerts without a note of printed music before him. His memory is so perfect that hundreds of thousands of notes must be at the orderly and instant disposal of the will, and this is combined with a multiplicity of synchronous recollections of timbre, tempo, expression, etc. The mystery is at present past the hinting of any explanation, and this fact is as beautiful as it is appalling. It shows us how far we are from any real science of psychology."

Witty Response of a Lecturer.

A professor who acted as chairman of a meeting at which Max O'Rell was to lecture introduced the Frenchman in the following manner:

"Ladies and gentlemen, when we wish to see ourselves as individuals we have recourse to the mirror. This we cannot do as a nation. I take pleasure in introducing a gentleman who will act as a French mirror, by means of which you will, I am sure, obtain an adequate and pleasing view of yourselves as a nation."

The introduction pleased O'Rell, and he responded in a vein as jovial: "I am requested to reflect on a nation. However, I must take second place to the man in the moon, for he reflects on the earth. As an imported French mirror I shall do the best I can to give you a correct picture of the nation. And if your chairman remains where he is, in the background, he will add greatly to the reflective power of the mirror."

Origin of Life Insurance.

"I don't have to have my life insured," said the business man to the agent, "but I do want to know how life insurance originated. Can you tell me?" "I can," the agent answered. "It originated in 1706 in London. In that year there was formed the first life insurance company. It was called the Amicable Society For a Perpetual Assurance Office. It was a mutual benefit concern. Each member, without reference to age, paid a fixed admission fee and a fixed annual charge per share on from one to three shares, and at the end of the year a portion of the fund accumulated was divided among the heirs of those who had died in accordance with the number of shares each dead person had held. Out of this company, with its crude and imperfect methods, life insurance as it exists today has grown."—Philadelphia Record.

A Story of Young Dan Webster.

A New York lawyer recently told an interesting story of Daniel Webster's boyhood.

"Little Dan and his younger brother," said the legal light, "had each been given some money. They started out gleefully, and it was evening before they got back home.

"'Well, Dan,' said the senior Webster, 'what did you do with your money?'

"'Spent it,' the boy answered sturdily.

"'And how about you? What did you do with your money?' the father asked the younger brother.

"'I loaned it to Dan,' was the reply."

Scotch Coolness.

Speaking of Scotch characteristics, an Englishman traveling in this country told a story illustrative of Scottish coolness under trying circumstances.

"A number of Scots," he said, "were working on a fifteen story building. One up near the roof lost his foothold and fell. But even in his swift descent through the air he remained quite cool and calm. In fact, as he shot past a friend on the twelfth story he sang out:

"'Eh, Saundy, man, sic a fall as I shall hae!'"

Clubland's Submerged Tenth.

There is hardly a club, even among the oldest, that does not possess its almost woefully poor members; men who dropped ambition and their tailor simultaneously, who try to hide even from themselves the whereabouts of their dismal "chambers," which is one room; who have no want that does not begin and end with their clubs and would fade away and die miserably if its doors were closed to them.—Court Journal.

On His Mind.

Long—Have you forgotten that $10 you borrowed of me some time ago.

Short—Oh, no, I still have it in mind.

Long—Well, don't you think this would be a good time to relieve your mind of it?

No Bother Whatever.

"Do you ever have any trouble with the plants when your wife goes away?" asked the hatchet faced man sadly.

"None whatever," replied the cheerful chap. "They always die within a week after she leaves, and all I have to do is to put them away until she comes back."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Malicious.

"What made her faint?" asked the sympathetic old lady.

"Madam," replied the sour faced misogynist, "there was a good looking young man standing right behind her."—Town and Country.

What Do People Read?

Every roadside fence is not a primer for the passerby, every trolley car is a first reader to the traveler and every boarding a treatise on zoology, manufactures and social problems. Today most read a little, if only the signs and posters; some read newspapers—probably 10,000,000 to 20,000,000 of the 40,000,000 who could read them if they would. A few read novels. If the most popular novel finds only 1,000,000 buyers in a country where 40,000,000 could read it if they would, who can say that novel readers are more than a few? A very few, possibly 2,000,000 to 3,000,000, read standard literature and serious contributions to thought and knowledge. Surely the procession of readers grows larger every year, relatively as well as absolutely.—Outlook.

Fixing a Clock.

A resident of Florida tells this story of an old negro who came to a watch maker with the two hands of a clock:

"I want yer to fix up dese han's Dey ain't kept no correct time for mo den six munfs."

"Well, where is the clock?" responded the watchmaker.

"Out to my cabin."

"But I must have the clock."

"Didn' I tell yer dar's nuffin de matter wid de clock 'cepting de han's? An' here dey be. You jess want de clock so you kin tinker it an' charge me a big price. Gimme back dem han's."

And, so saying, he started off to find an honest watchmaker.

Dana's Ten Books.

Charles A. Dana once made a list of ten "indispensable books." They were: The Bible, Shakespeare, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, Bancroft's "History of the United States," Irving's "Life of Washington," Franklin's "Autobiography," Channing's "Essay on Napoleon Bonaparte," Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" and Tarbell's "Early Life of Lincoln."

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly say "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They can't as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by John J. Orr.

asks the readers of this paper who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to call on them at once and get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. If you knew the value of this remedy as we know it, you would not suffer another day. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a thorough digestant and tissue-building tonic as well. It is endorsed personally by hundreds of people whom it has cured of indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart and stomach troubles generally. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. It is pleasant, palatable and strengthening.

Some women are so honest that no man can really believe in them.

Many a person goes to the day's work or play dull, listless, dispirited. They don't know what real joy there is in life. A sane mind is only possible in a sane body. Indigestion, liver complaint, dizziness, constipation and its hundreds of accompanying ills all vanish like smoke before wind if you use Greene's Little Laxative Beans. B. J. Pulver sells them.

Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Bonner of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. John Bonner and daughter of New York City, spent yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. Delos Whitnack. Mr. John Bonner has just returned from a year in Para, Brazil.

Mrs. John Riley entertained about 30 of their friends last evening in honor of Mr. Riley's 30th birthday, the occasion being a surprise. Mr. Riley received a number of presents, among them was a beautiful rocker and a number of pieces of china. Refreshments were served and a delightful time was enjoyed.

Aunt Polly Sheldon quietly celebrated her 96th birthday at the home of her only child, Mrs. H. Fisher, Tuesday. Since the death of Mrs. Maria Hixon at Tecumseh a week ago, Mrs. Sheldon is the only pensioner of the war of 1812 in this section. A remarkable thing about her longevity is that her mother died quite young of consumption. Although she is quite feeble her mental faculties are unimpaired and she can narrate many interesting incidents in connection with the early history of Lenawee county.—Adrian Times.

Blue Ribbon Week.

Blue Ribbon week, the annual event in horse kingdom is now with us and it promises to be the greatest in the history of the Detroit Driving Club. The Blue Ribbon meeting is one week later this year, July 25 to 29 inclusive. It is argued by horseman that this plan is for the better inasmuch as the horses will be further advanced in their work, thus insuring faster time being made in each heat. The Club has completed arrangement with the street railway company to have the passengers carried direct to the grand stand thus saving the long walk which has been necessary in the past few years. The program offered for the meeting excells any previous effort of the Club. Secretary W. J. Snyder has devoted his closest attention to this part of the event, the result is each day offers an attraction. For Monday, July 25th, the opening day, Lou Dillion 1:58¼ the world's champion trotter, will give an exhibition of her wonderful speed by attacking father time. Her owner C. K. G. Billings will handle the reins thus affording the public an opportunity of seeing the greatest horse and owner driver before the public to day. On the same day the $5,000 Chamber of Commerce will be raced. This race will undoubtedly furnish the new world's record for pacers in competition. Already one of the entries—China Maid 2:05¼—has beaten the world's record one second. Two other races—5:20 trot and 3:07 pace—are down for competition. Tuesday the second day has for the feature the $10,000 Merchants and Manufacturers. As in the C. of C. the entries number horses of champion caliber and again world's records should be established. Twelve horses are carded to go and all of them are known to possess championship qualities. Three other races will be contested this day. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday are no less conspicuous for their excellent offerings in attractions. Four races each day. The meeting opens Monday, July 25th, and continues each day for the week.

Piano Recital.

The pupils of Miss Mary Mills gave an enjoyable piano recital at the home of Miss Mills Wednesday afternoon assisted by Miss Floy Freeman, soprano. After the programme punch and wafers were served in the reception room.

BASE BALL

Two games with the EVERETTS OF DETROIT

Both games result in a decided victory for Tecumseh.

Tuesday afternoon the Detroit Everetts were defeated here by the locals, score standing 10 to 2. Striker pitched good ball. The balls, most of them, were handled by Sebastian behind the bat as the Everetts failed to hit.

The features of the game were the heavy hitting by the local team, getting eleven off Linskey, the opposing pitcher.

Following is the score:

Detroit Everetts	AB	R	H	PO	E
Burns rf	5	0	1	1	0
Carey cf	4	1	1	4	0

BASE BALL NOTES.

Tecumseh vs Dundee at Dundee today.

In the second game with Clinton, Gilbert, Tecumseh's old pitcher, is expected to fire for Clinton.

Tomorrow's game with Clinton will be the first of a series of five. Some good games may be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hyney of Albion, Mrs. Chas. Beasley and Wade Jones accompanied the ball boys to Dundee this morning.

B. J. Garlinghouse, J. M. Hiens, Faron Anderson, Walter Lowry, Wm. Willoughby and Will Hick's went to Adrian Wednesday with the ball team.

Lynn Bell, short stop for Tecumseh ball team, went to Manchester yesterday and entered the running races. He won second in the running race and first in the high jump.

"Jack" Furlong was obliged to retire in the 2nd inning in the game with the Everetts of Detroit, on account of a sprained ankle, which bids fair to lay him up for some time.

Sanger, who pitched for Tecumseh last year, started to pitch for Paw Paw against Marshall at Marshall yesterday but was obliged to retire in the third inning. Chaffee, who caught, retired also on account of split finger. Paw Paw was blanked.

There seems to have been quite a rivalry between the Montpelier base ball team and the team at Tecumseh, Mich., and in order to settle the question a series of five games was arranged for between the above named teams. Each team has secured two games and on Monday of this week the deciding game was "pulled off" at Pioneer before a large and enthusiastic crowd of fans. The Tecumseh team won the deciding game by a score of 7 to 5. M. M. Crossman, Wm. Flagg, "Hod" Snow and Ray Straight went over from this place to witness the game. "Mart" says it was a fast game, on the part of Tecumseh and that Montpelier was out played at every point.—Bryan, O., Democrat.

Night was her terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long" writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough dreadfully and spit blood but when all other medicines failed three $1 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds. It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at C. A. Wright's drug store.

Concerning THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

2 Tim. 4:2

Cor. 1 9:16

These were more noble than those of Thessalonica in that they received the word with all readiness and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so. Acts 17:11

XXII

We complete today our present study of the Holy Communion—the third of the four prominent institutions of the Kingdom of God set up on earth by our Lord Jesus Christ. Our special subject at this time is the Holy Communion, the central act of worship in the Kingdom of God.

As every one knows, the worship of the earthly Kingdom of God was preeminently Sacrificial. All approach to God was mediated by sacrifice—as it is written: "Without shedding of blood is no remission of sins" (Heb. 9 22)—and consequently no acceptance with God, no approach unto Him.

We have seen also that the focal centre of the whole Sacrificial system of the earthly Kingdom of God was the Passover. Now the whole sacrificial system of the Jews pointed on, through their representative Passover rite, to the Christian Passover of the Spiritual Kingdom which it prefigured. Accordingly it follows that as the Jew of the earthly Kingdom could find approach unto God only by Sacrifice, so the Christian of the Spiritual Kingdom of God can find approach unto Him only by way of the Christian Passover.

But the Christian Passover as we have seen, consists (like its earthly type) of two essential parts; (1) the Sacrifice of the Lamb; (2) the partaking of the Lamb slain. Hence for a Christian to keep the Passover (and thus obtain full access unto God) there must be a participation by him in both the Sacrifice offered and the Feast upon that Sacrifice.

And this is obtained in and by the Holy Communion.

Thus: Christ our Passover (i. e., Passover Lamb) was sacrificed once for all upon the Cross of Calvary. That Sacrifice has not to be offered again. But the Holy Communion being the Sacrificial Feast upon the Lamb thus slain, it follows that one cannot sincerely partake of that Sacrament without thereby claiming his part in the Sacrifice itself. He partakes of the Sacrificial Lamb as having been slain for him, and in order that he may receive all the benefits of that Sacrifice.

The Jews of old, before they sat down to partake of the Passover Lamb, sprinkled the Blood of the Sacrifice upon the two side posts and the lintel of the door within which they were gathered together (seeing which the Destroying Angel "passed over" that household). So the Christian, sitting down to the Holy Communion—the Sacrificial Feast upon the Lamb of God—appropriates the Sacrifice itself for his own; and thus, so to speak, places himself "behind the Blood," and constitutes the Feast a very Passover of God.

Thus, in the very nature of the case, the Holy Communion—the Sacrificial Feast upon the Lamb slain—is seen to be a Memorial unto God of the Death of Jesus Christ upon the Cross. When we faithfully partake of that Holy Sacrement, we place ourselves beneath the cross itself and plead, as in the hymn:

Look, Father, look on His anointed Face,
And only look on us as found in Him;
Look not on our misusings of Thy grace,
Our prayer so languid, and our faith so dim.
For lo! between our sins and their reward,
We set the Passion of thy Son, our Lord.

Thus to the Christian the Holy Communion is the way of approach unto God through Christ. He that would find acceptance with God must draw near to the Cross by Christ's own appointed way of the Supper of the Lord. I do not mean to say that one may never pray to God except at the actual celebration of the Holy Communion. But I do mean this: that all our worship of Almighty God should center around the Holy Communion. He that is faithful to that Sacred Feast lives, as it were, ever beneath the Cross. He that turns his back and never draws near to the Table of the Lord, has in fact and deed turned his back upon the Cross and has no acceptance with God—except on the plea of the crucified Himself, "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do."

It is indeed sad to hear Christian people singing devoutly, "Jesus keep me near the Cross," "Just as I am—I come, I come," etc. and reflect that, as a rule, there is no consciousness whatever of the fact that the one divinely appointed way to draw near to Christ and the Cross is the Holy Communion.

But not only do we have approach unto God in the Holy Communion, the Holy Communion is itself essentially an act of Worship. To worship is to acknowledge the worth-ship. Now the Worth-ship of Almighty God is seen chiefly in His character of Love. But the Love of God was manifested in the gift of His dear Son to die for us upon the Cross (1 John 4:9). Hence the Holy Communion, the Memorial of that Sacrifice, pre-eminently "shews" the Worthship of God (1 Cor. 11:26) and calls forth all our devotion and praise.

We are now in a position to discuss the question, How often should one partake of the Holy Communion? How often should it be celebrated? As the Central Act of Worship in the Kingdom of God ordained by the Lord Himself, it should at least be celebrated every Lord's Day. And every Lord's Day, if possible, the faithful Christian should draw near to the Table of the Lord, that he may declare the Worthship of Almight God and receive the Word of Peace, partake of the Bread of Life and be knit more fully into the blessed communion of Saints.

KNOWS MI-O-NA WILL CURE

C. A. Wright has such faith in this great dyspepsia remedy that he guarantees it.

It is an unusual thing for a druggist to sell a medicine under a guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. Yet this is the way C. A. Wright, the popular druggist, is selling Mi-o-na, the standard dyspepsia remedy.

Never before has he had so large a number of customers tell him that a medicine has cured as with Mi-o-na. People who a few months ago looked like walking skeletons have put on flesh and today are ruddy and vigorous with perfect digestion and good health, solely due to the use of this remedy.

There is no longer any need of anyone suffering or making their friends suffer on account of dyspepsia, for Mi-o-na can be relied upon to cure. The percentage of cures is so nearly one hundred per cent. that there is little risk to C. A. Wright in guaranteeing to refund the money if the medicine does not cure and he stands ready to do so without any questions.

Headaches, all forms of indigestion, specks before the eyes, dizzy feelings, poor sleep, ringing in the ears and all forms of liver trouble are cured by Mi-o-na, price 50c. A few days' treatment shows considerable gain in health and a [illegible] speedily follows.

These days are the best in the whole year for the enjoyment of good health. And Mi-o-na will put you in such perfect condition that you can enjoy every minute of them.

THE CHURCHES.

Rev. B. S. Hudson, a former pastor here, will preach in the Baptist church Sunday morning.

At the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on the subject, "God's Requirement and Help."

In speaking of the Tour Party convention at Buchanam, the Record says; "The numbers were all good, and well presented, but the crowning number on the program was reserved for the evening, when Mr. E. C. Knapp gave an account of the Jerusalem cruise and the world's convention."

Mr. E. C. Knapp, a graduate of the University of Michigan and now connected with the International Sunday school work will speak at the Methodist church next Sunday evening under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. His subject, "A Trip to the Holy Land", will be of interest to all and every one is invited to be present. Remember the time, Sunday evening, July 24th.

COSTS NOTHING UNLESS CURED

A fair offer made by C. A. Wright to all sufferers from catarrh.

C. A. Wright is selling Hyomei on a plan that has caused considerable talk amongst his customers.

The plan is different from that followed by other remedies, but the remedy itself is different also. This treatment for the cure of catarrh has such an unusual record of cures to its credit that C. A. Wright offers to refund the money if it does not give the desired benefit. This is certainly one of the fairest offers that can be made and any one who has catarrh and does not take advantage of it is doing himself or herself an injustice.

Do not suffer any longer with tickling, smarting, burning, eye-watering troubles that afflict those who have catarrh. Hyomei will cure you, but if you should not find it adapted to your case, C. A. Wright will return your money.

Prevents Hay Fever.

All who are subject to hay fever or rose colds should use Hyomei daily for two or three weeks before the time of their annual attack and thus prevent it. The worst cases are quickly relieved and cured by Hyomei and Hyomei Balm.

GET INSIDE.

Your friends and neighbors in Tecumseh will show you how.

Rubbing a back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure Backache comes from the inside—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills get inside.

They cure sick kidneys.

Mrs. J. H. Welch, who resides in the southwestern part of Tecumseh says: "I wish to express my gratitude for the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. My back troubled me for a long time with a constant dull aching pain across my loins and when exerting myself it became very sharp. If I took cold it always settled in my kidneys and in the morning I was so lame and stiff that I could hardly attend to my work. I used several simple household remedies but they did not bring relief. Seeing the Pills recommended and spoken of so highly I concluded to test their merits and got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store. They took right hold of the cause and in a short time the pain in my back was a thing of the past. I can now straighten after bending without any inconvenience."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Commissioners Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, county Lenawee. ss.

In the matter of the estate of MARTHA VANVALKENBURG, deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed by the probate court of said county, commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at the law office of G. R. Gillespie in the village of Tecumseh, Lenawee county, Michigan, on the 6th day of August, 1904, and on the 21st of December, 1904, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days.

And that six months from the 21st day of June, 1904, are allowed by said probate court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated June 21st, 1904.

FRANK B. BAUER,
JOHN F. SCHREDER.
Commissioners.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, county of Lenawee. ss. Probate court for said county.

At a session of the probate court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the probate office, in the city of Adrian, on the 25th day of June in the year one thousand, nine hundred and four.

Present, Harry L. Larwill, judge of probate.

In the matter of the estate of MARY C. McKEE, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Albert C. Aylesworth, administrator with the will annexed upon the estate of said deceased, alleging that the funeral expenses and debts of said deceased, and the expenses of administration thus far incurred, have been fully paid, and praying that his final administration account may be allowed and for such other order and decree as to this court shall seem proper.

It is ordered, that Monday, the 25th day of July next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition.

And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

Free Wine

We want to send you FREE costing you absolutely nothing, a trial bottle of "Drake's Palmetto Wine." Drop us a postal and it comes a-humming. You know that 'way back in bible times people took wine "for the stomach's sake." But the modern grape wine is not good either for stomach, brain or pocket. "Drake's Palmetto Wine" is vastly different. It comes gushing from the palm fruit of our own sunny South. It is a superb appetizer, tonic and nerve bracer. It cleans and purifies the blood and thus feeds brain and brawn. It builds up athletes and nourishes thinkers.

Drake's Palmetto Wine

is also a natural medicine. It is a wonderful specific for constipation, flatulency and all dyspeptic troubles. It positively heals catarrh of nose, throat, stomach or bowels. It regulates perfectly the liver, kidneys and bladder. For women it is a true God-send. A tablespoon dose daily cures all those troubles. The wine has a rich, appetizing smack and plucks you up instantly.

We Prove all This by Sending You a Free Trial Bottle on Request.

DRAKE FORMULA COMPANY, Drake Bldg., Chicago, Ill

READERS TAKE NOTICE—"Drake's Palmetto Wine" is 75 cents at drug stores for a large bottle—usual dollar size—but a trial bottle is sent to you free and prepaid if you write for it.

Suicide of Wealthy Baker.

Chicago, July 21.—The dead body of August Junge, who had been identified with the baking industry in Chicago for forty-three years and who founded the new wealthy firm of Heissler & Junge in 1889, was found in a pantry in the basement of his home. The gas jet had been turned on. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide while temporarily insane. Ill-health and suffering from the heat is given as a motive. Mr. Junge was 60 years old. He came to Chicago from Germany in 1861.

Grand Blanc's Oldest Resident.

Grand Blanc, Mich., July 21.—Charles Bates, who is in his 95th years, is without doubt the oldest resident in this township. On June 27 Mr. Bates celebrated the seventieth anniversary of his residence here. In the July following his arrival here Mr. Bates drew up the papers for his land, which is at present owned by his son-in-law, D. P. Dewey.

Gruesome Relics Burned.

Belgrade, July 21.—The bloodstained furniture and the wardrobes of the late King Alexander and Queen Draga were burned in a bonfire in the palace grounds, King Peter having refused to hand them over to the sisters of the murdered queen, fearing they might be devoted to political uses.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucin instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

BAY CITY'S BIG BLAZE

Started in Handy Bros.' Manufacturing Company's Plant.

LOSS OF $80,000 SUSTAINED

No Water Pressure at Time Fire Broke Out—3,000,000 Feet of Lumber and Eleven Freight Cars Destroyed.

Bay City, Mich., July 24.—Fire which started on the river front in the Handy Bros. Manufacturing Co.'s lumber yard caused $80,000 loss. Handy Bros. had about 6,000,000 feet of pine lumber ready for their factories, over 5,000,000 feet of which was destroyed. The fire swept rapidly from the river front to the Michigan Central railroad tracks. The West Bay City waterworks had been shut down for the day in order to clean the pumping well, and at the outbreak of the fire there was no water pressure. The flames, therefore, secured heavy headway. The Bay City fire department was called on for assistance and two steamers were sent out, but in spite of their efforts the flames crossed a slip and ate their way rapidly toward Davidson's shipyard, where a fleet of a dozen wooden steamers were laid up for repairs. Tug men succeeded in getting out all the boats except the Nicaragua, which was badly scorched. The fire spread so rapidly at the outset that over 1,000 feet of hose belonging to the West Bay City department had to be abandoned, while eleven freight cars, loaded with lumber, three belonging to the Detroit & Mackinaw and eight to the Michigan Central were also destroyed and several others damaged. One of the West Bay City hose carts was damaged by fire before it could be gotten out of the way.

Handy Bros.' loss is $70,000, covered by insurance. Their box factories, one of the main industries of the city, will not be shut down, as the Handys have a large stock of lumber at Duluth, 5,000,000 feet of which was ordered loaded and boats chartered before the fire had been in progress half an hour.

The Michigan Central loss is about $7,000 on cars and trackage, the Detroit & Mackinaw about $2,500; the West Bay City fire department sustained about $700 loss on apparatus and Capt. James Davidson on steamer Nicaragua about $300.

THREE IN ONE WEEK.

Traverse City Maccabee Lodge Being Depleted by Death.

Traverse City, Mich., July 25.—George Sharkey, who was stricken with paralysis while mowing and who lay for some time before being found, died during the night.

This makes three sudden deaths last week among members of the local Maccabee lodge, the others being William Carson, who committed suicide by drowning in Boardman lake, and Vienna Bowman, who was accidentally drowned in Harvey lake, Pennsylvania.

Auto Struck by a Car.

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—Martin O. Whelan, living at 212 Joseph Campau avenue, accompanied by his wife and four children, in an auto, was crossing Congress street at Elmwood avenue when a Trumbull car crashed into the machine and scattered its inmates for some distance. Mrs. Whelan was injured about the face and body and Mr. Whelan was also painfully cut. Two of the children escaped unhurt, but the others were bruised and cut about the head and body.

Dr. Hodge Guilty.

Detroit, Mich., July 23.—Dr. Scott F. Hodge, the Washington avenue physician who has been on trial in Judge A. J. Murphy's court for three weeks and three days on a charge of manslaughter by malpractice in connection with the death of Anna Lehman, was found guilty after the jury had been out over five hours. The defense was given ten days in which to move for new trial.

PREPARE FOR TROUBLE

Packers and Employes Determined to Fight to a Finish.

STOCKADES AROUND PLANTS

Agents of Packers Are Scouring the Country For Men to Take Strikers' Places—In Addition to Allied Trades Teamsters Will Likely Go Out.

Chicago, July 25.—Determined on a fight to a finish to enforce the demands of the striking butchers, a sympathetic strike of all the union workmen employed in the meat packing industry throughout the country, with the exception of the teamsters, will be declared. The indications are that the teamsters will join the other unions on Tuesday in order to bring the packers to terms. The teamsters employed in the Chicago plants at a meeting declared in favor of the sympathetic strike, but their decision has not been ratified as yet by the joint council of the teamsters' unions. This indorsement of the joint council is not final, however, as the international officers of the teamsters' union have to sanction the proposed strike before the men can leave their work. Under these circumstances it is not likely the teamsters will be officially called out before Tuesday.

No Conferences Held Sunday.

No conferences were held Sunday either by the packers or the labor leaders, or jointly, in an effort to reach an adjustment of the controversy. Both sides rested Sunday, apparently waiting for developments. Whether or not the packers would make any concessions to the demands of the labor leaders in order to prevent a general walkout of the trades at the stock yards would not be discussed by any of the packing house representatives, but from the preparations going on at the different plants it was plainly evident that the packers intended to fight for their independence. All the labor leaders declared that they would await developments before considering further negotiations and that the packers would have to make the request for a resumption of peace negotiations, as the unions had no intention at the present time of doing so.

Stockades Erected.

Preparations for the struggle were being made at the different packing plants. Dozens of representatives of the packing houses are scattered all over the country in search of men to fill the places of the strikers. Four train loads of new employes were taken to the yards to join the nonunion men already established inside the plants. Stockades have been erected at the different plants to protect men whose work exposes them to danger from mob violence. All through the stock yards there were not only evidences of preparation for a long and bitter struggle, but superintendents of the packing establishments, police officers and union leaders gave expression to anticipation of troublous times to come.

Mayor May Insist on Settlement.

Chicago, July 25.—Settlement of the strike may be insisted upon by Mayor Carter H. Harrison if developments show that the public interest absolutely demands it. In the meantime arbitration through the good offices of the mayor is a remedy open to the opposing sides on request from either. Such was the position outlined by the mayor, who was called back to Chicago from Marquette, Mich., on account of the renewal of the strike. Mr. Harrison deplored the continuation of the strike, but said that just at present he did not see his way clear toward doing anything of his own volition toward the adjustment of the trouble.

Calumet & Hecla Annual Report.

Boston, July 23.—The annual report of the Calumet & Hecla Mining Co for the year ending April 30, just issued, shows the surplus fund $6,583,059, against $6,567,023 last year. During the year 76,620,290 pounds of copper were produced.

The production of the year was 12,622 pounds less than during the past year. Dividends aggregating $4,000,000 were distributed to shareholders. This amount and the $20,000 increase in surplus over last year represents the earnings.

SEEN FROM HOUSETOPS

Battle Between Russians and Japs Near Tatchekiao.

JAPANESE WERE SUCCESSFUL

Tientsin, July 25.—In accordance with orders issued by Gen. Kuropatkin, the Russians commenced to evacuate New Chwang yesterday (Sunday). This morning the Russian railway station is in flames. The Russians are evidently destroying their property previous to evacuation.

New Chwang, July 25.—A battle was fought yesterday near Tatchekiao, attended, it is believed, with heavy losses. The progress of the battle was watched by many people in New Chwang from the roofs of houses. The day was clear and the smoke of the guns could be plainly seen.

Tientsin, July 25.—A report from New Chwang states that Saturday's battle was at Tahsuitong, six miles distant, and that the Japanese were successful.

Many Chinese refugees arriving at New Chwang have reported that nine Japanese gunboats from Port Arthur have arrived at Tahtingshan.

Japs After Coveted Base.

St. Petersburg, July 25.—The reported appearance of Japanese cruisers and transports off Yinkow, coupled with foreign telegrams telling of heavy fighting in that region, bear out the intimation conveyed in the mutilated dispatch from Tatchekiao to the Associated Press that serious movements have been undertaken by the Japanese to gain this coveted base on the northwest coast. It should be pointed out that there is an apparent conflict between the dispatch from Tatchekiao and that received from Liao Yang under date of July 22, saying that all was quiet at Yinkow on that date, but it is possible that owing to the pressure on the telegraph at the front there may have been a confusion of dates.

Should it develop that the Japanese are now making a determined attack on Yinkow, it would throw fresh light on the heavy land movements of the Japanese to the northwest within the past few days.

Menacing Attitude of Japanese.

The menacing attitude of the Japanese on Lieut.-Gen. Count Keller's front may possibly have drawn north a considerable Russian force. Certainly it has distracted public attention for the time being from Yinkow, but whether it has affected Gen. Kuropatkin's estimate of the situation may be proved by the nature of the defense that will be made at Yinkow.

It seems to be fairly certain that sharp fighting is now in progress in that region, though Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff's report, received late Saturday night, throws little light on the actual situation. This report states that the Japanese commenced to push forward from Kaichou on the morning of July 23 and forced the retirement of the Russian rear guard to Tatchekiao, while a simultaneous Japanese advance began from the valley of the Sachi on the east, directed against Yinkow by way of Tatchekiao.

Though Gen. uropatkin was reported to be inspecting the troops at Liao Yang on July 21, he was easily in touch with his threatened front and detailed news from him bringing affairs up to a later date is awaited with the greatest interest.

Japanese Advance Checked.

Sintzintin, seventy miles east of Mukden, July 25.—According to Chinese information, 30,000 Japanese with 30 field and 200 mountain guns, have reached Saimatsza from the south and have occupied the district covered by Saimatsza, Isyanchan and Saiobeer. Four companies of Russian cavalry and one company of infantry with two guns came in contact with the Japanese advance at 7 o'clock on the morning of July 22 and discovered that the Japanese, 1,000 strong, were advancing a mile and a half from Isyanchan. The Russian guns checked the Japanese advance, but heavy reserves coming up, the Russians retired to a side road near Uitsintain to save themselves from being cut off. The Japanese, however, did not continue to advance.

Russians Sink Merchantman.

Tokio, July 25.—The Russian Vladivostok squadron has sunk the merchantman which it captured off the coast of Izu province. The name of this ship and her nationality is not known and nothing has been learned of the fate of her crew. Witnesses ashore saw the merchantman following the fleet. Then they saw her fired upon, after which she disappeared. The Russian warships were last reported at 11 o'clock this morning to the southwest of Cape Iro, Izu province, steering to the west.

The vessel sunk by the Vladivostok squadron is supposed to be the Hiogo, belonging to the Nippon line.

[Cape Iro is about sixty-five miles southwest of Yokohama and about fifty miles from the entrance to the bay upon which Yokohama and Tokio are located.]

THEIR LAST DRUNK.

Two Men Killed and One Seriously Injured by Excursion Train.

New Martinsville, W. Va., July 25.—Two men were killed and one seriously wounded by the Pittsburg excursion train at Paddens Crossing, four miles south of this city. Ned Harrigan, Charles Longwell and Newton Kemp went to Sistersville and drank heavily. When they reached Paddens they stopped off, missing the last traction car. They then went to sleep on the Ohio river railroad tracks.

A farmer found Kemp in a field, where he had been knocked by the train, so badly injured that he could not walk. The bodies of the other two men were so horribly mangled that it was impossible to distinguish one from the other.

Change at M. M. A.

Washington, July 25.—Orders have been issued at the war department relieving Capt. Frederick S. Strong, artillery corps, from duty at Orchard Lake military academy, taking effect Sept. 15, and ordering him to Fort Monroe, Virginia, for duty. Capt. Strong is to be relieved by Capt. George O. Cress, fourth cavalry, who is to report at the academy Sept. 1. Major Charles M. Gandy has been detailed surgeon to attend military national encampment at Ludington.

Lumber Wagon Crushed Out His Life.

Augusta, Mich., July 23.—Lynn, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Ferry, was run over by a wagon belonging to the P. M. Marvin Lumber Co. and died within an hour. Several boys were playing under the wagon while it was unloading. The driver is not blamed.

Fatal Quarrel in Kalamazoo.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 25.—Ike Kerfey, a colored man, was shot twice by Herman Scott, it is alleged, and died from his wounds in the hospital here. Scott, who is also colored, is in jail. Kerfey was to have married Scott's mother, and the two men had quarreled on a number of occasions over this marriage, it is said. According to Scott's younger brother, Scott drew a revolver and shot Kerfey, despite the efforts of the younger brother to prevent the crime.

Died Hoeing Corn.

Capac, Mich., July 25.—James Ansill, living six miles southeast of this village, died suddenly while hoeing corn in his garden. Mr. Ansill was 67 years old and was for many years a resident of this place, where he was engaged in the milling business for more than twenty years. He removed to the farm with his family eight years ago. He was a member of the masonic fraternity, the G. A. R. and the Methodist Episcopal church at Capac.

Died From Her Injuries.

Jackson, Mich., July 25.—Mrs. J. W. Knight, who was struck by a Michigan Central freight east of this city two weeks ago, is dead of her injuries. She was 60 years old and was the wife of the president of the Farmers' bank, Grass Lake.

Fall Proved Fatal.

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 25.—Anthony Hall, the carpenter who fell from a scaffold Thursday, died without recovering consciousness.

No pity shown.

"For years fate was after me continually" writes M. Gulledge, Vermont, Ala., "I had a terrible case of piles causing 24 tumors. When all failed Bucklen's Arnica salve cured me. Equally good for burns and all aches and pains. Only 25c at C. A. Wright's drug store.

GET INSIDE.

Your friends and neighbors in Tecumseh will show you how.

Rubbing a back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure

Bachache comes from the inside—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills get inside.

They cure sick kidneys.

Mrs. J. H. Welch, who resides in the southwestern part of Tecumseh says: "I wish to express my gratitude for the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. My back troubled me for a long time with a constant dull aching pain across my loins and when exerting myself it became very sharp. If I took cold it always settled in my kidneys and in the morning I was so lame and stiff that I could hardly attend to my work. I used several simple household remedies but they did not bring relief. Seeing the Pills recommended and spoken of so highly I concluded to test their merits and got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store. They took right hold of the cause and in a short time the pain in my back was a thing of the past. I can now straighten after bending without any inconvenience."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Itchiness of the skin, horrible plague. Most everybody afflicted in one way or another. Only one never failing cure. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store.

Commissioners Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, county Lenawee. ss.

In the matter of the estate of MARTHA VANVALKENBURG, deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed by the probate court of said county, commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at the law office of G. R. Gillespie in the village of Tecumseh, Lenawee county, Michigan, on the 6th day of August, 1904, and on the 21st of December, 1904, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days.

And that six months from the 21st day of June, 1904, are allowed by said probate court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated June 21st, 1904.

FRANK B. BAUER,
JOHN F. SCHREDER.
Commissioners.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, county of Lenawee. ss. Probate court for said county.

At a session of the probate court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the probate office, in the city of Adrian, on the 25th day of June in the year one thousand, nine hundre and four.

Present, Harry L. Larwill, judge of probate.

In the matter of the estate of MARY C. McKEE, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Albert C. Aylesworth, administrator with the will annexed upon the estate of said deceased, alleging that the funeral expenses and debts of said deceased, and the expenses of administration thus far incurred, have been fully paid, and praying that his final administration account may be allowed and for such other order and decree as to this court shall seem proper.

It is ordered, that Monday, the 25th day of July next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition.

And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

Free Wine

We want to send you FREE costing you absolutely nothing, a trial bottle of "Drake's Palmetto Wine." Drop us a postal and it comes a-humming. You know that 'way back in bible times people took wine "for the stomach's sake." But the modern grape wine is not good either for stomach, brain or pocket. "Drake's Palmetto Wine" is vastly different. It comes gushing from the palm fruit of our own sunny South. It is a superb appetizer, tonic and nerve bracer. It cleans and purifies the blood and thus feeds brain and brawn. It builds up athletes and nourishes thinkers.

Drake's Palmetto Wine

is also a natural medicine. It is a wonderful specific for constipation, flatulency and all dyspeptic troubles. It positively heals catarrh of nose, throat, stomach or bowels. It regulates perfectly the liver, kidneys and bladder. For women it is a true God-send. A tablespoon dose daily cures all those troubles. The wine has a rich, appetizing smack and plucks you up instantly.

We Prove all This by Sending You a Free Trial Bottle on Request.

DRAKE FORMULA COMPANY, Drake Bldg., Chicago, Ill

READERS TAKE NOTICE—"Drake's Palmetto Wine" is 75 cents at drug stores for a large bottle—usual dollar size—but a trial bottle is sent to you free and prepaid if you write for it.

Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucin instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Kodol Digests What You Eat

BAY CITY'S BIG BLAZE

Started in Handy Bros.' Manufacturing Company's Plant.

LOSS OF $80,000 SUSTAINED

No Water Pressure at Time Fire Broke Out—3,000,000 Feet of Lumber and Eleven Freight Cars Destroyed.

Bay City, Mich., July 24.—Fire which started on the river front in the Handy Bros. Manufacturing Co.'s lumber yard caused $80,000 loss. Handy Bros. had about 6,000,000 feet of pine lumber ready for their factories, over 5,000,000 feet of which was destroyed. The fire swept rapidly from the river front to the Michigan Central railroad tracks. The West Bay City waterworks had been shut down for the day in order to clean the pumping well, and at the outbreak of the fire there was no water pressure. The flames, therefore, secured heavy headway. The Bay City fire department was caled on for assistance and two steamers were sent out, but in spite of their efforts the flames crossed a slip and ate their way rapidly toward Davidson's shipyard, where a fleet of a dozen wooden steamers were laid up for repairs. Tug men succeeded in getting out all the boats except the Nicaragua, which was badly scorched. The fire spread so rapidly at the outset that over 1,000 feet of hose belonging to the West Bay City department had to be abandoned, while eleven freight cars, loaded with lumber, three belonging to the Detroit & Mackinaw and eight to the Michigan Central were also destroyed and several others damaged. One of the West Bay City hose carts was damaged by fire before it could be gotten out of the way.

Handy Bros.' loss is $70,000, covered by insurance. Their box factories, one of the main industries of the city, will not be shut down, as the Handys have a large stock of lumber at Duluth, 6,000,000 feet of which was ordered loaded and boats chartered before the fire had been in progress half an hour.

The Michigan Central loss is about $7,000 on cars and trackage, the Detroit & Mackinaw about $2,500; the West Bay City fire department sustained about $700 loss on apparatus and Capt. James Davidson on steamer Nicaragua about $300.

THREE IN ONE WEEK.

Traverse City Maccabee Lodge Being Depleted by Death.

Traverse City, Mich., July 25.—George Sharkey, who was stricken with paralysis while mowing and who lay for some time before being found, died during the night.

This makes three sudden deaths last week among members of the local Maccabee lodge, the others being William Carson, who committed suicide by drowning in Boardman lake, and Vienna Bowman, who was accidentally drowned in Harvey lake, Pennsylvania.

Auto Struck by a Car.

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—Martin O. Whelan, living at 212 Joseph Campau avenue, accompanied by his wife and four children, in an auto, was crossing Congress street at Elmwood avenue when a Trumbull car crashed into the machine and scattered its inmates for some distance. Mrs. Whelan was injured about the face and body and Mr. Whelan was also painfully cut. Two of the children escaped unhurt, but the others were bruised and cut about the head and body.

Dr. Hodge Guilty.

Detroit, Mich., July 23.—Dr. Scott F. Hodge, the Washington avenue physician who has been on trial in Judge A. J. Murphy's court for three weeks and three days on a charge of manslaughter by malpractice in connection with the death of Anna Lehman, was found guilty after the jury had been out over five hours. The defense was given ten days in which to move for new trial.

PREPARE FOR TROUBLE

STOCKADES AROUND PLANTS

Agents of Packers Are Scouring the Country For Men to Take Strikers' Places—In Addition to Allied Trades Teamsters Will Likely Go Out.

Chicago, July 25.—Determined on a fight to a finish to enforce the demands of the striking butchers, a sympathetic strike of all the union workmen employed in the meat packing industry throughout the country, with the exception of the teamsters, will be declared. The indications are that the teamsters will join the other unions on Tuesday in order to bring the packers to terms. The teamsters employed in the Chicago plants at a meeting declared in favor of the sympathetic strike, but their decision has not been ratified as yet by the joint council of the teamsters' unions. This indorsement of the joint council is not final, however, as the international officers of the teamsters' union have to sanction the proposed strike before the men can leave their work. Under these circumstances it is not likely the teamsters will be officially called out before Tuesday.

No Conferences Held Sunday.

No conferences were held Sunday either by the packers or the labor leaders, or jointly, in an effort to reach an adjustment of the controversy. Both sides rested Sunday, apparently waiting for developments. Whether or not the packers would make any concessions to the demands of the labor leaders in order to prevent a general walkout of the trades at the stock yards would not be discussed by any of the packing house representatives, but from the preparations going on at the different plants it was plainly evident that the packers intended to fight for their independence. All the labor leaders declared that they would await developments before considering further negotiations and that the packers would have to make the request for a resumption of peace negotiations, as the unions had no intention at the present time of doing so.

Stockades Erected.

Preparations for the struggle were being made at the different packing plants. Dozens of representatives of the packing houses are scattered all over the country in search of men to fill the places of the strikers. Four train loads of new employes were taken to the yards to join the nonunion men already established inside the plants. Stockades have been erected at the different plants to protect men whose work exposes them to danger from mob violence. All through the stock yards there were not only evidences of preparation for a long and bitter struggle, but superintendents of the packing establishments, police officers and union leaders gave expression to anticipation of troubluous times to come.

Mayor May Insist on Settlement.

Chicago, July 25.—Settlement of the strike may be insisted upon by Mayor Carter H. Harrison if developments show that the public interest absolutely demands it. In the meantime arbitration through the good offices of the mayor is a remedy open to the opposing sides on request from either. Such was the position outlined by the mayor, who was called back to Chicago from Marquette, Mich., on account of the renewal of the strike. Mr. Harrison deplored the continuation of the strike, but said that just at present he did not see his way clear toward doing anything of his own volition toward the adjustment of the trouble.

Calumet & Hecla Annual Report.

Boston, July 23.—The annual report of the Calumet & Hecla Mining Co. for the year ending April 30, just issued, shows the surplus fund $6,583,059, against $6,557,023 last year. During the year 76,620,290 pounds of copper were produced.

The production of the year was 12,622 pounds less than during the past year. Dividends aggregating $4,000,000 were distributed to shareholders. This amount and the $26,000 increase in surplus over last year represents the earnings.

SEEN FROM HOUSETOPS

Battle Between Russians and Japs Near Tatchekiao.

JAPANESE WERE SUCCESSFUL

Tientsin, July 25.—In accordance with orders issued by Gen. Kuropatkin, the Russians commenced to evacuate New Chwang yesterday (Sunday). This morning the Russian railway station is in flames. The Russians are evidently destroying their property previous to evacuation.

New Chwang, July 25.—A battle was fought yesterday near Tatchekiao, attended, it is believed, with heavy losses. The progress of the battle was watched by many people in New Chwang from the roofs of houses. The day was clear and the smoke of the guns could be plainly seen.

Tientsin, July 25.—A report from New Chwang states that Saturday's battle was at Tahsuitong, six miles distant, and that the Japanese were successful.

Many Chinese refugees arriving at New Chwang have reported that nine Japanese gunboats from Port Arthur have arrived at Tahtingshan.

Japs After Coveted Base.

St. Petersburg, July 25.—The reported appearance of Japanese cruisers and transports off Yinkow, coupled with foreign telegrams telling of heavy fighting in that region, bear out the intimation conveyed in the mutilated dispatch from Tatchekiao to the Associated Press that serious movements have been undertaken by the Japanese to gain this coveted base on the northwest coast. It should be pointed out that there is an apparent conflict between the dispatch from Tatchekiao and that received from Liao Yang under date of July 22, saying that all was quiet at Yinkow on that date, but it is possible that owing to the pressure on the telegraph at the front there may have been a confusion of dates.

Should it develop that the Japanese are now making a determined attack on Yinkow, it would throw fresh light on the heavy land movements of the Japanese to the northwest within the past few days.

Menacing Attitude of Japanese.

The menacing attitude of the Japanese on Lieut.-Gen. Count Keller's front may possibly have drawn north a considerable Russian force. Certainly it has distracted public attention for the time being from Yinkow, but whether it has affected Gen. Kuropatkin's estimate of the situation may be proved by the nature of the defense that will be made at Yinkow.

It seems to be fairly certain that sharp fighting is now in progress in that region, though Lieut.-Gen. Sakharoff's report, received late Saturday night, throws little light on the actual situation. This report states that the Japanese commenced to push forward from Kaichou on the morning of July 23 and forced the retirement of the Russian rear guard to Tatchekiao, while a simultaneous Japanese advance began from the valley of the Sachi on the east, directed against Yinkow by way of Tatchekiao.

Though Gen. uropatkin was reported to be inspecting the troops at Liao Yang on July 21, he was easily in touch with his threatened front and detailed news from him bringing affairs up to a later date is awaited with the greatest interest.

Japanese Advance Checked.

Sintzintin, seventy miles east of Mukden, July 25.—According to Chinese information, 30,000 Japanese with 30 field and 200 mountain guns, have reached Saimatsza from the south and have occupied the district covered by Saimatsza, Isyanchan and Saiobeer. Four companies of Russian cavalry and one company of infantry with two guns came in contact with the Japanese advance at 7 o'clock on the morning of July 22 and discovered that the Japanese, 1,000 strong, were advancing a mile and a half from Isyanchan. The Russian guns checked the Japanese advance, but heavy reserves coming up, the Russians retired to a side road near Uitzintsin to save themselves from being cut off. The Japanese, however, did not continue to advance.

Russians Sink Merchantman.

Tokio, July 25.—The Russian Vladivostok squadron has sunk the merchantman which it captured off the coast of Izu province. The name of this ship and her nationality is not known and nothing has been learned of the fate of her crew. Witnesses ashore saw the merchantman following the fleet. Then they saw her fired upon, after which she disappeared. The Russian warships were last reported at 11 o'clock this morning to the southwest of Cape Iro, Izu province, steering to the west.

The vessel sunk by the Vladivostok squadron is supposed to be the Hiogo, belonging to the Nippon line.

[Cape Iro is about sixty-five miles southwest of Yokohama and about fifty miles from the entrance to the bay upon which Yokohama and Tokio are located.]

THEIR LAST DRUNK.

Two Men Killed and One Seriously Injured by Excursion Train.

New Martinsville, W. Va., July 25.—Two men were killed and one seriously wounded by the Pittsburg excursion train at Paddens Crossing, four miles south of this city. Ned Harrigan, Charles Longwell and Newton Kemp went to Sistersville and drank heavily. When they reached Paddens they stopped off, missing the last traction car. They then went to sleep on the Ohio river railroad tracks.

A farmer found Kemp in a field, where he had been knocked by the train, so badly injured that he could not walk. The bodies of the other two men were so horribly mangled that it was impossible to distinguish one from the other.

Change at M. M. A.

Washington, July 25.—Orders have been issued at the war department relieving Capt. Frederick S. Strong, artillery corps, from duty at Orchard Lake military academy, taking effect Sept. 15, and ordering him to Fort Monroe, Virginia, for duty. Capt. Strong is to be relieved by Capt. George O. Cress, fourth cavalry, who is to report at the academy Sept. 1. Major Charles M. Gandy has been detailed surgeon to attend military national encampment at Ludington.

Lumber Wagon Crushed Out His Life.

Augusta, Mich., July 23.—Lynn, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Ferry, was run over by a wagon belonging to the P. M. Marvin Lumber Co. and died within an hour. Several boys were playing under the wagon while it was unloading. The driver is not blamed.

Fatal Quarrel In Kalamazoo.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 25.—Ike Kerfey, a colored man, was shot twice by Herman Scott, it is alleged, and died from his wounds in the hospital here. Scott, who is also colored, is in jail. Kerfey was to have married Scott's mother, and the two men had quarreled on a number of occasions over this marriage, it is said. According to Scott's younger brother, Scott drew a revolver and shot Kerfey, despite the efforts of the younger brother to prevent the crime.

Died Hoeing Corn.

Capac, Mich., July 25.—James Ansill, living six miles southeast of this village, died suddenly while hoeing corn in his garden. Mr. Ansill was 67 years old and was for many years a resident of this place, where he was engaged in the milling business for more than twenty years. He removed to the farm with his family eight years ago. He was a member of the masonic fraternity, the G. A. R. and the Methodist Episcopal church at Capac.

Died From Her Injuries.

Jackson, Mich., July 25.—Mrs. J. W. Knight, who was struck by a Michigan Central freight east of this city two weeks ago, is dead of her injuries. She was 60 years old and was the wife of the president of the Farmers' bank, Grass Lake.

Fall Proved Fatal.

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 25.—Anthony Hall, the carpenter who fell from a scaffold Thursday, died without recovering consciousness.

No pity shown.

"For years fate was after me continually" writes M. Gulledge. Vesmont, Ala., "I had a terrible case of piles causing 24 tumors. When all failed Bucklen's Arnica salve cured me. Equally good for burns and all aches and pains. Only 25c at C. A. Wright's drug store.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Health Rules.

One of Queen Victoria's health rules is said to have been, "Do whatever you like, but do it in moderation," or words to that effect, and a similar rule might be adopted with still greater profit by the men and women of the present day. The people of Queen Victoria's generation had not made a fad of health, and every newspaper they picked up did not worry them with conflicting hygienic rules. The no breakfast fiend, if he existed, was less prominent than at present, and those who thought that the first ought to be the best meal of the day did not publish their views from every roof top, figuratively speaking. Vegetarians and meat eaters wrangled only in inconspicuous corners, and the devotees of the cold bath were content with fewer victims. Today, when all these and a million other so called health rules are being dinned into the ears of a long suffering public on all sides, it is more than ever important to bear in mind that inclinations and disinclinations were not arbitrarily implanted by nature in animal organisms; that they exist for our guidance and not solely to mislead us.—New York Tribune.

A Man and a Hatpin.

In a theater recently a man down in one of the front rows spied on the floor a large hatpin with an amber top. Looking about him, he saw that two women and their escorts had just sat down. To one of the former he presented the pin. A shake of the head indicated that he had made a mistake. Then he tried across the aisle. The women seemed to be interested. The pin was a curiosity and its amber of a unique carving. They hesitated, but the pin was handed back. Desperately he began the search now. Two ladies unattended seemed likely owners. To them he showed the pin. They took it and enjoyed its pattern. Just then the man felt a tug on his sleeve. It was his wife, and she remarked, "Why are you showing my hatpin to strangers?" He blushed, went over to the feminine pair and explained. "It's my wife's hatpin," he said, but in such consciously guilty accents that the women handed it back with doubting smiles.

The Coup de Monserrat.

The fatal issue of a recent French duel causes discussion of what the Parisian fencers call the "coup de Monserrat." The history of this stroke is romantic. The hero of the story was a young Parisian musician engaged to be married to a young lady of Bordeaux. Quarreling with a cousin of his fiancee, he got his ears boxed at the Bordeaux club. Ignorant of fencing, he dared not resent the insult and renounced his engagement. But he also took fencing lessons from one Monserrat, a maitre d'armes of Toulouse. Monserrat taught him one trick only, and he practiced it for a year. At the end of that time he returned to the Bordeaux club, slapped his man's face and, being called out, instantly ran his opponent through the body with his cunning lunge.

The Pill and the Coating.

Joseph Savador, the French historian, and Jules Sandeau, a novelist, made their meeting at a public reception the occasion for a dispute as to the respective places which they occupied in the world of letters.

"The reading of history is like a pill—it needs the sugar coating to make it palatable," argued the novelist.

"Ah, but it is the ingredient which cures, not the coating," remarked the historian.

"Then let us divide honors," said Sandeau, "for if it were not for my sugar coating your historical facts would dry on the shelves."

Man's Essay on Pope.

From Armstrong's "Teaching of Scientific Method" we extract the following: "If the proper study of man (sic) be man—as the highest dignitary of our church some time ago asserted," etc. This is not simply due to a natural confusion between A. Pope and the pope. It comes of a poet's having two Christian names, including one for his surname, so that the student of the "Dictionary of Familiar Quotations" is apt to be betrayed by the description of him as Pope, Alexander.—Punch.

Wise Pa.

Johnny—Pa, what is tact?

Wise Pa—Tact, Johnny, is knowing how to do things without appearing to be doing them. For instance, I asked Mr. Aridman to dinner this evening, and incidentally I remarked that your mother would entertain us on the piano. Mr. Aridman said he was so sorry he couldn't come.—Boston Transcript.

Management.

"I don't see, Ella, how you manage with your housekeeping money. If I give you a lot, you spend a lot, but if I don't give you so much you seem to get along with it."

"Why, that's perfectly simple, Rudolph. When you give me a lot I use it to pay the debts I get into when you don't give me so much."

An Official Mystery.

Years ago, when Lord Anglesey was lord lieutenant of Ireland, he said once of the Irish secretary of that day, "Mr. Stanley and I do very well together as companions, but we differ so totally about Ireland that I never mention the subject to him." Just how they transacted official business remains a mystery.

"I don't know," replied Popley, "but I tell you what—I'm glad nobody thinks of saying I look like the baby."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

While the Orchestra Plays.

"I do wish the woman back of me would stop kicking my chair," sighed a woman at the theater the other evening. "Ever since the overture began she has been keeping time with her feet, and besides all that she is fanning the back of my neck and trying to hum a tune she doesn't know. Isn't it strange how some people act when there's any music about? Now, just look at that little woman in the second row tapping all five fingers of one hand against her forehead. She's unconscious of it too. And there's another woman over there in the box who seems to think she is leading the orchestra with her fan. The men are just as bad too. Just look around and see the number of men who are keeping time with their heads, their hands or their feet. Then there is always some creature who makes a nuisance of himself by whistling through his teeth all the time the orchestra is playing. Even you, my dear"—this to her husband—"are keeping strict time with your programme while I'm lecturing about other people's misconduct."—New York Times.

The Way of Whistler.

His manservant entered the studio. "Well?" said Whistler. "Lady Somebody, sir," said the servant (she was one of the great ladies of the British peerage). "Where is she?" "In her carriage at the door, sir." Whistler took no further notice of his servitor, but resumed the reading of his proof sheets to me, and the puzzled footman, who was standing behind his master's back and facing me, shook his head slowly up and down and, like Longfellow's Arabs, "silently stole away." Thus the reading went on for quite ten minutes longer, and the reader's sole auditor fidgeted more and more till, realizing how deadly cold it was on that March day, I called out to him, "I beg your pardon, Mr. Whistler, but I think I overheard your servant telling you that a lady was waiting to see you." "Oh," said he, "let her wait; let her wait! I'm mobbed with these people!" Then he went on reading for fully fifteen minutes more, and after that (his voice was getting tired, I dare say) he condescended to go downstairs and receive her shivering ladyship.—F. Keppel in The Reader.

Shorty Long's Escape.

"There used to be a cigar store round the corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street," said an old timer, "where they had a wooden Indian which stood on a platform during the day, but was always taken in at night to save it from mutilation by the boys about the neighborhood. Shorty Long was one of the well known characters of the town, an all round good fellow, who was always out for fun. On one occasion he started a hurrah on Fifth avenue near Smithfield street and was pursued by the police, who gave him a hot chase down the avenue and were in a fair way to overhaul him when he rounded the corner and sprang on the box where the Indian was to be found during the day. There he took a position as much like that of the wooden chief as possible, and as he posed with outstretched arm the bluecoated guardian of the peace galloped past and disappeared down Diamond alley, while the cause of all the trouble left his pedestal and started out for some fresh amusement."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Swearing Spoils Horses.

The horse does not like a nervous, fidgety, fussy or irritable man. He is too nervous and irritable himself, says Country Life In America.

"Why is it," one teamster was heard to ask another, "that Phin's horses are always gaunt? Phin feeds well." "Yes," was the reply, "but he's like a wasp around a horse."

A well known owner of race horses, not at all a sentimental person, recently made an order forbidding his employees to talk in loud tones or to swear in the stable. "I have never yet seen a good mannered horse," he says, "that was being sworn at all the time. It hurts the feelings of a sensitive horse, and I'll keep my word good to discharge any man in my employ if I catch him swearing within the hearing of any horse in this stable."

Brides Priced.

To us it seems a curious whim on the part of our ancestors of the eighteenth century that in their marriage announcements they should so often choose and with such seeming complacency to enlighten the world with regard to the amount of fortune received with the brides. Here are two cases in point: "Mr. James Coutts of Jeffry's Sq., merchant, to Miss Peagrum of Knightsbridge, £30,000." "W. Smith, gentleman, of the 2d Troop of Horse Guards, to Mrs. Ann Gardiner, a maiden lady, aged, 'tis said, near 70, with a fortune of £20,000."—Chambers' Journal.

Webster's Tiresome Habit.

Senator Hoar in his "Reminiscences" says that Daniel Webster had a tiresome habit in his public speeches of groping after the most suitable word after this fashion: "Why is it, Mr. Chairman, that there has gathered, congregated; this great number of inhabitants, dwellers, here; that these roads, avenues, routes of travel, highways, converge, meet, come together here?" When the speech was printed all the synonyms but the best one would be left out.

The Streets of Amsterdam.

Amsterdam, in Holland, a city of ten miles in circumference, is mostly built on piles driven into the sandy subsoil, but the flowing of the tide and the debris of the Ainstel river have made ninety islands, and the city has more canals than streets. The watery ways are traversed by over 300 bridges, so that Amsterdam has earned the designation of the Venice of the North.

The Woman Must Speak.

Mr. Skrap—There's just this about it. It is impossible for us to live together and not quarrel.

Mr. Skrap—Of course; but, as I say, it isn't possible for us to live together and not quarrel.—Philadelphia Press.

Resumes Diplomatic Relations.

Washington, July 23.—Colombia is again to come into full diplomatic relations with the United States and the Panama matter will be a closed incident between the two republics. The state department has received a cordial letter from the Colombian minister for foreign affairs, announcing that Dr. Thomas Herran had been given full letters of credit as Colombia's envoy at Washington. Dr. Herran for many years was secretary of legation here and after the hurried exit of Minister Concha was charge d'affaires until the legation was closed last winter as a result of the Panama affair. He signed with Mr. Hay the Hay-Herran treaty for the construction of the canal which the Colombian congress rejected.

Moon Worship In Britain.

Lunar superstitious lingered until a late period in the British islands. A writer of the seventeenth century says: "In Yorkshire, etc., northward, some country people doe worship the new moon on their bare knees, kneeling on an earthfast stone. And the people of Athol, in the highlands of Scotland, doe worship the new moon." Speaking of the Irish, he continues, "Whether or no they worship the moon I know not, but when they first see her after the change they commonly bow the knee and say the Lord's Prayer and near the wane address themselves to her with a loud voice after this manner. 'Leave us as well as thou foundest.'"

Sylvester O'Halloran, the Irish historian, speaking of the corresponding customs of the Phœnicians and Irish adds: "Their deities were the same. They both adored Bel (or the sun), the moon and the stars. The house of Rimmon, which the Phœnicians worshiped in (like our temples of Flechta in Meath), were sacred to the moon."

Magnets and Magnetism.

The modern theory of magnetism, known as Weber's, aided greatly by the work of Professor Ewing, maintains that even the smallest physical quantity, the molecule, present in a bar magnet is itself a minute magnet. Hence the power of the magnet depends entirely, in the first place, upon molecular arrangement.

This can be easily seen by filling a glass tube with steel filings, loosely packed. At first these are all in disorder, but if a magnet is drawn over the tube they begin to turn themselves into one direction till perfect alignment takes place, when the tube acquires the properties of a magnet.

The breaking of bar magnet into pieces, each piece in turn becoming a magnet, confirms this theory. So does saturation, as it is called, when the molecules are arranged and no further effect takes place. The theory of magnetic keepers closing the lines of force, thus preserving and not dissipating the power, is also in accordance with this. The primary source of magnetic power is still unknown.

Gratitude of a Dog.

Olive Thorne Miller tells of a dog which belonged to a colonial family and was particularly noted for his antipathy to Indians, whom he delighted to track. On one campaign against the French this dog insisted on accompanying his master, although his feet were in a terrible condition from having been frozen during the previous winter. During the fight which ended in the famous Braddock's defeat he became separated from his master, and the latter, supposing him killed, went home without him. Some weeks later, however, the dog appeared in his old home, which was many miles from the battlefield. He was tired and worn, but over his sore feet soft moccasins were fastened, showing that he had been among Indians and that they had taken especial pains to be kind to him. Thereafter, though he showed great joy at being again among his own people, neither threats nor bribes could ever induce him to track an Indian.

The "Second Samson."

Richard Joy, who died May 18, 1742, at the age of sixty-seven and is buried in the St. Peter's churchyard, isle of Thanet, Kent, England, was known throughout Europe as the "Kentish Hercules," or the "Second Samson." When but a youth of seventeen years he was invited to London by the king to give an exhibition in remarkable feats of strength. Among the feats of his more mature years were those of breaking with his hands and feet a rope with a tensile strength of thirty-five hundredweight and the lifting of 2,200 pounds. The following is a copy of his epitaph:

Herculean hero, famed for strength,
At last lies here, his breadth and length.
See how the mighty man is fallen!
To death the strong and weak are all one.
The same judgment doth befall
Goliath great and David small.

Antiquity of Masks.

Masks are of very ancient origin. In a tomb 3,000 years old at Mycenæ Dr. Schliemann found two bodies with faces covered by masks of gold. One of the masks represented the head of a lion. Among ancient Greeks the lion mask was a sign of distinction. With the Peruvians of old it was a mark of royal lineage. In a grave of considerable antiquity in Peru a silver mask was found on the head of a mummy. The mummy of a prince who lived in the reign of Rameses II., discovered in a small vault at Memphis, in Egypt, had a mask of gold leaf over the face.

A Witty Scot.

At an auction sale in a Scotland village the auctioneer was trying to sell a number of domestic utensils, including a porridge pot. As usual he was making a great fuss. Finishing, his keen eye caught a well known worthy, the beadle, standing at the back of the crowd, and he shouted out:

"Maister McTavish, make an offer for this pot! Why, it would make a splendid kirk bell!"

"Aye," replied the beadle, "if your tongue was in it!"

Cruel Fate.

"Did you see that pale young man calling out 'Cash!' at the ribbon counter?"

"Yes."

"Fate is awfully funny sometimes. Ten years ago, when we were boys together, his one ambition was to be a mighty hunter and catch mountain lions with a lasso."

His Slippers.

A preacher admonished the men in his congregation not to let their desire for "slippered ease" keep them from church on Sunday morning. A young man went home and inquired for his "slipperedees." His slippers have been known by that name ever since.—Boston Christian Register.

Hope and Health for All Women.

Zoa Phora Will Cure and Make You a Well Woman.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE TO ALL.

Zoa Phora cures permanently and perfectly all diseases, weaknesses and irregularities of the sex, misplacements, suppressed and painful periods, flooding, leucorrhea, kidney, bladder and liver troubles, makes childbirth easy and regulates the change of life. For the critical period of transition from maidenhood to womanhood it is a matchless remedy. All women unite in praising it and all who have used it rejoice in perfect health.

MRS. PAUL BURNS, Parshallville, Mich.

Mrs. Paul Burns, Parshallville, Mich., writes: "I want all my friends to know the great good Zoa Phora has done for me. I suffered for months with nervous prostration, sick headache and kidney and bladder trouble. After holding consultation, four doctors said I could not live without an operation, and I was too weak to have one. Bunches formed in my bowels and I became so sore that I lost the use of my limbs. The doctor called the bunches tumors. He said that I also had a floating kidney, and would not be any better until I had it sewed in place. After using one bottle of Zoa Phora, I could stand on my feet, and after taking three bottles I could walk around the room, and after the fourth bottle I was able to walk out-of-doors."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

A Forgiving Spirit.

In his reminiscences General Gordon tells a characteristic anecdote of an eccentric southern divine, the Rev. Robert J. Breckinridge, who was one of the most eloquent and fervid not to say bitter advocates of the Union cause. His trenchant pen and lashing tongue spared neither blood relatives nor ministers nor members of the church, not even those of the same faith with himself, provided he regarded them as untrue to the Union. On his deathbed his family and some of his church members were gathered around him. They were most anxious that he should be reconciled to all men and especially to a southern sympathizer of his own church, Dr. Stuart Robinson of Kentucky, before he died, and they asked him, "Brother Breckinridge, have you forgiven all your enemies?" "Oh, yes; certainly I have." "Well, Brother Breckinridge, have you forgiven our brother, Dr. Stuart Robinson?" "Certainly I have. Didn't I just tell you that I had forgiven all my enemies?" "But, Brother Breckinridge, when you meet Brother Stuart Robinson in heaven do you feel that you can greet him as all the redeemed ought to greet one another?" "Don't bother me with such questions. Stuart Robinson will never get there!"

Box and Its Meanings.

The word "box" has a great many different meanings. Here are some of its uses as a noun substantive: First, a case of any size or material, akin to pyx, from pyxus, the box tree; second, the driver's seat on a carriage, which often has a lid covering a receptacle for small parcels; third, a present, especially a gift at Christmas time; fourth, inclosed seats in a theater or in a court of justice; fifth, a box drain; sixth, a snug private house, as a shooting box; seventh, a cylindrical hollow iron in wheels, in which the axle runs; eighth, a trough for cutting miters in carpentry; ninth, the space between the backboard and sternpost of a boat; tenth, an awkward position—e. g., "in the wrong box;" eleventh, the box tree; twelfth, the box iron of a laundress. Box is used also as a verb (thirteenth), to fight with fists or gloves; fourteenth, to go over the points of the compass in order, describing its divisions; fifteenth, to strike with open hand upon the ear; sixteenth, to cause a vessel to turn on her keel, to box haul. Other uses also are consequent upon these.

"Sunday Folks."

When Dr. John Cairns went from Scotland to Ireland for rest and travel in 1864 he was at once delighted by discovering from the guides who showed him about that most of the landed gentry were "Sunday folks."

"That's a fine castle," he would say, pointing to a big house set like a crown on some rocky hill.

"Yis, sorr," said his guide. "'Tis Sir John O'Connor's," or, "'Tis Sir Rory O'More's." He always added, "He's a Sundah mon."

At last Dr. Cairns grew curious.

"What is a Sunday man?" he asked.

"Well, sorr, it do be a mon thot has so many writs out ag'in him for debt that he stays shut up tight in his house all the week and only comes out on Sundah, when the law protects him."

Dr. Cairns' opinion of the landed gentry underwent a change.

Hindoo Witchcraft.

All Hindoos believe in witchcraft, and, in strange contrast to the old believers in witchery, they believe that young and pretty maidens are the chief actors in such uncanny mummery. If crops are blighted or if a general sickness prevails they write the names of all the young women of the vicinity on separate tree branches and then immerse the stems of the twigs for four hours and a half in a solution of holy water and aromatic herbs. If one or more of the twigs wither during the specified time the young woman whose name or names are attached thereto is immediately put to death. Thus the influence of the witch is counteracted, the crops saved and health restored.

How Heavy a Brick May Be.

Some years ago one man bet another that he could not move an ordinary brick tied to the end of a cord two or three miles long. A straight and level road just outside Chichester, N. Y., was selected for the trial. The brick was not moved, and the man lost his bet for a large amount. It was stated by some one present that the brick, although weighing only seven pounds, would from a distance of two or three miles represent a dead weight of nearly a ton.

Lack of Force.

More people fail from lack of force than from lack of education or opportunity, says Success. A man may be well educated or brilliant and yet for lack of force be a complete failure in his vocation. A man or woman may succeed without education, but not without force; without capital, but not without energy.

Brain Work and Longevity.

In a lecture on longevity delivered before the Royal College of Physicians Sir Hermann Weber, himself an octogenarian, gave official support to the doctrine that brain work does not kill, but rather the reverse. A few of his instances were Sophocles, Plato, Galen, Cicero, Moltke, Bismarck, Mommsen and Gladstone, to whom we might add Hobbes, Carlyle, Spencer and Kelvin. The facts are that brain work increases the supply of blood to the nerve cells and promotes their nutrition and health. Mosso, an Italian, laid a man on a delicately balanced table and showed that the head end sank whenever the subject did a mental sum or any other brain work. The increased weight of his head was due to the life giving blood. The truth is that brain work, as such, never killed anybody.—London Chronicle.

Pence and Bones.

A writer in a London newspaper says: "The other day I heard an Englishman defending our system of coinage on the ground that we are the only nation on earth who can say that the system is bone of our bone. For there are 240 bones in the body and 240 pence in the pound; there are 120 bones in the head and trunk and 120 in the limbs and 120 pence in half a sovereign; each limb contains 30 bones, and a half crown contains 30 pence; in the spinal column there are 24 bones and in a florin 24 pence, and as we have 12 ribs on each side, so we have 12 pence in every shilling. See how the proportions of the skeleton of our commerce conform to nature's teaching. No wonder it is vigorous."

The Candle Nut.

The candle nut is a native of the Pacific islands, and the name is derived from the fact that the kernels are so full of oil that when dried they are stuck on reeds and used as candles The people of Hawaii, after having roasted these nuts and removed the shells, reduce the kernels to a paste, which is flavored with pepper and salt and is said to be a most appetizing dish. The husk of the nut and the gum which exudes from the tree have medicinal values, while the burned shell of the kukui is used to make an indelible ink with which tattooing is done.

Figuring It Out.

Disposing of Papa.

"I always contend, sir," said the girl's father meaningly, "that young men should be in bed before 10:30 each night."

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symtoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother sould be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25; large size, 75c. JOHN J. ORR.

The editor of an English paper recently received a fine chicken, which he, supposing it to be a token of appreciation from a discriminating reader, took home and enjoyod for dinner. The following day he received this letter: "Dear Editor:—Yesterday I sent you a chicken in order to settle a dispute that has arisen here. Can you tell us what the chicken died of?"—Brooklyn Expnent.

Patent ice refrigerators will interest them more than angel wings either for this world or the next. —Adrian Press.

The Philadelphia Ledger says: "A plain slab, with rude characters carved upon it, marks the resting place of Charlie Ott, who was considered the most punctual man in Delaware county. He was a railroad man and every act of his life was timed on the minute and second. The following inscription carved on the slab tells of the last trip of the punctual one:

For a run to heaven's gate,
His start was made into the air
At fifteen minutes to eight;
Be comforted, poor stricken soul,
And do not now repine,
For on the shining tracks of gold
He did arrive at nine.'"

The story is told that the Lake Shore section gang, at a point several miles east of this city, a few days ago saw a blue racer snake lying on one of the wires of a barbed wire fence and apparently asleep. Two posts were about eight feet apart and the head touched one while the tail was in contact with the other. The snake lay quite still till the men walked up and killed it, but how it managed to find a comfortable resting place on a barbed wire has not been explained. It is said that snakes are so numerous at that place that they are often killed by trains and that the section men kill large numbers of them. The Post regrets exceedingly that it has no snake editor who might enlarge on his item and we therefore content ourselves with giving the plain facts.—Friday's Hudson Post.

asks the readers of this paper who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to call on them at once and get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. If you knew the value of this remedy as we know it, you would not suffer another day. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a thorough digestant and tissue-building tonic as well. It is endorsed personally by hundreds of people whom it has cured of indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart and stomach troubles generally. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. It is pleasant, palatable and strengthening.

Some women are so honest that no man can really believe in them.

Many a person goes to the day's work or play dull, listless, dispirited. They don't know what real joy there is in life. A sane mind is only possible in a sane body. Indigestion, liver complaint, dizziness, constipation and its hundreds of accompanying ills all vanish like smoke before wind if you use Greene's Little Laxative Beans. B. J. Pulver sells them.

A Kansas farmer's pretty daughter gives three kisses and a hug to the one of her father's harvest hands who shocks the most wheat during the day. In itself this is enough to shock the wheat and everything else on the ranch.—Silver Creek Gazette.

A severe electrical storm swept over this section on Sunday evening and a large barn on the farm of Mr. Manchester of Medina, was struck by lightning. Flames spread to another barn standing close by and both buildings were totally consumed together with the greater portion of their contents. About 30 tons of hay in one of the barns and this together with a considerable number of farming tools, was destroyed. Loss is partially covered with insurance.—Hudson Gazette.

If you haven't any enemies to forgive pardon a few of your friends.

BASE BALL

A Fine Game Monday

DETROIT ATHLETICS VS TECUMSEH.

In Saturday's Game with Clinton they were out scored 2 to 1 by the Local Team.

Last Saturday afternoon the first game of a series of five between Clinton and Tecumseh was played on the Tecumseh Athletic grounds. About 300 witnessed the game, which was expected to be the best of the season.

Tecumseh scored six runs in the first two innings, Bell making a three base hit and LaBelle followed hitting the ball over the fence scoring a home run. In the sixth inning the locals again scored three runs and one more in the 8th. In the first inning Mattison, Clinton's second man up, got to second base on a passed ball by Sebastian and scored on Palmer's hit.

Clinton nearly went wild over the first score. They failed to score again until the eight inning, when Gillen singled, Mattison was hit by the pitcher, Harris singled and Palmer made a two base hit, thus bringing in three runs for Clinton. After one man struck out, Calhoun singled but died on base with Palmer and two hits in the ninth inning scored another run for them.

Striker led in the strike outs, with 13 men to Calhouns 8.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Friday and Saturday the local team will play East Jordan, one of the fastest teams in the state, here.

Faron Anderson accompanied the base ball team to Mount Clemens this morning, where they will play three games with the Mount Clemens team, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

A lady after feeding her hens cayenne pepper and other hot stuff to make them lay, sent two dollars to an advertiser for an infallible way and received a printed slip that read: "Tie a string around the hen's body, lay the bird on her side on a board and fasten the string underneath. If it is thought desirable a pillow may be placed under the hen's head.—Ex.

"At a recent revival meeting a butcher arose and said that he was the wickedest man in town and had given his customers short weight for years. 'I'd go to hell if I should die to-night,' he continued. Immediatly an old deacon, who is in the grocery business started the hymn: 'If you get there before I do, look out for me, I'm coming too.' And then the grocer wondered why everybody laughed."—Ex.

Last Thursday evening a well dressed stranger called on Chas. Crook, the Wabash station agent at Munson and said he was in the employ of the freight manager of that road. There was no hotel at the place so the fellow requested a night's lodging which was readily given. The next morning the discovery was made that the bed was not accepted and that $20 in money and valuable papers were missing. The case was reported to the sheriff, who thought the thief was Ed Cunningham, who two years ago was given a job as night operator at the Wabash station at Adrian and the second night he took $20 in money and some tickets and ran away.—Hudson Post.

Washington, July 23, 1904.

A New York weekly which must have peppery sensations to keep it alive had an article the other day bewailing the degeneracy of the times and entering upon the details of what it calls "gambling and fisticuffs" among members of the present congress. That hebdomnal must be very hard up for an item. The fact is that of all the fifty-eight congresses which have assembled this is certainly the quietest, cleanest and most moral.

Considerably more than one personal encounter on an average has taken place on the floor between Congressmen during every session. In 1798 the first occurred, greatly disgusting Washington on his Mount Vernon farm. Roger Griswold of Connecticut had a quarrel with Matthew Lyon of Vermont. Lyon abused the Connecticut members for their position on a certain bill and said, "I have a mind to come back there and teach you good manners."

"If you come, Lyon," cried Griswold, "don't forget to bring your wooden sword!" alluding to the rumor that the Vermonter was drummed out of the army during the Revolution. Lyon, without a word, crossed the room in a frenzy of rage and deliberately spat in Griswold's face. There was a motion to expel him and during its pendency the offender made a speech in self defence which was so obscene that the newspapers of even that free and easy day could not indicate its purport. The motion to expel was defeated, whereupon Griswold ran over to Lyon's seat, jerked him out of it, threw him down and beat him on the floor of the house. Lyon escaped to the fireplace and defended himself with the tongs, but was there beaten again. Friends rushed into the melee and the battle came to an end only after considerable damage had been done. When Jackson came to Washington he brought with him a quarrelsome reputation. He had wounded two men in duels and killed one and had received four wounds in street frascases, one of which, from the hand of Thomas H. Benton, he bore consciously all his life. It was said that Old Hickory had been in a dozen duels and a hundred personal fights when he entered the White House. He had been horsewhipped in a ball room by Thomas H. Benton, who was resolved to "get even" and while he was president he was once shot at on Pennsylvania Avenue and once had his nose pulled on the Potomac. He was a strenuous man and his example was followed when Humphrey Marshall shot Henry Clay, when Senator Bagley assaulted President Tyler and when Clay and General Scott had a scrimmage in Boulanger's restaurant here so little to the credit of either that its details have never been in print.

In fact, as early as 1824, when the house was just moving into Statuary Hall from the building afterwards known as the Old Capitol prison, the most popular branch of congress was widely known as the "bear-garden." Duels between congressmen were common, but they were not often deadly. Men believed that if they were called "liars" or "cowards" only blood—a greater or smaller quantity as the case might be, would wipe out the stain of the dishonor. And it seemed to make no difference whether it was contributed from the arteries of the offender or of the person whom he had injured. Anybody's blood would do.

Spitting in the face seems to have been much resorted to as a remedy as it was in ancient times (Deuteronomy 15:9) in the case of a brother-in-law. Both Blidell and Pierre Soule had recourse to this method of expressing their feelings. Probably no member of the present Congress is subject to such fits of rage as were several "statesmen" of the earlier time. When Balie Peyton was a member from Tennessee and Eli Whitney, the cotton gin inventor was a harmless witness before his committee, Peyton burst out, "You shall not speak, sir! You shall not say one word in this room. If you do by——, I'll take your life on the spot." Shortly afterwards noticing that the witness was looking at him, he shouted "He's looking at me! He's looking at me! I'll kill him! I'll kill him in a minute," cursing the witness and drawing his revolver on him.

I introduced this topic in the presence of ex-Speaker Galusha Grow last year. Said the venerable man, "This Congress lacks the self-poise and respecting dignity of the Congresses from '55 to '60." The old gentleman's kindly memory misleads him sadly. Was it not in those two Congresses that Washburn scalped Barksdole; that Wilson and Butler had a scrimmage: that Burlingame and Mr. Brooks arranged to kill each other with rifles that Potter and Pryor selected a locked up room for their duels with bowie knives?—nay, was it not in that very time that Grow himself knocked Keith down under the reporter's table, whence he was extracted by the Sergeant-at-arms with some difficulty?

There is no doubt that Mr. Grow admits that there has been the greatest revolution in regard to gambling and drinking among Congressmen. Fifty years ago and less than that, there were gambling saloons on every block from the Capitol to the White House and on the five blocks between National hotel and the Capitol were at least a dozen faro banks. There is still some betting of course, for there is no incident so insignificant that men cannot gamble over it. Senators and a good many representatives play poker in each others' parlors but the old Berserker madness of their predecessors is gone.

Night was her terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough dreadfully and spit blood but when all other medicines failed three $1 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds. It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at C. A. Wright's drug store.

John J. White found a potatoe in his cellar Wednesday that had sprouts six feet long. We can swear to this as he brought it in and we measured it.—Clinton Local.

IT COSTS YOU NOTHING

C. A. Wright will return your money if Mi-o-na does not cure you.

There are hundreds of people in Tecumseh who were not the least bit surprised when they read in the "HERALD" that C. A. Wright is selling Mi-o-na on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not cure. This marvelous dyspepsia remedy will cure the worst case of indigestion, headache, dizziness or the general played out condition that afflicts everyone suffering with stomach trouble.

Mi-o-na does not simply relieve; it cures. C. A. Wright can tell you of many well known people in this city whom this remedy has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer. And there are hundreds in Tecumseh today praising Mi-o-na because it cured them. A few months ago they could eat nothing without wondering what the result would be. Since using Mi-o-na they eat what they want and when they want with no fear of suffering.

This medicine is in the form of a small tablet, very pleasant to take and costs only 50c. a box. It is a pure medicine that speedily and permanently cures all forms of stomach trouble and is the only one that can be sold under a positive guarantee without any restriction, to refund the money if it does not cure.

ROUND ABOUT US.

While playing ball yesterday, Fred Harvey, bookkeeper at the Page factory, injured his right side quite severely striking at the ball. He was assisted to his home and Dr. Williams summoned. His suffering was so intense for a time it was feared there were internal injuries. He is resting easier today and the doctor thinks he will soon recover. —Adrian Times.

The weather has been so hot in Missouri that livery men have had to stand their horses in water an hour each day to keep their shoes from coming off and wagons are going around with their tongues out. The catfish kicks up such a dust in the bed of the Gasconade river that it has to be sprinkled before you can go fishing. A spark from an engine set the big railroad pond on fire and it burned up a wagon load of bullfrogs. The ground is so hard and dry that the crawfish holes in the low places are being pulled up and shipped off for gas pipes.—Ex.

KILLS GERMS OF CATARRH

Hyomei goes to the root of the disease and makes astonishing cures.

Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of pills, liquid medicines and so-called system tonics. Under such treatment the germs of the disease will still live in the air passages and increase and multiply.

Hyomei is the only scientific thorough way to cure catarrh. Killing the germs in the air passages, it enters the blood with the oxygen, destroys the microbes in the blood and effectually drives from the system all traces of catarrhal poison.

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh is the fact that C. A. Wright will agree to refund the money if you say Hyomei has not cured you.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

Prevents Hay Fever.

All who are subject to hay fever or rose colds should use Hyomei daily for two or three weeks before the time of their annual attack and thus prevent it. The worst cases are quickly relieved and cured by Hyomei and Hyomei Balm.

WHAT A FEMALE REGULATOR IS

A vegetable liquid for governing or equalizing the flow of women's menses which occur once in every lunar month.

BRADFIELD'S Female Regulator

is the essential quality of powerful herbs. It is a concentrated essence best adapted for women's delicate organism, and put in such form that it is always properly assimilated and taken into the system.

Stoppages, suppression, painful or other irregularity of the menses and sickly flows are corrected and cured by the regular use of this superior emmenagogue.

Menstruation, or periodic flows, necessitate a breaking down of cells lining the mucous membrane and a reconstruction after every sickness, which is accompanied with marked congestion and loss of blood. Such changes are very apt to produce chronic catarrh. Leucorrhea or Whites is the result of these irritating discharges. Regulator cures these troubles and restores to perfect health the patient who suffered the debilitating losses.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because it's for the one thing only and Tecumseh is learning this.

Nothing can be good for everything.
One thing done well brings success.
Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only
They cure backache, every kidney ill.
Here is Tecumseh evidence to prove it.

C. Patterson, the well known sexton, residing in the southeastern section of Tecumseh, says: "For over a year I had a soreness and pain in the small of my back at times more so if I did a hard day's work or took cold, for it always settled in my kidneys. The secretions were also discolored and irregular and I had all symptoms of aggravated kidney complaint. I heard several people praising Doan's Kidney Pills so concluding to try them, I got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store, and commenced the treatment. I found it just suited my case for it helped me right from the start. It stopped the pain in my back and regulated the kidney secretions. I have no hesitation in recommending them to any one."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents a box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's and take no substitute.

The musician should remember that a fountain can often play as well as a band.

Boon to travelers. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Cures dysentery, seasickness, nausea. Pleasant to take, perfectly harmless.

RED SEA SEIZURES.

Russia and England Agree on Mutually Satisfactory Settlement.

St. Petersburg, July 25.—The Associated Press is able to state, on the highest authority, that the Russian and British governments have agreed on a mutually satisfactory basis for a settlement of the question of the status of Russian volunteer fleet steamers in the Red sea and the seizures by them of British ships. A few minor points still remain unsettled, but these probably will be cleared up, and it is not expected that further complications will arise.

Berlin, July 25.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says that Russia, in response to Germany's protest, sent a dispatch to Port Said ordering the immediate release of the Hamburg-American line steamer Scandia, which had arrived here and was awaiting instructions. The official report of the seizure of the Scandia, received from the German consul at Suez, says that the Russian volunteer fleet steamer Smolensk encountered the vessel at the Island of Perim, in the straits of Bab-el-Mendeb, and that she was seized notwithstanding the fact that her captain showed from the manifest that there was no contraband of war on board. Twenty-five Russian officers and seamen were on board the Scandia when the report was sent, and it was the intention of the Russians that the passengers and a portion of the German crew should be landed at Port Said.

RUNAWAY TRACTION CAR.

It Got Beyond Control When on Down Grade—One Killed, Seven Injured.

Oil City, Pa., July 25.—One man was killed and seven other persons were injured by jumping from a runaway traction car on Spring street last night.

The car had 125 passengers aboard returning from camp meeting. When the car struck the grade it got beyond control and those injured jumped. The car left the rails and ran over the brick pavement forty yards and stopped. James Ross, who was killed, left the car backward and the entire back portion of his head was mashed in and splinters of the bone were driven into the brain tissue.

Killed In a Barber Shop.

New York, July 25.—As the result of a quarrel in the barber shop of Vincenzo Saitto, in Third avenue, an unknown customer was shot dead and Saitto, with a bullet wound in his shoulder, was held for murder. Eye witnesses say that the customer, after a few words, drew a revolver and shot Saitto in the shoulder. Saitto attempted to disarm him and during the struggle two more shots were fired, and the customer fell with a bullet in his groin. He died before the arrival of an ambulance. The shooting caused a panic in the crowded shop, and the police reserves were summoned to prevent further trouble.

MICHIGAN SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSN

Reports Read and Arrangements Made For Big Meeting at Bad Axe.

Detroit, Mich., July 23.—The executive committee of the Michigan Sunday School association met in the state headquarters at 43 Peninsular Bank building. Those present were: Hon. J. M. Davis, Kalamazoo; Prof. C. H. Gurney, Hillsdale; Rev. J. V. N. Hartness, Marquette; Edward Hutchins, Fennville; W. L. C. Reid, Jackson; H. H. Simpson, Bad Axe; General Secretary Arthur Day, Leonard Laurens, Herbert M. Pierce and J. F. Belles, all of Detroit. A number of letters were read from those members of the committee who were unable to be present.

The reports of General Secretary Day, Primary Superintendent Mrs. G. L. Fox of Hastings, Home Department Superintendent Fred Washburn of Benton Harbor, and State Treasurer H. H. Simpson of Bad Axe, were read.

The next meeting of the executive committee will be held at Bad Axe some time in September. That meeting will be in the nature of a preparatory meeting to the state convention, which will be held in that city on Nov 15-17 inclusive.

It is expected that Marion Lawrence and W. C. Pierce will represent the International association. Other prominent speakers will be present.

THE WEBB CASE.

Jackson Officials Say the Girl Alone Was Responsible For Her Death.

Jackson, Mich., July 23.—Jackson county officials are satisfied that Day Webb herself performed the operation which resulted in her death from slow blood poisoning, and therefore have ceased action. Young Stone was permitted to return to his work at Pleasant Lake. While the officers claim he has lied at various times, yet from the condition of the girl's body they are certain he could not have performed the operation.

The examination of Dr. McDonald of Leslie and Dr. Hogue of Pleasant Lake brought out the statement that the instruments must have been handled by the girl to have brought about the existing conditions. There was evidently a frenzied desire to escape from her trouble without bringing further disgrace on herself by revealing the facts The doctors say they tried to make the girl confess, but she refused.

CHARGE OF MISMANAGEMENT.

Chandlers of Owosso Ask Removal of Stepfather as Trustee of Estate.

Coldwater, Mich., July 23.—A decided sensation was created in Coldwater when it became known that W. S. and James S. Chandler had filed charges in the probate court against their stepfather, R. G. Chandler's, management of the estate left them by their mother, who died in 1900. They ask that their stepfather be removed as trustee of the estate. The charges are serious.

Mr. Chandler enters an emphatic denial both as to mismanagement and the misappropriation of proceeds. The Chandler hardware business here and the Detroit Fidelity storage business in Detroit form the bulk of the estate which was left by Mrs. Chandler to her husband and sons, each acting as trustee. Mrs. Chandler was formerly Mrs. Eliza Smith of Detroit.

Japanese Stop German Vessel.

Chefoo, July 25.—The German steamer Chefoo, from New Chwang, reports that at 2 o'clock this morning, when she was fifty miles from this port, she was stopped by four Japanese torpedo boats and searched. After being released she was fired on by rapid firing guns.

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

A prominent physician writes:
"Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

The Clinton Local of Friday states that Obe Alvord and Miss Chloe Conklin were married at Windsor, Canada, last January. Strange that Obe should marry a girl who married Ed Sebastian of Albion, last March. We do not wonder that his friends were surprised. The editor of the Local must have been in that box with poor Ed Seamark when he copied that item from the HERALD, as it says plainly that Obe Alvord married Miss Chloe Miller of Tecumseh. Such errors made by our editor are valuable to his paper.

GRAND CIRCUIT OPENING.

Splendid Lot of Trotters and Pacers at the Detroit Track.

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—The Grand Circuit, which stands for everything of the highest class in horse racing, opened its season at the Grosse Pointe track today, and the big event was the annual renewal of the Chamber of Commerce stake for 2:24 pacers. The track is now in better shape than at any time in its history, and the field which faced Starter Albert H. Merrill was of a higher class than anything which has been gathered for the event in years, if not in history, the following starting: West, Angus Pointer, Miss Evolute, Judge Denny, Ethel Mc, Morning Star, Baron Gratton, China Maid. The race is the best three in five heats and the purse is $5,000.

Next to the C. of C. in point of interest will undoubtedly be the attempt of Lou Dillon, 1:58½, against time.

The other events of the day are the 2.20 trot, in which a number of promising green horses are entered, and the 2:07 pace, in which Winfield Stratton, Star Hal and Sphinx S., with four other good ones, will start.

For Tuesday the historic classic event, the $10,000 M. and M. and three other races are carded.

HIS HEAD WAS CRUSHED.

Laingsburg Farmer Killed by a Michigan Central Train.

Owosso, Mich., July 25.—Nelson Lackey, a farmer residing near Laingsburg, was killed by a Michigan Central freight train. His body was found by the crew of the southbound freight three miles south of this city. Chief Ross was notified and the body was brought to this city, where an inquest will be held Tuesday. Lackey was under the influence of liquor when he left Owosso and it is thought he attempted to board a moving train and missed his footing, as the back of his head was crushed in and his right hand had been run over by the wheels. He was 45 years old and leaves a widow and six children.

Michigan's Big Business.

Lansing, Mich., July 25.—The total receipts of the state of Michigan for the fiscal year ending June 30, amounted to $8,417,690.38, and the disbursements for the same period totaled $8,151,639.10. The largest receipts were from the county treasurer in taxes and amounted to $4,166,272. The next largest was $1,875,642 taxes from the railway and express companies. Legislative appropriations caused the largest disbursement, the sum being $3,261,578. The primary school interest fund disbursed amounted to $2,253,042. Salaries came to $453,695.

Supreme Tent Officers.

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—The supreme tent, Knights of the Maccabees of the World, have elected the following officers: Supreme commander, D. P. Markey, Michigan; supreme lieutenant commander, S. F. Bowser, Pennsylvania; supreme record keeper, L. E. Sisler, Ohio; supreme chaplain, J. W. Sherwood, Oregon; supreme sergeant, M. F. Elkin, Kentucky; master-at-arms, Charles E. Gard, Illinois; second master of the guard, J. T. Lyles, Texas, supreme sentinel, S. M. Milliken, Colorado; supreme picket, E. H. Haas, Minnesota.

Aged Lady Killed by Train.

Detroit, Mich., July 25.—Mrs. Margaret Becker, 60 years old, was instantly killed by a Michigan Central freight train at the Twenty-third street crossing. Mrs. Becker lived with one of her sons, at 322 Catherine street, and was on her way from one of her daughter's houses to another, when the accident occurred. The crossing gates were down, but the old lady started across the tracks. "Come back, grandma," called her little 11-year-old grandchild, Flossie Churchill. But the warning was in vain.

Put Powder In Tobacco.

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 25.—Byron Bailey, who is charged by William Pleske with putting gunpowder in the latter's tobacco pouch, demanded an examination on the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm and the date was set for Thursday, July 28. It is feared that Pleske will lose the use of his right eye.

Killed by Lightning.

Traverse City, Mich., July 25.—Thomas W. Harrison, a prominent farmer living in Mayfield township, was struck by lightning and instantly killed while standing in the door of his barn. His son was also badly injured. The barn was burned, with all its contents, causing a loss of $2,000.

Rural Carriers Meet Tomorrow.

St. Johns, Mich., July 25.—The state convention of rural mail carriers begins Tuesday, July 26, at 1 o'clock.

Excursionists Shaken Up.

Niles, Mich., July 25.—As a Big Four excursion train from Elkhart and other Indiana points to Benton Harbor was running at the rate of sixty miles an hour Sunday with 750 people on board, a journal broke a couple of miles south of this city, derailing several cars and shaking up the passengers. No one was injured, but the train was delayed about four hours. The weight of the derailed cars cut the ties completely in two for a distance of five car lengths.

Cured to Stay Cured.

Mrs. S. T. Roberts, Clinton, La., sent a postal card request for a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine to Drake Formula Company, Drake Block, Chicago, Ill., and received it promptly by return mail without expense to her. Mrs. Roberts writes that the trial bottle of this wonderful Palmetto Medicine proved quite sufficient to completely cure her. She says: "One trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine has cured me after months of intense suffering. My trouble was Inflammation of Bladder and serious condition of Urinary organs. Drake's Palmetto Wine gave me quick and entire relief and I have no trouble since using the one trial bottle."

Drake's Palmetto Wine cures every such case to stay cured. It is a true, unfailing specific for Liver, Kidney, Bladder and Prostate Troubles caused by Inflammation, Congestion or Catarrh. When there is Constipation, Drake's Palmetto Wine produces a gentle and natural action of the bowels and cures Constipation immediately, to stay cured. One small dose a day does all this splendid work and any reader of this paper may prove it by writing to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill., for a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine. It is free, and cures. A letter or postal card is your only expense.

Body Identified.

Albany, N. Y., July 25.—Miss Caroline Heywood of Montreal has identified the body of the woman found dead in the Ten Eyck hotel in this city on Wednesday last as that of her sister, Eleanor Frances Heywood, who wrote her from New York city that she would be dead in a few days. Miss Heywood had registered at the hotel as being from Denver, Col.

John Bunyan.

The bill of indictment preferred against John Bunyan ran thus: "John Bunyan hath devilishly and perniciously abstained from coming to church to hear divine service and is a common upholder of several unlawful meetings and conventicles, to the disturbance and distraction of the good subjects of this kingdom, contrary to the laws of our sovereign lord the king." He was convicted and imprisoned twelve years and six months.

No One But Yourself if You Don't Get Well When Sick.

All we can do is give advice.
Of course that's easy.
But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you

We could not afford to do this, unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house.

Dr. Miles' Nervine, however, as years of experience have proved, is a medicine that cures the sick.

Those whom it cannot benefit—less than one in ten thousand—we prefer to refund their money.

All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. If you suffer from sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, dizziness, headache, muscular twitchings, melancholy, loss of memory, weak stomach, poor blood, bilious troubles, epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, etc., we will guarantee to benefit you or refund your money.

You are the doctor.

"My son Bert, when in his 17th year, became subject to attacks of epilepsy, so serious that we were compelled to take him out of school. After several physicians had failed to relieve him, we gave Dr. Miles' Nervine a trial. Ten months treatment with Nervine and Liver Pills restored our boy to perfect health."—MR. JOHN S. BRIEF MICHIGAN NEWS

K. O. T. M. Supreme Tent Triennial Session Ended.

RURAL CARRIERS AT ST. JOHNS

Orion Conference Begins Its Session Tomorrow—Lightning Kills Stephen Keller at Gladstone—Mrs. Blades Poisons Herself and Child.

Detroit, Mich., July 27.—The tenth review of the supreme tent of the Knights of the Maccabees of the World closed at the Hotel Cadillac and many of the delegates left for home after being eleven days in convention, deciding questions of vital importance to the order.

The most important piece of business since the inauguration of the order, that of readjusting the rates so as to make the society a self-sustaining institution throughout all time, has resulted from the discussions of the past few days.

At the closing session some slight amendments to the laws were made and then a final vote was taken on the report, including the readjustment features. Votes of thanks to the citizens of Detroit, to the Chamber of Commerce and to the press were [illegible] enthusiasm.

RURAL CARRIERS.

Their Third Annual Convention In Session at St. Johns.

St. Johns, Mich., July 27.—The third annual state convention of rural carriers' convention was held here in the circuit courtroom yesterday. The delegation consisted of thirty-eight carriers, and these represent in all 1,434 Michigan men who distribute the mail into the most distant corners of the state. Over 150 others were in attendance.

President Wilson called the meeting to order. City Attorney J. Earle Brown, in the absence of Mayor Pouch, was called upon to deliver the address of welcome, which he did in very fitting terms, and when he had finished every member felt that he had been given the "keys" to the city.

The report presented to the convention showed that 1,434 rural mail carriers draw pay up to July 31, while the number will be swelled by 27 others in the month of August.

Detroit got the next state convention and the date was fixed for July 26, 1905.

ORION CONFERENCE.

Notable Religious Gathering Will Open Tomorrow.

Lake Orion, Mich., July 27.—The fourth annual interdenominational bible conference and christian workers' institute opens here tomorrow and continues until Aug. 8. Many conference workers of wide repute will attend and speak. Among the number are: Rev. D. F. McGill, Allegheny; Rev. Len G. Broughton, Atlanta; Rev. C. I. Scofield, Dallas; Rev. Walter Russell, Toronto; A. B. De Ross, Nicaragua; Rev. Harris H. Gregg, St. Louis; Rev. James M. Buckley, New York; Rev. John F. Carson, Brooklyn; Rev. E. B. Allen, Toledo, and Charles Palmer, Chicago, field superintendent of the Gideons. It will be one of the great religious gatherings of the season in Michigan.

Stephen Keller Struck by Lightning

Gladstone, Mich., July 27.—The home of Stephen Keller was struck by lightning previous to a heavy hail storm, killing him instantly. The lightning came down the chimney and went out of the window. He was alone in the house at the time.

Indian Mail Carrier Dead.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 27.—Antonio Paquette, an Ojibway Indian guide and mail carrier, who carried the mail to the Soo from the Saginaw river over the snow with dog sleds years before the railroads, is dead, aged 85. With the late Indian guide, John Boucher, he brought the news of Lincoln's assassination to the upper peninsula.

JAPS TAKE NEWCHWANG

In Daring Night Attack Russians Were Driven From Strong Position.

REPORT OF BATTLE OF JULY 24

Russian General Says Japanese Had Seven Divisions In the Engagement—Small Arms and Ammunition Captured In Bayonet Charge.

Washington, July 28.—The Japanese legation has received the following dispatch from Tokio, dated today:

"Marquis Oyama, commander-in-chief of the Japanese armies in Manchuria, reports that on July 25 New Chwang was occupied by the Japanese forces. A detachment of cavalry was sent there at first and then a detachment of infantry. Both these detachments, however, were withdrawn to New Chiatun (about three miles from New Chwang), leaving there only such number of soldiers as were deemed necessary for police purposes."

Tokio, July 28.—In a daring night attack against a Russian force estimated at five divisions, with 100 guns, Gen. Oku succeeded in driving the enemy from their strong line of defense south of Tatchekiao.

Determined Assault.

St. Petersburg, July 28.—The report of Gen. Zaroubaieff furnishes the first detailed account received here of the battle of July 24 and leading up to the evacuation of Tatchekiao, the fruits of which are already apparent in the Japanese occupation of New Chwang.

Gen. Zaroubaieff says that the attack followed a junction of the armies of Generals Oku and Nodzu and that at least two divisions, greatly superior in number of guns, participated in the assault on the Russian position, which was held by only eighteen battalions over a front of nine miles.

The determined nature of the assault on the defense is shown by the fact that there was a continuous fight of 15½ hours, during which the Russians held their positions and retired the next day only in the face of the advance of the Japanese armies, consisting of over seven divisions. The Russian loss is estimated at 20 officers and 600 men and the Japanese losses, also estimated, as "greater than ours." This probably is correct in view of the fact that the Japanese occupied the attacking positions.

Before the withdrawal of the Russians the report says they captured considerable small arms and ammunition during four successful bayonet charges while the batteries, which were excellently served, several times silenced Japanese artillery at various points along the fighting line.

Japs Press Forward.

Sintsintin, Manchuria, July 28.—Simultaneously with the advance from the south the Japanese from the north have pressed forward toward the west as if to strike the railroad south of Mukden. But the move is not made by a heavy force, so far as known, and it is considered scarcely possible that the Japanese would dare to extend such a line, leaving the troops on the Russian left in a position to flank them.

Notwithstanding the prophecies of some of the Manchurian weather experts, there is only a light rainy season this year. Rain is falling everywhere, however, and several of the rivers are overflowing. The question of provisioning the troops will soon have to be faced by the Japanese, as the movement of transport trains through the country is already almost impossible.

Tientsin, July 25.—(Delayed in transmission).—Gen. Kuroki and Gen. Nogi are endeavoring to form a junction so as to cut off Gen. Kuropatkin's army between Liao Yang and Mukden.

Shefoo, July 28.—Russian refugees who have arrived here report that the Lieut. Burukoff and two other Russian torpedo destroyers were torpedoed and destroyed by the Japanese on the night of July 25.

Sickness Among Soldiers.

Gen. Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, via Fusan, July 26.—(Delayed in transmission).—Reports from the Russian lines agree that much fever and dysentery exists among the soldiers. It is the opinion that much of the sickness is caused from neglect of sanitary precautions in the Chinese towns occupied.

The first work of the Japanese on entering towns which the Russians have abandoned is to clean thoroughly the streets and houses. Many houses are found in a most filthy condition and are infested with swarms of flies.

The report that a number of Russian guns were captured on July 19 is untrue.

INDETERMINATE LAW

Supreme Court's Ruling on Act Passed by Last Legislature.

AFFECTS ABOUT 200 PRISONERS

Sentences Imposed Under This Law For Crimes Committed Before It Took Effect Void Except as to Minimum Term—Other Decisions.

Lansing, Mich., July 28.—In an opinion filed the supreme court holds that the indeterminate sentence law enacted at last session of the legislature cannot apply to offense committed before it took effect, Sept. 16, 1903, even though sentence pronounced after law tooff effect. The court, however, denies contention that such sentences are wholly void and convicts so sentenced should be released, but holds that the sentence is valid for the minimum term fixed by the court. This decision will affect sentences of about 200 convicts in Michigan prisons, all of whom must be released upon expiration of minimum term.

Death From Heart Disease.

Cadillac, Mich., July 27.—Mrs. George Dorrance, wife of a wealthy farmer living near here, was found dead in bed. Heart disease is supposed to have been the cause.

New Rural Route.

Washington, July 27.—Rural free delivery route No. 2 will be established Sept. 1 at Chief, Manistee county, Michigan; population 549, houses 122.

MR. STEARNS DENIES.

Any Statement That He Will or Will Not Run For Governor Unwarranted.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 27.—Any statement that Justus S. Stearns will or will not run for governor is unwarranted. This assertion is made on the highest authority. Mr. Stearns today at his office found over 2,000 letters, many of them from Republicans, urging him to be a candidate. He also found petitions from Dundee, Ludington, Flint and other places also urging him. To a reporter he said:

"I do not care to make a statement at the present time. I have intimated to no person what I might or might not do in politics this campaign. There is time enough for me to speak and when I speak my friends will understand well how I feel."

Was a Famous Violin Maker.

Coldwater, Mich., July 28.—William Furey, aged 82, is dead. He was one of the most noted violin makers in the world. Several of his violins have sold for over $1,000. He had been a resident of Coldwater forty years.

Lightning Caused $2,000 Fire.

Vassar, Mich., July 28.—Fred Blaylock's barn, one mile from here, was struck by lightning during the electrical storm and burned with its contents to the ground. Loss, $2,000; insured for $1,400.

Alleged Robbers Captured.

St. Joseph, Mich., July 28.—Frank Reynolds and James Davis, thought to be leaders of a gang of robbers who have been boldly operating in this county for the last two months, were captured by Sheriff Collins and a posse of deputies. Reynolds had a valise containing valuable jewelry. The authorities are holding men in connection with the depot burning and store robbery at Vineland.

Roscommon Man Commits Suicide.

Roscommon, Mich., July 28.—John Lynch, 21 years of age, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver. His sister was to be married Wednesday and he strongly opposed it. It is supposed that he intended to kill her first and then himself. An inquest was held and the jury brought in a verdict that he committed suicide during a fit of temporary insanity.

New R. F. D. Routes.

Washington, July 28.—Rural free delivery service will be established Sept 1 as follows: Marlette, Sanilac county, routes 4 and 5, population 1,114, houses 248. Rural free delivery carrier appointed today: Batavia, route 1, Charles N. Smead; Daggett, route 1, Charles Donaldson; Eaton Rapids, route 7, Andrew J. Hicks; route 8, Clare W. Green.

Church Property Litigation.

San Juan, P. R., July 28.—Charles Hartsell, secretary of Porto Rico, has announced his resignation, to take place in October. He will represent the insular government at the trial of the cases, next winter, involving the title to property worth $3,000,000, claimed on one side by the Catholic church and on the other by the island and municipalities. The property includes churches, school houses and hospitals. The conflicting claims have caused much friction and bad feeling

Mrs. Stewart Badly Burned.

Eloise, Mich., July 28.—A small boy and some matches formed a combination which resulted in the complete destruction of the barn, stable and carriage house, with contents, at the summer home of W. W. Stewart. Mrs. Stewart in attempting to fight the flames was severely burned about the head, arms, hands and ankles.

Mammoth Raft of Pine Logs.

Calumet, Mich., July 28.—One of the largest, if not the largest, rafts of pine logs ever brought into the copper country has been received at the Nester mill at Baraga. It contained 8,000,000 feet of pine, cut in St. Louis county, Minn., and required twelve days for transportation from the north shore of Lake Superior.

Marine Reporter Arrested.

Port Huron, Mich., July 28.—Albert Rawlings, a marine reporter, was arrested today on a charge of malicious destruction of property. Rawlings, it is claimed, deliberately cut the tow line of a boat at the north end, allowing her to drift down the river. When arraigned before Judge George he pleaded not guilty.

Hold Hoboes Responsible.

St. Joseph, Mich., July 28.—The burning of the Three I depot at Derby last evening is believed to be the work of hoboes, and Sheriff Collins is conducting an investigation. He believes the destruction of the Derby depot and a $200 grocery stock is the beginning of a campaign of lawlessness.

Sculptor Rogers Dead.

New Haven, July 28.—The death of John Rogers, sculptor, and designer of the famous Rogers groups of statuary is announced, it having come after a long illness from creeping paralysis, while Mr. Rogers was at his summer home in New Canaan, Conn. He was a native of Salem, Mass.

WORST IN YEARS.

Terrific Thunder Storm Struck Three Rivers—Barn Burned.

Three Rivers, Mich., July 28.—This city was visited by the most terrific storm of lightning, thunder, rain and hail seen here in years. During the storm the large barn of James Cochran, whose farm is southwest of the city three miles, burned to the ground. The loss will be very heavy, as the barn was filled with hay and some of this year's crop of wheat.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Brutally tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Mr. Golobick of Colusa, Cal., writes, "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it is the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles completely relieved and cured me." Just as good for liver and kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright.

NO AGREEMENT AS YET

Board of Arbitration Could Not Arrange Settlement.

FREIGHT HANDLERS ON STRIKE

Notwithstanding Failure to Bring Contesting Parties Together, Effort Will Be Made For Another Conference—Police Rule Stock Yards District.

Chicago, July 28.—"We had an agreement with Mr. Donnelly's organization and the allied trades which they failed to live up to, and under the circumstances we do not care to make any further agreements with them."

This is the statement which is signed by the representatives of the packers and handed to the members of the state board of arbitration at the end of a conference between the two bodies, held at the request of the state board in an endeavor to bring about another meeting between the packers and the strikers.

The packers received the state board courteously and listened to their arguments for a peaceable adjustment of the difficulty. The announcement that the packers were opposed to any further peace negotiations with the strikers was handed to the board by Arthur Meeker and Thomas Connor, both of the Armour company, who represented the packers. While from their statement it would appear that the packers are opposed to meeting the strikers again on any terms, such is not the case.

Stand by Original Agreement.

At the last conference between the strikers and the packers the latter informed the union leaders that any time they expressed a desire to live up to the original arbitration agreement, signed a week ago, which provided for the reinstatement of the striking butchers inside of forty-five days, and for all grievances to be submitted to arbitration, the packers would be willing to renew the agreement. The contention of the packers is that this agreement is still in force, and as they are unwilling to offer any further concessions to the strikers, they say a renewal of peace negotiations with the hope of securing better terms would be useless. The labor leaders claim that when the butchers went on the second strike because of alleged discrimination by the packers in rehiring the old employes, the arbitration agreement was nullified and that it is necessary to sign a new agreement before a settlement can be reached.

Arranging For Another Conference.

Notwithstanding the failure to bring the contesting parties together once more, another attempt, it is said, would be made to arrange a conference between the packers and the strikers. James H. Walker, a grain broker on the Board of Trade, is the man who proposes to do what the state board of arbitration failed to accomplish. Mr. Walker was in consultation with the leaders of the allied trades unions and several of the packers. He stated that he had made considerable progress toward the desired conference and that it was his firm belief that he soon would be able to announce that his mission had been a success.

Police Rule Declared.

"Police rule" was declared in the stock yards district, no one being allowed to traverse the streets in the vicinity of the stock yards unless good cause could be shown for doing so. This to a great extent put a stop to the picketing by the strikers, which had been going on all day up to the time the order was given.

A rain and hail storm which broke over the stock yards district during the afternoon caused much confusion in the live stock pens. With not an adequate number of drivers to handle the animals under ordinary conditions, when the hail began to fall the frightened animals ran about the yards, completely beyond the control of the inexperienced drivers. It required nearly three hours to bring order out of the chaos. During the excitement sev- the yards with live sheep in their arms.

Freight Handlers Also Strike.

An unexpected complication arose today when the freight handlers employed at the stock yards station of the Chicago Junction railroad went on strike. The men gave as their reason for quitting work their unwillingness to handle meat turned out by nonunion workmen in the packing plants While the number of freight handlers employed at this station is only forty men, still their decision to join the sympathetic strike is a severe blow to the packers, as the greater portion of the dressed meats shipped from the yards to the local trade passes through the hands of these men. Should non union men be engaged to take the places of the strikers, a strike of the union switchmen may follow. With the switchmen out it would only be a matter of a short time until the strike would spread to the other employes of the railroad.

TO ST. LOUIS CONVENTION.

State Rural Carriers Elected Delegates at St. Johns.

Walker, Plymouth, two years; L. H. Hatch, Saginaw, one year.

The delegates to the national convention in St. Louis, Mo., in September will be W. G. Holmes, St. Johns, and E. T. Beckhardt, Hillsdale.

Thieves at Work In Orion.

Orion, Mich., July 28.—Last night the postoffice was broken into and some change taken. The thieves then went to the butcher shop of P. M. Charlton, smashed the cash register and helped themselves to the change which it contained. They then visited William Shoemaker's grocery, where they found a little change and some cigars. The authorities are convinced that the burglaries are the work of local talent and have a clue which is expected to lead to some arrests.

MISREPRESENTED

By HOWARD FIELDING

Copyright, 1903, by Charles W. Hooke

THE name I. John Lynde (as the gentleman always writes it) has a regal look. It suggests the old proclamations signed "I, the king." And, indeed, history is littered with kings who had not half his power or sphere of influence. He is the head of gigantic enterprises.

Edward Shoreham was not a beggar, but he felt himself to be a failure. He was nearing the age of forty. He had made money, though not very much, and had lost it. At the date of this narrative he held a minor executive position in a corporation so conservative that promotion therein was very slow. This corporation was closely allied with some of the big Lynde companies, but Shoreham felt that his own work was of microscopic size in the broad field of the great man's vision. Therefore when he waked one morning to find a personal communication from I. John Lynde waiting for him he was inclined to believe that he had not waked at all; that the incident belonged with the visions of the night.

The note was brief: "Please call at my office tomorrow (Wednesday) morning at 9 o'clock."

At 9 o'clock Shoreham presented himself at the potentate's office with an uplifted heart, but at fifteen minutes past 9 he was the most disappointed, perplexed and tormented man between the two oceans.

The ways of I. John are sudden as a hawk's. Everybody knows that. He selects men to serve him or dismisses the unworthy with a Napoleonic flash of decision. Therefore Shoreham was amazed beyond measure to discover that I. John had not made up his mind.

"I have an unknown friend as well as an unknown enemy," Shoreham said to himself as he left the office. "Somebody has spoken well of me, some one has spoken ill of me. I must thank the first and defeat the other."

Upon the matter of thanks he was not greatly in doubt. Though Shoreham had never met Lynde before he had the great good fortune to be acquainted with the mighty potentate's niece, Miss Alice Lynde. This young lady dwelt with her widowed mother in a style of great simplicity. Shoreham entertained for her a gloomy, secret, despairing affection, and it was sweet for him to fancy that she had brought this good fortune within his reach. He called in the evening to express his gratitude.

In the parlor of Mrs. Lynde's house he was distressed to find a gaunt, weak kneed, silly looking and not altogether reputable young man named Lucius Trevor, a distant cousin of the Lyndes.

Shoreham had met Trevor several times and had paid no particular attention to him. Upon this occasion, however, it seemed that the fellow looked at him in a peculiar manner. Trevor soon took his leave.

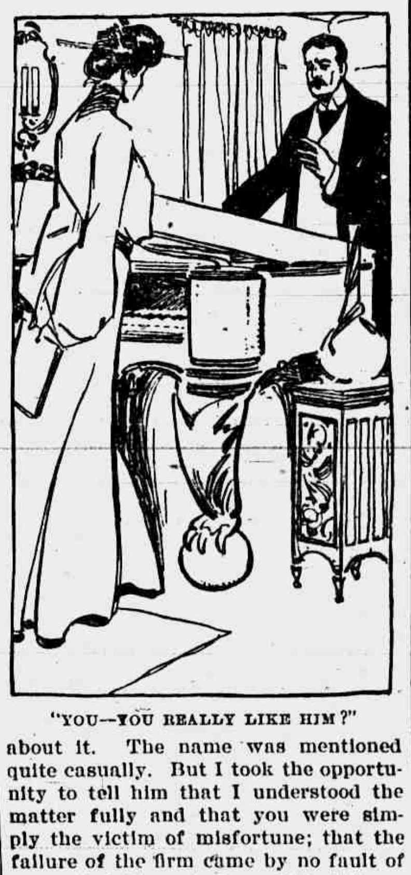
As soon as Shoreham was alone with Alice he offered her his thanks for the event of the day, but she would not receive them.

"I have never spoken of you to my uncle except once, and then he asked me a few questions about you. Why, it was last evening!" exclaimed the girl. "I had forgotten."

"Did he mention Wilmot, Shoreham & Co.?" inquired Shoreham.

This was the firm whose brief but eventful career in Galveston, Tex., had cost the junior partner all his money.

"He did," replied Alice. "And I was very glad that you had told me all about it. The name was mentioned quite casually. But I took the opportunity to tell him that I understood the matter fully and that you were simply the victim of misfortune; that the failure of the firm came by no fault of yours, but through sheer ill luck."



"YOU—YOU REALLY LIKE HIM?"

"There can be no possible doubt that some one is working against me," suddenly observed Shoreham.

"But who would wish to injure you?" she exclaimed. "And who knows anything about it?"

"Nobody in this city," he replied, "except Dudley Drew."

"Dudley Drew!" exclaimed Alice, rising. "Why, he was at my uncle's house last evening."

"What in the wide world was he doing there?" cried Shoreham. "But let's be calm. Dudley Drew is the best friend I have on earth."

"Look here, my friend," said Alice, raising her dimpled chin, as she always did when especially earnest. "I will believe no such thing of Dudley Drew. I take your own word for him. It was through you that I came to know him and to admire him for an honest and loyal fellow."

Shoreham felt the blood rush to his face.

"You—you really like him very much?" he stammered. "I—I am glad."

"You express yourself enthusiastically," said she, with a laugh.

Shoreham arose and walked half way across the room and then returned.

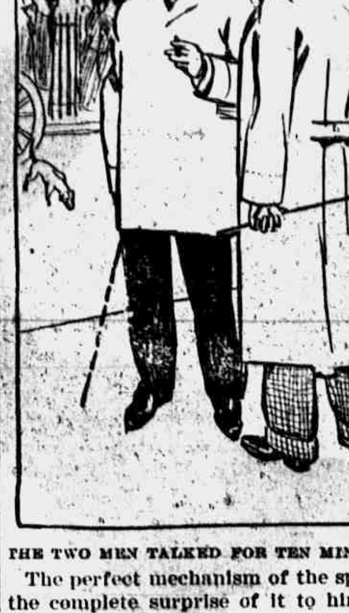
"I was falling into a very old and common error," he said. "Really, Drew is not at all the man to take such an advantage of me."

"An advantage?"

"Miss Lynde, I am getting upon dangerous ground where I have no right to be. If this were a melodrama and I were one of the leading characters instead of being the meanest supernumerary on the stage there might be a plot here. But there isn't."

"I understand you perfectly," said she. "I am the leading lady of your play and Mr. Drew is the villain. You are very silly."

"I love you," said he. And it was the very last possible combination of words that he would have supposed himself about to utter.



THE TWO MEN TALKED FOR TEN MINUTES.

The perfect mechanism of the speech the complete surprise of it to himself, half stunned him. He stood there rigid, pale, desperate, yet incapable of action or even of thought.

In fact, he could not have done better. There was never a plainer picture of sincerity than he presented at that moment.

"I am glad," whispered the girl, her eyes suddenly brimming with tears; "I am glad."

"Mr. Dudley Drew," said a maid so startlingly close to Shoreham's ear that he nearly jumped over the back of the chair upon which his trembling hands were resting.

When Mr. Drew was ushered in there was nothing to indicate to him that he had interrupted a conversation of more than ordinary importance.

"Good evening, Miss Lynde," said he. "Good evening, Edward. I hoped to find you here."

"Yes?" said Shoreham, whose emotional balance was not yet fully restored.

"There's something in the wind for you, Edward," continued Drew. "You may know all about it, but I don't believe you do. I think it's in the bud yet. Anyhow, I'll tell my story if Miss Lynde will excuse me. It has to do with a member of her family."

"What did you tell him?" demanded Alice, coming straight to the point, in the way of the sex.

"Why," said Drew, somewhat taken aback, "I gave Shoreham a great sendoff. Mr. Lynde is looking you up, Edward, and it means something big. He asked me if you hadn't made some rather serious mistakes in the matter of Wilmot, Shoreham & Co. I told him it was a plain case of hard luck and that you were all right."

When the men had left the house Drew said:

"I know your Nemesis. It's Trevor. He met me on the street and asked me to walk along with him to his uncle's house. I trailed along. We played some billiards, and he sprung old I. John on me. Trevor must have found out that I knew about the Wilmot-Shoreham case, and he hoped that I. John could get something damaging out of me. Well, he didn't."

About 5 o'clock on the following afternoon Shoreham was walking to his lodgings when his eyes beheld a spectacle that rooted him to the spot. Upon the opposite side of the street in earnest conversation stood Lucius Trevor and James Wilmot.

Shoreham had had no idea that his former partner was within 10,000 miles of that place. The last news he had heard of him was that the man had gone to New Zealand.

The two men talked for a matter of ten minutes, while Shoreham, unobserved, watched them from the other side of the street. When they separated he followed Wilmot and presently called him by name. They had not parted in a cordial fashion five years before, but they greeted each other like old friends, as is the way of the world.

This is what Shoreham learned in the ensuing conversation: That Trevor had in some unknown way discovered Wilmot's presence in the city and also the fact that the man was nearly penniless; that he had offered Wilmot rious inducements if he would tell the story of the failure to I. John Lynde "in the right way," meaning thereby the way that would hurt Shoreham the most; that Wilmot had resisted this temptation and had not seen I. John but instead had written him a letter praising Shoreham's honesty and business ability and asserting that only the hardest kind of hard luck had been the cause of the disaster.

"This is mighty good of you, Wilmot," said Shoreham. "Call on me tomorrow and I'll see what I can do to square it."

In the evening of this day he received a call from Dudley Drew, who came in a state of great excitement with an important piece of news. He had discovered what work it was that I. John had designed to put into Shoreham's hands, and both men spoke of it in tones of reverence.

Shoreham groaned.

"I'll never get it," he said. "Wilmot has turned up. Trevor has him in tow, and everything is going to blazes. And to think that this should have happened to a man in sight of heaven!"

"See Lynde again tomorrow. Go in and win!" exclaimed Drew. "Good heavens! Lynde knows the way of the world. He knows what hard luck is. Make him see what you were up against in that Wilmot-Shoreham affair."

"I will if I can," replied Shoreham, "but the chance looks mighty black to me."

On the following day Shoreham called upon I. John. He knew when he walked into the office that he had reached the crisis of his life, and he prepared to meet it with desperation appropriate to its aspect of finality.

I. John was smoking a very short end of a cigar.

"I want to ask you some more questions," said I. John. And then suddenly, "This isn't my usual way of doing business."

"I know it," said Shoreham, "and I am forced to conclude that you take a personal interest."

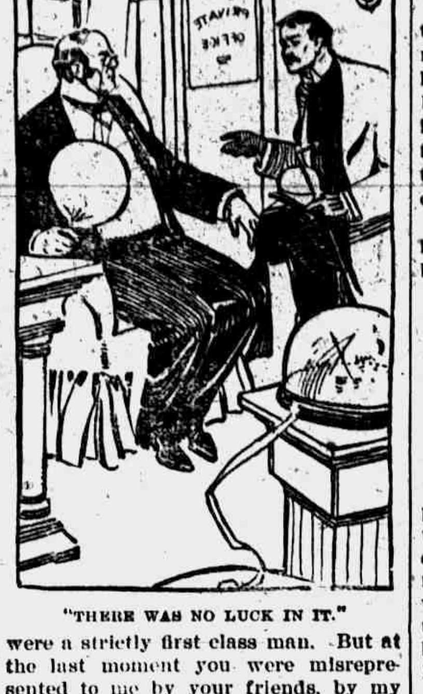
"Not a bad guess," responded Lynde, "It's a fact that I would like to give you this chance if I could, but I have the usual prejudice in favor of successful men. However, there may be circumstances which alter cases. Now, as to this affair of yours in Galveston. You had rather hard luck there, I'm told."

"My failure there," said Shoreham firmly, "depended upon a series of rather common errors, resulting largely from inexperience. I believe that I understand my mistakes perfectly now and that I shall never be caught in the same way again. There was no luck in it. If you have the time I will tell you precisely why Wilmot and I went to pieces and exactly where I myself was at fault."

"You are all right," he said. "This is all that I want to know."

Shoreham sank back into his chair with a faint gasp.

"I had looked you up," continued I. John. "I'd made up my mind that you were a strictly first class man. But at the last moment you were misrepresented to me by your friends, by my niece, Mr. Drew and others. I had a letter from your former partner, Wilmot, just before you called upon me the other day—very foolish letter, so foolish that I knew you couldn't have had anything to do with it, which was fortunate for you. It was all hard luck, hard luck. I guess the man was trying to tell the truth, but he told the same story that I'd heard from all sides. I said to myself: 'This fellow Shoreham hasn't learned his lesson. He thinks that he's all right and that circumstances are all wrong. I've got no use for that kind of man.' Still I remembered what my nephew had said to me."



"THERE WAS NO LUCK IN IT."

"Trevor?"

I. John nodded.

"He told me that you had been an idiot in the Wilmot-Shoreham business and that you had admitted it to him."

"I never did," said Shoreham.

"Well, I rather hoped it was true," said I. John. "Anyhow, it was a good word for you. I like a man who knows when he's made a mistake and admits it, at least to himself. But blast a fellow who runs around telling everybody how unlucky he is! There's something wrong with him."

"I agree with you perfectly," responded Shoreham.

"And now," said I. John, "we'll close this matter up in two winks. By the way, are you engaged to my niece?"

"Not—not quite," stammered Shoreham.

I. John wagged his head slowly.

"Better close that bargain if you can," he said, with a dry smile. "She's a fine girl."

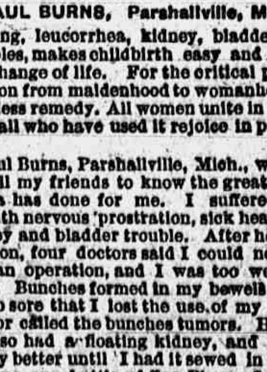
Hope and Health for All Women.

Zoa Phora Will Cure and Make You a Well Woman.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE TO ALL.

Zoa Phora cures permanently and perfectly all diseases, weaknesses and irregularities of the sex, misplacements, suppressed and painful periods, flooding, leucorrhea, kidney, bladder and liver troubles, makes childbirth easy and regulates the change of life. For the critical period of transition from maidenhood to womanhood it is a matchless remedy. All women unite in praising it and all who have used it rejoice in perfect health.



MRS. PAUL BURNS, Parshallville, Mich.

Mrs. Paul Burns, Parshallville, Mich., writes: "I want all my friends to know the great good Zoa Phora has done for me. I suffered for months with nervous prostration, sick headache and kidney and bladder trouble. After holding consultation, four doctors said I could not live without an operation, and I was too weak to have one. Bunches formed in my bowels and I became so sore that I lost the use of my limbs. The doctor called the bunches tumors. He said that I also had a floating kidney, and would not be any better until I had it sewed in place. After using one bottle of Zoa Phora, I could stand on my feet, and after taking three bottles I could walk around the room, and after the fourth bottle I was able to walk out-of-doors."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

WRECKED THE STORE.

Italian Section In New York Aroused by an Explosion.

New York, July 28.—A dynamite bomb, or infernal machine, which was placed in the doorway of Poggroriale Ciro's grocery store in Elizabeth street by some unknown person, exploded at 1:30 o'clock this morning, wrecking the store, throwing Ciro and his wife, who were sleeping in a rear room, out of their beds and causing such a great crowd of frightened Italians from the neighboring tenement houses to collect that the reserves from the Mulberry street station had to be called. Mrs. Ciro was rendered unconscious, and when she revived she became hysterical and had to be taken to a hospital.

Ciro has received a number of letters in which he was commanded to meet the writer and bring $2,000 with him. Each letter bore skull and crossbones and was signed with a black hand. Ciro became frightened and a few days ago turned the letters over to the police, who have worked on the case ever since.

In the last letter Ciro was told that if he did not pay the money he would be killed.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly say "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They can't as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain.' Trial bottle of August Flower 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by John J. Orr.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Council Chamber, village of Tecumseh.

Called meeting held July 26, 1904.

Present, the entire council.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

The following ordinance was introduced:

AN ORDINANCE RELATING TO AWNINGS.

Sec. 1. The village of Tecumseh ordains, That hereafter no person shall erect or place any awning or other structure of wood or metal, or part wood and part metal, extending over any portion of the sidewalk within that portion of the village known as the fire limits, under a penalty of ten dollars for each and every week that such awning shall remain.

Sec. 2. Any person convicted of violating this ordinance shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding twenty-five dollars and costs of prosecution, or by imprisonment in the county jail of Lenawee county not exceeding thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Moved and supported that the ordinance be passed. Ayes, Heck, Aylesworth, Wright, C. D. Smith, Slater and G. U. Smith. Nays, none.

The president recommended that Dr. Wm. H. Maddox be appointed health officer.

On motion the appointment was confirmed.

Moved that the president appoint a boundary line committee of three. Carried.

The president then appointed Slater, Wright and Aylesworth.

On motion the council adjourned.

BASE BALL

In three games with MT. CLEMENS

Tecumseh won two. Mt. Clemens will play here August 8.

Tecumseh won the first game with Mt. Clemens last Tuesday at Mt. Clemens, playing 13 innings. The score was tied in the 3rd inning and two good hits brought in the necessary runs. Striker and Gilbert were the opposing pitchers.

The work of our boys was of the best, Knickerbocker, Bell and Hyney pulling down many of the balls that seemed almost sure to be safe hits.

Score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	r	h	e
Mt. C.	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	9	3

WEDNESDAY' GAME.

In Wednesday's game the second one with Mt. Clemens, Tecumseh was shut out, the Lawyers getting 9 hits and 5 runs. LaBelle was in the box for the visitors and was knocked out in the 3rd inning and Killian, who took his place was not warmed up for pitching the game and allowed 6 hits.

Tecumseh's baseman and fielders did fine work. Bell, Knickerbocker and Beasley were the only ones who hit.

The score by innings is as follows:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Lawyers	0	1	1	1	0	0	0	2	*	5	9	2

THURSDAY'S GAME.

Mount Clemens, Mich., July 28.—La Belle was invincible today, allowing but two hits and so scored a shut-out for Tecumseh in the last game of the series, defeating the Lawyers 8 to 0. He pitched excellent ball throughout the game and after the fatal third was in no danger. The team worked like lightning behind him and everything that went to the field was gobbled up.

Gilbert started in to pitch for the locals but went up in the air in the third and hit Knickerbocker, the first man up. He was advanced by Bell, who got one through Duvall. Beasley got one in the ribs and Sebastian drew a pass which forced in a run. LaBelle then came in for a triple, bringing in three more. Vick landed on a speedy inshoot for a single and LaBelle scored. Striker struck out but Fox let the ball get on through his hands and he reached first. Hyney struck out and Knickerbocker came up again and drew a pass. At this juncture Whelan relieved Gilbert and the first ball, thrown to Bell, the next man up resulted in an out. Sullivan to Trombley. After this things were more even, Whelan received poor support, but did grand work. For the locals Duvall's playing at third featured. For Tecumseh the fast fielding of the whole team deserves much credit and the hitting of Beasley, Sebastian, LaBelle and Vick was sensational.

BASE BALL NOTES.

James Harris pitched against the Elkhart nine at Burr Oak yesterday.

East Jordan was defeated in Ann Arbor yesterday afternoon by a score of 11 to 7.

Jack Root and Jack Furlong have left the team and the management have secured Vick of Detroit, to play.

East Jordan is playing here this afternoon and are scheduled to play here tomorrow. Two good games are expected.

Wednesday the Burr Oak team was deated by a score of 6 to 5 by the Three Rivers team, Jim Harris pitched for Burr Oak.

The Nebraska Indians played their first game of ball in Michigan this summer at Hartford yesterday, winning the game easily by a score of 21 to 5. Out of 102 games played this season the Indians have won 92.

"I would cough nearly all night long" writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough dreadfully and spit blood but when all other medicines failed three $1 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds. It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at C. A. Wright's drug store.

LITERARY NOTES.

A pleasant summer pastime would be to swing in a hammock and read "Appendix B" in Lippincott's for August. It is by Vincent Harper, and has for a background Bar Harbor. The appendix was an imaginary one, but it nearly severed two true lovers.

The August Atlantic contains a powerful and instructive paper, which will surely attract attention and discussion, upon Unpunished Commercial Crime (the way of the rich man in eluding the law) written by Geo. W. Alger, author of the recent much-talked-of Atlantic paper on Moral Overstrain.

From the front-cover page, where smiles the prettiest of summer girls to the last article in the advertising pages, the Designer for August is full of the breath of out-of-doors as is befitting a number which is to be read during the most sultry month of the year. Those readers who have art aspirations will thoroughly enjoy the enticing description Lilian Paschal gives of the "Hampton Pines Art Colony" while others will prefer the rhymes of John DeMorgan.

Concerning
THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

2 Tim. 4:2 Cor. 1 9:16

XXIII

The last of the four chief institutions of the Kingdom of God is the Ministry—the Officers appointed by the King to administer the Kingdom in His Name.

It will be apparent at once that in a large sence the Ministry is the most important of all the institutions of the Kingdom of God. For, as has just been indicated, the Christian Minister, is appointed to represent the King Himself. The Officer of the King acts for the King. To despise the King's Officer is to despise the King, as it is written; "He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that despiseth you despiseth me" (Luke 10:16; cf 1 Cor. 4:1.) Moreover the very existence of the other institutions of the Kingdom depends upon the existence of the Ministry to administer them. Baptism, Confirmation, Holy Communion—these things cannot perform themselves. They presuppose persons duly qualified to perform them. Thus, as standing in the place of the King Himself and as necessary to the existence of the other institutions of the Kingdom, the Ministry is in a distinct sence, the most important institution of the Kingdom of God.

Now in this matter of the Christian Ministry the fundamental question is that of AUTHORITY. That is to say before there can be the lawful exercise of any office whatever, there must first be the due authorization of the Officer to exercise it. We know, indeed, that Baptism, Confirmation and the Holy Communion are the chief things to be administered; the question is, Who has authority to administer them? And—this as the vital question of all as determining who have authority—how did they come by their authority?

There is, of course, no question about the ultimate source of all authority. All authority evidently comes ultimately from the King Himself. The question is; How does the King appoint His officers—directly by Himself as it were in Person; or indirectly, through others to whom He committed such authority originally in Person?

This question can scarcely be settled on general principles. Yet, on general principles, it would seem most reasonable to conclude that our blessed Lord would follow the latter method and appoint His Ministers indirectly through others commissioned by Him.

For (1) such is the way with all other kingdoms on earth—at least, among all civilized peoples. The king appoints those officers next to him and they appoint others. And, if it be objected that this method is necessary because the king himself is only a man, and consequently cannot attend to all things himself—as the Lord Christ can—the answer is ready: it is surely very doubtful that it would be wise even in an earthly king to make all his appointments in person even if he could. For instance, if our blessed Lord appoints all His Ministers in Person, why does He not also perform all the Sacraments in Person? And do everything else that is to be done?—because He can!

(2). Moreover, if the Lord did appoint His officers in Person, He would give some clear evidence of the fact—evidence, be it observed, not to the officers themselves only, but more particularly to the people to whom they are to minister. It is extremely absurd to think to determine a man's lawful appointments, to the Ministry by the results of his ministrations. One has no right to accept his ministration of the Sacraments until fully persuaded of his lawful appointment beforehand. A man may be a lawful officer, though utterly unworthy as an officer. His ministrations may be perfectly valid, though he be personally reprobate (Judas, to wit).

But this question hardly calls for serious consideration. For those who are disposed to claim direct appointment from the Lord Himself yet require an outward ordination of men—thereby showing that they do not really believe their own pretensions.

The only way to settle this question as to the method of the appointment of the Ministry in the Kingdom of God is, of course, by turning to the actual facts—to learn what our Lord does by seeing what He actually did.

Now in the Royal Proclamation of His Kingdom (Matt. 28:18-20) our blessed Lord commissioned the Twelve (whom He had personally chosen and ordained—John 15:16) to go and make disciples of all the nations and promised to be with them always even unto the end of the world. That is to say, our blessed Lord most solemnly pledged Himself to administer His Kingdom through the Apostles—through them in the first instance and afterwards through those appointed by them and thus still through them. That is to say, no person can be a lawful Minister (of the Sacraments) in the Kingdom of God unless he has received authority from Christ through the Apostles. If our blessed Lord ever started a new Ministry other than that derived from the Apostles He must have broken His promise to the Apostles.

BOSTON EXCURSIONS.

August 12, 13 and 14 the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R'y will sell tickets to Boston and return at extremely low rate of one cent per mile each way; tickets good to leave Boston until Sept. 30. Stop-overs allowed at Chautauqua Lake, Niagara Falls, Put-in-Bay and also New York on tickets reading via that city, on return trip. Enquire of, any Lake Shore agent, or write to A. J. Smith, G. P. & T. A., Cleveland, O., for desired particulars.

At the age of 16 a girl stops crying and begins to weep.

IT COSTS YOU NOTHING

C. A. Wright will return your money if Mi-o-na does not cure you.

There are hundreds of people in Tecumseh who were not the least bit surprised when they read in the "HERALD" that C. A. Wright is selling Mi-o-na on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not cure. This marvelous dyspepsia remedy will cure the worst case of indigestion, headache, dizziness or the general played out condition that afflicts everyone suffering with stomach trouble.

Mi-o-na does not simply relieve; it cures. C. A. Wright can tell you of many well known people in this city whom this remedy has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer. And there are hundreds in Tecumseh today praising Mi-o-na because it cured them. A few months ago they could eat nothing without wondering what the result would be. Since using Mi-o-na they eat what they want and when they want with no fear of suffering.

This medicine is in the form of a small tablet, very pleasant to take and costs only 50c. a box. It is a pure medicine that speedily and permanently cures all forms of stomach trouble and is the only one that can be sold under a positive guarantee without any restriction, to refund the money if it does not cure.

The August Century is in fact as well as in name a midsummer holiday number, being prevaded with the holiday and outdoor spirit. Eight colored insets present Italian villas by Parrish, Bermuda submarine life by Knight, an old time croquet party by Miss Betts, (who made the much admired colored drawing the "Easter Bonnet") and a newly discovered natural bridge by Fenn.

The Metropolitan magazine for August reaches the high water mark of all magazine production. No more beautiful or interesting periodical has ever been seen in this country. A striking feature is the quantity and quality of its fiction. Its leading article, "At the Strait's mouth," is a vivid word picture describing Tangier, the city wonderful of Morocco, which is especially interesting at the present time in view of the recent kidnapping of Ion Perdicaris and his stepson from their home in that city. The article is profusely illustrated with reproductions of some remarkable photographs taken by the author, Charles Wellington Furlong, expressly for this article.

The surest way to have any man attentive to you is to have other men attentive to you.

KILLS GERMS OF CATARRH

Hyomei goes to the root of the disease and makes astonishing cures.

Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of pills, liquid medicines and so-called system tonics. Under such treatment the germs of the disease will still live in the air passages and increase and multiply.

Hyomei is the only scientific thorough way to cure catarrh. Killing the germs in the air passages, it enters the blood with the oxygen, destroys the microbes in the blood and effectually drives from the system all traces of catarrhal poison.

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh is the fact that C. A. Wright will agree to refund the money if you say Hyomei has not cured you.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

Prevents Hay Fever.

All who are subject to hay fever or rose colds should use Hyomei daily for two or three weeks before the time of their annual attack and thus prevent it. The worst cases are quickly relieved and cured by Hyomei and Hyomei Balm.

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

A prominent physician writes:

"Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

For sale by C. A. Wright.

You may not get all that is coming to you in this world—but look out for the next.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because It's for the one thing only and Tecumseh is learning this.

Nothing can be good for everything. One thing done well brings success. Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They cure backache, every kidney ill. Here is Tecumseh evidence to prove it.

C. Patterson, the well known sexton, residing in the southeastern section of Tecumseh, says: "For over a year I had a soreness and pain in the small of my back at times more so if I did a hard day's work or took cold, for it always settled in my kidneys. The secretions were also discolored and irregular and I had all symptoms of aggravated kidney complaint. I heard several people praising Doan's Kidney Pills so concluding to try them, I got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store, and commenced the treatment. I found it just suited my case for it helped me right from the start. It stopped the pain in my back and regulated the kidney secretions. I have no hesitation in recommending them to any one."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Poisoned Self and Child.

Pontiac, Mich., July 27.—Baggageman Blades of the Air Line station returned home to find his wife and child in a dying condition. Both were lying on the floor and suffering from the effects of poison administered by the mother. The baby died before medical aid could be summoned, and the mother cannot live. It is stated that the cause which prompted the woman to her terrible deed was dementia. Mrs. Blades is 35 years old, and the baby was her only child. Her father died at Hamburg last May and since then she has been subject to spells of melancholia.

Prominent Clare Man Dead.

Cured to Stay Cured.

Mrs. S. T. Roberts, Clinton, La., sent a postal card request for a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine to Drake Formula Company, Drake Block, Chicago, Ill., and received it promptly by return mail without expense to her. Mrs. Roberts writes that the trial bottle of this wonderful Palmetto Medicine proved quite sufficient to completely cure her. She says: "One trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine has cured me after months of intense suffering. My trouble was Inflammation of Bladder and serious condition of Urinary organs. Drake's Palmetto Wine gave me quick and entire relief and I have no trouble since using the one trial bottle."

Drake's Palmetto Wine cures every such case to stay cured. It is a true, unfailing specific for Liver, Kidney, Bladder and Prostate Troubles caused by Inflammation, Congestion or Catarrh. When there is Constipation, Drake's Palmetto Wine produces a gentle and natural action of the bowels and cures Constipation immediately, to stay cured. One small dose a day does all this splendid work and any reader of this paper may prove it by writing to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill., for a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine. It is free, and cures. A letter or postal card is your only expense.

Easy Pill

Easy to take and easy to act is that famous little pill DeWitt's Little Early Risers. This is due to the fact that they tonic the liver instead of purging it. They never gripe nor sicken, not even the most delicate lady, and yet they are so certain in results that no one who uses them is disappointed. They cure torpid liver, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, headache, malaria and ward off pneumonia and fevers.

ANYTHING BUT BRIGHT

Is Outlook For Russian Army at Present Moment.

KUROPATKIN MUST RETREAT

Or Stand Up and Fight—Reported Japanese Have Practically Surrounded Port Arthur—Fighting South of Haicheng.

Chefoo, Aug. 1.—A Japanese merchant has received word from a Chinese whom he trusts to the effect that the Japanese have occupied every position surrounding the besieged fortress of Port Arthur, with the exception of Golden hill. The Chinese stated that both sides suffered tremendous losses in the operations necessary to bring about this state of affairs.

The members of the Russian intelligence bureau here, while denying the report that Port Arthur has been captured, are inclined to believe the reports true to the extent that the Japanese have made great progress in their operations about the besieged fortress. The party of Russian refugees expected here today have not as yet arrived.

London, Aug. 1.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at New Chwang, in a dispatch dated July 31, says that there has been heavy fighting for two days in the marshes south of Haicheng during the gradual retreat from Tatchekiao of 5,000 Russians, forming the rear guard, and that the peril of this force increases daily.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1.—Although public attention has been distracted from the events of the war during the past week, first because of the fear of international complications, and second because of the assassination of M. Plehve, the situation at the front is regarded as critical. The enveloping movement of the three Japanese armies of Gens. Kuroki, Nodzu and Oku around Gen. Kuropatkin's position appears to be almost complete and the extended line of the Japanese seems to be the only drawback to concerted action.

It's Up to Kuropatkin.

It is realized here that the Russian general must either fight or withdraw the whole army northward. He is being closely pressed at Haicheng.

While nothing is definitely known, there are some unofficial indications that matters are rapidly maturing for either a battle or a retreat. A few days are expected to determine which course Gen. Kuropatkin has elected to pursue.

There is no inclination here to doubt that there may have been pretty severe fighting at the outer positions of Port Arthur, possibly accompanied by a bombardment from the sea, but it is not believed that the Japanese are ready to storm the fortress.

Did She Die of Opium?

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 1.—A girl whose name is unknown was found dead in bed at her home with a large quantity of opium in her room. It is not known whether she committed suicide or whether she was killed by a companion, as she had marks of violence upon her face.

Ex-Mayor of Adrian Dead.

Adrian, Mich., Aug. 1.—After an illness extending over a week ex-Mayor James H. Reynolds is dead at his home on Broad street, and Adrian and Lenawee county loses one of its best known men. Death was due to cerebral trouble.

Closed With a Picnic.

Calumet, Mich., Aug. 1.—The supreme lodge of Swedish Sons of America closed a four days' annual convention here with a big picnic. Swedes from all parts of the country attended the meeting.

STILL NO SETTLEMENT

Chicago Strikers and Packers Unable to Agree.

MAY EXTEND STRIKE TO N. Y.

Packers Claim They Are Now In Position Where They Can Ignore the Unions—President of Teamsters' Union Arrested For Picketing.

Chicago, July 30.—Unable to arrange a conference with representatives of the New York packers, Michael J. Donnelly, president of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen of America, has ordered a strike of all the members of his organization employed in New York. The order does not go into effect until Sunday, as the men in the eastern packing plants do not report for work on Saturday.

The decision to extend the strike to the east was not taken until after Mr. Dennelly and his associates had spent the day in a fruitless effort to arrange a meeting with representatives of the eastern packers, who came to Chicago to acquaint themselves with the situation here. The general belief was that the New York packers had come west to make terms with the butchers, but if such was the case they changed their minds after investigating the progress that had been made here in working the plants with non-union employes.

When Homer D. Call, secretary of the national organization of the butcher workmen, made a final appeal over the telephone to the representatives of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger for a meeting between the members of that firm and the officers of his union, he was told that the eastern packers had nothing to offer the men should such a meeting be arranged and that the conference would only be a waste of time. When this announcement of the eastern packers had been communicated to Mr. Donnelly he decided on the strike order.

Packers Stand Pat.

That the probabilities of a settlement by the opposing interests in Chicago are as remote as ever was plainly demonstrated when Henry C. Wallace of Des Moines, Ia., and A. L. Ames of Buckingham, Ia., called on the different packers with a proposition from the strike leaders' offering to concede the most important point in the controversy if the employers would agree to renew peace negotiations. Mr. Wallace and Mr. Ames were told by the packers that there was no possible chance for any further conciliatory move and that the packers were now in a position where they could ignore the labor unions, and that they proposed to do so. The packers' answer was delivered to the strike leaders and the men from Iowa left for home.

Anxious to Get Back to Work.

From a statement made by President Donnelly it would appear that the men are becoming anxious to get back to work.

"We shall be glad to confer with representatives of the packers at any time," said Mr. Donnelly. "While I cannot say that our position is in any way changed, we are not anxious to keep up a running fight and shall be glad if a settlement can be effected."

A meeting of the allied trades was held to consider the question of a renewal of the strike of the live stock handlers. These men quit several days ago but returned to work at the instigation of the independent packers, who were unable to obtain live stock enough to carry on their business with these men on strike. The men went back to work with the understanding that only animals intended for the independent packers were to be handled. A few hours after the men returned to work, however, they were handling live stock indiscriminately.

Arrested For Picketing.

Following the arrest of George Golden, chief of the packing teamsters' union, for picketing, riots became more frequent in the vicinity of the stock yards. In one disturbance a mob captured a loaded meat wagon after it had left the stock yards, upset the wagon and threw the meat into the street.

The most serious riot of the day occurred in South Chicago, where five men were arrested for trying to prevent the delivery of meat. Although the strikers and their friends became very boisterous when it became known that Golden had been arrested, and made all sorts of threats, no one was seriously injured in any of the many disturbances that occurred.

New York, July 30.—Another meeting of the joint advisory board of the unions was held here and Henry L. Eichelberger, the general organizer of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, was present. At the close of the meeting the members of the board said they had no knowledge of the reported order issued in Chicago by President Donnelly, directing the union workmen employed by Schwarzschild & Sulzberger and the United Dressed Beef Co. to strike. They said also that the men employed by the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Co. have arranged to work today, although Saturday is usually a holiday in the slaughter houses here.

Died From Her Injuries.

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—Miss Margaret Bechill, 378 Ch8amplain street, Friday morning receivd a dispatch from Detour, Mich., stating her sister Kate had fallen and injured herself. An hour later a telegram conveyed the sad news the injured girl had died. The body will be brought to Detroit for burial. Miss Bechill was housekeeper for her sisters at the above number and had resided in Detroit for several years. She was a member of the Lady Maccabees.

Advises Release of Convicts.

Lansing, Mich., July 30.—The attorney-general has furnished the wardens of each of the prisons of the state with a copy of the opinion handed down by the supreme court Wednesday, relative to the indeterminate sentence law, and has advised them that all convicts sentenced under the provisions of that law for offenses committed before the law took effect must be released upon the expiration of their minimum term, after making allowance for good time.

Will Ask For New Trial.

Kalkaska, Mich., July 30.—A new trial for Mrs. Mary McKnight, who is now serving a life sentence in the Detroit house of correction for the murder of John Murphy and his wife and little daughter, will be asked in the circuit court here on Monday. P. C. Gilbert of Traverse City represents Mrs. McKnight and says he will carry the case to the supreme court if the motion is denied.

Caught In Teeth of Hay Rake.

Grand Blanc, Mich., July 30.—While Fayette Seeley was raking hay, a young horse being used on the rake, the implement caught in the fence and the animal became frightened and started to run. Seeley was thrown from the rake to the ground, was caught by the teeth and dragged for some distance. He was seriously hurt but will recover.

Laudanum Route For Hers.

Saginaw, Mich., July 30.—A young woman named McDonald committed suicide by laudanum in a room over the Sovas saloon on Franklin street, Thursday night. She was removed to a hospital, but too late to do anything for her. She is said to have friends in Port Huron and Port Austin.

Pass Up the Pere Marquette.

Paw Paw, Mich., July 30.—On account of the unsatisfactory mail service given this town by the Pere Marquette railroad a star route has been ordered between Lawton and Paw Paw, and after Aug. 8 the mails from the Michigan Central will be delivered here by special messenger.

Bank Closed Its Doors.

White Pigeon, Mich., Aug. 1.—The State bank, capitalized at $251,000, and one of the oldest financial institutions in the southern part of the state, did not open for business here Saturday. A statement was issued by the officers of the bank promising the depositors payment in full. No reason was assigned for the closing of the bank.

Annual Convention of Prosecutors in Session at Kalamazoo.

ALBION RECORDR IN NEW HANDS

Big Masonic Outing to Be Held at Frankfort In August—Lineman Receives a Shock of 2,100 Volts of Electricity and Lives.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 30.—P. C. Holland, editor of the Detective, read a very interesting paper on "Thumb prints in the detection of criminals" before the state convention of chiefs of police, sheriffs and prosecuting attorneys. He said it was surprising how often the thumb marks of murderers could be discovered by careful search, and declared that Mark Twain's famous "Pudd'n Head Wilson" theories are becoming scientific facts. Prosecuting Attorney Thomas K. Clute of Ionia read a paper on the "Proper handling of juvenile disorderlies." Chief John J. Downey of Detroit and Attorney-General Blair were also on the program.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.

The Albion Recorder Passes Into Hands of New Men.

Albion, Mich., July 30.—The Recorder press has changed hands, the new owners being Kennedy Bros. and Newman Miller of Chicago, the former buying out the interest of Philetus J. Church, who has been associated with Mr. Miller for the past four years in the management of the business.

The Kennedy brothers, who are former University of Chicago football players, are said to have given $10,000 for a half interest in the Recorder plant, which includes the newspaper by that name.

BIG MASONIC OUTING.

Grand Traverse Region at Frankfort on Aug. 17.

Traverse City, Mich., July 30.—The F. & A. M. Outing association of the Grand Traverse region will hold its annual outing at Frankfort on Aug. 17. The district includes Manistee, Wexford, Benzie, Leelanau, Kalkaska, Antrim, Grand Traverse, Charlevoix and Emmet counties. Special rates have been secured on railroads and at hotels, and a fine program has been arranged. A large attendance of Masons and their families is anticipated.

Lineman's Narrow Escape.

Marshall, Mich., July 30.—James Otto, aged 33, married, whose home is at Tokio, Marengo township, had a narrow escape from electrocution here while working on the wires of the Citizens' Telephone Co. He came in contact with an electric light wire from which the insulation had been worn, and was severely burned by 2,100 volts of electricity. He fell a distance of twenty-five feet and was injured about the head and shoulders. He was injured internally and physicians pronounce him in a serious condition.

Drowned at Grand Haven.

Grand Haven, Mich., July 30.—Truman Hand, who came to Grand Haven two months ago and who has done odd jobs of work around town, was drowned in the river near the Grand Trunk elevator. Hand dived from the dock and came up to the surface. He then disappeared and did not rise again. The body was soon recovered by the life-saving crew. Hand was about 22 years of age. He is said to have relatives in Bay City.

Honor For Former Marshall Boy.

Battle Creek, Mich., July 30.—Capt. Merrill, a Marshall boy, and son of D. L. Merrill of this county, has been appointed to the command of the U. S. S. Oregon and expects to be in Asiatic waters for the next two years. His family will live at Santa Barbara, Cal., during his absence.

Wives may be the weaker vessels, but husbands go broke first.

Suicide Prevented.

The startling announcement that a preventive of suicide had been discovered will interest many. A run down system, or despondency invariably precede suicide and something has been found that will prevent that condition which makes suicide likely. At the first thought of self destruction take Electric Bitters. It being a great tonic and nervine will strengthen the nerves and build up the system. It's also a great stomach, liver and kidney regulator. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist.

Men want the earth, but women are satisfied with a honeymoon.

is the one that will cleanse the system, set the liver to action, remove the bile, clear the complexion, cure headache and leave a good taste in the mouth. The famous little pills for doing such work pleasantly and effectually are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Bob Moore of Lafayette, Ind., says: "All other pills I have ever used gripe and sicken, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers are simply perfect". Sold by C. A. Wright.

If afterthoughts are the best why can't we have them first?

A cough may wear itself out; it's more likely to wear you out. A chronic cough will cause consumption or other serious lung or bronchial troubles as surely as such diseases will cause a chronic cough. Don't get them; get Greene's Cough Cure ("Pure, Safe, Sure") of B. J. Pulver.

Too many nurses make a specialty of nursing trouble.

Was wasting away.

The following letter from Robert R. Watts, of Salem, Mo., is instructive. "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years. I lost flesh and never felt well and doctored with leading physicians and tried all remedies suggested without relief. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me and I am now sound and well." Sold by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The man in the moon makes light of things.

"It is better to be sure than to be sorry." Blood poisoning is as liable to follow a pin scratch as a bullet wound; a strained muscle may mean the loss of use of a limb, "A little leak may sink a great ship." Don't neglect such things; don't put off attending to them quickly. I sell Greene's Infallible Liniment and guarantee it positively to afford immediate relief and quickly and surely heal cuts, bruises, burns, wounds, muscle soreness, sprains and aches. Your money back if you want it more than you want the liniment. B. J. PULVER.

Man proposes—and disposes of a lot of things which are entirely unnecessary.

A Summer Cold.

A summer cold is not only annoying but if not relieved pneumonia will be the probable result by fall. One Minute Cough Cure clears the phlegm, draws out the inflamation, heals, soothes and strengthens the lungs and bronchial tubes. One Minute Cough Cure is an ideal remedy for the children. It is pleasant to the taste and perfectly harmless. A certain cure for croup, cough cold. Sold by C. A. Wright.

A French Horn Among The Philistines

By JEFFERSON NOEL

Copyright, 1903, by Jefferson Noel

ALL day long the wind had been blowing hard enough to raise freckles on an Indian. The alkali laden sand scurried over the desert, blinding us and our ponies and enveloping old landmarks in a cloud. Toward sundown it eased up a little, and when we had finished our dry tea only an occasional puff came to remind us of the day's discomfort.

When a lull came in the conversation I arose and sauntered beyond earshot of the camp. Juan, the Mexican, seemed to have been waiting for a break in the circle and started in the opposite direction. Glancing over my shoulder I saw Metcalf standing alone, throwing an armful of brush on the fretful fire. Macpherson and Williams, being old cronies and a bit exclusive in their tipple when towns were far apart, had gone off, I thought, to finish the Randsburg bottle.

I was dimly conscious of something strange about the whole proceeding. On the desert men never wander away from camp, especially when a stranger is left on guard. This Metcalf—here anything that was dim and uncertain in my consciousness gave way to a clearly defined image—this Metcalf had been picked up at the Needles, and, in the prospectors' way, we asked no questions. None of us knew him. Suppose, I thought, he should put his heel on that dancing bit of flame? Suppose he should pack everything of value on the ponies and make a bee line for civilization?

I hesitated between two impulses. The camp needed me, but since early morning I had waited impatiently for this hour. I wanted to be alone. I wanted to sing.

Something other than the sense persuaded me the music breaking for utterance was of high order. Having only an indifferent memory for sweet sound, and, I must confess, a taste that might be termed popular, I was carried off my feet as much by the recognition of its merit as by its continual recurrence. But, strange as it might seem, despite the continual recurrence when I was surrounded by distractions, at the very moment I had an opportunity to do more than listen in dumb ecstasy, try as I might, I could not recall a single note. Laying the blame on my anxiety over the possible loss of our traps, I allowed the other impulse to get the upper hand and returned to camp.

Metcalf was lying on his back, smoking. There was no greeting. He did not even turn his head. About his indifference, which was extraordinary, I cared nothing, for just as I got within six feet of him the tantalizing air came again full born into my brain.

I wondered at my grasp of such a masterpiece. My conception was complete to the final note, and, though I had never taken a lesson in music, I knew—felt, rather—wherein it conformed to the highest standards of the art. I followed the flutelike tones that were ringing in my ear, and, finally obeying something stronger than my will, I threw back my head and, shaping my mouth as I had seen the fellows of the glee club at the university shape theirs, sang.

Metcalf's groaning brought me to a realization of the absurd figure I cut standing in the center of the camp beating time with a wisp of sage and singing to the moon as though my life depended on it. Hastily throwing some scrub on the fire, I set off with the determination of reaching the final cadence without interruption if I walked to the other side of the desert.

When beyond Metcalf's hearing I stopped and gathered myself together. The discovery of a talent is something to be well considered. Perhaps my ability as a composer would rank me above mediocrity. It would be impossible to conceive of one musical theme exhausting my originality; rather might it be expected to aid development in that direction.

Throwing back my head I formed my lips to sing, and not a note came forth. All my mental turnings and twistings were of no avail; not a suggestion of the melody that was to open up a noble career for me came to the foreground of consciousness. My castles were ruins.

The reaction caused by my failure brought a feeling akin to disgust. Waiting, dull and inert, not caring if the elusive air ever returned, my ear caught the faint echo of whistling off to the right. I went in the direction of it. As I drew near enough to distinguish between the sounds there seemed a strange familiarity in them. By stretching the imagination a resemblance to my own elusive air could be discovered.

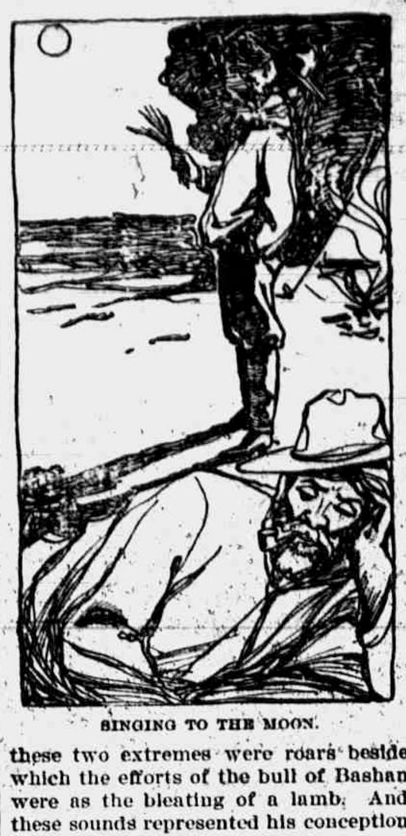
Forgetting the indifference of a moment ago, I grew furious. Here was some scoundrel who had evidently heard me practicing near the fire trying to steal the product of my genius. Drawing near, I was about to tax him with his dishonesty when he stopped and, stretching his arms above his head, rose from the sand heap. His "bueno, senor," as he passed on his way to the camp told me it was Juan, the Mexican, the kindest and gentlest of men. Nothing but folly would appear in accusing him of anything but faithfulness.

Thinking in nervous jerks, my feet keeping time to the unaccustomed mode of thought, I turned away. Scarcely had I gone 500 yards when I heard another whistle offend the night. And it was offense; it was little more than high treason against music. Williams had no doubt caught the first few bars of the strange air as I sang it near the fire and was determined to make them do duty for the whole composition.

Only Macpherson remained. There was no possibility of this man lurking in the shadows when I made that exhibition of myself before Metcalf. Filled with the traditional Scotch honesty, if he had heard me and was interested he would have come forward and asked me to teach him.

Keeping the flickering camp fire as a central point, I set out to encircle it. About one-third the distance was traversed when a low wailing attracted my attention. At first I thought it the bark of a distant coyote, but closer investigation discovered a larger share of the human cry in it than could possibly come from that skulking evidence of arrested development. With my gun ready for action, I went on. I was firmly convinced some one was being murdered. It was Macpherson. He was singing—that is—

Now he was low and hoarse; again he was high and piercing. Between these two extremes were roars beside which the efforts of the bull of Bashan were as the bleating of a lamb. And these sounds represented his conception of my beautiful air!



SINGING TO THE MOON.

Here was a case of disillusionment without a parallel. About Williams I should say nothing. But Macpherson and Juan! I would have taken their simplest word and considered it binding as an oath. Two more honest men never trod the earth. Yet they were undoubtedly guilty of trying to appropriate a masterpiece that I had conceived.

I hastened back to where the wedge of flame pierced the pervading gloom—a gloom that now reeked up from every point and obscured even the beauty of the stars.

Juan and Metcalf and Williams were scattered lazily about the camp. It seemed impossible to do otherwise than shun my two old friends, so, wrapping myself in my blanket, I stretched out near the man we had picked up at the Needles, and my back had not fully touched the earth before the beautiful air came to me again. As its wonderful charm gripped me I grew dizzy with excitement. The veins in my neck swelled at the memory of being robbed by the very men I had trusted most.

It was the gray of the morning when a coarse burlesque of my masterpiece intruded itself on my consciousness. Macpherson was sitting up beating time with a corner of his blanket to a kind of sotto voce reproduction of the absurd sounds he had made the night before. Metcalf was watching him, and Williams was turning uneasily in his sleep.

At a very palpable error I objected and called to Macpherson that he was wrong, but without paying the least attention he kept at his noise. Incensed, I took up the theme and sang it as I knew it should be sung. Then Williams at this juncture joined in with his stupid attempt to show acquaintance with the air. And finally Juan awoke and set the pace, musically speaking, for us all. The Mexican's notes were clear and well sustained and gave evidence of some training. Indeed, if we had been content to follow his leadership, it is barely possible we should have reproduced something like unison, or even harmony, but the strong personality that is engendered in men when they cease to be house animals was apparent in our efforts to sing—rather roar—each other down.

Metcalf groaned aloud. There was no humor in that early morning serenade. It contained all the tragedy of an artistic inspiration entering commonplace souls.

At breakfast we glared at each other. Williams toyed maliciously with his six shooter, and Macpherson, the peace loving Macpherson, unlimbered himself, placing both knife and gun within easy reach. The silence was ominous.

I was the first to speak. Addressing Juan, I asked him if the music did not run like this, whistling.

Juan shook his head, but before he could suggest a correction Williams growled out his idea of how it should go.

The half quizzical smile on Macpherson's face gave way to a look of disgust. "This is how the tune goes, Williams," he broke in abruptly.

There was no question of the energy displayed in Macpherson's performance, but the grace left something to be desired.

I was on the verge of explaining this to him when Metcalf said, "That's the most infernal piece of music I have ever heard, and, furthermore, you are all wrong."

To this day I fail to see what saved his life. It seemed as though a child of mine had been murdered before my eyes. Williams and Macpherson both covered him instantly.

"You mean you're a liar," said Williams hotly.

"Go on; say you're a liar," echoed Macpherson, nervously fingering the trigger.

"If you care to listen to me," answered Metcalf with an indifferent wave of his hand and a shrug that spoke volumes for his character, "I'll prove it the truth."

"Let's give him a chance," I broke in, impelled as much by the anxiety to discover what he meant as the desire to avoid blood.

Without another word Metcalf went to his saddlebag and drew forth a sort of flute, which he screwed together.

"This is where it tripped you by the heels," he said, nodding to Macpherson. He then gave an imitation of Macpherson's ridiculous squeaks. "This is how it goes." And he played like an angel. "That's the chorus. Now the woman comes on. She's a contralto." And again the superb sounds that were a match for the morning filled our ears. A hint of the futility of life came as he reached the cadence. My throat was full. I was tempted to speak, to cry aloud, when a tenor note rang out clear and strong, transporting us to a truer, better world. He played this part twice over and finished with a dying fall that was as sweet as sleep after nights of pain.

Perhaps it was a minute, perhaps it was an hour, before any one spoke. Time and space were eliminated from our consciousness. Juan, the Mexican, a glint of reverence in his eye, had edged close to the player. Macpherson sighed and turned away. Even Williams, the bullet head of the outfit, was visibly affected.

"Gentlemen," said Metcalf, calmly unscrewing the inspired instrument and stuffing it into his saddlebag, "that proves one-half of my contention; the other half can be as easily proved."

Macpherson plucked nervously at his tuft of a beard and in his blunt, honest fashion said, "I thought that was my own tune."

"I thought it was mine," remarked Williams, and there was in the sliding inflection of the last word the suggestion of a man always sure of himself discovering a hole in his armor.

"I had dreams of developing into a great composer on the strength of it," I confessed, and, try as I might, I could not repress a sigh. Juan echoed the sigh and turned quietly away.

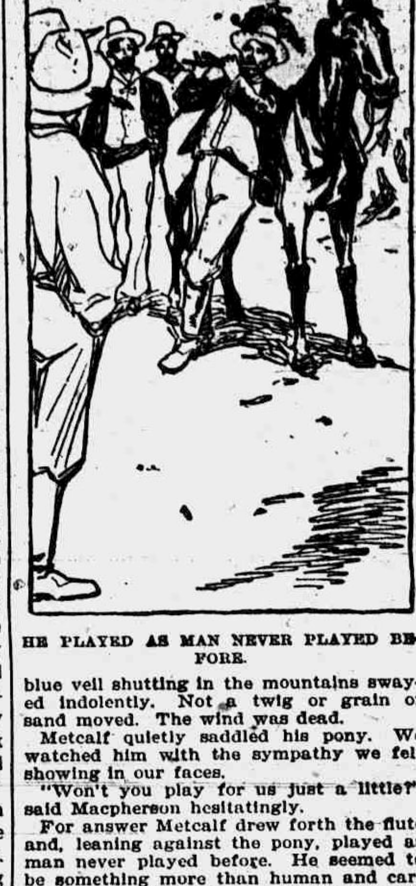
Metcalf seemed to be oblivious of his triumph. The indifference that was in his eyes when he looked down the muzzles of the revolvers still lingered. "You are all wrong," he finally began. "A man of whom you know nothing wrote it. There was a time when the music stood well in the world's opinion. About the beginning of its vogue I came in contact with it, to my grievous injury.

"Of course there was a woman," he went on after a slight pause. "There always is. But she was such a woman as only poets know in their dreams. And by every right that springs from years of unflagging devotion and unselfish love she was mine.

"Then he came, the composer, with all his old world charm and his old world knowledge of the human heart. In something less than a month from the day I introduced him to her I learned that all my unflagging devotion and unselfish love could not tip the beam against the least of his smiles. This knowledge came during the performance of the music you claim individually and collectively as your own. As they sang I watched them— But why go on? The music was composed for her. The man's soul was in it.

"That was ten years ago. Occasionally the desire takes possession of me to learn if she still lives, if she is happy—with him, and I move in the track of men. Yesterday she seemed to draw me down that way." And he waved his hand toward the crowded east. We were hardly conscious that he had finished. His voice had fallen to a whisper.

Over us the sky hung fiery red. The desert wore a strange, pathetic look. The blue veil shutting in the mountains swayed indolently. Not a twig or grain of sand moved. The wind was dead.



HE PLAYED AS MAN NEVER PLAYED BEFORE.

Metcalf quietly saddled his pony. We watched him with the sympathy we felt showing in our faces.

"Won't you play for us just a little?" said Macpherson hesitatingly.

For answer Metcalf drew forth the flute and, leaning against the pony, played as man never played before. He seemed to be something more than human and carried us with him into a world far beyond this.

Where he led us we were content to go. It was up, ever up, and the higher place was easy of attainment when he pointed the way. None of the cramping misery of the cities was in the life unfolded for us. The kisses of the kindly rain, the caresses of the splendid sun, the freedom of God's own smile were of it. The generous breath of the morning lulled us to sleep again, and the whisperings of the water brook came to our ears.

He was a mere speck against the sky line when Williams said: "Beautiful! Beautiful! Play it just once more."

Juan pressed my hand and was gone.

Macpherson looked with vacant eye after the Mexican, then arose and saddled up. He waved goodby to us as he went away.

Williams moved, and I put my hand on his arm. "They will not find him," I whispered hoarsely. "He will get behind the mist and be lost. Perhaps they will search for him forever."

"Perhaps, perhaps," said the bullet head, "but for that music I would search for him in hades." And he, too, rode off, leaving me alone on the desert, regretting the jot of reason that bade me stay.

Work For the Stomach.

For the average healthy man I think there is something to be said in favor of a good meal even if a trifle heavy now and then. I believe it is a fact that the human stomach, although it is not a gizzard, like that of a goose, still does its work better when slightly stretched, just as the lungs work better with deep inhalations induced by bodily exercise in the open air.—London Telegraph.

A Leveler.

Fond Parent (to young hopeful)—Unless you keep your face and hands clean, your teeth brushed and look neat the children of nice people won't have anything to do with you; they won't play with you.

Young Hopeful—I bet if I had a goat and a wagon they would.—Judge.

Mistaken.

"I suppose you thought you were fishing when you caught me?" growled the man who is always disagreeable.

"Well, I used to think so," sighed his little wife, "but now I know I must have been bear hunting."

Some folks are like good dogs. If you pat them on [illegible] they will jump all over you[illegible] master.

Poisons.

Snake poison would kill the strongest man if the smallest possible drop of it were injected into his veins or laid on a cut finger or chapped lip. But the smallest child might drink a teaspoonful—probably a glassful—without suffering the least injury. The same is true of most of the poisons savages inject into their arrows, and you can suck the dangerous wound with impunity.

Arsenic eaters become so accustomed to the use of this drug that one of them could eat as much of it in a week as would kill a troop of cavalry, horses and all. If a man took a dose of lunar caustic and his wife a dose of hydrochloric acid they would be subjects for a coroner's inquest in a very short time. But if either the man or the woman took both doses together the result would hardly be different from that of taking so much strawberries and cream. If two men each took a small quantity of hemlock one might drop dead, if he had a fatty heart, and the other feel only a slight inconvenience, if his heart was all right.

Noses.

One of the most brilliant essays on nasology is the one which classes noses not by origin, but by mentality. The aquiline nose, for example, is the sign of goodness, amiability and weakness. By that nose Louis XVI. was led to the direst catastrophies. Let us have commiseration for the nose that is very slightly prominent. It is the muzzle of a sheep and belongs to people who are easily deceived. Distrust the nose with the medium part elongated. That elongation marks the extent of desires and the insatiability of appetites. Look out also for the ferret nose, with its sharp point, always on the scent for secrets. It is the nose of the inquisitor. The devil-may-care nose is slightly turned up at the end. It denotes a character without firmness. But when you see a nose that rises from the depths of the orbits and stands out in bold relief take off your hat. You are in the presence of the nose of a thinker.—Toronto Mail.

ROUND ABOUT US.

This week R. A. Beach cut down a large pine tree in his yard. When it was being cut into stove wood the workmen were surprised when the saw struck metal and were astonished on splitting the trunk to find the iron head of a rake firmly imbedded five inches from the outside of the tree, which was about fifteen inches in diameter and 25 feet from the ground. The rake had evidently been hung in the crotch of the tree and forgotten, until the cutting up of the tree revealed the strange find.—Hudson Post.

Last Sunday morning when extra L. S. freight 707 arrived at the station here the engineer reported that he had nearly run over two tramps just this side of Ottawa lake. He saw them when some distance away and applied all the brakes on the train but was unable to entirely stop before reaching the men, his fireman ran out on the pilot and threw one of the men off the track while the engine rolled the other to one side. After the train passed the men came back and lay down on the track again. The fireman says they evidently were drunk.—Blissfield Advance.

How to serve kisses:—To one part of dark front porch add a little moonlight. Take for granted two people, press in two strong hands a small soft hand, sift lightly two ounces of attraction, one of romance and large measures of folly, stir in a floating ruffle and one or two whispers dissolve in a well of silence, dust in a small quantity of hesitation, one ounce resistance, two of yielding, place the kisses on a flushed cheek or two lips flavor with a slight scream and set aside to cool. This will succeed in in any climate if the directions are carried out.—Ex.

W. D. VanTuyle, who has been appointed guardian of Margretta and Nina Sloan, discovered among other things that their mother at one time had an insurance policy with the Mutual Life of New York. The policy had become valueless on account of her not keeping up the payments for a number of years before her death but Mr. VanTuyle wrote the company and explained the situation as to the condition of the girls and Wednesday received a check for $300 for them. The company certainly did what was fair in the matter and more too.—Clinton Local.

A Tough Rawhide Story.

A Hopkins man in an early day, relates that most veracious of all Missouri newspapers, the Hopkins Journal, hauled lots of cord wood and used rawhide harness on his teams. Rawhide, we all know, expands when wet and contracts on drying out. Well, this man was hauling an exceptionally big load one day when a thunderstorm overtook him just as he reached a long hill leading to his home. He was walking beside his team that he might pay close attention to them and did not notice what the rain was doing for his rawhide harness until the top of the long hill was reached, when to his utter amazement the wagon stood at the bottom of the hill, the rawhide tugs being fairly stretched into fiddle strings. He was puzzled for a moment, but just then the sun came out, and a happy idea found lodgment in his fertile brain. He unhitched the team, fastened the tugs securely around a big tree and went in to dinner. When he returned the sun had caused the rawhide to contract sufficiently to bring the wagon up that steep hill with a momentum that smashed both front wheels when it came in contact with the tree around which the tugs had been fastened.

How Cigar Dealers Lose Custom.

"This may be a good cigar," said a man as he puffed at it, standing for a moment in the shop, "but I don't seem to relish it. Guess my stomach's a trifle off."

"That's just the way it is," remarked the philosophic tobacconist. "About 200 persons come into this store every day. Some of them spend $10 a week with me for cigars, and others don't spend $2. I lose a certain amount of this trade every week not because I keep inferior goods, but when smokers get a bit out of condition and the cigars don't taste as good as usual they will blame the cigars, and off they go to another shop.

"But it works about the same way with all. My dissatisfied customers go to some other man's store, and other men's dissatisfied customers come to me. So it evens up in the end. Out of every ten strangers who drop in here for the first time to buy a cigar I know by experience that I can count on one or two of them becoming regulars."—New York Press.

Monday of last week Drs. Felch and Evers, assisted by Misses Thorp and Pomeroy, performed an unusually delicate operation upon the eye of the three-year-old son of Ed. Bridleman, living near Clayton. The trouble was caused by the eye being punctured in the corneal region by a pair of scissors. The wound was about three-fourths of an inch in length and deep enough to allow a protrusion of the iris. The injury was caused some days before, an adhesion had formed and the operation consisted in breaking up these adhesions and removing a portion of the iris and closing the wound. There are good prospects of saving the sight.—Hudson Post.

By telephone from Don Palmer of Norvell, we learned that the horse barn on Charles Ashley's farm, near the cemetery, on the Jackson and Manchester road, was struck by lightning last Friday afternoon and burned to the ground. Some old implements and one hog were consumed.

It appears that Frank Bacon, who works the farm, had just put the team in the barn and was part way to the house when the lightning struck. The barn was at once in flames. He released the horses and as the general alarm was sent over the telephone, the neighbors soon arrived to render such assistance was necessary.

The wind was from the west otherwise either the house or large barn would have been destroyed. It was insured in the county mutual company.—Manchester Enterprise.

Bert Cripps has met with severe losses during a period of about eight months. First, a good colt died from an accident in the stable; second, a splendid cow died; third, a pair of twin colts died and last a fine young horse was struck by lightning while running in the pasture, about two weeks ago. Bert says though these losses strike him hard they might have been worse. He is in hopes that he will not be dealt with so severely in the future.—Deerfield Times Journal.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symptoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother should be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25; large size, 75c.

"A Royal Slave."

"A Royal Slave," which is a future booking at the New Bradley opera house is to be one of the most important events of the theatrical season in this city. The play which deals with life in Mexico about the time of the downfall of Maxmillian—is said to be remarkably interesting and has proven one of the greatest successes that the stage has known in many years. Complete special scenery is carried for the entire play and has been painted from photographs taken in Mexico especially for this production.

The managers are very fortunate in securing an attraction of this class and it is to be hoped that our theatre goers will show their appreciation of their efforts to provide them with a better class of amusements.

BASE BALL

Two Good Games with EAST JORDAN

Friday and Saturday. They left for home Saturday night Scalped.

Tecumseh defeated the strong East Jordan team last Friday afternoon in a very interesting game, the score standing 4 to 1. The game was marked by fast and accurate plays. Striker was injured by Newcomb, the East Jordan pitcher, in the 4th inning and Killian was put up to finish the game. Stevens in the 4th inning made a two base hit, and was allowed to score on an error and a safe hit by Brown. This was the best that the visitors could do, getting only five hits off Striker and one off Killian.

The features of the game were the hitting of Bell, who got 3 singles and a double, Beasley a single and a double, and a 3 base hit by Hyney. The fielding was of a brilliant order.

Following is the score:

East Jordan	AB	R	H	PO	A
O'Leary ss	4	0	1	2	1
Fisher cf	4	0	1	3	0
Stevens 1b	3	1	1	11	0

Three base hits, Hyney; first base on balls, Killian 4, Newcomb 1; wild pitches, Killian 1; two base hits, Bell, Beasley, LaBelle; struck out by Striker 2, Killian 2, by Newcomb 4; hit by pitcher Lalond. Attendance 300; time 1 hour, 25 minutes. Umpire, Hicks.

The locals again defeated the East Jordan team Saturday afternoon in as interesting a game as the first and again the visitors could only get 6 hits off Killian and scored but one run. The visitors made one double and a triple play, while the locals made three doubles.

The locals won the game with hard and well placed hits. Knickerbocker won great applause in the first inning, when he made a difficult running catch of Steven's fly and what seemed to be a safe hit throwing the runner out.

Following is the score:

East Jordan	AB	R	H	PO	A
O'Leary ss	3	0	1	3	4
Fisher lf	4	0	0	0	3

Time, 1 hour, 45 minutes. Umpire, Hicks.

The Tecumseh base ball team played in Lima, O., Sunday afternoon before one of the largest crowds of the season. In the sixteenth inning after Tecumseh had made three more runs and had the best of Lima, Umpire Chew called the game off. It should have been decided 9 to 0 in Tecumseh's favor as the trouble was caused by Lima and they refused to play.

Several hundred dollars had been bet and as the game made them feel like thirty cents, after Chewing, Umpire Chew declared the bets and game off. At that time the score stood 11 to 8 in favor of Tecumseh and 27 hits to Lima's 16.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The East Jordan team played Mount Clemens Sunday afternoon and were beaten by a score of 2 to 1.

H. S. German of Carleton has signed a 15 day contract with the Toledo team and starts tomorrow for Columbus, O.

Brewer's machinists and moulders crossed bats Saturday afternoon, which resulted with a score of 5 and 3 in favor of the machinists.

Nebraska Indians will play the D. B. U. team at Holly next Monday. They played the Athens team at Athens Monday and shut them out, 16 to 0.

The Montpelier, O., team will play here next Thursday afternoon. They have hired the strong Paulding, O. team and an exciting game is expected.

The Nebraska Indians played Battle Creek Sunday afternoon before one of the largest crowds of the season. The result was a shut out, scoring 8 runs in their favor.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, July 30, 1904.

The state department is a good deal stirred up this week by the obstinacy of Russian commanders in seizing American and British merchantmen on the high seas because they were carrying food to the Japanese ermy. This allegation is not denied, but both Great Britain and America respond with the challenge "prove it!" An appeal to the manifest will probably be all that is needed, but it will be remembered that England took no such pains three years ago when she captured American vessels without ceremony and confiscated them and ate up their cargoes on the ground that the four was "oviously" destined for the Boers. Now that Russia has an important war upon her hand against a power with which England is in alliance, and the United States government sympathetic, they will probably play the roll of bully more or less and insist upon dictating the terms of settlement.

The navy department has published the conclusions of the liquid fuel board resulting from two years tests of coal and oil. Their findings are most important, being in short, that oil can be burned under the boiler in a uniform manner and at a great saving of cost to the government. The most acceptable device is that which allows a rapid transition from coal to oil and back again according to the scarcity of either may make such a change necessary. One half of the world's entire outfit of crude petroleum is produced in the United States, therefore it is natural that the practical installation of this new enterprise should be the result of American ingenuity.

There is a threat of action by congress next winter on account of the conduct of all the railroads going from this city in every direction, in compelling negroes to ride in the "Gim Crow" cars even within the city limits Col. Perry Carson the negro janitor of the district building and the political leader of his race here, will carry the matter to the national legislature and perhaps the president.

Mr. Cortelyou says it is "all nonsence"—the report that has gained ground that the president is bellicose and belligerent in his temperment and believes in a peculiarly strenous life. He says that Mr. Roosevelt is essentically a man of peace and would go a good ways and make almost any sacrifice to avoid difficulty of any kind. All this in an interview with a Quaker reporter from Pennsylvania. There are sixty or seventy thousand Quakers in Pennsylvania and at least half as many in Indiana, who are not in the habit of carrying a heavy stick, but do believe in gentle manners and conversation.

The republican campaign book is ready for the press and will shortly be given to the public. It recites the great achievements of the republican party for the past fifty years; defends the administration of Roosevelt and makes many fair promises for the future. It presents an array of facts and figures which will carry conviction to many. The democratic campaign book is also in press but will not appear until after the official notification at Esopus to Judge Parker and Mr. Davis that they have been nominated to the two highest positions in the gift of the people. Among other things this book will give a vast array of facts and figures to prove that American made goods are sold abroad much cheaper than at home. The high tariffs and the trusts will be prominent issues and the democrats will claim that the argument for a lower tariff for revenue only, with incidental protection, is all on their side. A very spicy contribution relates to the custom house frauds in Porto Rico, on the part of army officers and other officials and recites how the investigation was suppressed by order of the president and his cabinet on the ground of "high public considerationf."

Secretary Shaw of the Treasury, is quite facetious over the growing deficit in Uncle Sam's strong box. He pokes fun at the democrats who maintain that a lower tariff or a nearer approach to free trade would increase the revenue The excess of expenditures over receipts for July is in the neighborhood of $21,000,000. The Secretary says that two years ago he pointed out the dependence of the present revenue laws upon a very high standard of business if they were to yield enough to meet the large expenditures of the Government. As there has been a considerable sagging in business as well as immense losses by fire and flood, together with a sharp shrinkage in stock values the people are spending less money and living more economically. One way to meet the situation is to lessen the expenses of the Government, Don't burn your candles at both ends! Commenting upon the present financial condition Shaw says; This is a good argument for tariff revision and lower duties isn't it? Considering the labor disturbances he doubts if lower tariff rates would increase importation and thus add to the revenue. From this standpoint it looks as if the Secretary was right.

Some time ago a great deal was said in the press about a California millionaire, named Benson, who was arrested by order of the Secretary of the Interior on the charge of conspiring to defraud the United States by acquiring school lands by means of fictitious affidavits, etc. Judge Lacombe of the United States circuit court has discharged Benson on the ground that the indictment does not set forth facts tending to show a conspiracy to defraud the United States.

Dr. Stanley Kirby has been going to North Adams on Wednesday of every other week to accommodate a number of patients in that place. While on his visit there last week he met with a rather amusing experience. On his way to the depot with his case of instruments he was approached by a man who said he was suffering with a toothache and asked Dr. Kirby to take it out for him. As the doctor had but a few minutes to make the train the man asked him if he wouldn't take it out right there, so the citizens on the street were treated to the unusual spectacle of seeing a man have a tooth pulled "without pain" while seated on the sidewalk curbing.—Hillsdale Standard.

WHY HE PUSHES IT.

C. A. Wright recommends and pushes Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy.

"It's a pleasure to sell a medicine when my customers come in afterwards and tell me how much good it has done them," said C. A. Wright, the popular druggist to a HEARLD man, "and that is why I like to sell and recommend Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy.

"I have so much faith in this article that I am going to guarantee it in the future, and will return the money to any purchaser of Mi-o-na whom it does not cure. That may seem rash, but my customers have said so many good words in its favor that I do not expect to have many packages returned.

"Anyone who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, who has to take thought as to what he can eat, and when, can leave 50 cents deposit at my store and take home a box of Mi-o-na, and if the remedy does not regulate his digestion and cure his dyspepsia, he can withdraw his money on returning the empty box."

This shows great faith in the merit of Mi-o-na. It is really a most unusual medicine and the rapid increase in sales since C. A. Wright introduced it in the HERALD shows that it does all that it claims to do, cures dyspepsia, regulates digestion and enables those who use it to eat just what they want and when they want with no fear of trouble.

Miss Franc Tallman.

Miss Franc Tallman died at her home west of Tecumseh, Friday afternoon, after suffering for two weeks with gangrene. The funeral was held from the house yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. W. F. Jones of the Presbyterian church, of which church deceased had long been a faithful member, preached the funeral sermon. The remains were laid at rest in Brookside.

She leaves a brother, Blinn, and a sister, Miss Libbie, at the farm home, a sister, Mrs. Esterbrook, of St. Paul, Minn., and a brother, E. M. Tallman, of Hudson, to mourn her loss, beside a host of friends.

An exchange relates that "A young woman applicant for a school in Steuben county, Ind., was asked to answer the question, "What is your position upon whipping children?" Her reply was, "My usual position is on a chair with the child held firmly across my knee and face downward." She got the school."—Ex.

Saturday afternoon Joseph Benore met with a painful accident which very fortunately was not of a more serions nature. Joe has charge of discharging the dynamite necessary in blasting. He was packing some dynamite into a hole sixteen feet deep with a wooden pole and had over a pound of the deadly explosive nearly home when it exploded driving the powdered and stone chips up the hole which took effect in his face. His left eye was painfully injured and his face was peppered with the stone dust.—Monroe Record.

COSTS NOTHING UNLESS CURED

A fair offer made by C. A. Wright to all sufferers from catarrh.

C. A. Wright is selling Hyomei on a plan that has caused considerable talk amongst his customers.

The plan is different from that followed by other remedies, but the remedy itself is different also. This treatment for the cure of catarrh has such an unusual record of cures to its credit that C. A. Wright offers to refund the money if it does not give the desired benefit. This is certainly one of the fairest offers that can be made and any one who has catarrh and does not take advantage of it is doing himself or herself an injustice.

Do not suffer any longer with tickling, smarting, burning, eye-watering troubles that afflict those who have catarrh. Hyomei will cure you, but if you should not find it adapted to your case, C. A. Wright will return your money.

Cure for Hay Fever.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose and intense burning of hay fever It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

A woman never feels so truly grateful for the advantage of being a woman as when she meets a bow-legged man.

WHEN BABY IS COMING USE Mother's Friend

Woman's greatest dream of beauty and glory is when nature has chosen her to become a mother. Every faculty is keenly alert as she foresees the joy, ambition, success and the life-long satisfaction coming nearer, day by day; in the dear and innocent being so soon to see light, and the uncertainty whether she shall see a sweet girl or a brave boy face beside her on the pillow adds zest to her expectancy. Mother's Friend applied externally throughout pregnancy will relieve the pain of parturition, and no mother and child can fail to be healthy, hearty, strong, clear complexioned, pure blooded and cheerful in disposition, who are mutually influenced by the continued use of this great liniment, MOTHER'S FRIEND. Buy of druggists, $1.00 per bottle. Our treatise "Motherhood" mailed free. THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

No woman will esteem a man whom she cannot trust and a man cannot esteem another man who will not trust him.

UNCOMMON WISDOM

It's a wise man who profits by the experience of his friends and neighbors. Here is a chance to do it and every man, woman or child, in Tecumseh, who knows the misery of a bad back, the nervousness and restlessness caused by kidney complaint or the annoyance of urinary disorders, will show uncommon wisdom to profit by this citizen's advice.

Ex-postmaster J. W. Wightman, well known to every reader of this statement says, "I have no hesitation in endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills procured at C. A. Wright's drug store. They have been used in my family and the most satisfactory results followed the treatment. Proved to be a remedy of merit. You can use my name to that effect it you think proper."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Occasionally a man is so anxious to see his name in print that he gets on the delinquent tax list.

Croup instantly relieved. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Never fails. At any drug store.

Onions are said to prolong life, at least eating them strengthens the breath.

When other medicines have failed take Foley's Kidney Cure. It has cured when everything else has disappointed. Sold by all druggists of Tecumseh.

It takes a nervy man to marry the widow of a poor devil who committed suicine.

A little forethought may save you no end of trouble. Anyone who makes it a rule to keep Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy at hand knows this to be a fact. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

To Lose Flesh.

To reduce the flesh one must have the fortitude to give up a number of the pleasant things of life, for a time at least, and many of them for good and all. One must, first of all, become an early riser and not sleep longer than seven hours. Before finishing the morning toilet exercise for twenty minutes with Indian clubs, dumbbells or wands. For breakfast take no cereal, coffee or milk, but tea, not too strong, fruit and toast. Sugar is a fat producer; so also are bread and all farinaceous dishes. Not more than half a glass of liquid should be taken at any meal. For luncheon partake of stewed or raw fruit, a salad dressed with vinegar and oil, green vegetables and a chop. For dinner the bill of fare can comprise fish, mutton, lamb, lean beef, vegetables, especially tomatoes and beans, stale bread and a light dessert.

A Real London Fog.

A recent example of London fog was the cause of some queer blunders. A Bayswater bus got nearly as far as Camden Town when the driver thought he was headed for Portland Station. Horses knew their way better.

A wagon drawn by two horses belonging to a firm of grocers in Coventry was left by the man in charge just outside Rugby, ten miles from their destination. The animals started off and were quickly lost to sight in the fog. They reached home without mishap, although the fog was so thick that objects could not be distinguished a few yards away. The driver, who had to find his way on foot, did not arrive until five hours later.

That Terrible Child.

The small son of a certain university professor, whose parents are deservedly popular for their tact and courteous speech, appeared at the home of a fellow professor and hesitatingly asked Mrs. —— if he might look at the parlor rug. Permission was of course granted, and Mrs. —— felt some surprise to see the little fellow stoop over the rug and stare silently for some half minute. He straightened himself up and, meeting her wondering expression, said triumphantly:

"It doesn't make me sick!"—Life.

FOR TRAINING STATION

Detroit Will Offer Site of Twenty Acres on Grosse Isle.

COMMISSION IS EXPECTED TODAY

Co-Operation of Board of Commerce to Be Solicited by Mayor—Commission to Also Visit Kalamazoo and Alpena to Inspect Sites.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 1.—The commission appointed by the United States government to investigate and recommend a site for the location of the new naval training station for the great lakes, will visit Detroit Wednesday for the purpose of inspecting such sites as the city has to present for the commission's inspection. This information was received yesterday by Mayor Maybury in a letter from Capt. William H. Reeder, who is chairman of the commission.

The captain writes that the commission was scheduled for Chicago Sunday and Monday, leaving Monday morning for Kalamazoo, where it will spend about three hours. From Kalamazoo the commission comes to Detroit, arriving here at about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. The greater part of Wednesday will be spent investigating sites, the commission leaving at 3:30 for Alpena.

On Grosse Isle.

Mayor Maybury has been offered a site on Grosse Isle, where twenty acres of desirable land could be had, and which in his opinion should prove a most desirable location for a naval training station. He will take immediate steps to interest the Board of Commerce, in order to secure its cooperation in the attempt to have a site on the Detroit river recommended by the commission.

Michigan Corporations.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 1.—The following corporations filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state during the past week: Industrial Works, Bay City, $250,000; Hannan Realty Co., Detroit, $200,000; Maltby Cedar Co., Bay City, $50,000; Peninsular Book Case Co., Lansing, $10,000; Leamington & Harrow Oil & Gas Co., Detroit, $250,000; Dunham Hardware Co., Lansing, $20,000; Greenaway Co., Detroit, $20,000; Barnett & Record Co., Adrian, $125,000; Currie Coal Co., Detroit, $5,000; Fraternity Hall association, Tipton, $2,000; Clinton Furniture association, Grand Rapids, $10,000; Boughey Co., Traverse City, $2,000; Seven Lakes Stock Ranch Co., Detroit, $100,000; Bon Marche Co., Port Huron, $1,200; Superior Copper Co., Houghton, $2,500,000; United City Coal Mining Co., West Bay City, $20,000; Adrian & Ann Arbor Electric Railway Co., Adrian, $300,000; Manigold Co., Ltd., Skandia township, Marquette county, $10,000; Dayton Center Telephone Co., Fremont, $2,000; Norvell & Manchester Telephone Co., Norvell, $375.

Big Damages Awarded.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 1.—The commissioners on condemnation proceedings in the case where the Ann Arbor railroad seeks to fill in with gravel a long approach now used as a trestle bridge at the mill dam, sent in a finding that is a surprise to the railroad at least. The commissioners award $ 60 to Mrs. Charles Kayes, $500 to the property owners of adjoining lands and $6,500 damages to be divided between the Michigan Milling Co. and the Ann Arbor Agricultural Co. for damages to flowage of water. The railroad company will not pay it, it is asserted.

Detroit Butchers Won't Strike.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 1.—According to Conrad Kern, Jr., vice-president of the Detroit local No. 351, Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butchers' union of America, the Detroit members of that organization will not be affected in the least way by the strike of the Chicago butchers. Mr. Kern declared that there are no chances of the Detroit members going out on a sympathetic strike, because there is hardly any meat coming from the Windy City just now. He contended that most of the retail butchers in Detroit are in sympathy with the strikers. The local, of which Mr. Kern is the vice-president, is affiliated with the organization whose members are on a strike in Chicago. Mr. Kern said that if President Donnelly would give orders to the Detroit men to quit work they would be obeyed.

An Open Letter to the Public
FROM A WELL-KNOWN DRUGGIST

To Whom It May Concern:
Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines and their value. We want to say to every man, woman and child in this vicinity that the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil,—the best tonic reconstructor, health restorer and strength-creator we have ever sold in our store is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine; it contains no injurious drugs, and it actually does contain all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil, and is delicious to the taste.

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest strength-creator for old people, weak, sickly women, children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

TO TAX SANITARIUM.

Attorney-General Blair Believes Battle Creek Has the Right.

Battle Creek, Mich., July 30.—Attorney-General Blair has filed a brief, indicating that the Adventist sanitarium, which asks exemption from taxation on the grounds of its charitable nature, may be in the wrong.

The state now becomes a party to the suit, which has been pending two years, and is for the recovery of thousands of dollars of taxes paid under protest, not directly, but indirectly, in that the state is interested in seeing Battle Creek win and will do what it can to assist the city. If the sanitarium wins in the courts it means a big loss to the state as well as to Battle Creek, for the largest sanitarium in the world naturally pays heavy taxes. The sanitarium has many charity patients, but charges high rates for those who can afford to pay them. On this ground the city maintains that the institution shall pay its taxes.

SAMUEL CORBIN DIED SUDDENLY.

Was One of Union City's Most Prominent Citizens.

Union City, Mich., July 30.—Samuel Corbin was found lying dead upon the floor of his office in the Corbin block, where he had been giving instructions to one of his employes only a few minutes previous. He was one of the leading figures in Union City business circles for many years, and for the past ten years has been an extensive buyer and shipper of grain, produce and wool.

Mr. Corbin was a native of Charleston, N. Y., and a resident of Union City ever since he was 19 years of age. He made this an important grain and produce market and maintained extensive outside business relations. He was 61 years of age and leaves a widow but no children. The attending physicians pronounced heart trouble as the cause of death.

AT MERCY OF THE WAVES.

Two Hyde Park Boys Were Adrift on Lake Michigan For 12 Hours.

St. Joseph, Mich., July 30.—R. J. Buckley and H. McKay, two Hyde Park boys who were coasting in an open yacht up the east shore of Lake Michigan from Chicago, narrowly escaped losing their lives when the heavy seas threatened to engulf their craft. The boat became unmanageable in the storm and for twelve hours was tossed at the mercy of the waves. When it was finally cast ashore, five miles south of this point, the two boys were weak from exposure.

Dislocation Reduced by Kicking.

Morenci, Mich., July 30.—While playing, Master Herman Doyling of this place fell and hurt his left hip. Investigation showed that the leg was one and a half inches longer than the other, and it was discovered in this way that the hip was dislocated. Doctors were called to perform an operation, but the boy resisted the use of the anesthetic with much vigor. When the chloroform finally did its work it was discovered that the hip was back in its right place as a result of the youngster's kicking.

An Unintentional Steal.

Ypsilanti, Mich., Aug. 1.—A prominent Ypsilanti lady had an experience during a recent journey that has caused her a good deal of teasing from her friends. She was carrying her jacket over her arm and in the crush of getting off the train where she changed cars, it got tangled up with the garb of a gentleman next her. The jacket yielded to a sharp pull and the lady thought no more about it till she was seated in the car, when she was horrified to discover a man's gold watch and chain dangling from the jacket-hook. Fortunately the owner of the watch had taken the same train and his property was speedily returned to him.

Self-Confessed Perjurer.

Port Huron, Mich., Aug. 1.—Patrick Burns admitted that he perjured himself in his testimony in the trial of William Gilfoil, on trial for the murder of James Gaffney. Burns said first that Gaffney did not strike Gilfoil and later changed his statement, at Gilfoil's request, he said. Burns may be tried for perjury.

Bright's Disease

Caused the death of Doctor Bright. Bright's Disease is simply slow congestion of the Kidneys. In the last stage the congestion becomes acute and the victim lives a few hours or a few days, but is past saving. This insidious kidney trouble is caused by sluggish, torpid, congested liver and slow, constipated bowels, whereby the kidneys are involved and ruined.

Drake's Palmetto Wine is a foe to congestion of Liver, Kidneys and tissues. It promptly relieves the congestion and carries it out of the Liver, Kidneys, tissues and blood. Drake's Palmetto Wine restores the mucous membranes to healthy condition, relieves the membranes throughout the body from inflammation and Catarrh and cures Catarrh, Constipation and Liver and Kidney disease to stay cured. It gives relief immediately, builds up vigor and health, prolongs life and makes it enjoyable. A trial bottle always gives relief and often cures. A trial bottle will be sent to every reader of this paper who will write to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill. A postal card will bring this wonderful tonic Palmetto medicine to you absolutely free. It is a boon to disease ladened pain-ridden men and women.

STRENGTHENING DEFENSES.

No Indications of Weakening by Meat Strikers or Packers.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Both the packers and the strikers spent Sunday in strengthening any weak spots that could be found in their defenses preparatory to another week of effort to bring their opponents to terms.

Notwithstanding that it was Sunday all the plants were operated during the forenoon in order to get rid of the live stock that had been left over from last week. The remainder of the day was spent by the employers in installing new men in the strikers' places and arranging many of the small details which had been overlooked last week during the heat of the conflict. Over 1,000 new men were added to the number already at work in the different plants.

The strike leaders spent the greater part of the day in preparing a statement to the public. In this statement the unionists explain their side of the controversy, declaring that it is the packers and not the men who are responsible for the present state of affairs in the packing industry. The public is asked to be patient with the men during the struggle for supremacy. It being declared by the union leaders that it would be impossible for the men to return to work under the conditions which existed before the strike was called and that up to the present the packers have shown no disposition to treat the strikers in a fair manner. According to this statement the men will stay on strike until their unions are disrupted or until the packers surrender.

To Return Deported Miners.

Denver, Aug. 1.—Attorneys H. N. Hawkins and John H. Murphy, counsel for the Western Federation of Miners, are devising ways and means to enable the deported Cripple Creek miners to return to their homes. Papers are being drawn and application will be made to some court, possibly the federal court, for an injunction restraining the citizens' alliance and mine owners from interfering with any deported miners who return to the Cripple Creek district.

Aged Woman Released From Prison.

Detroit, July 30.—Mrs. Clarissa Rice, the aged Muskegon woman sent to the house of correction some time ago on conviction on the charge of receiving stolen money, has been released, Gov. Bliss having granted a pardon.

"SOME PUMPKINS."

Adrian Leads in Production of Wire Fence in U. S.

Adrian, Mich., Aug. 1.—As a fence producing center Adrian and Lenawee county at the present writing are "some pumpkins"—in fact they've figures to prove that they lead the United States on wire fences.

J. Wallace Page was the pioneer fence man, and his success, slow at the start, to be sure, egged on machinists and people of an inventive turn of mind. Then began a great local era of experimenting. Many inventors made themselves poor in a mad effort to make a fortune in fences. Others have succeeded so well that the big fish bought them out and gobbled them; others have struck it rich.

The patents that are granted in this business are on the machine that makes or weaves the fence, not on the fence itself. There are now no less than fifteen wire fence weaving machines in the country, mostly in the city of Adrian, all protected by letters patent. Six of these machines are turning out their product in Adrian alone, one in Tecumseh, one in Hudson and one in Weston. Stock companies are forming for some of the others. It is coming to a point through the country that when a farmer speaks of fences the person addressed immediately thinks of Adrian. Competition is growing keen. All the factories here show all the earmarks of prosperity and are continually broadening the fields of their operations.

Your Heart
May Be Weak. One Person in Four Has a Weak Heart.

One of the surest signs of a weak heart is shortness of breath after exercise. Your heart is not able to pump the blood fast enough to your lungs.

Some of the other symptoms of Heart Trouble are: Pains in the Side, Back and Shoulder; Fainting or Weak Spells; Dry Cough; Swelling of Feet and Ankles; Cold Feet or Hands.

No one can afford to allow a weak heart to go without medicine, because weak heart means poor circulation, and poor circulation means weak lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, etc.

If, therefore, you suspect heart trouble, begin taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. The Heart Cure will do you good, as it is a splendid tonic for the blood and nerves, and will revitalize your entire system.

Finally, remember, Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold under a guarantee that the first bottle will do you good. If it doesn't—your money back.

"I was afflicted with heart trouble for three years. I would be apparently all right, and without a moment's warning would fall as though shot. The attacks were frequent, and a terrible dread possessed me, as I never knew when or where, nor under what conditions I would be attacked, and whether I would survive them. I consulted and was treated by some of the most eminent physicians of the state. Not finding relief from this source, I began taking Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and began to improve at once. I used ten bottles, which entirely cured me, as I have not had an attack for five years."—MRS. JOHN DRESBACK, Leipsic, O.

WON'T DELIVER ICE

Teamsters Go to Aid of the Stock Yard Strikers.

RETAIL MERCHANT HARD HIT

No Ice to Keep His Meat From Spoiling—Chicago Will Go Meat Hungry—Serious Riot—Two Policemen Hurt—Many Arrests.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—The threatened spread of the stock yards strike to outside industries came last night, when an order was issued by the teamsters' union prohibiting drivers of ice wagons from making any deliveries to retail merchants who since the packing house teamsters went on strike have been hauling meat from the yards in their own wagons.

As the refrigerators in the meat markets do not hold enough ice to last longer than forty-eight hours, if the order cutting off the supply of ice can be enforced it means that the majority of people in Chicago will be compelled to go on short rations as far as meat is concerned. The officials of the teamsters' union have appointed pickets to watch the meat markets all over the city, and these men have been instructed to see that the boycott is carried out to the limit.

View of the Stock Yards.

Outside of the decision of the striking unions to extend the strike to the icemen, there is little change in the situation at the stock yards.

While admitting that the packers are doing considerable business, the strike leaders declare that the employers are losing money on every animal that is slaughtered, as the unskilled workers waste all the by-products. It is on this waste that the strikers base their hopes for final success, arguing that it is only a matter of time until the employers will become tired of losing money and will eventually make overtures to the unions for a settlement.

Bunch of Rioters Arrested.

In a riot which broke out at the yards last night two policemen were injured and twenty-eight rioters were arrested after having been beaten into subjection. The trouble started when five strike-breakers from one of the machine shops in one of the packing plants were leaving the yards and tried to board a street car to go to their homes. Despite the signals of the strike-breakers, the motormen on twelve cars refused to stop and a crowd standing near by, seeing a good opportunity to get revenge on the non-union men, commenced hurling stones at them. Two policemen who were guarding the entrance went to the assistance of the non-union men, but the rioters by this time had grown in numbers so rapidly that fully a thousand angry men were trying to get at the strike-breakers. Retreating into the machine shop, the policemen sent in a riot call for reinforcements. When the additional policemen arrived a charge was made on the rioters. The crowd was armed with bricks and stones, and when the policemen started forward every man who could find room enough threw a brick. Two of the bricks went true to the mark and two of the policemen dropped in their tracks.

STEARNS DIDN'T GET IT

Old Line Democrats Would Not Accept Him.

FERRIS OF BIG RAPIDS GOT IT

Wild Scenes In Convention Hall—Wayne and Kent Supported Ludington Man—Sweet Wasn't Mentioned In Convention Hall.

THE TICKET.

Governor—
Woodbridge N. Ferris, Big Rapids.
Lieutenant-Governor—
Hiram B. Hudson, Mancelona.
Secretary of State—
Hiram T. Balch, Kalamazoo.
State Treasurer—
Edwin R. Smith, Clinton County.
Auditor-General—
George A. Curry, Ironwood.
Supt. of Public Instruction—
John E. Mealley, Plymouth.
Land Commissioner—
Henry McCarty, Newaygo.
Member Board of Education—
H. Kirk White, Owosso.
Presidential Electors-at-Large—
Thomas F. Carroll, Grand Rapids; Gilbert M. Stark, Saginaw.
Attorney-General—
F. O. Gaffney, Missaukee County.
Judges of Supreme Court—
Allen C. Adsit, Grand Rapids; Clinton Roberts, Flint; Thomas A. Boyle, Ann Arbor.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 4.—Woodbridge S. Ferris of Big Rapids, principal of the Ferris institute, has been nominated for governor by the Democratic state convention, he receiving 412 votes to 329 for Justus S. Stearns of Ludington.

It came at the end of a roll call in which Ferris, backed by the old line Democrats, was lined up against Justus S. Stearns, backed mainly by Wayne and Kent counties. The excitement was intense for three hours.

The delegates were continuously on their feet in a veritable riot. The chairman of the convention vainly rapped for order. His gavel was useless against the shouts and cries of the excited representatives. It was old liners against the younger men who backed Stearns.

After an effort to secure an adjournment, which failed by a narrow margin, a roll call was secured on the two candidates before the convention. As it progressed county after county lined up under the Ferris banner. The majority more than offset the 110 votes waiting for Stearns in Wayne county at the foot of the roll. The result of that call was never announced.

Sweet Was Sidetracked.

The boom for Mayor Edwin F. Sweet of this city was not heard from inside the convention hall. That was sidetracked early in the morning, the stalwarts seeming to desire some other man with whom to buck the Stearns adherents. This Stearns boom proved to be the feature and the sensation of the convention. It elicited an earnest appeal from old time Democrats from all over the state, exhorting the delegates to stand by their party. At the same time it was vigorously supported by delegates from all sections of the state. The argument which worked against him fatally was that he was not a Democrat.

Electrified His Audience.

Another feature of the day's work was the address of ex-United States Senator Charles A. Towne. He spoke for two hours in the afternoon and kept his audience in close attention during the entire address. Towne's polished oratory often took flights which kept his audience spellbound.

Two recesses had to be taken during the day in order to wind up the work of the convention. One was taken at noon to permit the committees to frame their reports and another at 7 o'clock after the nomination for governor had been made.

The platform indorses the platform and candidates of the national convention recently held at St. Louis.

It favors the nomination of all candidates for office by direct vote of the people and a constitutional amendment for the election of railroad and tax commissioners by a direct vote of the people and for the election of United States senators by popular vote.

The convention reconvened at 8 o'clock last evening and nominated the balance of the ticket.

Shortly after midnight the convention adjourned in a row after laying the resolution for the nomination of Edwin F. Henderson of Detroit, for chairman of the state central committee, on the table.

Ryan Training For Fitz.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Aug. 4.—Tommy Ryan, the middleweight champion, spending the summer on his large fruit farm near this city, has assurances that Fitz will come to terms and fight him at 'Frisco next fall for the middleweight championship. He has commenced active work in training for the bout. For the past few days Ryan has been taking mineral baths at the springs in this city and he has summoned a special trainer, Henry Schaus, to put him in good condition.

Autoists Reach Toledo.

Toledo, Aug. 4.—The American Automobile association party, enroute from New York to St. Louis, arrived in this city from Cleveland Wednesday afternoon. J. M. Waters, No. 50, driving a Panhard machine, was the first to arrive, reaching the Boody house at 1 p. m. Hurlburt, No. 38, with a Winton machine, followed a half hour later, and Huss, No. 53, with a Cadillac, arrived about 2 o'clock. Thirty-four machines, including the party which joined the tourists at Cleveland, arrived during the afternoon. No accidents were reported. Last night the visitors were entertained at dinner by the Pope-Toledo people. The tourists go as far as South Bend, Ind., today.

Russia Concedes to Great Britain.

London, Aug. 4.—In order to avoid complications which might have the effect of extending the area of war, Russia has made a partial concession to Great Britain in connection with the Dardanelles question. Replying to British representations regarding the closure of the Dardanelles to vessels of the volunteer fleet intended for warlike uses, as well as warships, Count Benckendorff, Russian ambassador to Great Britain, it is learned, has advised Foreign Secretary Lansdowne that his government consents to waive the right to send ships through the straits during the present war.

Germans Repulse Herreros.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—Lieut.-Gen. Von Trotha, commander-in-chief of the forces in German Southwest Africa, wires that the second company of the second field regiment was attacked at 8 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 2 at Okateiteti by 150 Herreros. The Herreros were repulsed, leaving thirty dead. The Germans lost three wounded besides two natives killed and one wounded. Gen. Trotha had encircled the Herreros in the Waterberg hills, and it is probable that the attack was an effort to break through the German lines.

Loomis' Body Arrives.

New York, Aug. 4.—The body of F. Kent Loomis, who is supposed to have lost his life from the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II. off the English coast on June 19 last, was brought here on the American line steamer St. Paul from Southampton and Cherbourg Wednesday. Francis B. Loomis, assistant secretary of state, a brother of the dead man, is expected to take charge of the body and remove it to Parkersburg, W. Va., for interment. The officers of the St. Paul stated positively that Mrs. Maybrick was not on board.

Railroad Torpedoes Exploded.

Pittsburg, Aug. 4.—With a report that could be heard over a mile distant, several thousand railroad torpedoes, packed for shipment in the yards of the Versailles Railway Signal Co.'s plant at Versailles, exploded. Three of the buildings of the plant were completely demolished, three employes were seriously injured and every window in the vicinity was broken. The cause of the explosion is not yet known.

Nothing on the market equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy.

This fact is well known to druggists everywhere and nine out of ten will give their customers this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr. Obe Witmer, a prominent druggist of Joplin, Mo., in a circular to his customers, says: "There is nothing on the market in the way of patent medicine which equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy for bowel complaints. We sell and recommend this preparation." For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

Mayor Vetoed Proposed Bond Issue.

Port Huron, Mich., Aug. 4.—Mayor A. A. Graves has vetoed the resolution allowing an issuance of $33,000 in bonds for the paving of Water street. The matter came before the council Monday night for the award of the contract. The city's limit for bonded indebtedness has been practically reached and within the last two years the taxes have increased $5 on the thousand and a general remonstrance has gone up.

Woman Drugged and Robbed.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Aug. 4.—Mrs. Almeda Ewers and mother, Mrs. Louisa Sager, aged 84, who lives together at Coloma, were drugged with chloroform in the morning and their house robbed of $8. The thieves were probably familiar with the place and were looking for $80 that the woman had received a day or two before from the sale of some cattle.

Tax Rate Much Lower.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 4.—The state tax levy this winter will be $1,054,328.71 less than last year, when $4,003,024.82 was raised. The rate this year will be $1.86 per $1,000 of valuation, as compared with $2.53 last year.

FIVE MINERS SUFFOCATED.

Appalling Accident in Gold Mine at Canadian Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 3.—A serious accident at the Shakespeare gold mine, Webbwood, on the Soon branch of the C. P. R. R., east of here, resulted in the suffocation of five men. The dead: Peter Entid, Little Current; John Walton, John Difhby, Webbwood; Peter Grant, Markslay; one unknown man.

Full particulars of the accident have not yet reached the Soo, but it is understood that it was the result of the men entering the shaft too soon after a blast, the result being that they were suffocated before the fumes dispersed.

President Gives Them Liberty.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 3.—Edmund and David H. Johnson, the two famous counterfeiters who were convicted in the United States courts in Detroit Dec. 22, 1898, have been released from the house of correction. The brothers were to have served nine years, but President Roosevelt had the sentence commuted to seven years. As they have already served this length of time they are now freed. The Johnson brothers were members of one of cleverest gangs of counterfeiters that ever operated in this country. The plates captured at the time the men were arrested were for making the Windom and Hancock $2 bills, and they were so nearly perfect that there were few banks in Michigan and adjoining states that had not accepted them.

Angell Says Russians Did Right.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 3.—President Angell of the university, gave a lecture last night before the summer school students upon the points of international law involved in the war between Russia and Japan. He contends that the Russians were justified in seizing British vessels in the Red sea, as they had on board arms consigned to Hong Kong, and the Russians had good reasons for suspecting that the ammunition would be reshipped at that port and taken to Japan. It is the opinion of President Angell that more than one European power is more than passively interested in the struggle and that each side has heavy backing.

Apply For Their Old Jobs.

Kansas City, Aug. 3.—Many packing house strikers applied for their old positions Tuesday and most of them were re-employed. The packers appear to be daily growing stronger. The managers of the Armour and Fowler plants say that they have about the same number of men at work as when the strike was declared.

Girl Swallowed Stones For Fun.

Holly, Mich., Aug. 3.—Carrie Grover, aged 17, died suddenly yesterday. A postmortem examination revealed 34 stones in her stomach. Some of them were as large as robins' eggs. She had been swallowing the stones for several days, thinking it fun.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. CHAPTER I.

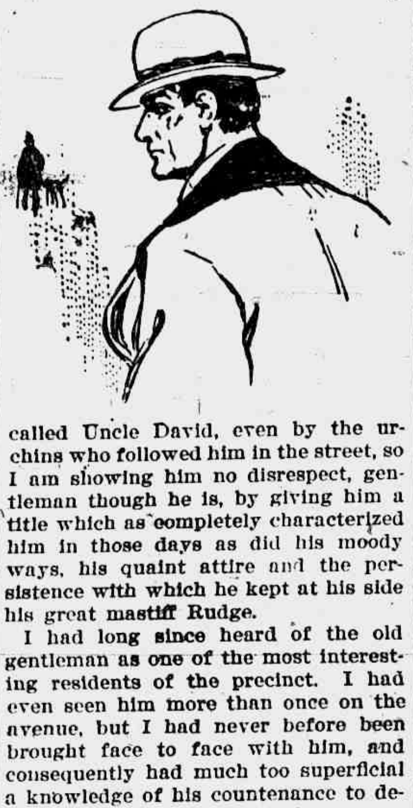
FOR a detective whose talents had not been recognized at headquarters I possessed an ambition which, fortunately for my standing with the lieutenant of the precinct, had not yet been expressed in words. Though I had small reason for expecting great things of myself, I had always cherished the hope that if a big case came my way I should be found able to do something with it—something more, that is, than I had seen accomplished by the police of the District of Columbia since I had had the honor of being one of their number. Therefore, when I found myself plunged, almost without my own volition, into the Jeffrey-Moore affair, I believed that the opportunity had come whereby I might distinguish myself.

It had complications, this Jeffrey-Moore affair; greater ones than the public ever knew, keen as the interest in it ran both in and out of Washington.

This is why I propose to tell the story of this great tragedy from my own standpoint, even if in so doing I risk the charge of attempting to exploit my own connection with this celebrated case. In its course I encountered as many disappointments as triumphs and brought out of the affair a heart as sore as it was satisfied, for I am a lover of women and—

But I am keeping you from the story itself.

I was at the station house the night Uncle David came in. He was always called Uncle David, even by the urchins who followed him in the street, so I am showing him no disrespect, gentleman though he is, by giving him a title which as completely characterized him in those days as did his moody ways, his quaint attire and the persistence with which he kept at his side his great mastiff Rudge.



The detective

I had long since heard of the old gentleman as one of the most interesting residents of the precinct. I had even seen him more than once on the avenue, but I had never before been brought face to face with him, and consequently had much too superficial a knowledge of his countenance to determine offhand whether the uneasy light in his small gray eyes was natural to them or simply the result of present excitement. But when he began to talk I detected an unmistakable tremor in his tones and decided that he was in a state of suppressed agitation, though he appeared to have nothing more alarming to impart than the fact that he had seen a light burning in some house presumably empty.

It was all so trivial that I gave him but scant attention till he let a name fall which caused me to prick up my ears and even to put in a word. "The Moore house," he had said.

"The Moore house?" I repeated in amazement. "Are you speaking of the Moore house?"

A thousand recollections came with the name.

"What other?" he grumbled, directing toward me a look as keen as it was impatient. "Do you think that I would bother myself long about a house I had no interest in, or drag Rudge from his warm rug to save some ungrateful neighbor from a possible burglary? No, it is my house which some rogue has chosen to enter. That is," he suavely corrected, as he saw surprise in every eye, "the house which the law will give me, if anything ever happens to that chit of a girl whom my brother left behind him."

Growling some words at the dog, who showed a decided inclination to lie down where he was, the old man made for the door and in another moment would have been in the street, if I had not stepped after him.

"You are a Moore and live in or near that old house?" I asked.

The surprise with which he met this question daunted me a little.

"How long have you been in Washington, I should like to ask?" was his acrid retort.

"Oh, some five months."

His good nature, or what passed for such in this irascible old man, returned in an instant, and he curtly but not unkindly remarked:

"You haven't learned much in that time." Then, with a nod more ceremonious than many another man's bow, he added, with sudden dignity: "I am of the elder branch and live in the cottage fronting the old place. I am the only resident on the block. When you have lived here longer you will know why that especial neighborhood is not a favorite one with those who cannot boast of the Moore blood. For the present, let us attribute the bad name that it holds to—malaria." And with a significant hitch of his lean shoulders, which set in undulating motion every fold of the old fashioned cloak he wore, he started again for the door.

But my curiosity was by this time roused to fever heat. I knew more about this house than he gave me credit for. No one who had read the papers of late, much less a man connected with the police, could help being well informed in all the details of its remarkable history. What I had failed to know was his close relationship to the family whose name for the last two weeks had been in every mouth.

"Wait!" I called out. "You say that you live opposite the Moore house. You can then tell me"—

But he had no mind to stop for any gossip.

"It was all in the papers," he called back. "Read them. But first be sure to find out who has struck a light in the house that we all know has not even a caretaker in it."

It was good advice. My duty and my curiosity both led me to follow it.

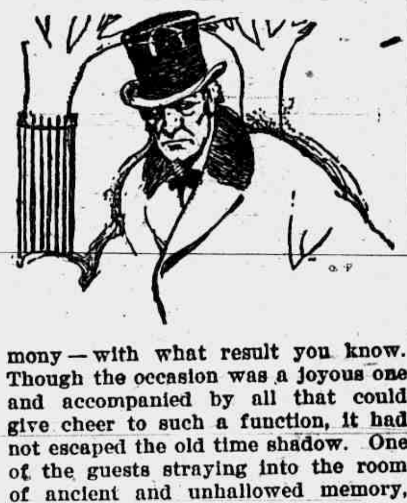
Perhaps you have heard of the distinguishing feature of this house. If so, you do not need my explanations. But if, for any reason, you are ignorant of the facts which within a very short time have set a final seal of horror upon this old historic dwelling, then you will be glad to read what has made and will continue to make the Moore house in Washington one to be pointed at in daylight and shunned after dark, not only by superstitious colored folk, but by all who are susceptible to the most ordinary emotions of fear and dread.

It was standing when Washington was a village. It antedates the capitol and the White House. Built by a man of wealth, it bears to this day the impress of the large ideas and quiet elegance of colonial times; but the shadow which speedily fell across it made it a marked place even in those early days. While it has always escaped the hackneyed epithet of "haunted," families that have moved in have as quickly moved out, giving as their excuse that no happiness was to be found there and that sleep was impossible under its roof. That there was some reason for this lack of rest within walls which were not without their tragic reminiscences all must acknowledge. Death had often occurred there, and while this fact can be stated in regard to most old houses, it is not often that one can say, as in this case, that it was invariably sudden and invariably of one character.

A lifeless man, lying outstretched on a certain hearthstone, might be found once in a house and awaken no special comment, but when this same discovery has been made twice, if not thrice, during the history of a single dwelling, one might surely be pardoned a distrust of its seemingly homelike appointments and discern in its slowly darkening walls the presence of an evil which if left to itself might perish in the natural decay of the place, but which, if met and challenged, might strike again and make another blot on its thrice crimsoned hearthstone.

But these are old fables which I should hardly presume to mention had it not been for the recent occurrence which has recalled them to all men's minds and given to this long empty and slowly crumbling building an importance which has spread its fame from one end of the country to the other. I refer to the tragedy attending the wedding lately celebrated there.

Veronica Moore, rich, pretty and willful, had long cherished a strange liking for this frowning old home of her ancestors and, at the most critical time in her life, conceived the idea of proving to herself and to society at large that no real ban lay upon it save in the imagination of the superstitious. So, being about to marry the choice of her young heart, she caused this house to be opened for the wedding ceremony—with what result you know. Though the occasion was a joyous one and accompanied by all that could give cheer to such a function, it had not escaped the old time shadow. One of the guests straying into the room of ancient and unhallowed memory, the one room which had not been thrown open to the crowd, had been found within five minutes of the ceremony lying on its dolorous hearthstone dead, and, though the bride was spared a knowledge of the dreadful fact till the holy words were said, a panic had seized the guests and emptied the house as suddenly and completely as though the plague had been discovered there.



Uncle David

This is why I hastened to follow Uncle David when he told me that all was not right in this house of tragic memories.

CHAPTER II.

THOUGH past seventy, Uncle David was a brisk walker, and on this night in particular he sped along so fast that he was half way down H street by the time I had turned the corner of New Hampshire avenue.

His gaunt but not ungraceful figure, merged in that of the dog trotting closely at his heels, was the only moving object in the dreary vista of this the most desolate block in Washington. As I neared the building I was so impressed by the surrounding stillness that I was ready to vow that the shadows were denser here than elsewhere and that the few gas lamps which flickered at intervals down the street shone with a more feeble ray than in any other equal length of street in Washington.

Meanwhile the shadow of Uncle David had vanished from the pavement. He had paused beside a fence which, hung with vines, surrounded and nearly hid from sight the little cottage he had mentioned as the only house on the block with the exception of the great Moore place; in other words, his own home.

As I came abreast of him I heard him muttering, not to his dog, as was his custom, but to himself. In fact, the dog was not to be seen, and this desertion on the part of his constant companion seemed to add to his disturbance and affect him beyond all reason. I could distinguish these words among the many he directed toward the unseen animal:

"You're a knowing one—too knowing! You see that loosened shutter over the way as plainly as I do; but you're a coward to slink away from it. I don't. I face the thing, and, what's more, I'll show you yet what I think of a dog that can't stand his ground and help his old master out with some show of courage. Creaks, does it? Well, let it creak. I don't mind its creaking, but I should like to know whose hand— Hello! You've come, have you?" This to me. I had just stepped up to him.

"Yes, I've come. Now, what is the matter with the Moore house?"

He must have expected the question, yet his answer was a long time coming. His voice, too, sounded strained, and was pitched quite too high to be natural. But he evidently did not expect me to show surprise at his manner.

"Look at that window over there!" he cried at last. "That one with the slightly open shutter! Watch and you will see that shutter move. There, it creaked! Didn't you hear it?"

A growl—it was more like a moan—came from the porch behind us. Instantly the old gentleman turned and, with a gesture as fierce as it was instinctive, shouted out:

Rudge

"Be still there! If you haven't the courage to face a blowing shutter, keep your jaws shut and don't let every fellow who happens along know what a fool you are. I declare," he maundered on, half to himself and half to me, "that dog is getting old. He can't be trusted any more. He forsakes his master just when"— The rest was lost in his throat, which rattled with something more than impatient anger.

Meanwhile I had been attentively scrutinizing the house thus pointedly brought to my notice. I had seen it many times before, but, as it happened, had never stopped to look at it when the huge trees surrounding it were shrouded in darkness. The black hollow of its disused portal looked out from shadows which acquired some of their somberness from the tragic memories connected with its empty void.

Its aspect was scarcely reassuring. Not that superstition lent its terrors to the lonely scene, but that through the blank panes of window, alternately appearing and disappearing from view as the shutter pointed out by Uncle David blew to and fro in the wind. I saw or was persuaded that I saw a beam of light which argued an unknown presence within walls which had so lately been declared unfit for any man's habitation.

"You are right," I now remarked to the uneasy figure at my side. "Some one is prowling through the house yonder. Can it possibly be Mrs. Jeffrey or her husband?"

"At night and with no gas in the house? Hardly."

The words were natural, but the voice was not. Neither was his manner quite suited to the occasion. Giving him another sly glance and marking how uneasily he edged away from me in the darkness, I cried out more cheerily than he possibly expected:

"I will summon another officer, and we three will just slip across and investigate."

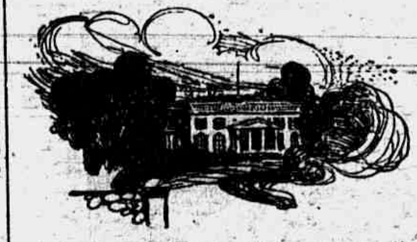
"Not I!" was his violent rejoinder as he swung open a gate concealed in the vines behind him. "The Jeffreys would resent my intrusion if they ever happened to hear of it."

"Indeed!" I laughed, sounding my whistle. Then, soberly enough, for I was more than a little struck by the oddity of his behavior and thought him as well worth investigation as the house in which he showed such an interest: "You shouldn't let that count. Come and see what's up in the house you are so ready to call yours."

But he only drew farther into the shade.

"I have no business over there," he objected. "Veronica and I have never been on good terms. I was not even invited to her wedding, though I live within a stone's throw of the door. No; I have done my duty in calling attention to that light, and whether it's the bullseye of a burglar—perhaps you don't know that there are rare treasures on the bookshelves of the great library—or whether it is the fantastic illumination which frightens fool folks and some fool dogs, I'm done with it and done with you, too, for to-night."

As he said this he mounted to his door and disappeared under the vines, hanging like a shroud over the front of the house. In another moment the rich peal of an organ sounded from within, followed by the prolonged howling of Rudge, who, either from a too keen appreciation of his master's music or in utter disapproval of it—no one, I believe, has ever been able to make out which—was accustomed to add this undesirable accompaniment to every strain from the old man's hand. The playing did not cease because of these outrageous discords. On the contrary, it increased in force and volume, causing Rudge's expression of pain or pleasure to increase also. The result can be imagined. As I listened to the intolerable howls of the dog cutting clean through the exquisite harmonies of his master I wondered if the shadows cast by the frowning structure of the great Moore house were alone to blame for Uncle David's lack of neighbors.



The Moore house

Meantime Hibbard, who was the first to hear my signal, came running down the block. As he joined me the light, or what we chose to call a light, appeared in the window toward which my attention had been directed.

"Some one's in the Moore house!" I declared, in as matter of fact tones as I could command.

Hibbard is a big fellow, the biggest fellow on the force, and, so far as my own experience with him had gone, as stolid and imperturbable as the best of us. But after a quick glance at the towering walls of the lonely building he showed decided embarrassment and seemed in no haste to cross the street.

With difficulty I concealed my disgust.

"Come," I cried, stepping down from the curb, "let's go over and investigate. The property is valuable, the furnishings are handsome, and there is no end of costly books on the library shelves. You have matches and a revolver?"

He nodded, quietly showing me first the one, then the other; then, with a sheepish air which he endeavored to carry off with a laugh, he cried:

"Have you use for 'em? If so, I'm quite willing to part with 'em for a half hour."

I was more than amazed at this evidence of weakness in one I had always considered as tough and impenetrable as flint rock. Thrusting back the hand with which he had half drawn into view the weapon I had mentioned, I put on my sternest air and led the way across the street. As I did so, I tossed back the words:

"We may come upon a gang. You do not wish me to face some half dozen men alone?"

"You won't find any half dozen men there," was his muttered reply. Nevertheless he followed me, though with less spirit than I liked, considering that my own manner was in a measure assumed and that I was not without sympathy—well, let me say, for a dog who preferred howling a dismal accompaniment to his master's music to keeping open watch over a neighborhood dominated by the unhallowed structure I now proposed to enter.

At the first touch the door yielded. It was not even latched.

"So! so!" thought I. "This is no fool's job; some one is in the house."

I had provided myself with an ordinary pocket lantern, and, when I had convinced Hibbard that I fully meant to enter the house and discover for myself who had taken advantage of the popular prejudice against it to make a secret refuge or rendezvous of its decayed old rooms, I took out this lantern and held it in readiness.

"We may strike a hornet's nest," I explained to Hibbard, whose feet seemed very heavy even for a man of his size. "But I'm going in and so are you. Only, let me suggest first that we take off our shoes. We can hide them in these bushes."

"I always catch cold when I walk barefooted," mumbled my brave companion; but receiving no reply, he drew off his shoes and dropped them beside mine in the cluster of stark bushes which figure so prominently in the newspaper illustrations that have lately appeared. Then he took out his revolver, and, cocking it, stood waiting, while I gave a cautious push to the door.

Darkness! Silence!

Rather had I confronted a light and heard some noise, even if it had been the ominous click to which we are so well accustomed. Hibbard seemed to share my feelings, though from an entirely different cause.

"Pistols and lanterns are no good here," he grumbled. "What we want at this blessed minute is a priest with a sprinkling of holy water; and I for one"—

He was actually sliding off.

With a smothered oath I drew him back.

"See here!" I cried, "you're not a babe in arms. Come on or— Well, what now?"

He had clinched my arm and was pointing to the door which was slowly swaying to behind us.

"Notice that," he whispered. "No key in the lock! Men use keys, but"—

My patience could stand no more. With a shake I rid myself of his clutch, muttering:

"There, go! You're too much of a fool for me. I'm in for it alone." And in proof of my determination I turned the slide of the lantern and flashed the light through the house.

The effect was ghostly; but while the fellow at my side breathed hard, he did not take advantage of my words to make his escape, as I half expected him to. The truth is, I was startled myself, but I was able to hide the fact and to whisper back to him fiercely:

"Hush!"

I had just heard something.

For a moment we stood breathless, but as the sound was not repeated I concluded that it was the creaking of that faraway shutter. Certainly there was nothing moving near us.

"Shall we go upstairs?" whispered Hibbard.

"Not till we have made sure that all is right down here."

A door stood slightly ajar on our left.

Pushing it open, we looked in. A well furnished parlor was before us.

"Here's where the wedding took place," remarked Hibbard, straining his head over my shoulder.

There were signs of this wedding on every side. Walls and ceilings had been hung with garlands, and these still clung to the mantelpiece and over and around the various doorways. The clock occupying the center of the mantelpiece alone gave evidence of life. It had been wound for the wedding and had not yet run down. Its tick-tick came faint enough, however, through the darkness, as if it, too, had lost heart and would soon lapse into the deadly quiet of its ghostly surroundings.

"It's—it's funeral-like," chattered Hibbard.

He was right; I felt as if I were shutting the lid of a coffin when I finally closed the door.

Our next steps took us into the rear, where we found little to detain us, and then, with a certain dread fully justified by the event, we made for the door defined by the two Corinthian columns.

It was ajar like the rest, and, call me coward or call me fool—I have called Hibbard both, you will remember—I found that it cost me an effort to lay my hand on its mahogany panels. Danger, if danger there was, lurked here, and while I had never known myself to quail before any ordinary antagonist, I, like others of my kind, have no especial fondness for unseen and mysterious perils.

These Will Stay In Prison.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 4.—Pardons have been denied the following: Joseph Antonio Deporter, sent from Kent county for rape; Elias Taylor and William Benjamin, Montcalm county, rape; Charles W. Hewitt, Hillsdale, horse stealing; William Diamond, Allegan, rape.

Dogs Kill Many Sheep.

Holly, Mich., Aug. 3.—Sheep killing dogs are raising havoc among the farmers in this part of the state. One Ortonville farmer had thirty sheep killed in one night and numerous other instances where smaller numbers have been killed are reported.

"Heat Devils" After Dowie.

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 4.—J. Alexander Dowie, the prophet, with 150 of his followers have arrived at Ben Mac Dhui, Dowie's palatial summer home at White lake. The Zion City band of thirty-two pieces accompanied the leader of the Christian Catholic church and while awaiting the boat marched through the business section playing Dowie hymns. In conversation Dowie stated that the heat devils in Chicago drove him to seek seclusion.

State Guards Go Into Camp.

Ludington, Mich., Aug. 4.—The annual state encampment of the Michigan National Guard begins today on the shores of Lake Michigan, a mile or so from Ludington. It will continue ten days. The entire forty companies have orders to be in camp not later than 9 o'clock Thursday night. The brigade will break camp and start for home Saturday morning, Aug. 13. The First regiment, which comprises the eight Detroit companies and the Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Port Huron and Monroe companies, started from Detroit for camp at 6 o'clock this morning under command of Col. Harrah. Two companies of the First regulars from Fort Wayne, commanded by Captain Swaine, will participate in the maneuvers. Gov. Bliss will be in camp for several days.

Fire destroyed three buildings at the Cement factory at Cement City Wednesday morning. Loss is estimated at $75,000. The company hope to have them rebuilt inside of 60 days.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly say "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They can't as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by John J. Orr.

Of the plays that one sees in a lifetime, he can count on his fingers the ones that combine high literary merit with dramatic value. "A Royal Slave" is one of these few and it also adds deep heart interest and the most beautiful scenic surroundings with which a play could be embellished as the scenes are laid in Mexico, the land of sunshine and flowers, of palms and fountains. No play has appeared in this country for years of which the press speaks in such unstinted praise. This is one of the best tests of a great play.

BASE BALL

Two Games result in Victories for Tecumseh.

CLINTON VS TECUMSEH

Sports Day at Clinton. Montpelier played here Yesterday.

About 1500 people witnessed the second of a series of five games, in Clinton yesterday between Clinton and Tecumseh in which Tecumseh carried off the honors, winning the game by a score of 8 to 3.

Calhoun and LaBelle were the opposing pitchers. Calhoun gave four bases on balls in the sixth inning, forcing one man home. The Clintonites failed to connect with the ball but seven times, and a number of wild throws around the bases aided their defeat. Ten hits were made off Calhoun, two apiece for Bell, Sebastian and LaBelle.

Following is the score:

Clinton	AB	R	H	PO	A
Gillen c	5	0	0	10	1

Tomorrow afternoon the local team play the Wheelman of Detroit, for a purse.

Monday the Mt. Clemens team play the local team here. Game will be called at 3:00 p. m. A good game is expected.

"A Royal Slave."

The opening event of importance at the New Bradley opera house will be the engagement of Gordon and Bennett's production of "A Royal Slave" and the management of the theatre is to be congratulated upon securing an attraction of such magnitude. The play, which deals with life in old Mexico, at the most romantic time in its history during the reign of the unhappy Maximilian, abounds in many thrilling situations, at the same time containing a beautiful love story of interest.

RUNAWAY.

A lively time in which JOHN BENZLER

Was seriously injured. Horse became frightened at an automobile.

Wednesday evening John Benzler in company with Mr. Iveson, who resides on Mrs. J. D. Shull's farm west of town and for whom Mr. Benzler works, drove to town and over to S. W. Temple's grocery. Just as Mr. Iveson got out of the carriage, the horse became frightened at an automobile and started across the Union park at a lively pace. Mr. Benzler could not manage the horse and as he turned into the road, was thrown with such a force against a tree that he was unconscious for several hours.

Dr. Conklin was summoned and the injured man was taken to the doctor's house, where he was examined. He was found to have no broken bones, but was badly cut about the face, chest and right shoulder. When he was restored to consciousness he was removed to Mr. Iveson's home.

His father, Chas. Benzler, of Iron Creek, was sent for and arrived here yesterday morning, but was obliged to return home at noon. Mr. Benzler is resting quite comfortably today and it is thought he will pull through all right.

When Visiting the World's Fair, Ride on the Ferris Wheel.

The great Expositions held during the last fifteen years have produced two marvelous examples of engineering and constructive ability. One of these, the Eiffel Tower, was designed and built by a Frenchman at Paris for the Exposition of 1889; the other, the Ferris Wheel, was designed and built by the late Geo. W. G. Ferris for the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago, in 1893. When you come to the Fair, do not fail to ride upon it.

THE CHURCHES.

Regular services at the Methodist church Sunday. Miss Brown of Chicago, will assist the choir. Union service in the evening.

The pastor will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning on the subject the "Right Choice." At the union service in the evening, Rev. W. F. Jones will preach on the subject, "Chaff or Wheat."

LITERARY NOTES.

Graphic character sketches or the two candidates for the Vice-Presidency, Senator Chas. W. Fairbanks and the Hon. Henry G. Davis, appear in the August Review of Reviews well illustrated with portraits and views of the homes of these gentlemen. The article on Davis is by Chas. S. Alberts and the one on Fairbanks by Thomas R. Shipp.

For sheer timeliness, the frontispiece of the August Critic could not easily be beaten. It is a picture of Judge Alton B. Parker, seated on the lawn of his country home at Esopus, N. Y., with a copy of the March Critic in his hand. An examination of the files of the magazine shows that the number in question contained President Roosevelt's paper on "The Mission of the Republican Party," which has since appeared as the introduction to a work in two volumes, entitled "The Republican Party: 1854—1904," by Francis Curtis. The photograph was taken on July 7th, while the Democratic Convention which nominated Judge Parker for the Presidency was in session.

Sports Day at Clinton.

Sports day at Clinton Wednesday was a great success in every particular. With a large crowd and pleasant weather it could but be that way. On Chicago street the main attractions were Gay and wife, sleight of hand performers, Stilson Brothers, high barrel jumpers and acrobats and the Adrian comedy team.

Two balloon ascensions by the famous Cole Brothers, one in the morning and one in the evening. Besides these there were the usual street fakers, merry-go-round, swings and stands of all descriptions. The Clinton, Tipton and Manchester bands furnished the music.

The sports pulled off on Chicago street resulted as follows:

220 yard dash—First, Bell, Tecumseh; second, Conklin, Manchester; third, Meade, Tecumseh; time 22½ seconds.

Shot put—First, Pritchard, Tecumseh; second, Rogers, Clinton; distance 23 feet, 7 inches.

Potato race—First, Smith, Clinton; second, Pender, Adrian.

100 yard dash—First, Barnes, Addison; second, Pender, Adrian; third, Conklin, Manchester; time, 11 seconds.

High jump—First, Bell, Tecumseh; second, Pender, Adrian; height, 5 feet 8 inches.

100 yard hurdle—First, Knickerbocker, Tecumseh; second, Bell, Tecumseh.

Fat men's race—First, Hensey; second, Rogers, both of Clinton.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abcess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright. Drug store price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Be dignified and people will call you uppish.

Concerning

THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

2 Tim. 4:2 Cor. 1 9:16

XXIV

We have seen that the fundamental question with regard to the Ministry in the Kingdom of God is that of Authority. No man can possibly administer the Sacraments in the Kingdom unless he has received Authority so to do. Such Authority, we saw further, must be derived from the King Himself THROUGH THE APOSTLES. For to them the King committed all the work of His Kingdom—promising at the same time, to be with them in their conduct of its affairs (Matt. 28;18-20).

Obviously one of the chief duties of the Apostles would be to arrange for the proper administration of the Sacraments in the Kingdom after their own decease. This would require not merely the appointment of certain persons to administer the Sacraments, but also the conferring upon them (or upon others) the power to appoint their successors. The Apostles could not appoint persons who were not yet living. All that they could do would be to appoint for the next generation (their own immediate successors) and see that they were empowered to do the same for the next succeeding generation. That is to say, one of the chief powers handed on by the Apostles was the power to ordain, (i. e. appoint) Ministers in the Kingdom of God. We have now to consider what form of Ministry the Apostles appointed for the Kingdom and how they provided for the continuance of this Ministry throughout the ages.

Observe how utterly impossible it is to suppose for a moment that the King Himself did not give the Apostles all instruction necessary in this connection. The Ministry being, as we have seen, in one sense the most important institution of all in the Kingdom of God, must therefore also for that very reason have been a special subject of instruction to the Apostles by our blessed Lord. And how indeed could He have failed to point them to the Threefold Order of the Ministry of the Earthly Kingdom of God, the Divinely appointed pattern of the Ministry of the Spiritual Kingdom? How, indeed, could they for their part have failed to look to that pattern themselves, knowing well that the Law foreshadowed the things to come? (Heb. 10:1). We should therefore naturally (i. e. from the Scriptural teaching itself) expect to find a Threefold Order of Ministry provided for the Spiritual Kingdom of God.

(1). In Acts 6 we read of the first appointment of an order of Deacons Though called forth at that particular time by a particular need (to look after the distribution of alms) it is evident that to the Deaconate thus instituted was committed certain functions essentially Ministerial as we understand the word. Stephen preached the Word; Philip both preached and baptized, (Acts 6;10; 8:5-12.)

(2). In Acts 11:30 we find an order of Elders at Jerusalem. We are not told when they were appointed; but evidently they were appointed by the Apostles, and doubtless early. It is reasonable to suppose that many of those Elders had been Priests in the Earthly Kingdom (The word Priest means exactly Elder) Priests in the Earthly Kingdom, one would naturally suppose to be specially fitted to serve as Priests (Elders) in the Spiritual Kingdom. (Cf Acts 6: 7). These Elders or Priests had charge of local congregations (Acts 20:28; 1 Pet. 5:1). "Feeding the flock" points to the power of celebrating the Holy Communion, in which, as we have seen, is given the Bread of Life to be Food unto our Souls.

From 1 Tim 3 we learn that these orders of Deacons and Elders or Priests were permanent parts of the Ministry as provided by the Apostles (Cf., also Acts 14:23; Phil. 1:1—"bishop" here means "overseer" i. e. "elder"; as in Acts 20:29: Tit. 1:5).

(3). Lastly we find a certain James (now generally admitted to have been the "brother" of our Lord, not an Apostle) presiding over the Elders at Jerusalem (Acts 15:13, 19); and the Apostle Paul sending Timothy and Titus to have charge of the Churches—including the ORDAINING AND OVERSEEING of the Elders and Deacons—at Ephesus and on the Island of Crete. (1Tim. 3; Tit. 1:5). It is only reasonable to suppose that what the Apostles did for Jerusalem and what St. Paul did for Ephesus and Crete was the Apostolic arrangement for the Church everywhere—they appointed a third order of the Minestry whose functions were to ordain Elders and Deacons and to oversee the Churches generally in their appointed fields. This third order of the Ministry came to be known distinctively as BISHOPS (i. e. Overseers), inasmuch as they were the Overseers of even the Priests and Deacons. Scripture does not tell us all that we should like to know about the apostolic appointment of the order of Bishops (Cf. the first appointment of Elders above); but the History of the Early Church well supplies what is lacking. For the History of the Early Church reveals most clearly such a prevalence and acceptance of the Threefold order of the Ministry—Bishops, Priests, Deacons—as cannot possibly be accounted for except on the supposition that so it was ordained of the Apostles.

WHY HE PUSHES IT.

C. A. Wright recommends and pushes Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy.

"It's a pleasure to sell a medicine when my customers come in afterwards and tell me how much good it has done them," said C. A. Wright, the popular druggist to a HEARLD man, "and that is why I like to sell and recommend Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy.

"I have so much faith in this article that I am going to guarantee it in the future, and will return the money to any purchaser of Mi-o-na whom it does not cure. That may seem rash, but my customers have said so many good words in its favor that I do not expect to have many packages returned.

"Anyone who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, who has to take thought as to what he can eat, and when, can leave 50 cents deposit at my store and take home a box of Mi-o-na, and if the remedy does not regulate his digestion and cure his dyspepsia, he can withdraw his money on returning the empty box.

This shows great faith in the merit of Mi-o-na. It is really a most unusual medicine and the rapid increase in sales since C. A. Wright introduced it in the HERALD shows that it does all that it claims to do, cures dyspepsia, regulates digestion and enables those who use it to eat just what they want and when they want with no fear of trouble.

BOSTON EXCURSIONS.

August 12, 13 and 14 the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R'y will sell tickets to Boston and return at extremely low rate of one cent per mile each way; tickets good to leave Boston until Sept. 30. These are all fine places for your vacation. Send a 2-cent stamp for book of summer boarding and camping places to A. J. Smith, G. P. & T. A., Cleveland. Ohio.

COSTS NOTHING UNLESS CURED

A fair offer made by C. A. Wright to all sufferers from catarrh.

C. A. Wright is selling Hyomei on a plan that has caused considerable talk amongst his customers.

The plan is different from that followed by other remedies, but the remedy itself is different also. This treatment for the cure of catarrh has such an unusual record of cures to its credit that C. A. Wright offers to refund the money if it does not give the desired benefit. This is certainly one of the fairest offers that can be made and any one who has catarrh and does not take advantage of it is doing himself or herself an injustice.

Do not suffer any longer with tickling, smarting, burning, eye-watering troubles that afflict those who have catarrh. Hyomei will cure [illegible] but if you should not find it adapted to your case, C. A. Wright will return your money.

Cure for Hay Fever.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose and intense burning of hay fever. It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

A woman never feels so truly grateful for the advantage of being a woman as when she meets a bow-legged man.

An Open Letter to the Public
FROM A WELL-KNOWN DRUGGIST

To Whom It May Concern:

Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines and their value. We want to say to every man, woman and child in this vicinity that the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil,— the best tonic reconstructor, health restorer and strength-creator we have ever sold in our store is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine; it contains no injurious drugs, and it actually does contain all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil, and is delicious to the taste.

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest strength-creator for old people, weak, sickly women, children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

For sale by C. A. Wright.

No woman will esteem a man whom she cannot trust and a man cannot esteem another man who will not trust him.

UNCOMMON WISDOM

It's a wise man who profits by the experience of his friends and neighbors. Here is a chance to do it and every man, woman or child, in Tecumseh, who knows the misery of a bad back, the nervousness and restlessness caused by kidney complaint or the annoyance of urinary disorders, will show uncommon wisdom to profit by this citizen's advice.

Ex-postmaster J. W. Wightman, well known to every reader of this statement says, "I have no hesitation in endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills procured at C. A. Wright's drug store. They have been used in my family and the most satisfactory results followed the treatment. Proved to be a remedy of merit. You can use my name to that effect it you think proper."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

A comfortable woman is one who realizes that the world doesn't care a rap what size shoe she wears.

Burdock Blood Bitters gives a man a clear head, an active brain, a strong vigorous body—makes him fit for the battle of life.

Occasionally a man is so anxious to see his name in print that he gets on the delinquent tax list.

Croup instantly relieved. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Never fails. At any drug store.

WILL NOMINATE SWEET.

Democrats Likely to Choose Him to Run For Governor.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 3.—Everything points to the nomination of Mayor E. F. Sweet of Grand Rapids for governor at the state convention today.

The Stearns adherents claim he will be the nominee, but the claim is not borne out by figures at hand. Stearns will enter the convention with the solid backing of Wayne county and a divided delegation from Kent. As near as could be learned he is sure of about 300 of the 815 delegates. Mayor Sweet, on the other hand, will have a majority on the first ballot unless some other candidate comes into the field, and this is not thought likely.

The Campau conference last night turned out to be a reception to Mayor Sweet.

Judge John Miner of Detroit will be temporary chairman of the convention. Edwin Henderson of Detroit will present the name of Justus S. Stearns to the convention, but who will present the name of Mayor Sweet will be decided by the Democratic state convention later.

The anti-Warner mass meeting last night was attended by about 500 persons, mostly disaffected Republicans, and was addressed by several speakers, all of whom favored Stearns' candidacy for governor.

The mass meeting advertised as a session of "Protest against machine and boss usurpation" was pulled off according to schedule last night in the auditorium of the Majestic theater The result was the adoption of resolutions asking the Democratic state convention to nominate Justus S. Stearns for governor and pledging him the independent "primary reform" Republican vote in the coming campaign. A committee will also be appointed to provide a permanent organization for the purpose of calling an independent convention later to nominate an independent ticket. This committee will be announced later.

Last night's meeting was attended by about 500 people.

Turned Nineteen Convicts Loose.

Ionia, Mich., Aug. 4.—The supreme court decision in regard to the indeterminate sentence law made lively work for a couple of days at the reformatory. Nineteen convicts have been released in addition to the regular exodus. Nine will get the benefit of the decision during August, and about eighty men altogether will be released sooner than expected.

One of Biddle Boys Weds.

Milan, Mich., Aug. 4.—Thomas Biddle, a brother of the Biddle brothers, who made such a sensational escape from the Pittsburg, Pa., prison and were afterwards mortally wounded by officers, went to Windsor, Ont., July 4 and was married to Miss Dollie Wheeler. Both parties reside here, where young Biddle is in business.

Committed Suicide In Hospital.

Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 4.—Charles A. Richardson, aged 50, of 206 Williamton street, committed suicide here by cutting his throat at the Saginaw general hospital during the absence of his nurse He was there for treatment for asthma. The nurse was absent from the room about ten minutes. An inquest has been ordered.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain,s Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

Bright's Disease

Caused the death of Doctor Bright. Bright's Disease is simply slow congestion of the Kidneys. In the last stage the congestion becomes acute and the victim lives a few hours or a few days, but is past saving. This insidious kidney trouble is caused by sluggish, torpid, congested liver and slow, constipated bowels, whereby the kidneys are involved and ruined.

Drake's Palmetto Wine is a foe to congestion of Liver, Kidneys and tissues. It promptly relieves the congestion and carries it out of the Liver, Kidneys, tissues and blood. Drake's Palmetto Wine restores the mucous membranes to healthy condition, relieves the membranes throughout the body from inflammation and Catarrh and cures Catarrh, Constipation and Liver and Kidney disease to stay cured. It gives relief immediately, builds up vigor and health, prolongs life and makes it enjoyable. A trial bottle always gives relief and often cures. A trial bottle will be sent to every reader of this paper who will write to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill. A postal card will bring this wonderful tonic Palmetto medicine to you absolutely free. It is a boon to disease ladened pain-ridden men and women.

OPENS AT FRANKFORT

Congregational Summer Assembly Begins Two Weeks' Session.

AT LEAST 1,000 PRESENT

Frankfort, Mich., Aug. 8.—The Congregational summer assembly, booked for a two weeks' session, has opened here. There are at least 1,000 strangers in the city, embracing chiefly the membership of the association, which covers 16 of the middle west states. Dr. Gunsaulus, of Chicago; Rabbi Gries, of Cleveland; President King, of Oberlin college, and George B. Stevens, of Yale Theological seminary, are among the prominent speakers who will take part in the program.

One of the features of the assembly will be the concert program, a $3,000 pipe organ having recently been added to the equipment. At least three concerts each week are scheduled under the direction of Prof. George W. Hull, of Sandusky, O., assisted by a corps of 16 people from Chicago and Boston. Prof. Herring, of Omaha, and Secretary Wanamaker, of Elyria, O., take a very optimistic view of the prospects for a big meeting.

"This is our third season," said Secretary Wanamaker, "and the first at our permanent home at Frankfort. As an official I can say that if the increase of labor is any token of increased interest, our meeting will be a grand success. Michigan people have taken kindly to our decision in making Frankfort a permanent home, and our program is much stronger than ever before."

ROBBER SHOT HIM.

Young Farmer Refused to Give Up His Money Upon Demand.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 8.—John Phillips, aged 22 years, a farmer living 13 miles east of this city, was held up by a lone highwayman at 2 oclock in the morning near Quanicassee on the Tuscola county line, four miles from his home, and because he refused to give up his money, now lies at Lewis hospital with a bullet wound in his face that may prove fatal.

F. T. Phillips, of Bay City, a brother of John, is administrator of his father's estate, and John came into town the night before to draw his share of the money, amounting to $400. When half a mile from Quanicassee, on the return trip, the highwayman jumped out of the bushes and commanded him to throw up his hands and turn over his cash. However, he did not draw the money as he had intended and had but 75 cents with him. This he refused to give up and the robber shot him with a 22 caliber revolver. Phillips' horse became frightened at the shot and ran away. Its rider held on until the animal was stopped at a roadhouse at Quanicassee, where his wound was dressed, after which he proceeded to his home. John P. Carr has been arrested upon suspicion.

LARGEST THIS YEAR.

Patients at Michigan Asylum For Insane Number 1,596.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 6.—The number of patients at the Michigan asylum for the insane has reached the high water mark. The present enrollment of 1,596 is the largest this year. There are 819 men and 777 women. This enrollment is of the patients exclusively, there being nearly 2,500 persons altogether at the asylum.

At a meeting of the trustees it was voted to add another large building to the institution, in addition to the three new ones already in course of construction. The new structure will be an addition to the female department, the inmates of which are rapidly passing the number which the present buildings will accommodate.

Puts an end to it all.

A grievous wail oftimes comes as a result of unbearable pain from over taxed organs. Dizziness, backache, liver complaint and constipation. But thanks to Dr. King's New Life Pills they put an end to it all. They are gentle but thorough. Try them. Only 25c. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright's drug store.

SLAUGHTER OF MANY

Was Result of Japanese Attack on Port Arthur.

IS REPORTED 10,000 FELL

Gen. Stoessel Reports Garrison Lost 1,500 Men and 40 Officers Killed and Wounded—Torpedo Boats in Fight Off Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—A telegram from Chefoo dated August 7, says that according to Chinese information a fierce battle was fought on the left side of Port Arthur, August 5. The Japanese are reported to have been repulsed with great loss, the killed alone being estimated at 10,000, while the Russians lost about 1,000. The telegram says that Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel was personally in command and that the conduct of the Russian troops was splendid.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel, commanding the Russian military forces at Port Arthur, in an undated dispatch to the emperor, says:

GENERAL ANATOL M. STOESSEL.
Commander of the Garrison at Port Arthur.

"I am happy to report that the troops repulsed all the Japanese attacks of July 26, 27 and 28 with enormous losses.

"The garrison's enthusiasm was extraordinary.

"The fleet assisted in the defense by bombarding the Japanese flank.

"Our losses during the three days were about 1,500 men and 40 officers killed or wounded.

"According to statements of Chinese and prisoners the Japanese lost as many as 10,000.

"Their losses were so great that the enemy has not had time to remove the dead and wounded."

Chefoo, Aug. 8.—The Japanese force which captured Wolfs Hill is now intrenched in the valley about two-thirds of a mile from the fortress at Port Arthur.

A Japanese cruiser is alleged to have struck a new mine and to have sunk immediately in the vicinity of Cristova Battery.

Tokio, Aug. 8.—Admiral Togo reports an exciting torpedo boat destroyer fight which took place off Port Arthur on Friday evening, August 5. The Japanese torpedo boat destroyers Akebono and Obosa approached the entrance of the harbor for the purpose of reconnoitering. Fourteen Russian torpedo boat destroyers dashed out, separated, and endeavored to surround the Japanese boats. The latter broke through the cordon, however, driving off three of the Russian boats. At this point the Japanese torpedo boat destroyer Inasuma joined the other two and the three turned and spiritedly attacked the 11 Russian boats. The latter retired within the harbor. The Japanese boats were uninjured. The damage to the Russian ships is unknown.

Liao Yang, Aug. 5.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The Japanese are advancing on Mukden and it is probable that a simultaneous attack will be made on Mukden and Liao Yang, in which case a decisive battle is assured.

COL. WRIGHT IS OFF

Congressman Cowherd Declares Labor Bureau Statictics Are Wrong

ON WAGES AND COST TO LIVE

Wholesale Prices and Not Retail Should Have Been Basis of Figuring—Railroad and Mine Employes Were Not Considered.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Chairman Cowherd, of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, has just issued a statement in refutation of the recently published tables from the bureau of labor, relative to the increase in wages and the cost of living. Mr. Cowherd's conclusions are in part as follows:

In the bulletin on cost of living and wages recently issued by the bureau of statistics, the methods adopted are as remarkable as the conclusions reached. Wholesale prices have always been the standard by which the rise or fall of the cost of living has been computed. Had Col. Wright followed the course of using wholesale prices he would have been confronted with the excellent tables issued by Dun and Bradstreet, both recognized commercial authorities. Dun's table of prices shows that from July, 1897, the low point, to March, 1904, the highest point, cost of living increased 43 per cent. The most skilfull juggling could not show such a rise in wages. Party necessities, therefore, would not permit Mr. Wright to use this table, and he dare not refute it. So he adopted the shifting, uncertain and unknown standard of retail prices.

Wholesale prices are fixed and stable, the same in every community, with cost of freight added. There is neither stability nor uniformity in retail pricee. This was the way in which the cost of living was reduced.

The methods employed to raise wages were equally a questionable. Every one knows that the greatest increase in wages is to be found in those industries where union labor is strongest and where the strength of the union has been developed during the period under investigation. These conditions are peculiarly applicable to the building trades. Out of the 3,429 establishments selected by Mr. Wright for comparison, 1,199, or more than one-third, are in the building trades. Of the remainder, 1,185 are likewise in the unprotected industries.

The greatest employers of labor in the country are the railroads and no other industry is a better barometer of the average wage. The average wage is therefore easily obtainable. Why were no railroad wages included in Mr. Wright's report. The answer is apparent. The last report of the interstate commerce commission shows an increase of railroad wages of only 3 per cent. Miners, one of the next largest body of laborers, also are omitted.

By carefully selecting his establishments, he did not have to consider the 1,000,000 men whose wages, the trade journals tell us, were reduced in 1903 and 1904 from 10 to 30 per cent.

Michigan Baptist Assembly.

Orion, Mich., Aug. 6.—The Michigan Baptist assembly will begin its annual series of meetings at Orion Lake Thursday, Aug. 11, with a program which is considered superior to all previous ones. The chief attraction will be Rev. R. A. McArthur, late pastor of Cavalry Baptist church in New York, whose topic for Aug. 17 will be "The empire of the czar, the great bear of the north." Other speakers of national reputation will be Miss Mary G. Burdette of Chicago, Rev. E. Chivers of New York, President E. Y. Mullins of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary of Louisville, Ky.

FELL THROUGH BRIDGE.

Train on Rio Grande Lost and Believed Many Are Killed.

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 8.—Rio Grande passenger train No. 11, due to reach Pueblo at 8:15 p. m., went through a bridge at Pinon at 7:50 o'clock last night. The engine and five coaches were wrecked, and it is feared many are dead. The accident was caused by a heavy rain which weakened the bridge.

A local undertaker has gone to the scene on the relief train, taking all the coffins and stretchers available.

A message from the Pinion railway agent who returned to that place at a late hour from the scene of the wreck, said that he could find no trace of the engine and three of the cars. He found the fireman wandering about in a dazed condition, looking for the engineer and could hear the cries of the victims. He said that Conductor J. H. Smith, Engineer Hinman and Brakeman J. J. Turner were among the dead.

Asistant Superintendent Miller, of the Denver & Rio Grande, Supt. R. H. Bower, of the Missouri Pacific, and a number of surgeons have gone to the scene.

It is now reported that between 30 and 50 people have been drowned in the wreck, many of them Pueblo merchants.

A call for volunteeers has been made on Pueblo and every available man is being sent to the scene. Details are very hard to obtain.

INDORSE THE STRIKE.

All Labor Unions of Chicago Are With the Stock Yard Men

Chicago, Aug. [illegible] labor unions in Chicago have indorsed the stock yards strike. After listening to the strikers' side of the controversy, which was presented to them by Michael J. Donnelly, president of the striking butchers union, the Chicago Federation of Labor, which is composed of every labor organization in Chicago, and has a membership of nearly 300,000, adopted resolutions last night pledging the moral and financial support of the federated body as long as the strike contiues. Each member of the central body will be assessed a small sum per week and the whole amount will be turned over to the striking unions to help in the support of the strikers and their families during the struggle with the packers.

After a fight which has lasted for nearly four weeks, a settlement of the strike seems to be as remote as at any time since the struggle began. Neither side to the conflict, during all this time, has shown any sign of weakening.

The packers, while claiming that they will soon have their affairs in normal condition again, so successful have they been in securing non-union men, yet admit that so far they have been able to get but 550 of their old employes back, and that the majority of these are unskilled workers. In the last statement given out by the packers it was said that nearly half as many men were at work as before the strike began.

Russell Sage's Wealth.

New York, Aug. 8.—An estimate has just been made in Wall street of the wealth of Russell Sage, which placed the total of his accumulated possessions at approximately twice his age in millions of dollars. As Mr. Sage was 88 years old on Thursday, that would make his fortune $176,000,000.

Alleged Counterfeiter Caught.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 8.—What is believed to be one of the most important arrests in this city in some time was the taking by Patrolman Fred Stahl, of the Broadway squad, of a man giving the name of John Parr, alias Ringler. Parr had been pointed out to Officer Stahl by Joseph Grubba, 611 St. Aubin avenue, as a man who had been attempting to pass counterfeit bills. When Ptrolman Stahl sought to arrest Parr he dodged into a crowd of people on the street and incidentally tried to rid himself of a bunch of counterfeit money by dropping it, but a bystander found the package and turned it over to the officers.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. A woman never feels so truly grateful for the advantage of being a woman as when she meets a bow-legged man.

An Open Letter to the Public
FROM A WELL-KNOWN DRUGGIST

To Whom It May Concern:

Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines and their value. We want to say to every man, woman and child in this vicinity that the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil,— the best tonic reconstructor, health restorer and strength-creator we have ever sold in our store is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine; it contains no injurious drugs, and it actually does contain all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil, and is delicious to the taste.

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest strength-creator for old people, weak, sickly women, children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

For sale by C. A. Wright.

No woman will esteem a man whom she cannot trust and a man cannot esteem another man who will not trust him.

UNCOMMON WISDOM

It's a wise man who profits by the experience of his friends and neighbors. Here is a chance to do it and every man, woman or child, in Tecumseh, who knows the misery of a bad back, the nervousness and restlessness caused by kidney complaint or the annoyance of urinary disorders, will show uncommon wisdom to profit by this citizen's advice.

Ex-postmaster J. W. Wightman, well known to every reader of this statement says, "I have no hesitation in endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills procured at C. A. Wright's drug store. They have been used in my family and the most satisfactory results followed the treatment. Proved to be a remedy of merit. You can use my name to that effect it you think proper."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

A comfortable woman is one who realizes that the world doesn't care a rap what size shoe she wears.

WILL NOMINATE SWEET.

Democrats Likely to Choose Him to Run For Governor.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 3.—Everything points to the nomination of Mayor E. F. Sweet of Grand Rapids for governor at the state convention today.

The Stearns adherents claim he will be the nominee, but the claim is not borne out by figures at hand. Stearns will enter the convention with the solid backing of Wayne county and a divided delegation from Kent. As near as could be learned he is sure of about 300 of the 815 delegates. Mayor Sweet, on the other hand, will have a majority on the first ballot unless some other candidate comes into the field, and this is not thought likely.

The Campau conference last night turned out to be a reception to Mayor Sweet.

Judge John Miner of Detroit will be temporary chairman of the convention. Edwin Henderson of Detroit will present the name of Justus S. Stearns to the convention, but who will present the name of Mayor Sweet will be decided by the Democratic state convention later.

The anti-Warner mass meeting last night was attended by about 500 persons, mostly disaffected Republicans, and was addressed by several speakers, all of whom favored Stearns' candidacy for governor.

The mass meeting advertised as a session of "Protest against machine and boss usurpation" was pulled off according to schedule last night in the auditorium of the Majestic theater The result was the adoption of resolutions asking the Democratic state convention to nominate Justus S. Stearns for governor and pledging him the independent "primary reform" Republican vote in the coming campaign. A committee will also be appointed to provide a permanent organization for the purpose of calling an independent convention later to nominate an independent ticket. This committee will be announced later.

Last night's meeting was attended by about 500 people.

Turned Nineteen Convicts Loose.

Ionia, Mich., Aug. 4.—The supreme court decision in regard to the indeterminate sentence law made lively work for a couple of days at the reformatory. Nineteen convicts have been released in addition to the regular exodus. Nine will get the benefit of the decision during August, and about eighty men altogether will be released sooner than expected.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

Bright's Disease

Caused the death of Doctor Bright. Bright's Disease is simply slow congestion of the Kidneys. In the last stage the congestion becomes acute and the victim lives a few hours or a few days, but is past saving. This insidious kidney trouble is caused by sluggish, torpid, congested liver and slow, constipated bowels, whereby the kidneys are involved and ruined.

Drake's Palmetto Wine is a foe to congestion of Liver, Kidneys and tissues. It promptly relieves the congestion and carries it out of the Liver, Kidneys, tissues and blood. Drake's Palmetto Wine restores the mucous membranes to healthy condition, relieves the membranes throughout the body from inflammation and Catarrh and cures Catarrh, Constipation and Liver and Kidney disease to stay cured. It gives relief immediately, builds up vigor and health, prolongs life and makes it enjoyable. A trial bottle always gives relief and often cures. A trial bottle will be sent to every reader of this paper who will write to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill. A postal card will bring this wonderful tonic Palmetto medicine to you absolutely free. It is a boon to disease ladened pain-ridden men and women.

Congregational Summer Assembly Begins Two Weeks' Session.

AT LEAST 1,000 PRESENT

Frankfort, Mich., Aug. 8.—The Congregational summer assembly, booked for a two weeks' session, has opened here. There are at least 1,000 strangers in the city, embracing chiefly the membership of the association, which covers 16 of the middle west states. Dr. Gunsaulus, of Chicago; Rabbi Gries, of Cleveland; President King, of Oberlin college, and George B. Stevens, of Yale Theological seminary, are among the prominent speakers who will take part in the program.

One of the features of the assembly will be the concert program, a $3,000 pipe ogran having recently been added to the equipment. At least three concerts each week are scheduled under the direction of Prof. George W. Hull, of Sandusky, O., assisted by a corps of 16 people from Chicago and Boston. Prof. Herring, of Omaha, and Secretary Wanamaker, of Elyria, O., take a very optimistic view of the prospects for a big meeting.

"This is our third season," said Secretary Wanamaker, "and the first at our permanent home at Frankfort. As an official I can say that if the increase of labor is any token of increased interest, our meeting will be a grand success. Michigan people have taken kindly to our decision in making Frankfort a permanent home, and our program is much stronger than ever before."

ROBBER SHOT HIM.

Young Farmer Refused to Give Up His Money Upon Demand.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 8.—John Phillips, aged 22 years, a farmer living 13 miles east of this city, was held up by a lone highwayman at 2 oclock in the morning near Quanicassee on the Tuscola county line, four miles from his home, and because he refused to give up his money, now lies at Lewis hospital with a bullet wound in his face that may prove fatal.

F. T. Phillips, of Bay City, a brother of John, is administrator of his father's estate, and John came into town the night before to draw his share of the money, amounting to $400. When half a mile from Quanicassee, on the return trip, the highwayman jumped out of the bushes and commanded him to throw up his hands and turn over his cash. However, he did not draw the money as he had intended and had but 75 cents with him. This he refused to give up and the robber shot him with a 22 caliber revolver. Phillips' horse became frightened at the shot and ran away. Its rider held on until the animal was stopped at a roadhouse at Quanicassee, where his wound was dressed, after which he proceeded to his home. John P. Carr has been arrested upon suspicion.

LARGEST THIS YEAR.

Patients at Michigan Asylum For Insane Number 1,596.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 6.—The number of patients at the Michigan asylum for the insane has reached the high water mark. The present enrollment of 1,596 is the largest this year. There are 819 men and 777 women. This enrollment is of the patients exclusively, there being nearly 2,500 persons altogether at the asylum.

At a meeting of the trustees it was voted to add another large building to the institution, in addition to the three new ones already in course of construction. The new structure will be an addition to the female department, the inmates of which are rapidly passing the number which the present buildings will accommodate.

Puts an end to it all.

A grievous wail oftimes comes as a result of unbearable pain from over taxed organs. Dizziness, backache, liver complaint and constipation. But thanks to Dr. King's New Life Pills they put an end to it all. They are gentle but thorough. Try them. Only 25c. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright's drug store.

SLAUGHTER OF MANY

Was Result of Japanese Attack on Port Arthur.

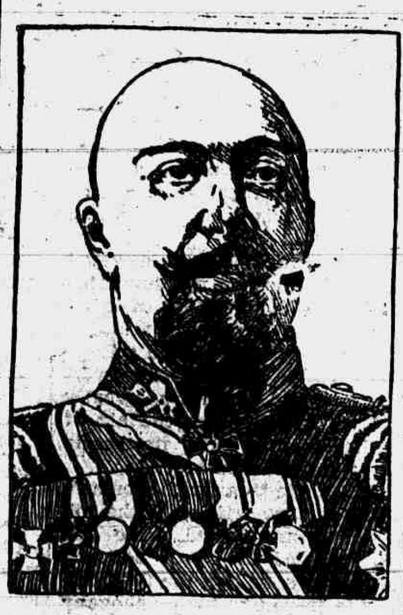
IS REPORTED 10,000 FELL

Gen. Stoessel Reports Garrison Lost 1,500 Men and 40 Officers Killed and, Wounded—Torpedo Boats in Fight Off Port Arthur.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—A telegram from Chefoo dated August 7, says that according to Chinese information a fierce battle was fought on the left side of Port Arthur, August 5. The Japanese are reported to have been repulsed with great loss, the killed alone being estimated at 10,000, while the Russians lost about 1,000. The telegram says that Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel was personally in command and that the conduct of the Russian troops was splendid.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel, commanding the Russian military forces at Port Arthur, in an undated dispatch to the emperor, says:

"I am happy to report that the troops repulsed all the Japanese attacks of July 26, 27 and 28 with enormous losses.



GENERAL ANATOL M. STOESSEL.
Commander of the Garrison at Port Arthur.

"The garrison's enthusiasm was extraordinary.

"The fleet assisted in the defense by bombarding the Japanese flank.

"Our losses during the three days were about 1,500 men and 40 officers killed or wounded.

"According to statements of Chinese and prisoners the Japanese lost as many as 10,000.

"Their losses were so great that the enemy has not had time to remove the dead and wounded."

Chefoo, Aug. 8.—The Japanese force which captured Wolfs Hill is now intrenched in the valley about two-thirds of a mile from the fortress at Port Arthur.

A Japanese cruiser is alleged to have struck a new mine and to have sunk immediately in the vicinity of Cristova Battery.

Tokio, Aug. 8.—Admiral Togo reports an exciting torpedo boat detroyer fight which took place off Port Arthur on Friday evening, August 5. The Japanese torpedo boat destroyers Akebono and Obosa approached the entrance of the harbor for the purpose of reconnoitering. Fourteen Russian torpedo boat destroyers dashed out, separated, and endeavored to surround the Japanese boats. The latter broke through the cordon, however, driving off three of the Russian boats. At this point the Japanese torpedo boat destroyer Inasuma joined the other two and the three turned and spiritedly attacked the 11 Russian boats. The latter retired within the harbor. The Japanese boats were uninjured. The damage to the Russian ships is unknown.

Liao Yang, Aug. 5.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The Japanese are advancing on Mukden and it is probable that a simultaneous attack will be made on Mukden and Liao Yang, in which case a decisive battle is assured.

COL. WRIGHT IS OFF

Congressman Cowherd Declares Labor Bureau Statictics Are Wrong

ON WAGES AND COST TO LIVE

Wholesale Prices and Not Retail Should Have Been Basis of Figuring—Railroad and Mine Employes Were Not Considered.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Chairman Cowherd, of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, has just issued a statement in refutation of the recently published tables from the bureau of labor, relative to the increase in wages and the cost of living. Mr. Cowherd's conclusions are in part as follows:

In the bulletin on cost of living and wages recently issued by the bureau of statistics, the methods adopted are as remarkable as the conclusions reached. Wholesale prices have always been the standard by which the rise or fall of the cost of living has been computed. Had Col. Wright followed the course of using wholesale prices he would have been confronted with the excellent tables issued by Dun and Bradstreet, both recognized commercial authorities. Dun's table of prices shows that from July, 1897, the low point, to March, 1904, the highest point, cost of living increased 43 per cent. The most skilfull juggling could not show such a rise in wages. Party necessities, therefore, would not permit Mr. Wri[illegible] this table, and he dare not refute it. So he adopted the shifting, uncertain and unknown standard of retail prices.

Wholesale prices are fixed and stable, the same in every community, with cost of freight added. There is neither stability nor uniformity in retail pricee. This was the way in which the cost of living was reduced.

The methods employed to raise wages were equally a questionable. Every one knows that the greatest increase in wages is to be found in those industries where union labor is strongest and where the strength of the union has been developed during the period under investigation. These conditions are peculiarly applicable to the building trades. Out of the 3,429 establishments selected by Mr. Wright for comparison, 1,199, or more than one-third, are in the building trades. Of the remainder, 1,185 are likewise in the unprotected industries.

The greatest employers of labor in the country are the railroads and no other industry is a better barometer of the average wage. The average wage is therefore easily obtainable. Why were no railroad wages included in Mr. Wright's report. The answer is apparent. The last report of the interstate commerce commission shows an increase of railroad wages of only 3 per cent. Miners, one of the next largest body of laborers, also are omitted.

By carefully selecting his establishments, he did not have to consider the 1,000,000 men whose wages, the trade journals tell us, were reduced in 1903 and 1904 from 10 to 30 per cent.

Michigan Baptist Assembly.

Orion, Mich., Aug. 6.—The Michigan Baptist assembly will begin its annual series of meetings at Orion Lake Thursday, Aug. 11, with a program which is considered superior to all previous ones. The chief attraction will be Rev. R. A. McArthur, late pastor of Cavalry Baptist church in New York, whose topic for Aug. 17 will be "The empire of the czar, the great bear of the north." Other speakers of national reputation will be Miss Mary G. Burdette of Chicago, Rev. E. Chivers of New York, President E. Y. Mullins of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary of Louisville, Ky.

FELL THROUGH BRIDGE.

Train on Rio Grande Lost and Believed Many Are Killed.

Pueblo, Colo., Aug. 8.—Rio Grande passenger train No. 11, due to reach Pueblo at 8:15 p. m., went through a bridge at Pinon at 7:50 o'clock last night. The engine and five coaches were wrecked, and it is feared many are dead. The accident was caused by a heavy rain which weakened the bridge.

A local undertaker has gone to the scene on the relief train, taking all the coffins and stretchers available.

A message from the Pinion railway agent who returned to that place at a late hour from the scene of the wreck, said that he could find no trace of the engine and three of the cars. He found the fireman wandering about in a dazed condition, looking for the engineer and could hear the cries of the victims. He said that Conductor J. H. Smith, Engineer Hinman and Brakeman J. J. Turner were among the dead,

Asistant Superintendent Miller, of the Denver & Rio Grande, Supt. R. H. Bower, of the Missouri Pacific, and a number of surgeons have gone to the scene.

It is now reported that between 30 and 50 people have been drowned in the wreck, many of them Pueblo merchants.

A call for volunteeers has been made on Pueblo and every available man is being sent to the scene. Details are very hard to obtain.

INDORSE THE STRIKE.

All Labor Unions of Chicago Are With the Stock Yard Men.

Chicago, Aug. 3.—All the labor unions in Chicago have indorsed the stock yards strike. After listening to the strikers' side of the controversy, which was presented to them by Michael J. Donnelly, president of th striking butchers union, the Chicago Federation of Labor, which is composed of every labor organization in Chicago, and has a membership of nearly 300,000, adopted resolutions last night pledging the moral and financial support of the federated body as long as the strike contiues. Each member of the central body will be assessed a small sum per week and the whole amount will be turned over to the striking unions to help in the support of the strikers and their families during the struggle with the packers.

After a fight which has lasted for nearly four weeks, a settlement of the strike seems to be as remote as at any time since the struggle began. Neither side to the conflict, during all this time, has shown any sign of weakening.

The packers, while claiming that they will soon have their affairs in normal condition again, so successful have they been in securing non-union men, yet admit that so far they have been able to get but 550 of their old employes back, and that the majority of these are unskilled workers. In the last statement given out by the packers it was said that nearly half as many men were at work as before the strike began.

Russell Sage's Wealth.

New York, Aug. 8.—An estimate has just been made in Wall street of the wealth of Russell Sage, which placed the total of his accumulated possessions at approximately twice his age in millions of dollars. As Mr. Sage was 88 years old on Thursday, that would make his fortune $176,000,000.

Alleged Counterfeiter Caught.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 8.—What is believed to be one of the most important arrests in this city in some time was the taking by Patrolman Fred Stahl, of the Broadway squad, of a man giving the name of John Parr, alias Ringler. Parr had been pointed out to Officer Stahl by Joseph Grubba, 611 St. Aubin avenue, as a man who had been attempting to pass counterfeit bills. When Ptrolman Stahl sought to arrest Parr he dodged into a crowd of people on the street and incidentally tried to rid himself of a bunch of counterfeit money by dropping it, but a bystander found the package and turned it over to the officers.

CHAPTER II.

Hibbard, who up to this point had followed me almost too closely, now accorded me all the room that was necessary. It was with a sense of entering alone upon the scene that I finally thrust wide the door and crossed the threshold of this redoubtable room where, but two short weeks before, a fresh victim had been added to the list of those who had by some unheard of, unimaginable means found their death within its recesses.

My first glance showed me little save the ponderous outlines of an old settle, which jutted from the corner of the fireplace half way out into the room. As it was seemingly from this seat that the men, who at various times had been found lying here, had fallen to their doom, a thrill passed over me as I noted its unwieldy bulk and the deep shadow it threw on the ancient and dishonored hearthstone. To escape the ghastly memories it evoked and also to satisfy myself that the room was really as empty as it seemed, I took another step forward. This caused the light from the lantern I carried to spread beyond the point on which it had hitherto been so effectively concentrated, but the result was to emphasize rather than detract from the extreme desolation of the great room. The settle was a fixture, as I afterward found, and was almost the only article of furniture to be seen on the wide expanse of uncarpeted floor. There was a table or two in hiding somewhere amid the shadows at the other end from where I stood, and possibly some kind of stool or settee, but the general impression made upon me was that of a completely dismantled place given over to moth and rust.

The elegance of the heavily stuccoed ceiling, admitted to be one of the finest specimens of its kind in Washington, as well as the richness of the carvings ornamenting the mantel of Italian marble rising above the accursed hearthstone, only served to make more evident the extreme neglect into which the rest of the room had sunk. Being anything but anxious to subject myself further to its unhappy influence and quite convinced that the place was indeed as empty as it looked, I turned to leave when my eyes fell upon something so unexpected and so extraordinary, seen as it was under the influence of the old tragedies with which my mind was necessarily full, that I paused, balked in my advance and well nigh uncertain whether I looked upon a real thing or on some strange and terrible fantasy of my aroused imagination.

A form lay before me, outstretched on that portion of the floor which had hitherto been hidden from me by the half open door—a woman's form, which even in that first casual look impressed itself upon me as one of aerial delicacy and extreme refinement; and this form lay as only the dead lie; the dead! And I had bee looking at the hearthstone for just such a picture! No, not just such a picture, for this woman lay face uppermost, and, on the floor beside her was blood—

A hand had plucked my sleeve. It was Hibbard's. Startled by my immobility and silence, he had stepped in with quaking members, expecting he hardly knew what. But no sooner did his eyes fall on the prostrate form which held me spellbound than an unforeseen change took place in him. What had unnerved me, restored him to full self possession. Death in this shape was familiar to him. He had no fear of blood. He did not show surprise at encountering it, but only at the effect it appeared to produce on me.

"Shot!" was his laconic comment as he bent over the prostrate body. "Shot through the heart! She must have died before she fell."

Shot!

That was a new experience for this room. No wound had ever before disfigured those who had fallen here, nor had any of the previous victims been found lying on any other spot than the one over which that huge settle kept guard. As these thoughts crossed my mind I instinctively glanced again toward the fireplace for what I almost refused to believe lay outstretched at my feet. When nothing more appeared there than that old seat of sinister memory, I experienced a thrill which poorly prepared me for the cry which I now heard raised by Hibbard.

"Look here! What do you make of this?"

He was pointing to what, upon closer inspection, proved to be a strip of white satin ribbon running from one of the delicate wrists of the girl before us to the handle of a pistol which had fallen not far away from her side. "It looks as if the pistol was attached to her. That is something new in my experience. What do you think it means?"

Alas, there was but one thing it could mean. The shot to which she had succumbed had been delivered by herself. This fair and delicate creature was a suicide.

But suicide in this place! How could we account for that? Had the story of this room's ill acquired fame acted hypnotically on her, or had she stumbled upon the open door in front and been glad of any refuge where her misery might find a solitary termination? Closely scanning her upturned face, I sought an answer to this question, and while thus seeking received a fresh shock which I did not hesitate to communicate to my now none too sensitive companion.

"Look at these features," I cried. "I seem to know them. Do you?"

He growled out a dissent, but stooped at my bidding and gave the pitiful young face a prolonged stare. When he looked up again it was with a puzzled contraction of his eyebrows.

"I've certainly seen it somewhere," he hesitatingly admitted, edging slowly away toward the door. "Perhaps in the papers. Isn't she like"—

"Like!" I interrupted. "It is Veronica Moore herself, the owner of this house and she who was married here two weeks since to Mr. Jeffrey. Evidently her reason was unseated by the tragedy which threw so deep a gloom over her wedding."

CHAPTER III.

Not for an instant did I doubt the correctness of this identification. All the pictures I had seen of this well known society belle had been marked by an individuality of expression which fixed her face in the memory and which I now saw repeated in the lifeless features before me.

Having sent the too willing Hibbard to notify headquarters, I was on the point of making a memorandum of such details as seemed important, when my lantern suddenly went out, leaving me in total darkness.

This was far from pleasant, but the effect it produced upon my mind was not without its result; for no sooner did I find myself alone and in the unrelieved darkness of this gravelike room than I became convinced that no woman, however frenzied, would make her plunge into an unknown existence from the midst of a darkness only too suggestive of the tomb to which she was hastening. It was not in nature, not in woman's nature, at all events. Either she had committed the final act before such daylight as could filter through the shutters of this closed up room had quite disappeared—a hypothesis instantly destroyed by the warmth which still lingered in certain portions of her body—or else the light which had been burning when she pulled the fatal trigger had since been carried elsewhere or extinguished.

Recalling the uncertain gleams which we had seen flashing from one of the upper windows, I was inclined to give some credence to the former theory, but was disposed to be fair to both. So after relighting my lamp I turned on one of the gas cocks of the massive chandelier over my head and applied a match. The result was just what I anticipated; no gas in the pipes. A meter had not been put in for the wedding. This the papers had repeatedly stated in dwelling upon the garish effect of the daylight on the elaborate costumes worn by the ladies. Candles had not even been provided—ah, candles! What, then, was it that I saw glittering on a small table at the other end of the room? Surely a candlestick, or, rather, an old fashioned candelabrum with a half burned candle in one of its sockets. Hastily crossing to it, I felt of the candle wick. It was quite stiff and hard. But not considering this a satisfactory proof that it had not been lately burning—the tip of the wick soon dries after the flame is blown out—I took out my penknife and attacked the wick at what might be called its root; whereupon I found that where the threads had been protected by the wax they were comparatively soft and penetrable.

The conclusion was obvious. True to my instinct in this matter, the woman had not lifted her weapon in darkness; this candle had been burning. But here my thoughts received a fresh shock. If burning, then by whom had it since been blown out? Not by her; her wound was too fatally sure for that. The steps taken between the table where the candelabrum stood and the place where she lay were taken, if taken at all by her, before that shot was fired. Some one else—some one whose breath still lingered in the air about me—had extinguished this candle flame after she fell, and the death I looked down upon was not a suicide, but a murder!

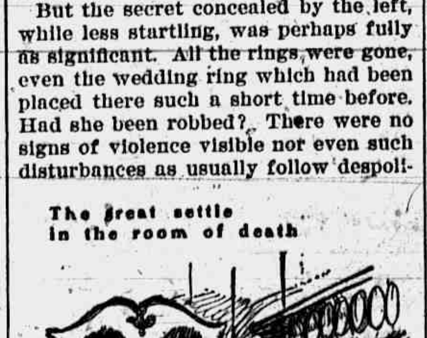
The excitement which this discovery caused to tingle through my every nerve had its birth in the ambitious feeling referred to in the opening paragraph of this narrative. I believed that my long sought for opportunity had come; that with the start given me by the conviction just stated I should be enabled to collect such clews and establish such facts as would lead to the acceptance of this new theory instead of the apparent one of suicide embraced by Hibbard and about to be promulgated at police headquarters. If so, what a triumph would be mine and what a debt I should owe to the crabbed old gentleman whose seemingly fantastic fears had first drawn me to this place!

Realizing the value of the opportunity afforded me by the few minutes I was likely to spend alone on this scene of crime, I proceeded to my task with that directness and method which I had always promised myself should characterize my first success in detective work.

First, then, for another look at the fair young victim herself! What a line of misery on the brow! What dark hollows disfiguring cheeks otherwise as delicate as the petals of a rose! An interesting if not absolutely beautiful face, it told me something I could hardly put into words; so that it was like leaving a fascinating but unsolved mystery when I finally turned from it to study the hands, each of which presented a separate problem. That offered by the right wrist you already know—the long white ribbon connecting it with the discharged pistol.

But the secret concealed by the left, while less startling, was perhaps fully as significant. All the rings were gone, even the wedding ring which had been placed there such a short time before. Had she been robbed? There were no signs of violence visible nor even such disturbances as usually follow despoliation by a criminal's hand. The boa of delicate black net which encircled her neck rose fresh and intact to her chin; nor did the heavy folds of her rich broadcloth gown betray that any disturbance had taken place in her figure after its fall. If a jewel had flashed at her throat, or earrings adorned her ears, they had been removed by a careful, if not a loving, hand. But I was rather inclined to think that she had entered upon the scene of her death without ornaments, —such severe simplicity marked her whole attire.

The great settle in the room of death



Her hat, which was as plain and also as elegant as the rest of her clothing, lay near her on the floor. It had been taken off and thrown down, manifestly by an impatient hand. That this hand was her own was evident from a small but very significant fact. The pin which had held it to her hair had been thrust again into the hat. No hand but hers would have taken this precaution. A man would have flung it aside just as he would have flung the hat.

Question:

Did this argue a natural expectation on her part of resuming her hat, or was the action the result of an unconscious habit?

Having thus noted all that was possible concerning her without infringing on the rights of the coroner, I next proceeded to cast about for clews to the identity of the person whom I considered responsible for the extinguished candle. But here a great disappointment awaited me. I could find nothing expressive of a second person's presence save a pile of cigar ashes scattered near the legs of a common kitchen chair which stood face to face with the bookshelves in that part of the room where the candelabrum rested on a small table. But these ashes looked old, nor could I detect any evidence of tobacco smoke in the general mustiness pervading the place. Was the man who died here a fortnight since accountable for these ashes? If so, his unfinished cigar must be within sight. Should I search for it? No, for this would take me to the hearth and that was quite too deadly a place to be heedlessly approached.

Besides, I was not yet finished with the spot where I then stood. If I could gather nothing satisfactory from the ashes, perhaps I could from the chair or the shelves before which it had been placed. Some one with an interest in books had sat there; some one who expected to spend sufficient time over these old tomes to feel the need of a chair. Had this interest been a general one, or had it centered in a particular volume? I ran my eye over the shelves within reach, possibly with an idea of settling this question, and though my knowledge of books is limited I could see that these were what one might call rarities. Some of them contained specimens of black letter, all moldy and smothered in dust; in others I saw dates of publication which placed them among volumes dear to a collector's heart. But none of them, so far as I could see, gave any evidence of having been lately handled; and, anxious to waste no time on puerile details, I hastily quitted my chair and was proceeding to turn my attention elsewhere when I noticed on an upper shelf a book projecting slightly beyond the others. Instantly my foot was on the chair and the book in my hand. Did I find it of interest? Yes, but not on account of its contents, for they were pure Greek to me, but because it lacked the dust on its upper edge which had marked every other volume I had handled. This, then, was what had attracted the unknown to these shelves, this—let me see if I can remember its title—"Disquisition Upon Old Coast Lines." Pshaw! I was wasting my time. What had such a dry compendium as this to do with the body lying in its blood a few steps behind me, or with the hand which had put out the candle upon this dreadful deed? Nothing. I replaced the book, but not so hastily as to push it one inch beyond the position in which I found it. For, if it had a tale to tell, then was it my business to leave that tale to be read by those who understood books better than I did.

My next move was toward the little table holding the candelabrum with the glittering pendants. This table was one of a nest standing against a nearby wall. Investigation proved that it had been lifted from the others and brought to its present position within a very short space of time, for the dust lying thick on its top was almost entirely lacking from the one which had been nested under it. Neither had the candelabrum been standing there long, dust being found under as well as around it. Had her hand brought it there? Hardly, if it came from the top of the mantel toward which I now turned in my course of investigation.

I have already mentioned this mantel more than once. This I could hardly avoid, since in and about it lay the heart of the mystery for which the room was remarkable. But, though I have thus freely spoken of it and though it was not absent from my thoughts for a moment, I had not ventured to approach it beyond a certain safe radius. Now in looking to see if I might not lessen this radius I experienced that sudden and overwhelming interest in its every feature which attaches to all objects peculiarly associated with danger.

I even took a step toward it, holding up my lamp so that a stray ray struck the faded surface of an old engraving hanging over the fireplace. It was the well known one, in Washington at least, of Benjamin Franklin at the court of France, interesting no doubt, in a general way, but scarcely calculated to hold the eye at so critical an instant. Neither did the shelf below call for more than momentary attention, for it was absolutely bare. So was the time worn, if not blood stained, hearth, save for the impenetrable shadow cast over it by the huge bulk of the great settle standing at its edge.

I have already described the impression made on me at my first entrance by this ancient and characteristic article of furniture.

It was intensified now as my eye ran over the clumsy carving which added to the discomfort of its high, straight back and as I smelled the smell of its moldy and possibly mouse haunted cushions. A crawling sense of dread took the place of my first instinctive repugnance, not because superstition had as yet laid its grip upon me, although the place, the hour and the near and veritable presence of death were enough to rouse the imagination past the bounds of the actual, but because of a discovery I had made—a discovery which emphasized the tradition that all who had been found dead under the mantel had fallen as if from the end of this monstrous and patriarchal bench. Do you ask what this discovery was? It can be told in a word. This one end and only this end had been made comfortable for the sitter. For a space scarcely wide enough for one the seat and back at this special point had been upholstered with leather, fastened to the wood with heavy wrought nails. The remaining portion stretched out bare, hard and inexpressibly forbidding to one who sought ease there or even a moment of casual rest.

The natural inference was that the owner of this quaint piece of furniture had been a very selfish man who thought only of his own comfort. But might he not have had some other reason for his apparent niggardliness? As I asked myself this question and noted how the long and embracing arm which guarded this cushioned retreat was flattened on top for the convenient holding of decanter and glass, feelings to which I can give no name and which I had fondly believed myself proof against be[illegible] to take the place of judgment and reason. Before I realized the nature of my own impulse or to what it was driving me I found myself moving slowly and steadily toward this formidable seat under an irresistible desire to fling myself down upon these old cushions and—

But here the creaking of some faroff shutter, possibly the one I had seen swaying from the opposite side of the street, recalled me to the duties of the hour; and, remembering that my investigations were but half completed and that I might be interrupted any moment by detectives from headquarters, I broke from the accursed charm, which horrified me the moment I escaped it, and, quitting the room by a door at the farther end, sought to find in some of the adjacent rooms the definite traces I had failed to discover on this the actual scene of the crime.

It was [illegible] revealing at every turn the almost [illegible] haste with which the house had been abandoned. I passed out into the kitchen and so on by a close and narrow passage to the negro quarters clustered in the rear. Here I made a discovery. One of the windows in this long disused portion of the house was not only unlocked, but partly open. But, as I came upon no marks showing that this outlet had been used by the escaping murderer, I made my way back to the front of the house and thus to the stairs communicating with the upper floor.

The candle in the tumbler

It was on the rug lying at the foot of these stairs that I came upon the first of a dozen or more burned matches which lay in a distinct trail up the staircase and along the floors of the upper halls. As these matches were all burned as short as fingers could hold them, it was evident that they had been used to light the steps of some one seeking refuge above, possibly in the very room where we had seen the light which had first drawn us to this house. How then? Should I proceed, or await the coming of the "boys" before pushing in upon a possible murderer? I decided to proceed, fascinated, I think, by the nicety of the trail which lay before me.

But when after a careful following in the steps of him who had so lately preceded me I came upon a tightly closed door at the end of a side passage, I gave a slight push to the door and, on seeing a crack of light leap into life along the jamb, pushed the door wider and wider till the whole room stood revealed.

The instantaneous banging of a shutter in one of its windows proved the room to be the very one which we had seen lighted from below. Otherwise all was still, nor was I able to detect in my first hurried glance any other token of human presence than a candle sputtering in its own grease at the bottom of a tumbler placed on one corner of an old fashioned dressing table. This, the one touch of incongruity in a room otherwise rich if not stately in its appointments, was loud in its suggestion of some hidden presence given to expedients and reckless of consequences, but of this presence nothing was to be seen.

Not satisfied with this short survey, I turned my attention to my surroundings, which had many points of interest. Foremost among these was the big four poster which occupied a large space at my right. I had never seen its like in use before, and I was greatly attracted by its size and the air of mystery imparted to it by its closely drawn curtains of faded brocade.

A dressing table laden with woman's fixings and various articles of the toilet, all of an unexpected value and richness, occupied the space between the two windows, and on the floor, immediately in front of a high mahogany mantel, there lay, amid a number of empty boxes, an overturned chair. This chair and the conjectures its position awakened led me to look up at the mantel, with which it seemed to be in some way connected, and thus I became aware of a wan old drawing hanging on the wall above it. Why this picture, which was a totally uninteresting sketch of a simpering girl face, should have held my eye after the first glance I cannot say even now. It had no beauty, even of the sentimental kind, and very little if any meaning. Its lines, weak at the best, were nearly obliterated and in some places quite faded out, yet I not only paused to look at it, but in looking at it forgot myself and well nigh my errand. Yet there was no apparent reason for the spell it exerted over me.

Water on Battleships.

As nearly as possible 8,000 gallons of fresh water are used in a large battleship daily. About two-thirds of this is taken up by the boilers, and the remainder is used for drinking, washing, cooking, etc. When the store which she has taken out with her from port has been used up a vessel has to depend upon her evaporators for further supplies. Every modern warship is fitted with evaporating machinery to distill the salt sea water.

No Harm Done.

Foreman (explaining the accident to the owner of the building)—Barney was working on the roof, sir, and he slipped and fell the whole four stories, bringing the cornice down with him, sir, and breaking both his legs and half his ribs.

Owner—Oh, well, never mind! I intended that cornice to come down in any case.

Reversing the Adage.

They found the bride in tears.

"I cook pies and things that are something fierce, but George will not eat them," she sobbed miserably.

"Ah, you must first make him love you. The way to a man's stomach is through his heart," they said, for they were worldly wise.—Puck.

Sculptured by Nature.

Nature through the active agency of the rains, winds and even the dust sometimes performs wonderful things in the strange fashioning of the obdurate stone into forms resembling the human face. On the very summit of Mount Tamalpais, a lofty peak that stands about twelve miles from the city of San Francisco, is a most remarkable profile wrought in the solid stone.

Just a few minutes' walk from the end of the railroad that leads up to the mountain's summit, on the trail that circles the crest of the peak, brings one to the Old Lady herself. This huge natural sphinx seems to guard [illegible] where it narrows on a rocky ledge.

The profile is perfect. The seams and creases made by the centuries of weather are like lines of care and age worn in the human face. No one, however aged in our worldly years, can remember when the Old Lady was young. However, when one passes farther along the path and looks backward the outline of the wrinkled visage is lost, and instead the eye can dimly trace the features of a woman young and as beautiful as an Egyptian princess.

He Had Money Before.

Colonel Carr was traveling in New Mexico once, when he ran into a party consisting of Senator Tabor and his friends. It was only a few months after Tabor had "struck it rich." Prior to that event he had possessed scarcely enough to buy a postage stamp, but he was making up for lost time.

Carr had lost his watch key and began inquiring for one. Mr. Tabor thought this a great joke. "The idea of a man wanting a watch key in the nineteenth century!" he said. After chuckling over it for some time he turned to Carr and asked an explanation. "I want to understand it—a watch key! And a man as up to date as you?"

"Well, the fact is," responded the colonel, "I had enough money to buy a watch before stem winders came into fashion."

It was a center shot and was greeted by a roar from the entire car. Tabor got off by buying champagne for the crowd.

An Intelligent Bird.

A species of woodpecker inhabits the driest parts of Mexico, where during the droughts it must die of starvation unless it made a store. To prevent this it selects the hollow stem of a species of aloe, the bore of which is just large enough to hold a nut. The woodpecker drills holes at intervals in the stem and fills it from bottom to top with the nuts, the separate holes being apparently made for convenience of access to the column of nuts within.

The intelligence which not only constructs a special storehouse but teaches the woodpecker to lay by only the nuts, which will keep, and not the insects, which would decay, is perhaps the highest form of bird reasoning which has yet been observed.

Be Cheerful.

You find yourself refreshed by the presence of cheerful people; why not make earnest efforts to confer that pleasure on others? You will find that half the battle is gained if you will never allow yourself to say anything gloomy.

Getting Back at Him.

"I'm afraid," said the actor when a cabbage came within an inch of his nose, "that somebody in the audience has lost his head."—Boston Transcript.

A barn and wagon shed situated on the farm of Charles Wilcox in Adrian township were destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. The children of Wm. Elliott, who resides on the place, noticed smoke issuing from the barn and called their parents' attention. Before aid could be summoned the two buildings were burned to the ground. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is about $700, insurance in the Grange.—Adrian Times.

One week ago George Ulrich, of Freedom, left here to visit uncles and aunts at Greenville, and work a few weeks before joining his brother Frank, who owns land in the upper penisula. Yesterday afternoon Fred Kern received a telegram stating that he was drowned and that the body had not been recovered. He would have been 21 years old in September. Paul Kress, guardian, went there today to investigate and the body when found, will be brought here for burial. George joined the maccabees about three months ago.—Manchester Enterprise.

Howard Spring of Union City, was fishing, when he felt a most vigorous bite. He could not pull in the fish and so it towed the boat. There was a big struggle but finally the fish went into the weeds, got tangled and eventually was captured. It proved to be a tremendous dog-fish and out of its mouth was the tail of a fish. (This is a true fish tale.) The dog-fish was opened and a pickerel weighing 18 pounds was secured. Inside the pickerel was found a big bass and the bass was lined with a two pound perch. Further investigation by the department of the interior revealed in the perch a frog. Wishing to know on what meat the frog had fed, this amphibious specimen underwent a postmortem and in its stomach was found a gold ring. And if anyone refuses to believe this account, he knows what unbelievers come to. The skin of the dogfish, the head of the pickerel, and the ring are now on exhibition in Union City and Spring is now ready to fall on his knees this summer and swear to the whole story which aught to make any one feel satisfied with the truthfulness thereof.—Adrian Press.

FREE TRIAL BOTTLE TO ALL WOMEN.

Zoa Phora is sure enough "The Woman's Friend." This is no bald, gratuitous statement. It is justified by facts. It is supported by letters of gratitude and joy and praise from every community in the land. Every mail brings these letters and tens of thousands of them are in our possession.

MRS. EFFIE BATES, Muncie, Ind.

Zoa Phora cures leucorrhea, suppressed and painful periods, flooding, misplacements, piles, all irregularities, liver, kidney and bladder troubles and regulates the change of life. It makes childbirth easy and takes away the dread of that fearful ordeal. It is the greatest blessing of the age for weak and suffering women and has made thousands happy who were dragging out their lives in misery and pain.

Mrs. Effie Bates, Muncie, Ind., R. F. D. No. 1, says: "When a girl I suffered death every month when I came around, even my hands seemed to swell, and I seemed almost blind at times and I was irregular. I would feel as though I would fall backwards and didn't feel safe by myself at my monthly periods. I used some few bottles of Zoa Phora and that brought me regular and so that I didn't suffer scarcely any and the queer feelings left me."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symtoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother sould be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25; large size, 75c. JOHN J. ORR.

A Sweet Breath

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years; tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like." WRECK

On the Detroit Southern road

MONDAY MORNING

Which made things lively for a short time.

Yesterday morning about 4 o'clock, the railroad crossing at the target was the scene of quite an expensive wreck. The gravel train on the Detroit Southern road was coming in loaded with gravel, when just in front of the depot, the last coach became detatched. The trucks broke throwing the car off the track to the north, tearing up the switch, two or three trees, a telephone pole, and last but not least, completely demolishing the target house used by Gus Valenberg for a shoe shop.

This shop contained beside Mr. Valenburgs tools, a book case, with several books, which were badly broken and torn. If this wreck had been in the day time, while Gus was in the target house, he says it would have been no "Yolly". The cars were over turned a little ways down the track, and badly broken.

"A Royal Slave."

"A Royal Slave" is one of the most elaborate and beautifully melodramatic productions on the road. The scenery is the finest that the studios can furnish and is painted from photographs made in Mexico. The costumes and stage accessories are very rich and the powerful and thrilling dramatic stage pictures. Though it is a melodrama of the sensational sort, there is not a shot fired during the entire play and it is possessed of real literary and dramatic merit of a high order.

This great production represents more than half a year's work by an able corps of scenic artists and skilled mechanics, and will give our people a chance to see, not only the beautiful scenic equipment but decidedly the most original play on the stage of this country.

It is some to be able to say that at least we can herald the coming of a new play, full of new ideas, situations and startling effects. Such is true, however, of the forthcoming production of "A Royal Slave," which is put on in a most artistic manner, complete in every detail. Mr. Harry Gordon has always brought us the finest attractions and he assures us this is his best. The play will shortly be seen at the Bradley opera house on Friday, Aug. 12.

The Filigree Ball.

The detective story that has caused more comment than any other written in this country for many years, and has given Anna Catherine Green its world wide reputation was commenced in the HERALD last Friday and will be continued about 3 columns a week for some months. This story cost the HERALD much more than an ordinary production but will prove of much interest to its reader.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abcess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright. Drug store price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

ROUND ABOUT US.

Anna was preparing to say her evening prayer. Her mother, sitting near, said she must ask God to make the weather warmer so grandma's rheumatism would be better. Anna ended her prayer that night with the following supplication: "And oh, God please make it hot for grandma!"—Ex.

On Monday last, before Justice Rogers of Addison, Jack Rank was arraigned for examination on the charge of attempting to murder his son-in-law, Charles Ott, at Manitou Beach on the Fourth of July, by stabbing him with a knife. Rank was bound over for trial in the circuit court and as he was unable to furnish bonds, was taken to jail. —Hudson Post.

Dr. Kapp of Manchester, has won in the contagious disease bill that has been hanging fire so long. The doctor applied to the court to compel the county board of auditors to pay the bill, but Judge Kinne favored the board whereupon the case was appealed to the supreme court where the decision was reversed.

A Hudson man was working in the garden very slow, and what the man was doing no doubt you'd like to know. He never sweat a particle—his ambition was fled—for he was only spading up his wife's best posy bed. The next day he was spading and how the dirt did fly; he sweat so much that not a thread of his clothing was dry. The neighbors were astonished at such rapid working gait, until the news spread 'round the town that he was digging bait.—Hudson Post.

BASE BALL

Two Defeats for

TECUMSEH

Out of Three Games. The Team left for Mt. Clemens this morning.

Montpelier and the Tecumseh ball team played at Lamb Fence park in Adrian last Friday afternoon, the former winning by a score of 6 to 4, the same score by which the Montpelier team were defeated by Tecumseh in this city the day before. Niether side scored until the third inning, when Montpelier with three hits, a base on balls and aided by two costly errors, scored 5 men.

In the fourth inning Tecumseh braced up and Beasley, the first man up, hit a two bagger. Sebastian followed with a single and the two scored aided by Furlong's hit and an error. Tecumseh failed to score again until the seventh when Sebastian landed a two bagger and scored on Roots single, their last coming in the ninth inning when Beasley made a home run. Teal brought in the last score for Montpelier in the eight inning.

Following is the score:

Montpelier	AB	R	H	PO	A

First base on balls, off Killian 3, Teal 1; left on bases, Tecumseh 10, Montpelier 6; two base hits, Teal, Beasley, Sebastian; home runs, Beasley; struck out by Killian 4, by Teal 6.

The Detroit Wheelman crossed bats here last Saturday with the local team, the latter winning by a score of 5 to 4. McClure started to pitch the game for the visitors, the locals securing 8 hits off him and he was obliged to retire in the fifth. Stoakes, the Detroit mystery, who has just signed with the Wheelman for the rest of the season, went in. He allowed no hits and struck out four men.

In the sixth inning he hit a two bagger and made the Wheelman's first score when Parm followed with another two bagger. They made three scores in the eighth inning when Mott, with two men on bases, made a home run.

Tecumseh started the ball rolling in the first inning when Knickerbocker, the first man up singled, Bell sacrificed advancing Knickerbocker to second, when Beasley lined out a two bagger, scoring Knickerbocker. Sebastian and LaBelle, both got first on errors, and Beasley finished his run. The locals secured three runs again in the fourth inning when Root singled, stole second, Striker singled, scoring Root, Bell singled and Beasley made his second two bagger, bringing in Bell and Striker.

Beasley was the star player, getting three hits out of four times up, two of these were two baggers. The base work for the local team was fine only one bad throw being made throughout the game.

Following is the score:

Wheelman	AB	R	H	PO	A

The local team was defeated by the Mt. Clemens team in a very close and exciting game yesterday afternoon. This is the third defeat of the home team on the local grounds.

The visitors' only scores were made in the sixth inning. A couple of hits and two errors brought in one run for the locals in the seventh. Several snappy plays were made by the visiting team.

Following is the score by innings:

BASE BALL NOTES.

Next Saturday Tecumseh will play their third game with Clinton on the Clinton grounds.

About twenty-five from Adrian, attended the Mt. Clemens—Tecumseh game here yesterday.

The Tecumseh base ball boys went to Mt. Clemens this morning, where they will play three games, today, Wednesday and Thursday. Wade Jones accompanied the team.

SALE RAPIDLY INCREASING

Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy, has cured hundreds of C. A. Wright's customers.

One of the greatest successes in the sale of a medicine has been achieved by Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy, and its sale is increasing so rapidly that C. A. Wright, the popular druggist, has hard work to keep a stock on hand.

It is very popular with well known bankers, ministers, lawyers and others whose business or profession keeps them closely confined, while those who have brought on indigestion through irregular eating, worry or other causes, have found a cure in this reliable remedy.

Mi-o-na is in the form of small tablets and is sold in a metal box especially designed for convenience in carrying the medicine in the pocket or purse. It is pleasant to take; costs but 50c, gives quick relief and makes lasting cures.

This remedy has been so uniformly successful and made so many remarkable cures that C. A. Wright will in future sell Mi-o-na under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it should not cure. No other dyspepsia medicine ever had a large enough percentage of cures so that it could be sold in this manner. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

There is no time like the present to do a thing that ought to be done. If any one has dyspepsia, today is the best time to begin curing it.

Old Papers.

For house cleaning uses. Bundles of 30 for 5 cents at the HERALD office.

A tramp swarm of bees found an old hive on the premises of David R. Smith of Wolfe Creek, a few days since and at once flew in and began business. Dave made no effort to stop the flow but, simply lifted his hat and exclaimed, "Ah there honey!"—Adrian Press.

A small floating house is an object of interest at Clarks Lake. A dozen oil barrels support the structure, forming air chambers that keep the house high and dry above the surface of the lake. Several Jackson boys built the boat in the Central City and shipped it to the lake in sections.—Brooklyn Exponent.

The Toledo & Michigan Electric railroad is making good work in its line of grading. East of this city they have nearly reached Hudson and west they have graded from Coldwater as far as Sand Crossing, where they have a deep cut to make. They expect to get into Jonesville inside of two weeks. The road will undoubtedly come into this city around on the south shore of Bawbeese lake, entering the city on Broad street. It is stated that the company purchased the water power at Mosherville and it is proposed to run a feed wire from Mosherville to Jonesville to convey the power to the road.—Hudson Gazette.

The people of Ypsilanti were amazed to read in the Detroit Journal one night last week a dispatch purporting to come from here to the effect that during a severe thunder-storm the Baptist church spire was struck and the communion service melted into the form of a crucifix. There was also a dispatch from Ann Arbor to the effect that the University registration had reached over 29,000. The trouble was that the Detroit Press Club were getting up a burlesque paper for an entertainment they were to give and the date of the paper was supposed to be one thousand years hence. It happened that these items were part of that paper, and the Journal make-up man, being in need of a few lines to fill up his columns, took these and dumped them into the form without discovering that they were not made for the Journal's columns.—The Ypsilantian.

KILLS GERMS OF CATARRH

Hyomei goes to the root of the disease and makes astonishing cures.

Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of pills, liquid medicines and so-called system tonics. Under such treatment the germs of the disease will still live in the air passages and increase and multiply.

Hyomei is the only scientific thorough way to cure catarrh. Killing the germs in the air passages, it enters the blood with the oxygen, destroys the microbes in the blood and effectually drives from the system all traces of catarrhal poison.

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh is the fact that C. A. Wright will agree to refund the money if you say Hyomei has not cured you.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

Cure for Hay Fever.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose and intense burning of hay fever. It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

CHAPTER II.

Hibbard, who up to this point had followed me almost too closely, now accorded me all the room that was necessary. It was with a sense of entering alone upon the scene that I finally thrust wide the door and crossed the threshold of this redoubtable room where, but two short weeks before, a fresh victim had been added to the list of those who had by some unheard of, unimaginable means found their death within its recesses.

My first glance showed me little save the ponderous outlines of an old settle, which jutted from the corner of the fireplace half way out into the room. As it was seemingly from this seat that the men, who at various times had been found lying here, had fallen to their doom, a thrill passed over me as I noted its unwieldy bulk and the deep shadow it threw on the ancient and dishonored hearthstone. To escape the ghastly memories it evoked and also to satisfy myself that the room was really as empty as it seemed, I took another step forward. This caused the light from the lantern I carried to spread beyond the point on which it had hitherto been so effectively concentrated, but the result was to emphasize rather than detract from the extreme desolation of the great room. The settle was a fixture, as I afterward found, and was almost the only article of furniture to be seen on the wide expanse of uncarpeted floor. There was a table or two in hiding somewhere amid the shadows at the other end from where I stood, and possibly some kind of stool or settee, but the general impression made upon me was that of a completely dismantled place given over to moth and rust.

The elegance of the heavily stuccoed ceiling, admitted to be one of the finest specimens of its kind in Washington, as well as the richness of the carvings ornamenting the mantel of Italian marble rising above the accursed hearthstone, only served to make more evident the extreme neglect into which the rest of the room had sunk. Being anything but anxious to subject myself further to its unhappy influence and quite convinced that the place was indeed as empty as it looked, I turned to leave when my eyes fell upon something so unexpected and so extraordinary, seen as it was under the influence of the old tragedies with which my mind was necessarily full, that I paused, balked in my advance and well nigh uncertain whether I looked upon a real thing or on some strange and terrible fantasy of my aroused imagination.

A form lay before me, outstretched on that portion of the floor which had hitherto been hidden from me by the half open door—a woman's form, which even in that first casual look impressed itself upon me as one of aerial delicacy and extreme refinement; and this form lay as only the dead lie; the dead! And I had bee looking at the hearthstone for just such a picture! No, not just such a picture, for this woman lay face uppermost, and, on the floor beside her was blood—

A hand had plucked my sleeve. It was Hibbard's. Startled by my immobility and silence, he had stepped in with quaking members, expecting he hardly knew what. But no sooner did his eyes fall on the prostrate form which held me spellbound than an unforeseen change took place in him. What had unnerved me, restored him to full self possession. Death in this shape was familiar to him. He had no fear of blood. He did not show surprise at encountering it, but only at the effect it appeared to produce on me.

"Shot!" was his laconic comment as he bent over the prostrate body. "Shot through the heart! She must have died before she fell."

Shot!

That was a new experience for this room. No wound had ever before disfigured those who had fallen here, nor had any of the previous victims been found lying on any other spot than the one over which that huge settle kept guard. As these thoughts crossed my mind I instinctively glanced again toward the fireplace for what I almost refused to believe lay outstretched at my feet. When nothing more appeared there than that old seat of sinister memory, I experienced a thrill which poorly prepared me for the cry which I now heard raised by Hibbard.

"Look here! What do you make of this?"

He was pointing to what, upon closer inspection, proved to be a strip of white satin ribbon running from one of the delicate wrists of the girl before us to the handle of a pistol which had fallen not far away from her side. "It looks as if the pistol was attached to her. That is something new in my experience. What do you think it means?"

Alas, there was but one thing it could mean. The shot to which she had succumbed had been delivered by herself. This fair and delicate creature was a suicide.

But suicide in this place! How could we account for that? Had the story of this room's ill acquired fame acted hypnotically on her, or had she stumbled upon the open door in front and been glad of any refuge where her misery might find a solitary termination? Closely scanning her upturned face, I sought an answer to this question, and while thus seeking received a fresh shock which I did not hesitate to communicate to my now none too sensitive companion.

"Look at these features," I cried. "I seem to know them. Do you?"

He growled out a dissent, but stooped at my bidding and gave the pitiful young face a prolonged stare. When he looked up again it was with a puzzled contraction of his eyebrows.

"I've certainly seen it somewhere," he hesitatingly admitted, edging slowly away toward the door. "Perhaps in the papers. Isn't she like"—

"Like!" I interrupted. "It is Veronica Moore herself, the owner of this house and she who was married here two weeks since to Mr. Jeffrey. Evidently her reason was unseated by the tragedy which threw so deep a gloom over her wedding."

CHAPTER III.

Not for an instant did I doubt the correctness of this identification. All the pictures I had seen of this well known society belle had been marked by an individuality of expression which fixed her face in the memory and which I now saw repeated in the lifeless features before me.

Having sent the too willing Hibbard to notify headquarters, I was on the point of making a memorandum of such details as seemed important, when my lantern suddenly went out, leaving me in total darkness.

This was far from pleasant, but the effect it produced upon my mind was not without its result; for no sooner did I find myself alone and in the unrelieved darkness of this gravelike room than I became convinced that no woman, however frenzied, would make her plunge into an unknown existence from the midst of a darkness only too suggestive of the tomb to which she was hastening. It was not in nature, not in woman's nature, at all events. Either she had committed the final act before such daylight as could filter through the shutters of this closed up room had quite disappeared—a hypothesis instantly destroyed by the warmth which still lingered in certain portions of her body—or else the light which had been burning when she pulled the fatal trigger had since been carried elsewhere or extinguished.

Recalling the uncertain gleams which we had seen flashing from one of the upper windows, I was inclined to give some credence to the former theory, but was disposed to be fair to both. So after relighting my lamp I turned on one of the gas cocks of the massive chandelier over my head and applied a match. The result was just what I anticipated; no gas in the pipes. A meter had not been put in for the wedding. This the papers had repeatedly stated in dwelling upon the garish effect of the daylight on the elaborate costumes worn by the ladies. Candles had not even been provided—ah, candles! What, then, was it that I saw glittering on a small table at the other end of the room? Surely a candlestick, or, rather, an old fashioned candelabrum with a half burned candle in one of its sockets. Hastily crossing to it, I felt of the candle wick. It was quite stiff and hard. But not considering this a satisfactory proof that it had not been lately burning—the tip of the wick soon dries after the flame is blown out—I took out my penknife and attacked the wick at what might be called its root; whereupon I found that where the threads had been protected by the wax they were comparatively soft and penetrable.

The conclusion was obvious. True to my instinct in this matter, the woman had not lifted her weapon in darkness; this candle had been burning. But here my thoughts received a fresh shock. If burning, then by whom had it since been blown out? Not by her; her wound was too fatally sure for that. The steps taken between the table where the candelabrum stood and the place where she lay were taken, if taken at all by her, before that shot was fired. Some one else—some one whose breath still lingered in the air about me—had extinguished this candle flame after she fell, and the death I looked down upon was not a suicide, but a murder!

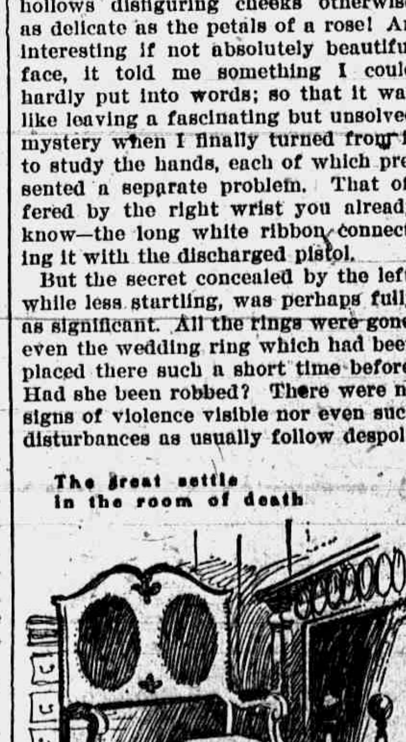
The excitement which this discovery caused to tingle through my every nerve had its birth in the ambitious feeling referred to in the opening paragraph of this narrative. I believed that my long sought for opportunity had come; that with the start given me by the conviction just stated I should be enabled to collect such clews and establish such facts as would lead to the acceptance of this new theory instead of the apparent one of suicide embraced by Hibbard and about to be promulgated at police headquarters. If so, what a triumph would be mine and what a debt I should owe to the crabbed old gentleman whose seemingly fantastic fears had first drawn me to this place!

Realizing the value of the opportunity afforded me by the few minutes I was likely to spend alone on this scene of crime, I proceeded to my task with that directness and method which I had always promised myself should characterize my first success in detective work.

First, then, for another look at the fair young victim herself! What a line of misery on the brow! What dark hollows disfiguring cheeks otherwise as delicate as the petals of a rose! An interesting if not absolutely beautiful face, it told me something I could hardly put into words; so that it was like leaving a fascinating but unsolved mystery when I finally turned from it to study the hands, each of which presented a separate problem. That offered by the right wrist you already know—the long white ribbon connecting it with the discharged pistol.

But the secret concealed by the left, while less startling, was perhaps fully as significant. All the rings were gone, even the wedding ring which had been placed there such a short time before. Had she been robbed? There were no signs of violence visible nor even such disturbances as usually follow despoliation by a criminal's hand. The boa of delicate black net which encircled her neck rose fresh and intact to her chin; nor did the heavy folds of her rich broadcloth gown betray that any disturbance had taken place in her figure after its fall. If a jewel had flashed at her throat, or earrings adorned her ears, they had been removed by a careful, if not a loving, hand. But I was rather inclined to think that she had entered upon the scene of her death without ornaments,—such severe simplicity marked her whole attire.

The great settle in the room of death



Her hat, which was as plain and also as elegant as the rest of her clothing, lay near her on the floor. It had been taken off and thrown down, manifestly by an impatient hand. That this hand was her own was evident from a small but very significant fact. The pin which had held it to her hair had been thrust again into the hat. No hand but hers would have taken this precaution. A man would have flung it aside just as he would have flung the hat.

Question:

Did this argue a natural expectation on her part of resuming her hat, or was the action the result of an unconscious habit?

Having thus noted all that was possible concerning her without infringing on the rights of the coroner, I next proceeded to cast about for clews to the identity of the person whom I considered responsible for the extinguished candle. But here a great disappointment awaited me. I could find nothing expressive of a second person's presence save a pile of cigar ashes scattered near the legs of a common kitchen chair which stood face to face with the bookshelves in that part of the room where the candelabrum rested on a small table. But these ashes looked old, nor could I detect any evidence of tobacco smoke in the general mustiness pervading the place. Was the man who died here a fortnight since accountable for these ashes? If so, his unfinished cigar must be within sight. Should I search for it? No, for this would take me to the hearth and that was quite too deadly a place to be heedlessly approached.

Besides, I was not yet finished with the spot where I then stood. If I could gather nothing satisfactory from the ashes, perhaps I could from the chair or the shelves before which it had been placed. Some one with an interest in books had sat there; some one who expected to spend sufficient time over these old tomes to feel the need of a chair. Had this interest been a general one, or had it centered in a particular volume? I ran my eye over the shelves within reach, possibly with an idea of settling this question, and though my knowledge of books is limited I could see that these were what one might call rarities. Some of them contained specimens of black letter, all moldy and smothered in dust; in others I saw dates of publication which placed them among volumes dear to a collector's heart. But none of them, so far as I could see, gave any evidence of having been lately handled; and, anxious to waste no time on puerile details, I hastily quitted my chair and was proceeding to turn my attention elsewhere when I noticed on an upper shelf a book projecting slightly beyond the others. Instantly my foot was on the chair and the book in my hand. Did I find it of interest? Yes, but not on account of its contents, for they were pure Greek to me, but because it lacked the dust on its upper edge which had marked every other volume I had handled. This, then, was what had attracted the unknown to these shelves, this—let me see if I can remember its title—"Disquisition Upon Old Coast Lines." Pshaw! I was wasting my time. What had such a dry compendium as this to do with the body lying in its blood a few steps behind me, or with the hand which had put out the candle upon this dreadful deed? Nothing. I replaced the book, but not so hastily as to push it one inch beyond the position in which I found it. For, if it had a tale to tell, then was it my business to leave that tale to be read by those who understood books better than I did.

My next move was toward the little table holding the candelabrum with the glittering pendants. This table was one of a nest standing against a nearby wall. Investigation proved that it had been lifted from the others and brought to its present position within a very short space of time, for the dust lying thick on its top was almost entirely lacking from the one which had been nested under it. Neither had the candelabrum been standing there long, dust being found under as well as around it. Had her hand brought it there? Hardly, if it came from the top of the mantel toward which I now turned in my course of investigation.

I have already mentioned this mantel more than once. This I could hardly avoid, since in and about it lay the heart of the mystery for which the room was remarkable. But, though I have thus freely spoken of it and though it was not absent from my thoughts for a moment, I had not ventured to approach it beyond a certain safe radius. Now in looking to see if I might not lessen this radius I experienced that sudden and overwhelming interest in its every feature which attaches to all objects peculiarly associated with danger.

I even took a step toward it, holding up my lamp so that a stray ray struck the faded surface of an old engraving hanging over the fireplace. It was the well known one, in Washington at least, of Benjamin Franklin at the court of France, interesting no doubt, in a general way, but scarcely calculated to hold the eye at so critical an instant. Neither did the shelf below call for more than momentary attention, for it was absolutely bare. So was the time worn, if not blood stained, hearth, save for the impenetrable shadow cast over it by the huge bulk of the great settle standing at its edge.

I have already described the impression made on me at my first entrance by this ancient and characteristic article of furniture.

It was intensified now as my eye ran over the clumsy carving which added to the discomfort of its high, straight back and as I smelled the smell of its moldy and possibly mouse haunted cushions. A crawling sense of dread took the place of my first instinctive repugnance, not because superstition had as yet laid its grip upon me, although the place, the hour and the near and veritable presence of death were enough to rouse the imagination past the bounds of the actual, but because of a discovery I had made—a discovery which emphasized the tradition that all who had been found dead under the mantel had fallen as if from the end of this monstrous and patriarchal bench. Do you ask what this discovery was? It can be told in a word. This one end and only this end had been made comfortable for the sitter. For a space scarcely wide enough for one the seat and back at this special point had been upholstered with leather, fastened to the wood with heavy wrought nails. The remaining portion stretched out bare, hard and inexpressibly forbidding to one who sought ease there or even a moment of casual rest.

The natural inference was that the owner of this quaint piece of furniture had been a very selfish man who thought only of his own comfort. But might he not have had some other reason for his apparent niggardliness? As I asked myself this question and noted how the long and embracing arm which guarded this cushioned retreat was flattened on top for the convenient holding of decanter and glass, feelings to which I can give no name and which I had fondly believed myself proof against began to take the place of judgment and reason. Before I realized the nature of my own impulse or to what it was driving me I found myself moving slowly and steadily toward this formidable seat under an irresistible desire to fling myself down upon these old cushions and—

But here the creaking of some faroff shutter, possibly the one I had seen swaying from the opposite side of the street, recalled me to the duties of the hour, and, remembering that my investigations were but half completed and that I might be interrupted any moment by detectives from headquarters, I broke from the accursed charm, which horrified me the moment I escaped it, and, quitting the room by a door at the farther end, sought to find in some of the adjacent rooms the definite traces I had failed to discover on this the actual scene of the crime.

It was a dismal search, revealing at every turn the almost maddened haste with which the house had been abandoned. I passed out into the kitchen and so on by a close and narrow passage to the negro quarters clustered in the rear. Here I made a discovery. One of the windows in this long disused portion of the house was not only unlocked, but partly open. But, as I came upon no marks showing that this outlet had been used by the escaping murderer, I made my way back to the front of the house and thus to the stairs communicating with the upper floor.

The candle in the tumbler

It was on the rug lying at the foot of these stairs that I came upon the first of a dozen or more burned matches which lay in a distinct trail up the staircase and along the floors of the upper halls. As these matches were all burned as short as fingers could hold them, it was evident that they had been used to light the steps of some one seeking refuge above, possibly in the very room where we had seen the light which had first drawn us to this house. How then? Should I proceed, or await the coming of the "boys" before pushing in upon a possible murderer? I decided to proceed, fascinated, I think, by the nicety of the trail which lay before me.

But when after a careful following in the steps of him who had so lately preceded me I came upon a tightly closed door at the end of a side passage, I gave a slight push to the door and, on seeing a crack of light leap into life along the jamb, pushed the door wider and wider till the whole room stood revealed.

The instantaneous banging of a shutter in one of its windows proved the room to be the very one which we had seen lighted from below. Otherwise all was still, nor was I able to detect in my first hurried glance any other token of human presence than a candle sputtering in its own grease at the bottom of a tumbler placed on one corner of an old fashioned dressing table. This, the one touch of incongruity in a room otherwise rich if not stately in its appointments, was loud in its suggestion of some hidden presence given to expedients and reckless of consequences, but of this presence nothing was to be seen.

Not satisfied with this short survey, I turned my attention to my surroundings, which had many points of interest. Foremost among these was the big four poster which occupied a large space at my right. I had never seen its like in use before, and I was greatly attracted by its size and the air of mystery imparted to it by its closely drawn curtains of faded brocade.

A dressing table laden with woman's fixings and various articles of the toilet, all of an unexpected value and richness, occupied the space between the two windows, and on the floor, immediately in front of a high mahogany mantel, there lay, amid a number of empty boxes, an overturned chair. This chair and the conjectures its position awakened led me to look up at the mantel, with which it seemed to be in some way connected, and thus I became aware of a wan old drawing hanging on the wall above it. Why this picture, which was a totally uninteresting sketch of a simpering girl face, should have held my eye after the first glance I cannot say even now. It had no beauty, even of the sentimental kind, and very little if any meaning. Its lines, weak at the best, were nearly obliterated and in some places quite faded out, yet I not only paused to look at it, but in looking at it forgot myself and well nigh my errand. Yet there was no apparent reason for the spell it exerted over me.

Water on Battleships.

As nearly as possible 8,000 gallons of fresh water are used in a large battleship daily. About two-thirds of this is taken up by the boilers, and the remainder is used for drinking, washing, cooking, etc. When the store which she has taken out with her from port has been used up a vessel has to depend upon her evaporators for further supplies. Every modern warship is fitted with evaporating machinery to distill the salt sea water.

No Harm Done.

Foreman (explaining the accident to the owner of the building)—Barney was working on the roof, sir, and he slipped and fell the whole four stories, bringing the cornice down with him, sir, and breaking both his legs and half his ribs.

Owner—Oh, well, never mind! I intended that cornice to come down in any case.

Reversing the Adage.

They found the bride in tears.

"I cook pies and things that are something fierce, but George will not eat them," she sobbed miserably.

"Ah, you must first make him love you. The way to a man's stomach is through his heart," they said, for they were worldly wise.—Puck.

Sculptured by Nature.

Nature through the active agency of the rains, winds and even the dust sometimes performs wonderful things in the strange fashioning of the obdurate stone into forms resembling the human face. On the very summit of Mount Tamalpais, a lofty peak that stands about twelve miles from the city of San Francisco, is a most remarkable profile wrought in the solid stone.

Just a few minutes' walk from the end of the railroad that leads up to the mountain's summit, on the trail that circles the crest of the peak, brings one to the Old Lady herself. This huge natural sphinx seems to guard the path where it narrows on a rocky ledge.

The profile is perfect. The seams and creases made by the centuries of weather are like lines of care and age worn in the human face. No one, however aged in our worldly years, can remember when the Old Lady was young. However, when one passes farther along the path and looks backward the outline of the wrinkled visage is lost, and instead the eye can dimly trace the features of a woman young and as beautiful as an Egyptian princess.

He Had Money Before.

Colonel Carr was traveling in New Mexico once, when he ran into a party consisting of Senator Tabor and his friends. It was only a few months after Tabor had "struck it rich." Prior to that event he had possessed scarcely enough to buy a postage stamp, but he was making up for lost time.

Carr had lost his watch key and began inquiring for one. Mr. Tabor thought this a great joke. "The idea of a man wanting a watch key in the nineteenth century!" he said. After chuckling over it for some time he turned to Carr and asked an explanation. "I want to understand it—a watch key! And a man as up to date as you?"

"Well, the fact is," responded the colonel, "I had enough money to buy a watch before stem winders came into fashion."

It was a center shot and was greeted by a roar from the entire car. Tabor got off by buying champagne for the crowd.

An Intelligent Bird.

A species of woodpecker inhabits the driest parts of Mexico, where during the droughts it must die of starvation unless it made a store. To prevent this it selects the hollow stem of a species of aloe, the bore of which is just large enough to hold a nut. The woodpecker drills holes at intervals in the stem and fills it from bottom to top with the nuts, the separate holes being apparently made for convenience of access to the column of nuts within.

The intelligence which not only constructs a special storehouse but teaches the woodpecker to lay by only the nuts, which will keep, and not the insects, which would decay is perhaps the highest form of bird reasoning which has yet been observed.

Be Cheerful.

You find yourself refreshed by the presence of cheerful people; why not make earnest efforts to confer that pleasure on others? You will find that half the battle is gained if you will never allow yourself to say anything gloomy.

A barn and wagon shed situated on the farm of Charles Wilcox in Adrian township were destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. The children of Wm. Elliott, who resides on the place, noticed smoke issuing from the barn and called their parents' attention. Before aid could be summoned the two buildings were burned to the ground. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss is about $700, insurance in the Grange.—Adrian Times.

One week ago George Ulrich of Freedom, left here to visit uncles and aunts at Greenville, and work a few weeks before joining his brother Frank, who owns land in the upper penisula. Yesterday afternoon Fred Kern received a telegram stating that he was drowned and that the body had not been recovered. He would have been 21 years old in September. Paul Kress, guardian, went there today to investigate and the body when found, will be brought here for burial. George joined the maccabees about three months ago.—Manchester Enterprise.

Howard Spring of Union City, was fishing, when he felt a most vigorous bite. He could not pull in the fish and so it towed the boat. There was a big struggle but finally the fish went into the weeds, got tangled and eventually was captured. It proved to be a tremendous dog-fish and out of its mouth was the tail of a fish. (This is a true fish tale.) The dog-fish was opened and a pickerel weighing 18 pounds was secured. Inside the pickerel was found a big bass and the bass was lined with a two pound perch. Further investigation by the department of the interior revealed in the perch a frog. Wishing to know on what meat the frog had fed, this amphibious specimen underwent a post-mortem and in its stomach was found a gold ring. And if anyone refuses to believe this account, he knows what unbelievers come to. The skin of the dog-fish, the head of the pickerel, and the ring are now on exhibition in Union City and Spring is now ready to fall on his knees this summer and swear to the whole story which autumn make any one feel satisfied with the truthfulness thereof.—Adrian Press.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symtoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother sould be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25; large size, 75c. JOHN J. ORR.

WRECK

On the Detroit Southern road

MONDAY MORNING

Which made things lively for a short time.

Yesterday morning about 4 o'clock, the railroad crossing at the target was the scene of quite an expensive wreck. The gravel train on the Detroit Southern road was coming in loaded with gravel, when just in front of the depot, the last coach became detatched. The trucks broke throwing the car off the track to the north, tearing up the switch, two or three trees, a telephone pole, and last but not least, completely demolishing the target house used by Gus Valenberg for a shoe shop.

This shop contained beside Mr. Valenburgs tools, a book case, with several books, which were badly broken and torn. If this wreck had been in the day time, while Gus was in the target house, he says it would have been no "Yolly". The cars were over turned a little ways down the track, and badly broken.

"A Royal Slave."

"A Royal Slave" is one of the most elaborate and beautifully melodramatic productions on the road. The scenery is the finest that the studios can furnish and is painted from photographs made in Mexico. The costumes and stage accessories are very rich and the powerful and thrilling dramatic stage pictures. Though it is a melodrama of the sensational sort, there is not a shot fired during the entire play and it is possessed of real literary and dramatic merit of a high order.

This great production represents more than half a year's work by an able corps of scenic artists and skilled mechanics, and will give our people a chance to see, not only the beautiful scenic equipment but decidedly the most original play on the stage of this country.

It is some to be able to say that at least we can herald the coming of a new play, full of new ideas, situations and startling effects. Such is true, however, of the forthcoming production of "A Royal Slave," which is put on in a most artistic manner, complete in every detail. Mr. Harry Gordon has always brought us the finest attractions and he assures us this is his best. The play will shortly be seen at the Bradley opera house on Friday, Aug. 12.

The Filigree Ball.

The detective story that has caused more comment than any other written in this country for many years, and has given Anna Catherine Green its world wide reputation was commenced in the HERALD last Friday and will be continued about 3 columns a week for some months. This story cost the HERALD much more than an ordinary production but will prove of much interest to its reader,

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abcess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright. Drug store price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

ROUND ABOUT US.

Anna was preparing to say her evening prayer. Her mother, sitting near, said she must ask God to make the weather warmer so grandma's rheumatism would be better. Anna ended her prayer that night with the following supplication: "And oh, God please make it hot for grandma!"—Ex.

On Monday last, before Justice Rogers of Addison, Jack Rank was arraigned for examination on the charge of attempting to murder his son-in-law, Charles Ott, at Manitou Beach on the Fourth of July, by stabbing him with a knife. Rank was bound over for trial in the circuit court and as he was unable to furnish bonds, was taken to jail. —Hudson Post.

Dr. Kapp of Manchester, has won in the contagious disease bill that has been hanging fire so long. The doctor applied to the court to compel the county board of auditors to pay the bill, but Judge Kinne favored the board whereupon the case was appealed to the supreme court where the decision was reversed.

A Hudson man was working in the garden very slow, and what the man was doing no doubt you'd like to know. He never sweat a particle—his ambition was fled— for he was only spading up his wife's best posy bed. The next day he was spading and how the dirt did fly; he sweat so much that not a thread of his clothing was dry. The neighbors were astonished at such rapid working gait, until the news spread 'round the town that he was digging bait.—Hudson Post.

BASE BALL

Two Defeats for

TECUMSEH

Out of Three Games. The Team left for Mt. Clemens this morning.

Montpelier and the Tecumseh ball team played at Lamb Fence park in Adrian last Friday afternoon, the former winning by a score of 6 to 4, the same score by which the Montpelier team were defeated by Tecumseh in this city the day before. Niether side scored until the third inning when Montpelier with three hits, a base on balls and aided by two costly errors, scored 5 men.

In the fourth inning Tecumseh braced up and Beasley, the first man up, hit a two bagger. Sebastian followed with a single and the two scored aided by Furlong's hit and an error. Tecumseh failed to score again until the seventh when Sebastian landed a two bagger and scored on Roots single, their last coming in the ninth inning when Beasley made a home run. Teal brought in the last score for Montpelier in the eight inning.

Following is the score:

Montpelier	AB	R	H	PO	A

The Detroit Wheelman crossed bats here last Saturday with the local team, the latter winning by a score of 5 to 4. McClure started to pitch the game for the visitors, the locals securing 8 hits off him and he was obliged to retire in the fifth. Stoakes, the Detroit mystery, who has just signed with the Wheelman for the rest of the season, went in. He allowed no hits and struck out four men.

In the sixth inning he hit a two bagger and made the Wheelman's first score when Parm followed with another two bagger. They made three scores in the eighth inning when Mott, with two men on bases, made a home run.

Tecumseh started the ball rolling in the first inning when Knickerbocker, the first man up singled, Bell sacrificed advancing Knickerbocker to second, when Beasley lined out a two bagger, scoring Knickerbocker. Sebastian and LaBelle, both got first on errors, and Beasley finished his run. The locals secured three runs again in the fourth inning when Root singled, stole second, Striker singled, scoring Root, Bell singled and Beasley made his second two bagger, bringing in Bell and Striker.

Beasley was the star player, getting three hits out of four times up, two of these were two baggers. The base work for the local team was fine only one bad throw being made throughout the game.

Following is the score:

The local team was defeated by the Mt. Clemens team in a very close and exciting game yesterday afternoon. This is the third defeat of the home team on the local grounds.

The visitors' only scores were made in the sixth inning. A couple of hits and two errors brought in one run for the locals in the seventh. Several snappy plays were made by the visiting team.

Following is the score by innings:

BASE BALL NOTES.

Next Saturday Tecumseh will play their third game with Clinton on the Clinton grounds.

About twenty-five from Adrian attended the Mt. Clemens—Tecumseh game here yesterday.

The Tecumseh base ball boys went to Mt. Clemens this morning, where they will play three games, today, Wednesday and Thursday. Wade Jones accompanied the team.

SALE RAPIDLY INCREASING

Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy, has cured hundreds of C. A. Wright's customers.

One of the greatest successes in the sale of a medicine has been achieved by Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy, and its sale is increasing so rapidly that C. A. Wright, the popular druggist, has hard work to keep a stock on hand.

It is very popular with well known bankers, ministers, lawyers and others whose business or profession keeps them closely confined, while those who have brought on indigestion through irregular eating, worry or other causes, have found a cure in this reliable remedy.

Mi-o-na is in the form of small tablets and is sold in a metal box especially designed for convenience in carrying the medicine in the pocket or purse. It is pleasant to take; costs but 50c, gives quick relief and makes lasting cures.

This remedy has been so uniformly successful and made so many remarkable cures that C. A. Wright will in future sell Mi-o-na under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it should not cure. No other dyspepsia medicine ever had a large enough percentage of cures so that it could be sold in this manner. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

There is no time like the present to do a thing that ought to be done. If any one has dyspepsia, today is the best time to begin curing it.

Old Papers.

For house cleaning uses. Bundles of 30 for 5 cents at the HERALD office.

A tramp swarm of bees found an old hive on the premises of David R. Smith of Wolfe Creek, a few days since and at once flew in and began business. Dave made no effort to stop the flow but, simply lifted his hat and exclaimed, "Ah there honey!"—Adrian Press.

A small floating house is an object of interest at Clarks Lake. A dozen oil barrels support the structure, forming air chambers that keep the house high and dry above the surface of the lake. Several Jackson boys built the boat in the Central City and shipped it to the lake in sections.—Brooklyn Exponent.

The Toledo & Michigan Electric railroad is making good work in its line of grading. East of this city they have nearly reached Hudson and west they have graded from Coldwater as far as Sand Crossing, where they have a deep cut to make. They expect to get into Jonesville inside of two weeks. The road will undoubtedly come into this city around on the south shore of Bawbeese lake, entering the city on Broad street. It is stated that the company purchased the water power at Mosherville and it is proposed to run a feed wire from Mosherville to Jonesville to convey the power to the road.—Hudson Gazette.

The people of Ypsilanti were amazed to read in the Detroit Journal one night last week a dispatch purporting to come from here to the effect that during a severe thunder-storm the Baptist church spire was struck and the communion service melted into the form of a crucifix. There was also a dispatch from Ann Arbor to the effect that the University registration had reached over 29,000. The trouble was that the Detroit Press Club were getting up a burlesque paper for an entertainment they were to give and the date of the paper was supposed to be one thousand years hence. It happened that these items were part of that paper, and the Journal make-up man, being in need of a few lines to fill up his columns, took these and dumped them into the form without discovering that they were not made for the Journal's columns.—The Ypsilantian.

KILLS GERMS OF CATARRH

Hyomei goes to the root of the disease and makes astonishing cures.

Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of pills, liquid medicines and so-called system tonics. Under such treatment the germs of the disease will still live in the air passages and increase and multiply.

Hyomei is the only scientific thorough way to cure catarrh. Killing the germs in the air passages, it enters the blood with the oxygen, destroys the microbes in the blood and effectually drives from the system all traces of catarrhal poison.

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh is the fact that C. A. Wright will agree to refund the money if you say Hyomei has not cured you.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

Cure for Hay Fever.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose and intense burning of hay fever. It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

HERE'S A BABY

Its Mother is Well.

The baby is healthy because during the period of gestation its mother used the popular and purely vegetable liniment,

Mother's Friend

Mother's Friend is a soothing, softening, relaxing liniment, a muscle maker, invigorator and freshener. It puts new power into the back and hips of a coming mother.

It is applied externally only, there is no dosing and swallowing of nasty drugs, no inward treatment at all.

The state of the mother during gestation may influence the disposition and future of the child; that is one reason why mothers should watch their condition and avoid pain. Her health, that of the child and their lives, depend on keeping free from pain, worry and melancholy. Be of good cheer, strong of heart and peaceful mind. Mother's Friend can and will make you so. Bearing down pains, morning sickness, sore breast and insomnia are all relieved by this wonderful remedy.

Mrs. J. W. Owen, wife of the well known carpenter, living in the southeastern section of Tecumseh, says: "I am very well pleased with Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured a box at C. A. Wright's drug store and they did me a lot of good. I had heart trouble and my kidneys did not perform their proper duties. This condition existed for some time. I tried different remedies which were recommended to me but received little if any benefit from them. I received more permanent relief from their use than from any other medicine I ever used. I am pleased to testify in their value.

JAPS PRAISE KUROPATKIN.

They Admire Russian General's Ability In Saving His Army.

Tokio, Aug. 8.—Gen. Kuropatkin's success in extricating his army from the Liao Tung peninsula without disaster has elicited much praise from the Japanese. The concentrating of his army at Kaichou at one time seemed certain to involve it in disaster. It was popularly believed that a generally decisive battle would either be fought at Tatchekiao or at Naicheng.

It is considered here that Kuropatkin sacrificed his prestige by abandoning an immense territory without a battle. He was forced to abandon or destroy valuable stores and munitions of war when the transportation was almost the most serious problem to the Russians. He also impaired the morals of his army, but he preserved his men and guns.

Summer Ice.

The peasants of Pongibaud, in the mountains of Auvergne, are acquainted with a singular summer formation of ice, presumably due to evaporation of underground moisture and consequent fall in temperature. Of this phenomenon they have for many years taken advantage to cool and harden their cheeses, which are deposited in certain caverns where this ice is found to be present, and thus keep good during the hottest summer months.

The Cause of It.

"What's all this fuss about?" asked the policeman, stepping between the two young men.

The one that had got the worst of it and was wiping the blood from his nose pointed to the other fellow. "He can tell you her name if he wants to," he said. "I won't."—Chicago Tribune.

STRUCK ON HIS HEAD.

Ship Carpenter Fell Thirty Feet and Was Killed.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 6.—Michael O'Brien, 65 years old, met instant death at the Davidson shipyard. He was at work on a boat in the drydock when he fell from a scaffold to the bottom of the dock, a distance of thirty feet, striking on his head and shoulders and crushing in one side of his skull. O'Brien had been employed at the yard several years.

The cause of the accident is unknown, but it is supposed that he stumbled. He is survived by a widow and seven children.

"Philippine Day" at the Fair.

St. Louis, Aug. 8.—All the details have been completed for the celebration of "Philippine Day" on August 13. Originally the day was to be observed as "Liberal Arts Day," but owing to the fact it was desired to celebrate the sixth anniversary of the surrender of Manila on that day, "Liberal Arts Day" has been postponed until August 27. "Philippine Day" will be characterized by the presence of Secretary of War Taft, Admiral Dewey, Gen. Chaffee, Maj.-Gen. Wesley Merritt, Gen. Otis, Gen. Charles King and other distinguished guests, all of whom will participate in the ceremonies to be held on the Filipino reservation.

Alleged a Bigamist.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Returning from Elmira, N. Y., George Wheadon, a traveling salesman for a Minneapolis yeast company, has been placed under arrest here on a charge of bigamy. The complaint was made by the woman whom Wheadon traveled nearly 1,000 miles to see. According to the police Wheadon several years ago married a woman in Minneapolis, but leaving her last fall without a divorce he soon afterward married the Chicago woman. Wheadon claims that his first wife, who was married when he met her, never secured a divorce, and that therefore her marriage to himself was illegal.

Vest Failing Rapidly.

Sweet Springs, Mo., Aug. 6.—Former United States Senator George V. Vest was failing perceptibly today, and it was believed he could not survive many hours.

Bishop Potter's Saloon.

New York, Aug. 6.—The Subway Tavern, which is the center of criticism for temperance societies throughout the country, owing to the fact that Bishop Henry C. Potter assisted in its opening, is a saloon fashioned and conducted after a new idea, at the corner of Mulberry and Bleecker streets, not far from the Bowery. The bishop made a speech in the barroom, standing on a beer case, praised the new saloon and declared that it represented more progress toward temperance than the efforts of temperance leaders for fifty years. The Subway Tavern has been financed by certain members of the City club, who believe that, in addition to the predicted 5 per cent dividends the saloon will work a reform among drinkers. Any man or woman can buy anything from a glass of soda water to a rye highball in the place so long as he or she does not "treat."

Boats Carry Too Many.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 6.—Acting upon complaints that boats running on Chicago lines from the east shore of Lake Michigan are often overcrowded, United States steamship inspectors are causing a commotion in steamboat circles. United States Inspectors Mansfield and Peck issued orders for a reduction of the licenses of the steamers Eastland and the City of South Haven. The steamers ply between Chicago and South Haven. A reduction of 500 passengers was made in the capacity of each boat, the Eastland being reduced to 2,800, the City of South Haven to 2,500.

Standish, Mich., Aug. 6.—Ben B. Dowell, for nine years foreman in the Independent office here, has opened a job printing office at this place and a little later will add a full-fledged republican paper. He has recently worked on the Caro Journal and is well known among printers throughout the state.

Warship Sent to San Domingo.

Washington, Aug. 8.—Complying with the request of the state department, Admiral Sigsbee, at San Juan, has been directed to dispatch a war vessel to Monte Cristi, San Domingo. This was done at the suggestion of Mr. Dawson, the American minister to San Domingo, and the inference is that trouble is impending in that country.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

LOT OF VISITORS.

Eight Thousand of Them at Camp Boynton Sunday.

Camp Boynton, Ludington, Mich., Aug. 8.—The National Guard had a great lot of Sunday visitors. Excursions came even from Milwaukee, and estimates are that the number of visitors must have been at least 8,000. It was the greatest days business Justus S. Stearns' railway from Ludington to the camp site has ever had.

Gov. Bliss put on a white vest, along with some other clothes, and attended the morning service, conducted by Chaplains White and Hanks. Just before this service Fr. Kelly, chaplain of the second regiment, said mass in a tent. In the afternoon the brigade had drill.

Maj. Vernou, of the regular army, made an inspection during the day of the kitchens of all of the 40 companies. His reports were that everything was in as good shape as could be found in any similar body of troops. None of the men were complaining of the regular army rations, which is all they are getting.

Won Race, But Collapsed.

Port Huron, Mich., Aug. 8.—Miss Olive Cameron, the 18-year-old daughter of John Cameron, of 627 St. Clair street, lies at her home in a serious condition from heart trouble, as a result of over-exertion in a running race during the Odd Fellows' picnic at Tashmoo park. The young lady entered the 50-yard dash and ran so well that she won the prize, but just after crossing the line she fell into the arms of the judges and collapsed.

Pharmacists Will Meet.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 8.—The Michigan State Pharmaceutical society will hold its annual meeting in this city Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, and fully 200 delegates are expected to be present. Tuesday and Wednesday will be devoted to business, and Tuesday evening the delegates will be given a banquet by the local firm of Hazeltine & Perkins. Officers will be elected.

Attempted President's Life.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Aug. 8.—An attempt has been made upon the life of President Battle y. Ordonez here. While driving with his family along one of the principal streets of the city a buried torpedo was exploded at the side of the carriage. The explosion tore up the pavement and the track of the railway running through the street, but, so far as can be learned, no one was injured.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Dr. Eduard Hanslick, the famous musical critic, is dead in Vienna. He was born at Prague in September, 1825.

The new Spanish discount bank has opened its doors in Mexico City. Its capital is $3,000,000. British residents are projecting strating a new bank.

Max Arnold Hess, known in the theatrical profession as Max Arnold, the blind comedian, is dead in Philadelphia in a sanitarium, after an illness of several months. He was 43 years old.

Clifford G. Baxter, a civil engineer, and Capt. John Enright, of the South Beach life-saving station, started on a swimming contest from Brooklyn bridge to the Iron Pier at Coney Island, New York, Sunday, and both were taken out of the water temporarily crazed after swimming for seven hours and when within a mile of their goal. The distance is estimated at 13½ miles.

The attendance at the World's Fair Saturday, manufacturers' day, was exceeded by that of only two other days, opening day, 187,798, and the Fourth of July, 172,140. Another day of the past week, Tuesday, children's day, showed the fourth largest attendance in the history of the exposition. The past week was the best in point of attendance to the present. For the first time the 600,000 mark was passed.

Wounded Soldiers Mutilated.

Tokio, Aug. 8.—General Kuroki's staff surgeons have examined the bodies of a number of soldiers whom they allege have been the victims of Russian atrocity. One of the cases cited was that of the condition of affairs found at Iwo on July 3. It was declared by the surgeons that the head of a Japanese soldier was skinned by the Russians while the blood was yet in circulation. Four cases in the vicinity of Siamatzsa also were reported in which the surgeons asserted that the bodies were bayonetted and disfigured after the victims had fallen wounded. The publication of these statements has created a feeling of disgust and intense resentment here.

CHILDREN INHERIT FORTUNES.

Relatives Fail to Break Will of Mrs. Diana Richardson.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 8.—A fortune of $750,000 or more is given to the four children of Dr. L. C. Netown by the opinion just handed down by Judge Brooke, deciding the famous Diana Richardson will case. The children are: Ruth Cotton, aged 16; Charles W. R., aged 12; June Esther, aged 11, and Gilbert, aged 7 years.

Mrs. Diana Richardson was the widow of Charles W. Richardson, who amassed a fortune by dealing in Michigan pine lands and who died in Alpena in 1886. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson had no children of their own, but adopted a little girl. In time this daughter was married to Dr. L. C. Newton, of Detroit, and the four children were born to them.

Mrs. Netwon died in California, where Mr. Richardson had a home, late in the year 1901, and her four children were adopted by Mrs. Diana Richardson, who came to regard them as practically her own. Mrs. Richardson provided, before her death, in two ways for these children and, in both instances, her great fortune was bestowed upon them.

Mrs. Richardson died in May, 1903. As soon as the fact was discovered that she had set aside nearly all of her property for the children of her adopted daughter, the fight for possession of the fortune was begun in earnest. Mrs. Richardson brother, Henry R. Morse, her two nephews, Frederick Higgins, and Richard B. Morse, her nieces, Marjorie Morse and Alice Nealy, at once began proceedings in the courts, setting up that Mrs. Richardson was partially insane when she deeded over her property to the Newton children.

Their appeal was fruitless, however, and as a result these four children are made independently rich.

Spanish War Veterans Convene.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 8.—The annual state convention of the United Spanish War Veterans and the general reunion of all the Michigan Spanish War veterans will be held at Bay City, August 15 and 16. An elaborate program has been prepared and it is expected that Senator Fairbanks, candidate for vice president on the Republican ticket, and Commander-in-Chief Megrew, of the United Spanish War Veterans, of Indianapolis, Ind., will attend and deliver addresses. The executive committee, of which I. N. Kinney, is secretary, has charge of the program. The Spanish-American War Veterans and the National Army Spanish War Veterans united about two months ago, forming the United Spanish War Veterans, one of the largest organizations of its kind in the United States. It is expected that a larger attendance than ever before will be a characteristic of the convention.

Six Convicts Go Free.

Marquette, Mich., Aug. 8.—Under the recent ruling of the supreme court relative to the indeterminate sentence law, six convicts were released from Marquette prison Sunday. The men are Henry Carson, Cadillac; Thomas Nesbitt, Flint; John Robillard, Baraga; John Macki and John Westerberg, Iron county, and John Granberg, of Alger county. It was decided by the court that prisoners convicted of crimes committed prior to the enactment of the indeterminate law, September 16, 1903, and sentenced under its provisions, should serve only the minimum term given to them. All told upwards of 20 convicts in the state are affected. Many of these are in Marquette penitentiary and will gradually be freed as their minimum terms expire.

Desperate Criminals Escape.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 8.—Two desperate criminals made their escape from the Washtenaw county jail at night. They are recorded at the jail as Alexander Wilson and Henry J. Manning, of Grand Rapids, but those names and addresses, it is said, are assumed. They are the two men who looted six different homes here on June 16 when the people were attending the Barnum's circus. The day after they were acaught at Jackson with the goods and were brought back here. They made their escape by sawing off two bars at one of the est windows, jumping four feet to the ground and then leaping a five-foot fence.

Open Canal Bids.

Port Huron, Aug. 6.—On August 11 bids will be opened for the completion of the Black river drainage canal. About $50,000 has been spent on this project so far and nearly that much remains in the canal fund. Besides this a suit for $25,000 is pending against the Cuyahoga company for failure to fulfil its contract.

At Flint Next Year.

Charlevoix, Mich., Aug. 6.—The probate judges of the state meet at Flint next year. The party had a trip to Boyne City by boat for an outing and held a banquet at "The Inn" last night. An address was given by Judge Hooker. Circuit Judge F. W. Wayne acted as toastmaster at the banquet.

Attendance Was Two Hundred.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 6.—At the summer session of the Western State Normal school, just closed, the enrollment was 256, with an average attendance of 200.

INFORMATION

Given to the Public by our Local Druggist.

We want the public to know that the most valuable and delicious tasting cod liver oil preparation known to medicine is Vinol.

Vinol contains ALL of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but not a drop of oil.

For this reason it is recognized throughout the world as the greatest health restorer and strength creator known to medicine, and we do not believe there is a man, woman or child in this vicinity but what Vinol will benefit them.

It makes health and strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and to make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

Buying a Wife.

In Uganda a man can buy a handsome wife for four bulls, a box of cartridges and six needles, and if he has the luck to go a-wooing when woman happens to be a drug on the market he can buy a suitable damsel for a pair of shoes. A Kaffir girl is worth, according to the rank of her family, from four to ten cows, and in Tartary no father will surrender his daughter unless he gets a good quantity of butter in return, and in certain parts of India no girl can marry unless her father has been pacified by a present of rice and a few rupees.

Rattan Comes From Singapore.

Strange as it may seem many people imagine that rattan and willow furniture are the same. Rattan is the Chinese importation, brought direct from Singapore, and is reed susceptible of bending double without even cracking. It possesses, besides this, great firmness and strength, and a chair of rattan could be thrown from an express train and picked up intact. Rattan is therefore used for such articles as baskets and lighter ornamental furniture. Each has its use, the rattan, however, being better adapted for working up into intricate designs.

SEVEN BODIES FOUND.

River Searched for Miles for Colorado Wreck Victims.

Pueblo, Col., August 10.—Organized searching parties have scoured the Fountain river banks for miles in the hope of finding the remaining bodies of the victims of Sunday night's wreck at Eden. Seven more bodies were recovered and a number identified.

A coroner's jury was called, viewed the scene of the wreck Tuesday and examined a number of witnesses in the afternoon.

The coroner has issued a public call to all having any information concerning the wreck to come before the jury. The examination into the causes of the disaster will be exhaustive and it is thought that it will require more than a week to hear all the witnesses that have been subpenaed.

Again the morgue and undertaking establishments were besieged by anxious relatives and friends. The work of identification is proceeding slowly, as the bodies now being recovered are in bad condition. Many mistakes are being made, in several cases the matter hanging in doubt since Sunday night.

Protest to Rome.

San Domingo, Aug. 11.—The French and English governments have again protested officially to the government at Rome against the Italian-Rominican protocol, which instrument, they claim, violates the rights of French and Belgian citizens.

Can't Dabble in Politics.

Washington, August 10.—Heads of government departments have let it be known that their officials are not to take an active part in local or state politics where their activity might prove compromising in any way to the administration. President Roosevelt has declined consistently to be drawn into factional troubles in any state, and it is not deemed desirable that federal officials should be active in such contests. Recently, it was intimated to W. Smith Woolley, assayer of the mint at Boise, Idaho, and to Robert Crimmon, U. S. marshal of the same state, that they would better not participate in the state Republican convention, as their appearance as delegates or as active participants in the proceedings might be misconstrued. To other officials, too, it had been intimated that they should avoid such activity in politics as might be offensive to other good Republicans.

Broke World's Auto Record.

New York, Aug. 10.—F. A. La Roche has just completed his 3,000 miles endurance trip to and from St. Louis in an automobile. He reached Perth Amboy from Philadelphia early in the day, and crossing Staten Island took the ferry for this city, hence he proceeded to the Automobile club of America. When La Roche reached the club house from which he stated on the recordbreaking trip, the engine of his big touring car had revolved without a stop for 15 days and two hours.

is the one that will cleanse the system, set the liver to action, remove the bile, clear the complexion, cure headache and leave a good taste in the mouth. The famous little pills for doing such work pleasantly and effectually are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Bob Moore of Lafayette, Ind., says: "All other pills I have ever used gripe and sicken, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers are simply perfect". Sold by C. A. Wright.

If afterthoughts are the best why can't we have them first?

A Startling Cure.

Wm. Barrows, 4142 Halsted St., Chicago, writes, "While hanging a quarter of beef I missed the hook, which caught my hand, the hook penetrating and going through the small of the hand. I applied Greene's Infallible Liniment at once. In ten days my hand was healed. I lost no time on account of the accident, as there was no soreness after second dressing." Get a bottle today, it may be needed in a hurry sometime and be worth twenty times it's cost to you. It is a marvelous healing dressing. I can tell you more about it. We guarantee the remedy. B. J. PULVER.

Too many nurses make a specialty of nursing trouble.

Was wasting away.

The following letter from Robert R. Watts, of Salsm, Mo., is instructive. "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years. I lost flesh and never felt well and doctored with leading physicians and tried all remedies suggested without relief. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me and I am now sound and well." Sold by all druggists of Tecumseh.

A Summer Cold.

A summer cold is not only annoying but if not relieved pneumonia will be the probable result by fall. One Minute Cough Cure clears the phlegm, draws out the inflamation, heals, soothes and strengthens the lungs and bronchial tubes. One Minute Cough Cure is an ideal remedy for the children. It is pleasant to the taste and perfectly harmless. A certain cure for croup, cough cold. Sold by C. A. Wright.

When a fellow is too strong to work he usually drifts into politics.

Summer colds are troublesome and if neglected, very dangerous. Mothers should always have on hand Greene's Cough Cure—for quick use. It's superior does not exist, pure, safe, sure. Best for children. Recommended, and sold by B. J. Pulver.

CHAPTER III.

It may seem both unnecessary and out of character for a man of my calling to acknowledge these chance sensations, but only by doing so can I account for the minutes which elapsed before I summoned sufficient self possession to draw aside the closed curtains of the bed and take the quick look inside which my present doubtful position demanded. But, once I had broken the spell and taken the look just mentioned, I found my manhood return and with it my old ardor for clews. The bed held no gaping, chattering criminal, yet was it not quite empty. Something lay there, and this something, while commonplace in itself, was enough out of keeping with the place and hour to rouse my interest and awaken my conjectures. It was a lady's wrap, so rich in quality and of such a festive appearance that it was astonishing to find it lying in a neglected state in this crumbling old house. Though I know little of the cost of women's garments, I do know the value of lace, and this garment was covered with it.

Interesting as was this find, it was followed by one still more so. Nestled in the folds of the cloak lay the withered remains of what could only have been the bridal bouquet. Unsightly now and scentless, it was once a beautiful specimen of the florist's art. As I noted how the main bunch of roses and lilies was connected by long satin ribbons to the lesser clusters which hung from it I recalled with conceivable horror the use to which a similar ribbon had been put in the room below. In the shudder called up by this coincidence I forgot to speculate how a bouquet carried by the bride could have found its way back to this upstairs room when, as all accounts agree, she had fled from the parlor below without speaking or staying foot the moment she was told of the catastrophe which had taken place in the library. That her wrap should be lying here was not strange, but that the wedding bouquet—

That it really was the wedding bouquet and that this was the room in which the bride had dressed for the ceremony was apparent to the most casual observer. But it became an established fact when in my further course about the room I chanced on a handkerchief with the name Veronica embroidered in one corner.

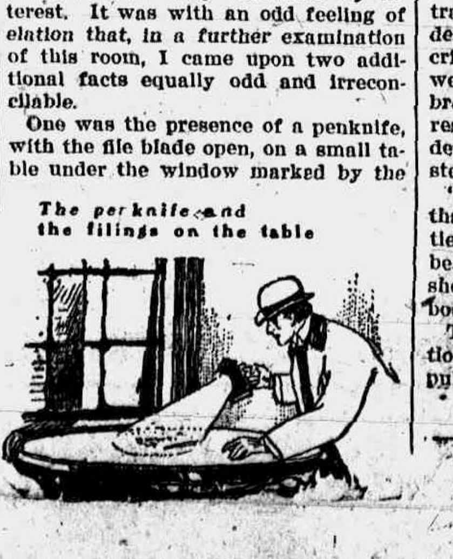
This handkerchief had an interest apart from the name on it. It was of dainty texture and quite in keeping so far as value went with the other belongings of its fastidious owner. But it was not clean. Indeed it was strangely soiled, and this soil was of a nature I did not readily understand. A woman would doubtless have comprehended immediately the cause of the brown streaks I found on it, but it took me several minutes to realize that this bit of cambric, delicate as a cobweb, had been used to remove dust. To remove dust! Dust from what? From the mantelshelf probably, upon one end of which I found it. But no! One look along the polished boards convinced me that whatever else had been dusted in this room this shelf had not. The accumulation of days if not of months was visible from one end to the other of its unrelieved surface save where the handkerchief had laid, and—the greatest discovery yet—where five clear spots just to the left of the center showed where some man's finger tips had rested. Nothing but the pressure of finger tips could have caused just the appearance presented by these spots. By scrutinizing them closely I could even tell where the thumb had rested and at once foresaw the possibility of determining by means of these marks both the size and shape of the hand which had left behind it so neat and unmistakable a clew.

Wonderful! But what did it all mean? Why should a man rest his finger tips on this out of the way shelf? Had he done so in an effort to balance himself for a look up the chimney? No, for then the marks made by his fingers would have extended to the edge of the shelf, whereas these were in the middle of it. Their shape, too, was round, not oblong. Hence the pressure had come from above, and—ah! I had it! These impressions in the dust of the shelf were just such as would be made by a person steadying himself for a close look at the old picture. And this accounted also for the overturned chair and for the handkerchief used as a duster. Some one's interest in this picture had been greater than mine; some one who was either very nearsighted or whose temperament was such that only the closest inspection would satisfy an aroused curiosity.

This gave me an idea, or, rather, impressed upon me the necessity of preserving the outline of these telltale marks while they were still plain to the eye. Taking out my penknife, I lightly ran the point of my sharpest blade around each separate impression till I had fixed them for all time in the well worn varnish of the mahogany.

This done, my thoughts recurred to the question already raised. What was there in this old picture to arouse such curiosity in one bent on evil if not fresh from a hideous crime? I have said before that the picture as a picture was worthless, a mere faded sketch, fit only for lumbering up some old garret. Then wherein lay its charm, a charm which I myself had felt, though not to this extent? It was useless to conjecture. A fresh difficulty had been added to my task by this puzzling discovery, but difficulties only increased my interest. It was with an odd feeling of elation that, in a further examination of this room, I came upon two additional facts equally odd and irreconcilable.

One was the presence of a penknife, with the file blade open, on a small table under the window marked by the loosened shutter. Scattered about it were some filings which shone as the light from my lantern fell upon them, but which were so fine as to call for a magnifying glass to make them out. The other was in connection with a closet not far from the great bed. It was an empty closet, so far as the hooks went and the two great drawers which I found standing half open at its back, but in the middle of the floor lay an overturned candelabrum similar to the one below, but with its prisms scattered and its one candle crushed and battered out of all shape on the blackened boards. If upset while alight, the foot which had stamped upon it in a wild endeavor to put out the flames had been a frenzied one. Now, by whom had this frenzy been shown and when? Within the hour? I could detect no smell of smoke. At some former time, then—say on the day of the bridal?



The penknife and the filings on the table

Glancing from the broken candle at my feet to the one giving its last sputter in the tumbler on the dressing table, I owned myself perplexed.

Surely no ordinary explanation fitted these extraordinary and seemingly contradictory circumstances.

CHAPTER IV.

I AM in some ways hypersensitive. Among my other weaknesses I have a wholesome dread of ridicule, and this is probably why I failed to press my theory on the captain when he appeared and even forbore to mention the various small matters which had so attracted my attention. If he and the experienced men who came with him saw suicide and nothing but suicide in this lamentable shooting of a bride of two weeks, then it was not for me to suggest a deeper crime, especially as one of the latter eyed me with open scorn when I proposed to accompany them upstairs into the room where the light had been seen burning. No, I would keep my discoveries to myself, or at least forbear to mention them till I found the captain alone, asking nothing at this juncture but permission to remain in the house till Mr. Jeffrey arrived.

I had been told that an officer had gone for this gentleman, and when I heard the sound of wheels in front I made a rush for the door in my anxiety to catch a glimpse of him, but it was a woman who alighted.

As this woman was in a state of great agitation, one of the men hastened down to offer his arm. As she took it I asked Hibbard, who had suddenly reappeared upon the scene, who she was.

He said that she was probably the sister of the woman who lay inside, upon which I remembered that this lady, under the name of Miss Tuttle—she was but half sister to Miss Moore—had been repeatedly mentioned by the reporters in the accounts of the wedding before mentioned as a person of superior attainments and magnificent beauty.

This did not take from my interest, and, flinging decorum to the winds, I approached as near as possible to the threshold which she must soon cross. As I did so I was astonished to hear the strains of Uncle David's organ still pealing from the opposite side of the way. This at a moment so serious and while matters of apparent consequence were taking place in the house to which he had himself directed the attention of the police struck me as carrying stoicism to the extreme. Not very favorably impressed by this display of open if not insulting indifference on the part of the sole remaining Moore, an indifference which did not appear quite natural even in a man of his morbid eccentricity, I resolved to know more of this old man and, above all, to make myself fully acquainted with the exact relations which had existed between him and his unhappy niece.

Meanwhile Miss Tuttle had stepped within the circle of light cast by our lanterns.

I have never seen a finer woman or one whose features displayed a more heartrending emotion. This called for respect, and I for one endeavored to show it by withdrawing into the background. But I soon stepped forward again. My desire to understand her was too great, the impression made by her bearing too complex, to be passed over lightly by one on the lookout for a key to the remarkable tragedy before us.

Meanwhile her lips had opened with the cry:

"My sister! Where is my sister?"

The captain made a hurried movement toward the rear and then, with the laudable intention doubtless of preparing her for the ghastly sight which awaited her, returned and opened a way for her into the drawing room. But she was not to be turned aside from her course. Passing him by, she made directly for the library, which she entered with a bound. Struck by her daring, we all crowded up behind her and, curious brutes that we were, grouped ourselves in a semicircle about the doorway as she faltered toward her sister's outstretched form and fell on her knees beside it. Her involuntary shriek and the fierce recoil she made as her eyes fell on the long white ribbon trailing over the floor from her sister's wrist struck me as voicing the utmost horror of which the human soul is capable. It was as though her very soul were pierced. Something in the fact itself, something in the appearance of this snowy ribbon tied to the scarce whiter wrist, seemed to pluck at the very root of her being, and when her glance, in traveling its length, lighted on the death dealing weapon at its end she cringed in such apparent anguish that we looked to see her fall in a swoon or break out into delirium. We were correspondingly startled when she suddenly burst forth with this word of stern command:

"Untie that knot! Why do you leave that dreadful thing fast to her? Untie it, I say! It is killing me. I cannot bear the sight." And from trembling she passed to shuddering till her whole body shook convulsively.

The captain, with much consideration, drew back the hand he had impulsively stretched toward the ribbon.

FOR HENIOUS CRIME

Victor Trombley, of Detroit, Sentenced to Prison for Life.

A PERVERT OF WORST TYPE.

His Daughter the Victim of His Terrible Deeds—Jury Reached Verdict in Just Three Hours—Protested His Innocence.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 11.—"Victor Trombley, the crime of which you have been convicted by this jury is the most atrocious that has ever come before this court. Any other verdict than that of guilty would have been outrageous. The sentence of the court is that you be confined in the state penitentiary at Jackson for the term of your natural life."

So spoke Judge Phelan in the recorder's court last evening at 7 o'clock at the conclusion of one of the most terrible exposures of moral depravity ever charged against any man in the state of Michigan.

Sins Tuesday of last week the time of the court has been taken up with hearing the story of how terribly the man Trombley had abused the ties of nature and affection which should have bound him in loving kindness to his child, Carrie, now a broken woman.

At the conclusion of the evidence Judge Phelan addressed the jury at length. At 3:15 the jury had received their charge and retired. They were out till exatly 7 o'clock.

When asked by the judge if he had anything to say before being sentenced, Trombley arose, hard stricken but defiant, and with a voice which trembled at the beginning but grew firmer as he spoke, denied the evidence which had convicted him as the invention of his wife, defamed the character of the daughter he had ruined, and even attempted to impeach the motives of the attorneys in the case.

"I am perfectly innocent of the crime," he quavered. "It is a plot between my wife and the lawyer. If there is any way to appeal I want to do it. If I were to live 200 years——"

"You won't live so long, Trombley," broke in the judge, "every point of the evidence produced proves beyond an possyibility of doubt that you are a human monster," and then, his voice growing hard and stern, "I impose the life sentence."

Without a tremor Trombley received the shock; the jurors, glad to be done with the repetition of horrors too fearful to print, made haste for the cool air of the streets, while the prisoner was led away by a stalwart guard.

The history of the case is brief. Some two years agoy Trombley's wife left him; the gir lCarrie and the son remained. During the time from June 2 to August 10 the man practised on his child the most fearful crimes, which were only discovered on May 2 of this year, when concealment was no longer possible. A child was born to the daughter on May 17, but it lived only six weeks. The arrest of Trombley took place on May 3 and the trial of the case has been proceeding since Tuesday of last week. This is the first life sentence ever given in the city for such a crime.

PARKER NOTIFIED.

Ceremony Took Place at His Country Home at Rosemount.

Esopus, Aug. 11.—Judge Alton B. Parker was Wednesday formally notified of his nomination as tho candidate of the Democratic party for president.

The ceremony occurred on the lawn at Rosemount, his handsome country home, and in addition to the members of the notification committee and many prominent men of his party hundreds of the candidate's friends and neighbors assembled to witness the event.

Before Rep. Champ Clark had concluded his formal address, the rain began to fall fitfully, but Judge Parker stood bareheaded to the shower and received from Clark's hands the official letter which informed him of the action of the St. Louis convention.

Flags were frantically waved at the close of Clark's speech, the spectators cheered and it was a full minute before Judge Parker was permitted to speak.

His pledge that he would if elected refuse a renomination was received with long continued bursts of cheering. He followed his manuscript closely, the one important variation being an extempore remark at the outset to the effect that he desired to make plain beyond any possible misunderstanding his belief in and adherence to the gold standard.

At the close of the speech Judge Parker held an informal reception which was begun on the speakers' stand and continued on the Rosemount veranda.

In the meanwhile bombs were fired in salute from the deck of the yacht Sapphire.

When Judge Parker concluded his speech he was given tremendous and continued applause and the band played the "Star Spangled Banner."

Sad Home-Coming.

New York, Aug. 11.—Gen. George W. Davis, governor of the Panama canal zone, who had been summoned home because of the illness of his wife learned upon his arrival here yesterday that Mrs. Davis was dead. Mrs. Davis had been passing the summer in the Adirondacks region. When she became seriously ill, several days ago, the governor was notified and he left Colon last week on the steamer Alliance. Mrs. Davis died soon after Boy Floater at Marine City.

Marine City, Mich., Aug. 11.—The unknown body of a boy was picked up in the St. Clair river by Fred Saph and towed to this city. The lad had been in some time and appears to be about 13 year old, light brown hair, and has on black and white swimming clothes.

HIS FAMILY KILLED.

Mother and Four Children Dead, But Father Escaped.

Chicago, August 10.—A mother and her four little children were killed and a number of other persons seriously injured in a collision last night between a west bound Baltimore & Ohio passenger train, known as No. 17, and a Chicago & Erie freight train at the Brighton Park railroad crossing, at Western avenue and West Thirty-ninth street. The collision followed a frantic effort on the part of the crossing flagman to change the course of the freight train to the crew of which he had given a signal that all was clear for them to back over the Baltimore & Ohio tracks.

The passenger train, which was approaching rapidly, was struck by the freight cars and two of the coaches were overturned. One of the freight cars crashed through the woodwork of one of the coaches where the five who were killed were seated. They were a family of six, and C. C. Schwartz, the father, was the only one who escaped with his life. The mother and the four children were killed instantly.

A rigid investigation will be made to determine who was responsible for the accident.

Late last night the police arrested Harry Moore, brakeman, and Benjamin F. Waller, conductor of the freight train that caused the disaster.

Walter in his statement to the police declared that the signal man in an adjoining tower was to blame for the accident, as he, according to Waller, gave the signal for the freight to come ahead, giving it the right of way. After it had started he reversed the signal, but it was then too late to prevent the collision

All Hope Abandoned.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 11.—All thought of there being a possibility that Percy R. Bowen and Harrison S. Welton, the Detroit young men who left Amherstburg in the yacht Rambler last Tuesday being picked up by a passing freighter has been abandoned. No tidings whatever were received yesterday and the distracted parents have about relinquished their grasp on this slight ray of hope. If the missing youths had been rescued and carried to some lower lake port they would have arrived ere this and their first act would be to communicate with their people, but no word was received during the day, and with increasing grief the families have come to the conclusion that the boys were swallowed up by the waves.

LITERARY NOTES.

The August American Boy, published by the Sprague Publishing Company, Detroit, Michigan, is noteworthy specially for its account of American Boy Day at the St. Louis Exposition, July 5th, which was planned and carried out by the publishers of that periodical. Nearly five thousand people participated in parts of a five hour program on that day under the chairmanship of the editor of The American Boy. The participants in the program were mainly talented boys from various sections of the country. Half a dozen pages of The American Boy are given to a detailed account of the proceedings, splendidly illustrated.

That Everybody's Magazine has the biggest "scoop" of the era in Thos. W. Lawson's "Story of Amalgamated" is abundantly shown by the first instalment of the series proper which is in the August number. The foreword was portentous with promise of startling disclosures The initial chapters introduce the secret organization of Standard Oil and its actual master, who is a person almost unknown to the public. It is a wonderful picture Mr. Lawson gives of the huge business machine which has its headquarters at 26 Broadway, New York, and he paints, for the first time in his real colors, the man he declares to be the greatest business genius of the period, Henry H. Rogers.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly say "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They can't as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by, John J. Orr.

Don't fail to see the Country Band parade made by the J. C. Lewis Si Plunkard Co.'s Band on Wednesday noon, Aug. 17, at Tecumseh. Watch for it, it's funnier than a circus.

The Misses Eva and Lizzie Beland, sisters of Mrs. John Wyrill, left Wednesday morning for Chicago to attend the wedding of their nephew, which was solemnized there Thursday evening.

H. G. Selfridge, who recently purchased the dry goods business of Schlesinger & Mayor on State street, Chicago, sold the entire business and building leases to Carson, Pirie Scott & Co. yesterday.

Mr. J. C. Lewis of the J. C. Lewis Si Plunkard Co., is a phenomenal whistler, and his whistling specialty is received with wonder and admiration. He does not use his fingers to whistle, which makes his whistling more wonderful.

Robert Moore and C. E. Williamson have rented a store on Market street, Detroit, and August 20 will start a commission business there. Both are young men who have spent their business career in Tecumseh and the HERALD wishes them all success.

Miss Sena Hosmer was given a pleasant surprise yesterday afternoon by the members of her Sunday school class at the Presbyterian church. After refreshments, Miss Josephine Orr presented Miss Hosmer in behalf of the class, with a silver spoon and a boquet of nasturtiums.

The Oldsmobile Tonneau car which started on the New York—St. Louis run was among the first autos to reach St. Louis. It ran like clock work all the way. Engine never skipped an explosion although some terribly muddy and rough roads. Delayed but once on the entire trip and then for a few minutes only. Less trouble than any other car. You can get one from C. A. Slayton.

Last evening two suspicious looking characters were seen hanging around town, and not liking their actions the nightwatch followed them around for a time and then notified the officers, E. C. Brown and John Smith, who arrested them. They were searched and cracksmans tools were found on their persons. Deputy Brown took them to Adrian last evening. They gave their names as Gorman of Boston, and Manton of Monroe.

Great Removal Sale.

The east store occupied so long by S. W. Anderson has been sold and he will soon be obliged to move. He has inaugurated a great discount sale to clear out at once a great portion of the goods in stock.

He has employed an architect to arrange the rebuilding of the west store, owned by him, which with both floors, will comprise one of the best places of business in the county. Mean time the stock must be sold and the public will get the benefit. Sale commences today.

Si Plunkard.

The rural Yankee comedy of the above name will be at the New Bradley Opera House, Wed. Aug. 17, '04.

The comedy is in four acts, the scenes of which are laid in and around the New England country and New York city. The central figure of course is "Si Plunkard," a young Yankee Farmer, which part is looked after by Mr. J. C. Lewis.

Some of the leading characters seen may be mentioned: Dora Page, a young country lass in love with Si; Michael Crowe an inventive Irishman; Robert Denny, a bogus stock speculator; Ezra Plunkard, an honest old farmer who does not understand speculation; and numerous country friends of the Plunkard family. The performance includes many specialties of an original and novel character by a company of comedians and the Grand Orchestra carried by the company will render the latest musical selections between acts.

BASE BALL

The Two Games played with the MT. CLEMENS LAWYERS

In their City have so far resulted in Victories for the Lawyers.

One of the [illegible] games of ball ever played in Mt. Clemens was played there with Tecumseh last Tuesday afternoon, when after a long battle of 16 innings, Mt. Clemens finally won out by a score of 2 to 1. Killian for Tecumseh, and Felrath for Mt. Clemens, did some fine pitching, and were backed up by excellent fielding. Striker, who played center field in place of Root, made a sensational running catch in the 15th inning, pulling, what looked to be a home run, off the back fence.

Tecumseh scored one in the fifth inning, and Mt. Clemens tied the score in in the eighth, and neither side scored again until the sixteenth inning, when Duvall for Mt. Clemens, brought in the winning run. Billy Roche, catcher for Mt. Clemens team, umpired the game and gave perfect satisfaction. A large crowd witnessed the game.

Following is the score by innings:

Mt. Clemens—
0000000100000001—2 11 2
Tecumseh—
0000100000000000—1 6 1

Batteries, Mt. Clemens, Felrath and Fox; Tecumseh, Killian and Sebastian.

Tecumseh again went down to defeat before the Mt. Clemens Lawyers in an exciting game of ball yesterday, the score standing 4 to 3 at the finish. Fast fielding prevented either side scoring until the fifth inning when Mt Clemens with three hits and an error scored three men.

In the sixth inning Tecumseh started the ball rolling and with four hits scored two runs. The lawyers again scored one run in the seventh. With the score standing 4 to 2 at the begining of the ninth inning, Tecumseh bunted the ball, got one score and filled their bases. Bell hit a hot ball to Roth, forcing Harris to the plate, retiring the inning. Both pitchers pitched good ball. Sebastian and Harris did the hitting for Tecumseh.

Following is the score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Lawyers....	0	0	0	0	3	0	1	0	*	4	8	2

BASE BALL NOTES.

Vick of Detroit, played in the centerfield for Tecumseh Thursday and Friday.

Faron Anderson and wife went to Mt. Clemens Tuesday evening to attend the remainder of the ball games this week.

James Harris went to Mt. Clemens Tuesday night and played third base with Tecumseh in yesterday's and today's games.

Two thousand people witnessed the game between the Nebraska Indians and Yale at Yale yesterday, the former winning by a score of 19 to 1.

Dundee and Carleton played ball at Dundee Tuesday afternoon, the latter winning by a score of 11 to 5. Thirty errors were made during the game, Carleton credited with 10, Dundee 20.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

There were about 100 present at the W. C. T. U. meeting at Mrs. Thos. Scott's last Wednesday afternoon and the large and pleasant rooms were well filled.

There were only twelve Tecumseh ladies present but they opened the meeting with the song, "Jesus Savior pilot Me," followed by devotional exercises led by Rev. Martha Barber, they then sang "Some Glad Day." After the transaction of the business of the Tecumseh union they gave the following excellent mothers' meeting program:

Select reading, "A Joyful Woman," —Mrs. Austin.

Reading—Mrs. Anna Smith.

Song, "Nobody knows but Mother," —Miss Lina Wood.

Reading, "Starvation wages a snare to the girls."

Reading, "Who is to blame,"—Mrs. D. B. Birdsall.

Original paper, "Influences of motherhood,"—Mrs. Heck

We think our Tecumseh sisters especially wise and far seeing in choosing such suitable subjects as they did for this meeting and are thankful there was such a large and appreciative audience to reap the benefit. We extend our hearty thanks to them for a short time spent in such an instructive and entertaining way and trust we all carried away with us something to help us in the training of our children or to help them with whom we come in contact.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Lorenzo Kenyon the first Wednesday of next month. Mrs. Arnold, superintendent of scientific temperance instruction, will have charge of the program.

Simmons—Collins

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Berry, Wednesday evening at eight o'clock occurred the marriage of Eva Grace Simmons to Leroy M. Collins, of Macon. Rev. Sedweek performed the ceremony in the presence of only the immediate family.

Miss Simmons is well known here, having lived here all her life and is a young lady of sterling qualities, a graduate of our high school and a successful teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins will reside on the former's farm in Macon. They have the best wishes of every one.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abscess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, Drug store price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Concerning
THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

2 Tim. 4:2 Cor. 1 9:16

THESE WERE MORE NOBLE THAN THOSE OF THESSALONICA IN THAT THEY RECEIVED THE WORD WITH ALL READINESS AND SEARCHED THE SCRIPTURES DAILY, WHETHER THOSE THINGS WERE SO. ACTS 17:11

XXV.

As the subject of the Ministry in the Kingdom of God is of such vital importance—the sacraments of the Kingdom requiring a valid Ministry to perform them—it seems advisable to discuss the matter at more length.

We have argued that the Apostles—to whom the King Himself committed the full conduct of the affairs of the Kingdom (promising Himself to be with them in all)—ordained a threefold Order of Ministry therein, as follows:

(1). The Order of Deacons—with authority to preach the Gospel and to baptize.

(2). The order of Priests—with authority not only to preach and baptize, but also to administer the Sacrament of the Lord's supper.

(3). The Order of Bishops—with authority not only to preach, to baptize and to celebrate the Holy Communion, but also to ordain to the Ministry and thus pepetuate it in the Kingdom of God.

The Scriptural evidence for the institution of the Diaconate and Priesthood is clear and sufficient (Acts 6:6; 11:30 14:23; Phil. 1:1—"bishop" here means elder, as in Acts 20:28; 1 Tim. 3; Tit. 1:5). The only question is as to the institution of the Episcopate.

It has been noticed already that there is very little information in the New Testament concerning the appointment of the Order of Bishops. This is altogether naturally to be expected. The various Orders of the Ministry would be appointed only when the need for them arose. It is evident that the appointment of that Order whose special function should be to ordain, would naturally take place last, and that only when the Apostles themselves were passing away. For the simple reason that the Apostles themselves were on hand to perform that office. So we find St Paul ONLY TOWARD THE CLOSE OF HIS LIFE sending Timothy and Titus to Ephesus and Crete with power to ordain. Now the New Testament does not give us any particulars whatever to speak of concerning the later acts of the Apostles (The Book of the Acts is devoted chiefly to the Missionary Journeys of St Paul—and that only to his first imprisonment at Rome). Hence the New Testament naturally has little to say about the institution of the Episcopate.

But, as has been said, the History of the Early Church abundantly supplies what is lacking. For the History of the Early Church reveals most clearly such a wide prevalence and unanimous acceptance of the Episcopate as cannot possibly be accounted for except upon the supposition that so it was ordained of the Apostles.

"Starting thus from about the middle of the second century"—says Dr. Gore—"the Episcopal succession is an UNDOUBTED fact in ALL KNOWN CHRISTIAN CHURCHES." The middle of the second century—150 A. D.—is but a short life time from the close of that of the Apostle St. John. If the Episcopate PREVAILED throughout the whole Church so early, it must have prevailed very generally much earlier. And, accordingly, Dr. Lightfoot writes, "It has been seen that the institution of an Episcopate must be placed as far back as the closing years of the first century and that it cannot, without violence to historical testimony, be dissevered from the name of St. John."

That is to say, we must suppose that as one Apostle after another passed away the supreme care of the Church devolved upon the remaining Apostles; and that, so far as the Episcopate had not already been locally provided for (as at Jerusalem, for instance); St. John, as the last surviving Apostle, completed arrangements for its general adoption.

Observe the historical evidence of this, as Dr. Lightfoot says, cannot "without violence" be denied. But when we proceed further to consider the principle involved, the conclusion (viz., of the Apostolic institution of the Episcopate) would seem to stand proof against the utmost violence of denial. We recall the essential importance of a lawful Ministry in the Kingdom of God; that such importance must have made it a subject of clear instruction to the Apostles by the King Himself; that therefore the Apostles must have taken great care to provide for a Ministry according the King's own directions; that they must have warned the people most carefully as to its sacred character. In view of all this it becomes simply impossible to suppose for a moment, that the whole Church could have unanimously acquiesced in the Episcopate so early as we find it prevailing throughout the whole Church, unless such Episcopate had the full sanction and appointment of the Apostles themselves.

It remains to be added that this Episcopate thus Apostolically ordained has been most sacredly guarded from the very beginning unto this day. So that nowhere in any Historic Branch of the Apostolic Church is any one accounted a lawful Minister in the Kingdom of God except he has received his AUTHORITY by Episcopal Ordination in regular succession from the Apostles themselves.

SALE RAPIDLY INCREASING

Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy, has cured hundreds of C. A. Wright's customers.

One of the greatest successes in the sale of a medicine has been achieved by Mi-o-na, the dyspepsia remedy, and its sale is increasing so rapidly that C. A. Wright, the popular [illegible] to keep a stock on hand.

It is very popular with well known bankers, ministers, lawyers and others whose business or profession keeps them closely confined, while those who have brought on indigestion through irregular eating, worry or other causes, have found a cure in this reliable remedy.

Mi-o-na is in the form of small tablets and is sold in a metal box especially designed for convenience in carrying the medicine in the pocket or purse. It is pleasant to take; costs but 50c, gives quick relief and makes lasting cures.

This remedy has been so uniformly successful and made so many remarkable cures that C. A. Wright will in future sell Mi-o-na under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it should not cure. No other dyspepsia medicine ever had a large enough percentage of cures so that it could be sold in this manner. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

There is no time like the present to do a thing that ought to be done. If any one has dyspepsia, today is the best time to begin curing it.

"My Old Home Week."

817 W. Milwaukee Ave.,
Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Stacy, Tecumseh, Mich.

DEAR EDITOR:—A recent visit to my old home, Tecumseh, has prompted me to write the enclosed verses for "THE HERALD."

Ever a well wisher,
MAE MORRISON WARNER.

Aug. 8, 1904.

The people now are saying much
About "The Old Home Week"
And so we, too, must fall in line
And former places seek.

We board the train at various points
For Tecumseh bound again,
But, as I reach Chicago street
The years drop off like rain.

Again I hear the school bells ring
And fear I shall be late,
When suddenly my musings change,
'Tis time to graduate!

Once more the class of '89
As then, familiar seem,
I grasp their hands and whisper low,
"This cannot be a dream."

I hasten on through months and years,
With some unpleasant scenes,
There are sad days in every life
We all know what that means,

Again I see the dear old home
Upon my wedding day,
And then Tecumseh I must leave,
To other cities stray.

But travel here, or travel there,
No matter where we roam,
No other city in this land
Equals my childhood's home.

As years go by, where ere we stray,
No skies will seem so blue
As those we saw thro' childhood's eyes
"When all the world was new."

The flowers bloomed abundantly,
The birds' songs seemed more sweet,
No grass appears quite half so green,
As that 'neath childhood's feet.

"But childhood's hours cannot last,"
Time flies on gauzy wings;
It is not given us to know
Just what the future brings.

But now a little romping boy
Disturbs my reverie,
Farewell, Tecumseh, you shall be Treasured in memory.

THE CHURCHES.

KILLS GERMS OF CATARRH

Hyomei goes to the root of the disease and makes astonishing cures.

Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of pills, liquid medicines and so-called system tonics. Under such treatment the germs of the disease will still live in the air passages and increase and multiply.

Hyomei is the only scientific thorough way to cure catarrh. Killing the germs in the air passages, it enters the blood with the oxygen, destroys the microbes in the blood and effectually drives from the system all traces of catarrhal poison.

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh is the fact that C. A. Wright will agree to refund the money if you say Hyomei has not cured you.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

Cure for Hay Fever.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose and intense burning of hay fever. It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

YANTIC AT ALPENA.

Sea-Going Habits Well Impressed Upon Young Sailors.

Alpena, Mich., Aug. 10.—The naval brigade reached this port at 7 o'clock last evening and anchored the Yantic at a considerable distance from the shore.

Quite a heavy sea is running and the numerous small boat drills which have been rigorouly conducted during the past two days are showing their effects in the ability of the men to handle the heavy boats in landing. The crew have shore liberty until 10 o'clock.

This has been a cruise in which the work of teaching the men sea-going habits has been presed to the limit. Substantially no time has been needed to get the ship into clean and orderly shape so that the attention of every one has been directed almost exclusively to the various drills. The results have been highly satisfactory. Today the boat leaves here for Mackh,back-eb-no hpseGPD ffi ,.:; ananu inac.

Born in Captivity.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 10.—One of unusual features of the carnival show here was the birth late yesterday afternoon of four baby lions, the mother being Victoria, a well-trained beast belonging to the Ferari Brothers. The father is Barnum, another trained lion, with the same troupe. The father broke through the bars that separated him from the mother and tried to kill the cubs, and was penned into another cage after a vicious fight. The young lions will be christened in public the last of the week.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain,s Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

British Annex an Island.

Kingstown, Island of St. Vincent, B. W. I., Aug. 15.—The British cruiser Tribune on Aug. 11 landed a party under command of Lieut. Threlfall at Aves, or Girds Island, 127 miles west of the north end of the island of Dominica, and annexed it as a British possession.

Killed on the Track.

Cadillac, Mich., Aug. 15.—James McCord was killed at night on the Ann Arbor railway at Boon. He was intoxicated and was lying on the track. His parents live at Ionia. He was employed in the Cummer Diggins camp near Boon.

Northville is Shrinking.

Northville, Mich., Aug. 13.—The census compilation, just completed, shows Northville's population to be 1,627, as against 1,755 in 1900. There are 459 families. Of the total, 779 are males and 848 females. The decrease in population is due to the loss of a factory or two.

Puts an end to it all.

A grievous wail oftimes comes as a result of unbearable pain from over taxed organs. Dizziness, backache, liver complaint and constipation. But thanks to Dr. King's New Life Pills they put an end to it all. They are gentle but thorough. Try them. Only 25c. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright's drug store.

Gas Tank Caught Fire.

New York, Aug. 15.—Fresh paint on one of the big gas tanks of the Consolidated Gas Co., in First avenue, between One Hundred and Tenth and One Hundred and Eleventh streets, caught fire at night, and in an instant the big steel cylinders were enveloped in a sheet of flame and a terrible explosion of the gas was prevented only by the prompt action of the fire department. The blaze was the signal for a wild stampede of the residents for blocks around to get out of the neighborhood. In their panic people left their homes, shops and belongings, some even forgetting their children in the excitement to escape the expected explosion.

Illegal Fishing.

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 15.—Deputy Game Warden Franks lifted three hoop nets set in Muskegon lake, making a total of eighteen seized within the past month. Eleven John Doe warrants charging illegal fishing have been issued but no arrests have been made.

Goes Back to Prison.

Charlotte, Mich., Aug. 15.—Silas Powers, who was released from Jackson some time ago on a parole has been taken back to that institution because he had failed to make his monthly reports to the authorities, according to the conditions of his parole.

Michigan Among Leaders.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The report of John Birkinbine to the geological survey on the production of iron ores in 1903 shows that the United States has surpassed all competitors in its yearly output of iron ores. It says that the quantity of iron ore produced in the United States in the year ended Dec. 31, 1903, was 35,019,308 long tons, a decrease of 534,827 long tons from 1902. The quantity mined in 1903 is, however, the second largest recorded, and is greater than the combined totals for the year 1902 of Germany, Luxemberg and the British empire, which are the nearest competitors of the United States. The iron ore obtained in 1903 came from twenty-two states and two territories. Minnesota, Michigan, Alabama and Wisconsin were the leaders in production.

Big Water Power Project.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 15.—The firm of A. A. & F. B. Platt of this city has organized a stock company with $500,000 capital, $300,000 paid in, for the purpose of developing water privileges on the Grand river in this city and at Dimondale. An immense cement dam is being constructed here to take the place of the one carried out by the floods last spring, and with the Dimondale water power it is expected that a large amount of electric power can be generated.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

John J. Irwin, member of George H. Thomas Post 17, G. A. R., of St. Louis, who went to Boston to attend the national encampment, was after his arrival drugged and robbed of more than $900.

The International Socialist and Trades Union congress opened in Amsterdam Sunday. There was great applause when Vice-Presidents Katayama of Japan and Plekharoff of Russia publicly shook hands.

A band of Armenians has been attacked by Turkish troops in the village of Schamirun, five hours' travel north of Bitlis, Asiatic Turkey. Kurds are alleged to have taken part in the attack. Two villages are reported to have been destroyed.

Michael D. Callaghan, aged 53, a former race horse trainer, and Thomas Eagan, aged 20, a racing stable attache, were burned to death early Sunday by an explosion of gasoline, which caused a fire that destroyed the Callaghan cafe near the running park.

Charles ("Doc") Howard, one of the original colored Cuban Giants, was almost instantly killed in East Liverpool, O., by Lottie Skiles, who was rooming at Howard's house. According to the woman's story, Howard struck her in the face and then started for a revolver. She reached the weapon first and shot him through the head.

CHAPTER IV.

"No, no," he protested; "we cannot do that. We can do nothing till the coroner comes. It is necessary that he should see her just as she was found. Besides, Mr. Jeffrey has a right to the same privilege. We expect him any moment."

The beautiful head of the woman before us shook involuntarily, but her lips made no protest. I doubt if she possessed the power of speech at that moment. A change, subtle, but quite perceptible, had taken place in her emotions at mention of her sister's husband, and, though she exerted herself to remain calm, the effort seemed too much for her strength. Anxious to hide this evidence of weakness, she rose impetuously, and then we saw how tall she was, how the long lines of her cloak became her and what a glorious creature she was altogether.

"It will kill him," she groaned in a deep inward voice. Then, with a certain forced haste and in a tone of surprise which to my ear had not quite a natural ring she called aloud on her who could no longer either listen or answer:

"Oh, Veronica, Veronica! What cause had you for death? And why do we find you lying here in a spot you so feared and detested?"

"Don't you know?" insinuated the captain, with a mild persuasiveness, such as he was seldom heard to use. "Do you mean that you cannot account for your sister's violent end, you, who have lived with her—or so I have been told—ever since her marriage with Mr. Jeffrey?"

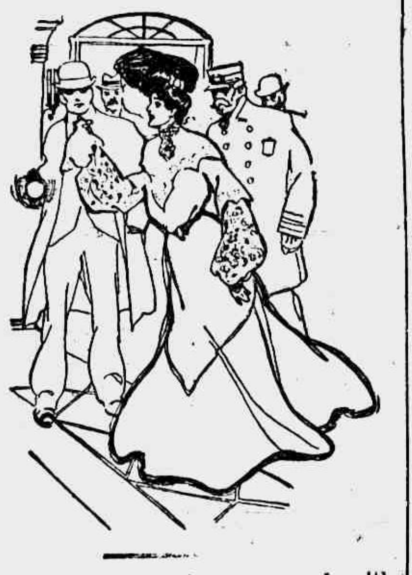
"Yes."

Keen and clear the word rang out, fierce in its keenness and almost too clear to be in keeping with the half choked tones with which she added: "I know that she was not happy, that she never has been happy since the shadow which this room suggests fell upon her marriage. But how could I so much as dream that her dread of the past or her fear of the future would drive her to suicide, and in this place of all places! Had I done so—had I imagined in the least degree that she was affected to this extent—do you think that I would have left her for one instant alone? None of us knew that she contemplated death. She had no appearance of it; she laughed when I"—

What had she been about to say? The captain seemed to wonder, and after waiting in vain for the completion of her sentence, he quietly suggested:

"You have not finished what you had to say, Miss Tuttle."

She started and seemed to come back from some remote region of thought into which she had wandered. "I don't know—I forget," she stammered, with a heartbroken sigh. "Poor Veronica! Wretched Veronica! How shall I ever tell him? How, how can we ever prepare him?"



Miss Tuttle

The captain took advantage of this reference to Mr. Jeffrey to ask where that gentleman was. The young lady did not seem eager to reply, but when pressed, answered, though somewhat mechanically, that it was impossible for her to say; Mr. Jeffrey had many friends, with any one of whom he might be enjoying a social evening.

"But it is far past midnight now," remarked the captain. "Is he in the habit of remaining out late?"

"Sometimes," she faintly admitted. "Two or three times since his marriage he has been out till 1."

Were there other causes for the young bride's evident disappointment and misery besides the one intimated? There certainly was some excuse for thinking so.

Possibly some one of us may have shown his doubts in this regard, for the woman before us suddenly broke forth with this vehement assertion:

"Mr. Jeffrey was a loving husband to my sister—a very loving husband," she emphasized. Then, growing desperately pale, she added, "I have never known a better man," and stopped.

Some hidden anguish in this cry, some self consciousness in this pause, suggested to me a possibility which I was glad to see ignored by the captain in his next question.

"When did you see your sister last?" he asked. "Were you at home when she left her husband's house?"

"Alas!" she murmured. Then, seeing that a more direct answer was expected of her, she added with as little appearance of effort as possible: "I was at home, and I heard her go out. But I had no idea that it was for any purpose other than to join some social gathering."

"Dressed this way?"

The captain pointed to the floor, and her eyes followed. Certainly Mrs. Jeffrey was not appareled for an evening company. As Miss Tuttle realized the trap into which she had been betrayed her words rushed forth and tripped each other up.

"I did not notice. She often wore black. It became her. My sister was eccentric."

Worse, worse than useless. Some slips cannot be explained away. Miss Tuttle seemed to realize that this was one of them, for she paused abruptly, with the words half finished on her tongue. Yet her attitude commanded respect, and I for one was ready to accord it to her.

Certainly such a woman was not to be seen every day, and if her replies lacked candor, there was a nobility in her presence which gave the lie to any doubt. At least, that was the effect she produced on me. Whether or not her interrogator shared my feeling I could not so readily determine, for his attention as well as mine was suddenly diverted by the cry which now escaped her lips.

"Her watch! Where is her watch? It is gone! I saw it on her breast, and it's gone. It hung just—just where"—

"Wait!" cried one of the men who had been peering about the floor. "Is this it?"

He held aloft a small object blazing with jewels.

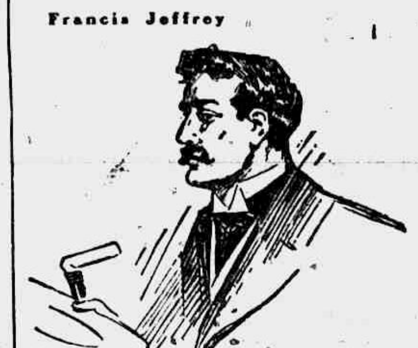
"Yes," she gasped, trying to take it.

But the officer gave it to the captain instead.

"It must have slipped from her as she fell," remarked the latter, after a cursory examination of the glittering trinket. "The pin by which she attached it to her dress must have been insecurely fastened." Then quickly and with a sharp look at Miss Tuttle, "Do you know if this was considered an accurate timepiece?"

"Yes. Why do you ask? Is it"—

"Look!" He held it up with the face toward us. The hands stood at thirteen minutes past 7. "The hour and the moment when it struck the floor," he declared. "And consequently the hour and the moment when Mrs. Jeffrey fell," finished Durbin.



Francis Jeffrey

Miss Tuttle said nothing, only gasped.

"Valuable evidence," quoth the captain, putting the watch in his pocket. Then, with a kind look at her, called forth by the sight of her misery, he added, "Does this hour agree with the time of her leaving the house?"

"I cannot say. I think so. It was some time before or after 7. I don't remember the exact minute."

"It would take fifteen for her to walk here. Did she walk?"

"I do not know. I didn't see her leave. My room is at the back of the house."

"You can say if she left alone or in the company of her husband?"

"Mr. Jeffrey was not with her."

"Was Mr. Jeffrey in the house?"

"He was not."

This last negative was faintly spoken.

The captain noticed this and ventured upon interrogating her further.

"How long had he been gone?"

Her lips parted; she was deeply agitated, but when she spoke it was coldly and with studied precision.

"Mr. Jeffrey was not at home tonight at all. He has not been in all day."

"Not at home? Did his wife know that he was going to dine out?"

"She said nothing about it."

The captain cut short his questions and in another moment I understood why. A gentleman was standing in the doorway, whose face, once seen, was enough to stop the words on any man's lips. Miss Tuttle saw this gentleman almost as quickly as we did and sank with an involuntary moan to her knees.

It was Francis Jeffrey come to look upon his dead bride. Breathlessly we awaited his first words. His eye, which was fixed on the prostrate body of his bride, did not yield up its secret. When he moved and came to where she lay and caught his first sight of the ribbon and the pistol attached to it, the most experienced among us were baffled as to the nature of his feelings and thoughts. One thing alone was patent to all. He had no wish to touch this woman whom he had so lately sworn to cherish. His eyes devoured her, he shuddered and strove several times to speak, and, though kneeling by her side, he did not reach forth his hand nor did he let a tear fall on the appealing features so pathetically turned upward as if to meet his look.

Suddenly he leaped to his feet.

"Must she stay here?" he demanded, looking about for the person most in authority.

The captain answered by a question:

"How do you account for her being here at all? What explanation have you, as her husband, to give for this strange suicide of your wife?"

For reply, Mr. Jeffrey, who was an exceptionally handsome man, drew forth a small slip of crumpled paper, which he immediately handed over to the speaker.

"Let her own words explain," said he. "I found this scrap of writing in our upstairs room when I returned home tonight. She must have written it just before—before"—

A smothered groan filled up the break, but it did not come from his lips, which were fixed and set, but from those of the woman who crouched among us. Did he catch this expression of sorrow from one of whose presence he as yet had given no token of recognizing? He did not seem to. His eye was on the captain, who was slowly reading, by the light of a lantern held in a detective's hand, the almost illegible words which Mr. Jeffrey had just said were his wife's last communication.

Will they seem as pathetic to the eye as they did to the ear in that room of awesome memories and present death?

> I find that I do not love you as I thought I did. I cannot live, knowing this to be so. I pray God that you may forgive me.
> VERONICA.

A gasp from the figure in the corner; then silence. We were glad to hear the captain's voice again.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

NOW MASTERS OF SEAS

Japanese Win Another Great Naval Battle.

VLADIVOSTOK FLEET DESTROYED

An Early Morning Encounter In Strait of Korea—One Russian Cruiser Sunk—Tokio Rejoices Over Two Great Naval Victories.

Tokio, Aug. 15.—Vice Admiral Kamimura encountered the Russian Vladivostok squadron at dawn Sunday north of Tsu island in the Strait of Korea and attacked the enemy at once. The battle lasted for five hours and resulted in a complete Japanese victory. The Russian cruiser Rurik was sunk and the cruisers Rossia and Gromoboi fled to the northward after having sustained serious damage.

Vice Admiral Kamimura cables the navy department that the injuries inflicted upon his vessels were slight.

The fates of the crew of the Rurik is not known. It is presumed that many of them were killed or drowned. The strength of the fleet under Vice Admiral Kamimura is not known, but it is presumed that he had the Adsuma, Idsumo, Iwate, Takashiho and other light cruisers.

Tokio is joyous over the news, as it gives Japan mastery of the sea and restores commerce.

Tokio, Aug. 15.—Flags are flying, lanterns are glimmering and cries of "Banzai" are ringing in the streets of Tokio in honor of the victories gained at sea by Admiral Togo and Vice Admiral Kamimura

Underneath the jollity of the population there is a feeling of deep satisfaction at the disposal of a desperately serious problem of the war.

PORT ARTHUR DOOMED.

More Japanese Men There and More Guns Are Mounted.

Chefoo, Aug. 15.—A telegram just received here from a reliable source states that a general attack on Port Arthur began at 4 o'clock this morning.

St. Petersburg Aug. 15.—A dispatch from Mukden states that the Japanese Port Arthur army has been largely reinforced and has taken up position in two large bodies, one on the heights between Lungwangtao and Pigeon bay, and the other on the hills near Louisa bay. Guns have also been placed on the heights east of the Wolf hills.

JAPAN EXPLAINS.

Reason Why Russian Destroyer Was Seized In Chefoo Harbor.

Tokio, Aug. 15.—The navy department has issued the following statement covering the Chefoo incident:

"According to reports received to date the Asashiwo and Kasumi, belonging to the first destroyer flotilla, Captain Fujimoto commanding, were dispatched in search of the enemy's ships scattered during the engagement on the night of Aug. 10. They found a vessel resembling one of the enemy's destroyers and gave chase but lost her in the darkness.

"Continuing the search, they discovered that she had entered the port of Chefoo. Captain Fujimoto, anticipating its escape during the night, if possible to attack merchant vessels, entered Chefoo with the two destroyers and found the Russian destroyer Ryeshitelni remaining unharmed.

"Lieut. Terashima was then sent to the Russian vessel with a message to the effect that the Japanese commander expected him to leave by dawn or surrender. The Russian commander refused to comply with either demand, and while the conference was still going on he was heard instructing his men to blow up the ship. At the same time he caught hold of Lieut. Terashima and threw him overboard. Our interpreter was next thrown overboard by some Russian sailors. While this was progressing the forward magazine exploded, killing some of our men. We then captured the destroyer and retired.

"Our loss by the explosion was one man killed and four men mortally wounded. Lieut. Terashima, our interpreter and nine others of the boarding party were wounded."

Russia Protests.

St. Petersburg, Aug 15.—By command of the emperor, Foreign Minister Lamsdorff has instructed M. Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador at Paris, to request that France, on behalf of Russia, shall lodge a strong protest with the French minister at Tokio, M. Harmand, against what is described as an outrageous violation of Chinese neutrality and of universally recognized principles of international law involved in the Japanese attack on the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Ryeshitelni in a neutral harbor

[illegible]

Lansing, Mich., Aug. [illegible].—It has been suggested by a state official that there appeared to be a necessity for holding a legal school of instruction for the circuit judges of the state. It is a notorious fact that they imposed about 250 illegal sentences under the intedeterminate sentence law, notwithstanding the opinion of the supreme court of that subject, one or two similarly illegal sentences have been imposed since that opinion was handed down. Not only this, but habeas corpus proceedings are pending in the case of a convict who was serving time under a cumulative sentence imposed after the supreme court had declared its opinion that such sentences were void.

Now She Gets a Divorce.

Owosso, Mich., Aug. 13.—Senator Branch, of Perry, has been given a bill of divorce from Dwight Branch on grounds of extreme cruelty. The wife gets custody of their one child, $6 a month for its support for nine years, $50 a month for herself for the balance of her life and other property. The case was bitterly contested, the trial lasting four days. The couple were married in 1894, Branch having secured a divorce from his first wife. He put an advertisement in a paper, which Mrs. Branch answered. She was married to him two days after seeing him.

Densmore—Kelley Reunion.

The fourteenth annual reunion of the Densmore — Kelley family occurred Wednesday, August 10, 1904, at the spacious home of Mr. Fred Kopke, situated ½ mile east and 3 miles south of Tecumseh. Long before the hour of noon carriages from every point of the compass began to arrive until nearly 100 had gathered to enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Kopke. Many came by train from Hanover, Adrian, Detroit, DesMoines, Cheasning, Monroe and were met at Tecumseh by the family turnout. The day was cool and pleasant all that could be desired, a shower coming up about 8 a. m. nicely laid the dust in many parts of the country.

The tables were tastily set upon the lawn, but about 12 o'clock the elements looked so threatening that the plan was changed to the house, where all were nicely accommodated with the many tempting viands prepared for the occasion. All did justice to themselves, the long drives of many especially fitted them for this part of the program About 2 p. m., the inner man having been satisfied, all assembled on the front lawn to listen to a short program prepared for the day.

The friends were called to order by the president, Mr. Fred Kopke, and after the election of a secretary pro tem, a song, "All Hail was nicely rendered. Prayer was then offered by Rev. Adelbert Wood of Adrian, then followed a song by Lucy Harrison. Reading by Ethel Kenyon. A duet was pleasingly given by Marian Kopke and Hugh Satterthwaite. Then came a recitation by Dorothy Doty. Miss Anna Allen of Ypsilanti, gave a finely rendered vocal solo. A recitation by little Marian Kopke followed. Instrumental solo by Lina Wood. Miss Carol Wood favored the friends with some very interesting recitations. She was encored and gave a bear story to the great delight of the youngsters and the older ones as well.

Mrs. Cummings' two little boys followed with a song. Messrs. Stitson and Cameron of New York City, then sang "Down on the Farm" with such pleasing effect that they were recalled and favored their hearers with a second selection. The report of the secretary was then listened to and letters were read from Mrs. Cummings, Mr. John W. Kelley of Mason City, Iowa, and Marion Knight of Adrian. A business meeting was then called which resulted in the following election:

Pres.—Jas. Buchanan.
Vice Pres.—Jas. Densmore.
Sec. and Treas.—Luetta Cummings.
Executive Com.—Alice Kennedy, Emma Kirkendall, Effie Strait.
Com. on Resolutions—Ida Ryon Niles, Katie Lombard, Emma Kirkendall.

The committee on resolutions was retained from last year with the understanding that a report for two years shall be prepared.

The invitation of Mrs. L. Cummings of Albion, to meet with them next year was accepted unanimously. A collection of $4.18 was then taken to defray necessary expenses. A song, "God be with you 'till we meet again," closed the program. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. and Mrs. Kopke for the very hospitable welcome given and their very generous entertainment.

Those present from a distance were C. W. Arner and wife, of Clydo, O.; Mrs. May Cunningham and children, of DesMoines, Iowa; Mrs. Carrie Britton, of Pewame, Mich., and others.

After a dainty lunch at five the guests began to separate bidding Mr. and Mrs. Kopke and the friends good bye and counting this one of the most enjoyable days spent in many years and hoping that we may all meet again next year.

An Easy Time For Mothers.

Zoa Phora Relieves All Pain and Suffering and Makes the Road for Mothers Smooth.

Trial Bottle Free to Every Woman.

The freedom and relief from pain and suffering that Zoa Phora has brought to women during childbirth alone is enough to render it the greatest blessing of the age to women. In addition to this it cures all irregularities of the sex, misplacements, suppressed and painful periods, leucorrhea, piles, kidney, bladder and liver troubles and regulates the change of life.

Zoa Phora makes the change from maidenhood to womanhood safe and easy and is a matchless remedy for young girls during this critical period of their lives.

The women of America endorse and praise Zoa Phora. All women can secure perfect health and happiness who will use Zoa Phora. All who have used it are now rejoicing in these blessings as their words of praise and gratitude prove. The following letter is only one of thousands which we receive:

Mrs. C. H. Clark, Box 365, Lake View, Mich., says: "I wish to say a few words of praise for Zoa Phora, as it is certainly the best medicine I have ever used for women's troubles. I have suffered with leucorrhea for seven years, and I also fell causing misplacement, from which I suffered for five years. I had a six months birth, which nearly caused death, and ever since I have been sickly.

"Last Christmas one of Dr. Pengelly's books 'Advice to Women,' came within my reach and so highly recommended Zoa Phora, that I decided to try a bottle, and have found the very best of results. February 22d I gave birth to a little girl, and she is strong and smart, and I am in the best of health I have had for over seven years, all from the use of Zoa Phora. I will say anyone who is troubled in like manner or expecting confinement should take Zoa Phora, and it will certainly be of great benefit to them. I know it makes childbirth much easier than without it."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will give gladly free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

In the issue of the HERALD of last Friday was printed one column of news from Britton and one column from Ridgeway, yet some items were left out and will be printed today. The correspondence from the surrounding towns printed in the HERALD is now the most complete, printed by any paper and will continue this way from week to week. Watch the last page of the HERALD on Friday and the second page on Tuesday.

READ THIS NOW.

Too Late Next Week.

You can get at less than it would cost you to bind them, any of the publications of E. R. DuMont, the extensive publisher, whose business recently went into the hands of a receiver. It includes late editions of high grade cyclopaedia, World's Aistory, World's Literature, Natural History, World's Oratory and choice editions of standard authors.

If you are interested to know what they are and the prices, call or drop a postal at once to F. R. Miller, salesman for the Creditor's Committee, Lilley Hotel, Tecumseh. This week only. No calls made at private houses except in answer to inquiry.

Another Ice Business.

C. A. Conklin has made arrangements with the ice houses at Norvell and will commence tomorrow to deliver pure lake ice to Tecumseh customers.

Competition is a good thing in any line of business and in the ice business it will not hurt Tecumseh. C. A. Conklin is well known here having conducted a successful coal business in Tecumseh a number of years ago and will no doubt be successful in the ice trade. He will do much of the work himself and by careful attention to the details hopes to meet his share of the trade.

Farmers Attention!

Feed grinding resumed at the Quaker mills. D. GRAETZ & SON.

Since 1841.

Years ago Frank Gridley lived in Tecumseh. He sold tea in the west for a Boston house and at that time was said to be the best tea salesman in the United States.

Mr. Gridley married Miss Anna E. Sholes, sister of the late Dudley Sholes of Tecumseh. A few years after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Gridley moved to Hillsdale and lived there till the death of Frank Gridley. The late Capt. Gridley, captain of the flag ship of Admiral Dewey's fleet, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gridley. Mrs. Frank Gridley is still alive and lives in Washington.

A friend of Mrs. Gridley saw he there a short time since and when talking of Tecumseh she said, "I have an invitation to a dance held at the old Michigan house in Tecumseh in 1841. I will give it to you and you show it when at Tecumseh again." The invitation was sent to Mr. Lilley and through his kindness the HERALD is able to print it.

Mrs. Gridley is still living in Washington and enjoys fairly good health.

NEW YEARS BALL.

The company of Miss A. E. Sholes is solicited at the Michigan House, in Tecumseh, on Thursday the 30th. of Dec at 4 o'clock P. M.

Managers, D. Williams, Gen. J. W. Brown, J. C. Wainwright, D. Latimer, A. Gardner, B. J. Bidwell, A. Stocking, J. D. Skinner, C. A. Tribou, R. Stocking, F. Gridley, J. T. Brown, S. Chamberlain, S. G. Sholes, Tecumseh; Geo. Bidwell, F. J. King, L. A. Hall, Adrian; W. P. Clark, H. S. Skinner, Geo. Howe, Monroe; J. Swathell, S. Fargo, W. A. Noble, Manchester; Chas. Ellis, J. C. Parks, Clinton; Mr. Mosier, Springville; Mr. Cook, Brooklyn; R. Daniels, Palmyra.

Tecumseh, Dec. 17, 1841.

Fine Music.

There has been talk here for some time of starting a band and Friday evening I thought the time was come and the band started, the band room being located some where near Rude's restaurant for I heard band music clear out to Chicago street.

It proved to be one of Rude's Columbia Disc graphaphones and for making loud music it is certainly a wonder. The machine was located on the balcony in front of the restaurant and the music could be very nicely heard half a block east or west on Chicago street.

Gravel-Sand.

Any one desiring sand, gravel or surface dirt can have the same delivered from the Stacy pit by leaving orders with John Wells, or if they wish to come after same themselves make arrangement before hand with John Wells.

Old Papers.

For house cleaning uses. Bundles of 30 for 5 cents at the HERALD office.

BASE BALL

A Robbery Game with Clinton

LAST SATURDAY

Tecumseh was Defeated by a Score of 1 and 0. Several other Games this Week.

Last Friday afternoon Tecumseh played the last of a series of three games with the Mt. Clemens lawyers at Mt. Clemens and won by a score of 9 to 3. Killian pitched for Tecumseh and allowed 10 hits while Gilbert, the Mt. Clemens twirler, was touched up for 15. Both teams played well in the field.

Score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Tecumseh	0	0	3	1	1	0	1	1	2	9	15	3
Lawyers	0	0	0	0	1	0	2	0	0	3	10	3

Batteries—Killian and Sebastian; Gilbert and Roche.

The Tecumseh team played Clinton an eleven inning game at Clinton last Saturday and lost to that aggregation by a score of 1 to 0. Umpire Gillen made several rotten decisions at the bases and literally stole the game.

Striker pitched, only allowing the Clintonites three hits, two of which with a sacrifice came in the last inning, enabling Tuttle to make the winning run. Clinton was strengthened by the Montpelier, O., battery, Vick, of the Detroit Wheelman's and Harrington, of the Ann Arbor team. Tecumseh played an errorless game.

Score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	R	H	E

Batteries for Tecumseh, Striker and Sebastian; for Clinton, Teal and Tuttle.

Tecumseh played the Shamrocks of Springport, in an interesting game of ball yesterday at Springport. Tecumseh scored in the first two innings and not again until the ninth inning, when with several poor throws they scored 5.

Springport's only two runs were made in the eighth and ninth innings.

Following is the score by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Shamrocks	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	2

Batteries, Striker and Sebastian; Jacobs and Davis.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The Chics played a game of ball with Brewer's moulders on Saturday afternoon, the former winning by a score of 25 to 10.

The game played at Lansing Sunday between a Lansing team and Tecumseh resulted in a score of 5 and 1 in favor of Tecumseh.

The Tecumseh base ball team play with Paw Paw this afternoon and with the Athletics at Marshall Wednesday and Thursday. Friday they will be here for a game with the Jackson Athletics and with the Toledo All Stars on Saturday.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Council Chamber, village of Tecumseh.

Regular meeting held Aug. 15, 1904. Present, the entire council except President Marsh.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Village Clerk.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abcess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright. Drug store price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

DYSPEPSIA REMEDY THAT CURES

If Mi-o-na does not cure C. A. Wright will refund your money.

Among all the remedies in C. A. Wright's popular drug store there are few that he is willing to sell on a guarantee to refund the money if they do not cure. Mi-o-na, the famous dyspepsia remedy, has made so many cures among his customers that C. A. Wright says: "If this remedy does not cure you, bring back the empty box and I will cheerfully return your money."

Any one who has dyspepsia, indigestion, headaches, dizzy feeling or liver troubles should take advantage of this chance to be made well without any risk of spending their money to no purpose. Mi-o-na will cure; will regulate the digestion; will enable any one to eat what he wants. If it does not do all this the medicine will not cost you a cent.

C. A. Wright has sold a great many boxes of Mi-o-na in the last few weeks and has yet to receive the first complaint from any customer. Such a record is simply marvelous and speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

It is easy enough to fill a column with the symptoms afflicting those who have dyspepsia, but there is no need of describing their condition. What they want is a cure. And they have it in Mi-o-na.

Do not suffer a day longer with disordered digestion. If Mi-o-na cures you it costs 50c a box and if it does not, you have C. A. Wright's personal guarantee to return your money.

Horace Holdridge.

Horace Holdridge was born in Raisin township Aug. 28, 1840, and died Saturday, Aug. 13, after an illness of several months, aged nearly 64 years. He was brought up on the farm and educated in Adrian at the high school and college. In 1862 he married Miss Adaline Holloway and they immediately commenced house keeping on the farm where his family now live.

For several years he was supervisor of Raisin and filled the office satisfactory to all. He was much respected by all who knew him, universally liked and will be greatly missed.

Beside his wife he leaves two children, Mrs. A. R. Boyd, of Raisin, and Clarence, who resides at the farm home. The following brothers and sisters also survive, Mrs. G. O. Green and Mrs. Harmon Camburn, of Adrian, Mrs. Webb Harvey, of Williamston, E. S. Holdridge, of Grand Rapids, and T. J. Holdridge, of Pond Creek.

The funeral was held from the house yesterday afternoon at two o'clock, the Masons, of which the deceased was a member, having charge. Mr. Holdridge was also a member of the Adrian Commandery K. T.

It is said that a mind reader recently, in a neighboring town, having demonstrated to a party of ladies and gentlemen his ability to read a newspaper through two thicknesses of horse blankets, one of the girls, a native of Metropolis, left the room with the remark that she "was not going to stay there any longer with just that calico dress on."—Ex.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Hyomei only guaranteed cure for this common and disagreeable disease.

Hyomei cures catarrh by the simple method of breathing it into the air passages and lungs. It kills the germs of catarrhal poison, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane and effectually drives this disease from the system.

If you have any of the following symptoms, catarrhal germs are at work somewhere in the mucous membrane of the throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs.

Offensive breath, dryness of the nose, pain across the eyes, pain in back of the head, pain in front of the head, tendency to take cold, burning pain in the throat, hawking to clear the throat, pain in the chest, a cough, stitch in side, losing of flesh, varible appetite, low spirited at times, raining of frothy mucous, expectorating yellow matter, difficulty in breathing, frequent sneezing, huskiness of voice, discharge from the nose, stoppage of the nose at night, aching of the body, droppings in the throat, mouth open while sleeping, tickling back of the palate, formation of crusts in the nose, dryness of the throat in the morning, loss of strength, spasms of coughing, cough short and hacking, cough worse nights and mornings, loss in vital force, a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest.

Hyomei will destroy activity of all catarrhal germs in the respiratory organs and in a few weeks the cure will be complete.

This is a strong statement, but C. A. Wright emphasizes it by agreeing to refund your money if Hyomei does not cure.

Cure for Hay Fever.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose, and intense burning of hay fever. It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

A woman never feels so truly grateful for the advantage of being a woman as when she meets a bow-legged man.

Graceful Women

The scent of the violet or rose is as precious as the lovely flowers whose breath they are, and while the lives of flowers are brief and we can only enjoy them for a day, the beautiful woman gives the pleasure of her fragrance to us as a permanent blessing. The soft fragrance of a beautiful woman suggests purity, health and elegance; she is the refinement of civilization; an index always of good taste and an unerring badge of gentility.

The difference between the way a man and a woman dress is that he can look like a boiled lobster and be fairly comfortable, while she can look like iced lemonade and think she is a hot Scotch.

MUST BELIEVE IT.

When well-known Tecumseh people tell it so Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Tecumseh the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

George Merritt, the well known proprietor of the cigar manufactory, says: "I can testify to the honesty and worth of Doan's Kidney Pills. There is no humbug about them. I was annoyed for some time with a dull aching pain in my back at times quite severe. I heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I procured a box at C. A. Wright's drug store and after taking them a short time I found they were helping me. Finally the pain in my back disappeared entirely. Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy for all kidney ailments."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

A woman always has an idea there is really something deceitful about a man who will go to church without swearing over it.

Accidents come with distressing frequency on the farm. Cuts, bruises, stings, sprains. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil relieves the pain instantly. Never safe without it.

You can generally tell by how poor the cigars are that a man smokes how good are the ones smoked by his son whom he supports.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life. Was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley street, Saugerties, N. Y.

The devil just takes things easy till the vacation season comes around, then he gets busy.

When other medicines have failed. take Foley's Kidney Cure. It has cured when everything else has disappointed. Sold by all druggists of Tecumseh.

Burglars stole $35 in cash and $200 worth of gloves from Florence E. Grant's establishment in Battle Creek.

Farmers for miles around Lake Orion held a big barbecue at that resort Saturday. A whole ox was consumed.

Unless the farmers around Croswell raise more beets next year the Sanilac Sugar Refining Co. threatens to move their establishment elsewhere.

August Channier of Saginaw choked on a piece of steak while dining at a restaurant and before medical attendance could be secured he expired.

A severe hailstorm visited the locality of Minden City and did thousands of dollars worth of damage to gardens and unharvested crops.

Benjamin F. Dibble of Detroit, and janitor of Wayne county courthouse, fell from a launch into Lake St. Clair while on his way for a Sunday's outing and was drowned.

Morris, the son of W. B. Miller, a prominent lumberman of Tustin, was drowned in Center lake, a short distance from his home, by going beyond his depth while in bathing.

Charles Lang of Scio sought to get revenge on his employer for a kick given him "by the boss" by setting his buildings on fire. The damages total $1,000; but Lang now languishes in jail for arson.

STUCK ON SAND BAR

Michigan's Naval Reserves Given a New Experience.

THEIR SHIP YANTIC AGROUND

In Little Traverse Bay at Early Hour In Morning—Late In Afternoon Before She Was Hauled Off by Tugs—Arrival Delayed.

Petoskey, Mich., Aug. 15.—The crew and band of the U. S. S. Yantic, which has been lying in the harbor here, took in the sights of Petoskey yesterday and upon returning to the vessel raised anchor and ran the craft ashore near Harbor Point. Tugs have been working and have at last succeeded in getting the boat off the shore undamaged.

Harbor Springs, Mich., Aug. 15.—The Michigan naval reserves, who left Detroit on the training ship Yantic for a cruise around the lakes, received a new course in seamanship they had not expected when the vessel ran hard aground in Little Traverse bay at an early hour in the morning.

The steamer was proceeding slowly through a thick fog at the time of the accident and struck easily on a gravel bottom. She was hauled into deep water by the tugs Wheeler and Taylor of Charlevoix and immediately left for Detroit.

No damage resulted, but the Yantic will be prevented from arriving at Detroit as early on Monday as was planned.

TRIED TWENTY-SIX TIMES

Before She Succeeded In Committing Suicide.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 15.—Cecil Davis, a pretty girl of a good family at Cadillac, Mich., was successful Sunday in her twenty-sixth attempt to commit suicide

Cecil seemed to have a mania for self-destruction and had tried all the routes to the grave that were suggested to her by a careful perusal of the newspapers. Carbolic acid, laudanum, strychnine and rat poison were the common means she used, but recently she began trying a new series of attempts. First she jumped off an open bridge into the river, but was saved against her will. Again she tried falling on a dagger, but her aim was not good and she only pricked her neck. Then she took acid in a glass of beer and recovered.

Sunday, however, she took enough acid to do the work successfully. Usually she would decide she did not wish to die after having taken poson and would go to the emergency hospital herself, but more often she was found by the police groaning on the street.

Spanish War Veterans.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 15.—The annual convention of the Michigan department of the Spanish War Veterans begins in this city today. Besides this meeting will be held the first reunion of the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth, Michigan volunteer regiments, and upwards of 600 veterans of the Spanish war are expected in the city. The delegates to the convention will be given a separate entertainment. This afternoon at 5 o'clock a short parade will be given, the march being to the armory, where a banquet and campfire will be given by the local command, aided by citizens.

Pardon Board In Session.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 15.—The state board of pardons are holding a meeting at the house of correction today for the purpose of considering the following applications for pardon: Ira Ford, sent from Ingham county for placing obstructions on a railroad track; W. W. Ullmer, sent from Wayne county for assault with intent to do great bodily harm; Tessie Quinn, sent from Monroe for larceny; Margaret Hall, sent from Chippewa county for attempted arson.

Colored Knights Templar Conclave.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 15.—Today the big conclave of colored Knights Templar of the state opens in this city to continue throughout the week to Friday. A competitive drill will be held between the three teams from Detroit, Grand Rapids and Battle Creek. The Eureka band and orchestra of Detroit will participate. To the winner in the competitive drill a handsome silver cup will be awarded by the local lodge.

Dowie Rescued Three Women.

Whitehall, Mich., Aug. 15.—"Elijah" Dowie rescued three women from a watery grave. The women were sailing unattended in a sailing yacht belonging to George McDonald of Chicago and were out in the middle of the lake when a heavy wind caused their boat to capsize. Dowie saw the accident from the piazza of Ben MacDhui, his summer home. With his son Gladstone, Dowie ran for his launch and went out through the heavy sea to the rescue.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

GRAND GATHERING.

National G. A. R. Encampment and Kin Organizations In Boston.

Boston, Aug. 15.—The national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, with its several affiliated bodies, opens in this city today and is expected to be one of the largest in recent years.

The arrangements for the week are complete. The city is extensively and handsomely decorated in honor of the occasion and the Boston common and public gardens bear electrical illuminations of unusual brilliancy.

Commander-in-Chief Black, accompanied from Washington by members of his family, arrived at encampment headquarters at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon and was given a rousing reception.

In connection with the meetings of the G. A. R. there will be held the annual gatherings of the National Woman's Relief Corps, the National Daughters of Veterans, the National Sons of Veterans, the National Ladies Aid Society, auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans; the National Ladies of the G. A. R.; the National Army Nurses' association, the National Association of Naval Veterans and the National Association of ex-Prisoners of War.

The meetings and reunions of these various organizations will continue until Saturday. The feature of the week will be the parade of Grand Army men on Tuesday, when it is expected that from twenty to forty thousand veterans will be in line.

Drowned In River Rouge.

Woodmere, Aug. 15—The River Rouge was the scene of another drowning Sunday afternoon. The victim was William Logan, a young man 21 years of age, employed at the Detroit Sulphite Fibre Co. in Delray. With two companions Logan went in bathing just back of Woodmere cemetery. The banks of the Rouge slope abruptly into deep water. Logan, who was unable to swim, went beyond his depth, and before his two companions could rescue him he had sank from sight beneath the waters. The body was recovered.

Hon. Perry Hannah Dying.

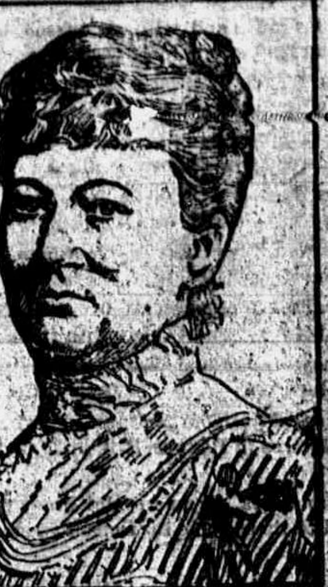
Traverse City, Mich., Aug. 15.—Hon. Perry Hannah, Traverse City's most prominent resident, is lying at the point of death at his home here, having suffered a stroke of paralysis. He came to Traverse City in 1851 with his partners, A. Tracy Lay, James and William Morgan of Chicago, buying the pine lumber interests of Horace Boardman, including mills and several hundred acres of land on the present site of Traverse City. He has always been interested in promoting the growth of Traverse City and northern Michigan.

HEIR TO RUSSIA'S THRONE.

Son Born to Czar and Czarina of Great European Nation.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 13.—A son and heir to the Russian throne has been born. The empress and the child are doing well. The event occurred at 12:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The child will be christened Alexis.

The christening of the heir will take place in a fortnight. It will be a ceremony of the most elaborate sort. In accordance with Russian imperial custom it will be performed in the imperial chapel of the Peterhof palace, credited with being the most magnificent chapel in Russia.



EMPRESS ALIX, CZARINA.
Who Has Presented the People of Russia With an Heir to the Throne.

The birth so greatly wished for, that of an heir to the Russian crown, occurred not in the great palace at Peterhof, but in the Alexandra villa, one of a group of four small palaces in a secluded corner of the magnificent Peterhof park. In one of these buildings the empress had been living for weeks. The other three are occupied by memebrs of the imperial family, gathered there in expectation of the event.

The birth of the heir to the throne was attended with all the ceremonial ordained by imperial tradition. In accordance with the Russian law here were present besides the emperor, Baron Fredericks, the master of the ceremonies, and Prince Dolgorouky, grand marshal of the court. Dr. Rott, the emperor's family physician, was in charge, and Dr. Hiruch was the surgeon in attendance. An imperal salute of 101 guns was subsequently fired, first from Peterhof, and it was then repeated by all the forts around St. Petersburg.

Follows McKinley's Example.

New York, Aug. 13.—Chairman Cortelyou said Thursday President Roosevelt would not make any political speeches this year, setting at rest many rumors to that effect which have been in circulation. Beyond the speech to the notification committee and the letter of acceptance, which is yet to be published, the president will not take any public part in the campaign. This is in line with the course pursued by President McKinley in 1900.

Wanted for Another Crime.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Arrested four days ago as a suspect in the hold-up of the Diamond Special on the Illinois Central railway near Harvey, James Wilson, who could not be conected with the train robbery, has been identified as a man wanted at Beaver Falls, Pa., for the theft of $5,000 worth of jewelry, which he is alleged to have stolen from the residence of James Piper, a Beaver Falls merchant.

Well-Known Saginawian Killed.

Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 15.—Barney Brawley, a drayman and well known character in this city, his home for the past thirty-seven years, was caught under the drivers of a Pere Marquette switch engine and crushed to death. He made an effort to cross the street in front of the engine after noticing it and stopped for an instant.

Run Down by Engine.

Cadillac, Mich., Aug. 15.—George Ford, an Ann Arbor engineer, was killed here by the Ann Arbor switch engine, which he accidentally stepped in front of.

Left Fifty Four Descendants.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 15.—Abraham Bell, who on July 27 last celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of his birth, died at his home here Sunday. He has had fifty-four descendants, and all but five are still living. His pallbearers will be six of his grand sons.

Nerve Fag.
If You Waste Your Nerve Energy, After Awhile You Will Suffer For It.
You can waste nerve force by excess, over-work, worry, anxiety, etc.
You can weaken yourself by not eating proper food or securing sufficient rest to renew the nerve energy you use up.
The proper treatment, in addition to good phosphatic food, such as whole meal bread, prepared cereals, etc., is Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine.
This is as truly a brain and nerve food as any food you could eat, and besides, furnishes strength and tone of its own, which goes to the weakened nerve system, and sets it to rights.
Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a refreshing, revitalizing tonic food-medicine for the brain and nerves. It reconstructs worn-out nerve tissue, and fills your languid brain with new life and vigor.
Dr. Miles' Nervine has made so many marvelous cures, of people so sick the doctors thought they were incurable, that it is today the standard medicine in many thousands of American homes.
The first bottle is guaranteed to help you, or druggist returns your money.
"The extreme heat, close confinement and intense mental strain incident to the banking business, has caused me to suffer with nervousness and insomnia. It gives me pleasure to say that I have used Dr. Miles' Nervine with very satisfactory results in the treatment of these affections. I am now on my fifth bottle, and eat and sleep well, in fact have almost forgotten that I possess nerves."—R. L. DALBY, Asst. Cashier, State Bank, Texarcana, Ark.

Constipation, Its Cause and Cure.
A person in order to be healthy must get rid of the waste products (or poisons) of the body. Nature has provided four ways to get rid of them: The Bowels, the Kidneys, the Bladder and the pores of the Skin.
If the bowels become inactive, that portion of the food which should be thrown off lies in the intestines and decomposes, causing blood, nerve, liver and kidney trouble, and closes the pores of the skin, thus creating disease in the entire system.
You can immediately relieve and permanently cure yourself of stubborn constipation or distressing stomach trouble and perfectly regulate your kidneys and liver by taking one dose a day of DRAKE'S PALMETTO WINE. Any reader of this paper can secure absolutely free a bottle by writing to Drake Formula Co., Drake Building, Chicago.
A FREE trial bottle alone has brought health and vigor to many, so you owe it to yourself to prove what it will do in your case.
Write the company this very day.

Onions are said to prolong life, at least eating them strengthens the breath.

God made the country, yet a lot of people sell their farms and move in town.

Judge Walker Dead.

Capac, Mich., Aug. 18.—Hon. D. C. Walker is dead at his home here. This distinguished jurist was 92 years old and had lived in Michigan for sixty-seven years. He was a member of the convention that drew up the present constitution of Michigan in 1850, and also served in the state legislature, two terms in the house and one in the senate. Five children survive him.

Big German Consolidation.

Berlin, Aug. 18.—A giant industrial combination, second to that of Krupp's in Germany, will result from a meeting at Hanover of the directorates of the Gelsenkirchen Coal Co., the Schalker Coal & Iron Co., and the Aachen Smelting Co., at which it was decided to pool the interests of three companies, the Gelsenkirchen company increasing its capital to $31,375,000 and exchanging its shares for shares of the other companies. The Aachen company owns large foundries, steel works and rolling mills at Roteerde and mines at Lothringen and Luxemburg.

Puts an end to it all.

A grievous wail oftimes comes as a result of unbearable pain from over taxed organs. Dizziness, backache, liver complaint and constipation. But thanks to Dr. King's New Life Pills they put an end to it all. They are gentle but thorough. Try them. Only 25c. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright's drug store.

Insane Convict Killed Himself.

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 18.—George Green, an inmate of the hospital at the prison, who became insane about nine days ago, took advantage of the absence of the attendants and leaped from the window to the ground, sixty feet below. His skull was fractured and he died. Green was sent from Arenac for the indeterminate term of from two to four years for burglary.

Long Chase For Forger.

Marcellus, Mich., Aug. 18.—Deputy Huber has returned with Frank Weidman, whom he had pursued from this town away out into Minnesota. Weidman was accused of forging certificates of deposit for about $1,610, his victims being trusting widows.

Cloudburst Swamped Town.

Traverse City, Mich., Aug. 18.—A cloudburst swamped the little town of Maple City, near here. It came without warning and many of the villagers were caught and carried long distances before being able to get to high ground. Luckily no lives were lost.

Was Instantly Killed.

Marquette, Mich., Aug. 18.—Peter O'Connell, aged 56, employed in the D., S. S. & A. railroad shops, was instantly killed while at work. He was struck in the breast by a fragment from a pulley, which exploded while in motion.

Woman's Remarkable Escape.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 18.—Mrs. Lyman Heller started to cross the Grand Trunk railway bridge in this city when she discovered a train approaching on the track on which she was walking. She stepped to one side between the double track and was struck by a train which approached on the other track and which, in her confusion, she had not noticed. She was knocked down and lay between the tracks until both freight trains had passed. Trainmen then went back and picked her up. She suffered a compound fracture of her right shoulder.

He Loved Her Unto Death.

Alpena, Mich., Aug. 18.—Martin M. Ballard of Oswego, N. Y., employed at the Moench tannery, attempted suicide by poison. He was found on the sidewalk and writhed in convulsions all night with small chance of recovery. He left a note saying he killed himself for love of a girl. "I will die for Edith. She's the only girl I love," ran the brief penciled message.

Tod Sloan Nearly Drowned.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Tod Sloan, the jockey, and two other turfmen, Charles H. Dwyer and Victor Williams of New York, narrowly escaped drowning at Saratoga lake. Their sailboat was capsized by a squall and they were rescued a mile from shore.

FOR HER FATHER.

Baroness Von Keteler Brings Dog Given Her by the Kaiser.

New York, Aug. 17.—Among the passengers on the North-German Lloyd steamer Kron Prinz Wilhelm, which has just arrived, was Baroness Von Keteler, whose husband was assassinated in the streets of Pekin, where he was the German minister. This is her third trip to America since her husband's death. She is on her way to visit her father, H. B. Ledyard, president of the Michigan Central railroad, whose home is in Detroit.

The baroness brought with her a huge mastiff presented to her by Kaiser Wilhelm. He selected it from his kennel for the American baroness, and she will give it to her father.

MANY BABES DYING.

Epidemic of Cholera Infantum Raging in Detroit Suburb.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 18.—An epidemic of cholera infantum is raging in Delray, a suburg of Detroit. Within three days one undertaker has buried ten babies who were victims of the disease. Other undertakers have been busy, a majority of their cases being infants who died of the same complaint. During the past month more than twenty-five deaths have been reported, and the mortality rate is increasing.

is the one that will cleanse the system, set the liver to action, remove the bile, clear the complexion, cure headache and leave a good taste in the mouth. The famous little pills for doing such work pleasantly and effectually are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Bob Moore of Lafayette, Ind., says: "All other pills I have ever used gripe and sicken, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers are simply perfect". Sold by C. A. Wright.

If afterthoughts are the best why can't we have them first?

A Startling Cure.

Wm. Barrows, 4142 Halsted St., Chicago, writes, "While hanging a quarter of beef I missed the hook, which caught my hand, the hook penetrating and going through the small of the hand. I applied Greene's Infallible Liniment at once. In ten days my hand was healed. I lost no time on account of the accident, as there was no soreness after second dressing." Get a bottle today, it may be needed in a hurry sometime and be worth twenty times it's cost to you. It is a marvelous healing dressing. I can tell you more about it. We guarantee the remedy. B. J. PULVER.

Too many nurses make a specialty of nursing trouble.

Was wasting away.

The following letter from Robert R. Watts, of Salsm, Mo., is instructive. "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years. I lost flesh and never felt well and doctored with leading physicians and tried all remedies suggested without relief. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me and I am now sound and well." Sold by all druggists of Tecumseh.

The man in the moon makes light of things.

Sufferers from headache, drowsiness, lack of energy, billiousness, bowel and stomach disorders, get prompt relief by using Greene's Little Laxative Beans. These little beans are a guaranteed cure for constipation, a gentle tonic. They clean the system, purify the blood and make Richard himself again. Thirty doses for a quarter, enough to cure five people. B. J. PULVER.

Man proposes—and disposes of a lot of things which are entirely unnecessary.

A Summer Cold.

A summer cold is not only annoying but if not relieved pneumonia will be the probable result by fall. One Minute Cough Cure clears the phlegm, draws out the inflamation, heals, soothes and strengthens the lungs and bronchial tubes. One Minute Cough Cure is an ideal remedy for the children. It is pleasant to the taste and perfectly harmless. A certain cure for croup, cough cold. Sold by C. A. Wright.

When a fellow is too strong to work he usually drifts into politics.

Summer colds are troublesome and if neglected, very dangerous. Mothers should always have on hand Greene's Cough Cure—for quick use. It's superior does not exist, pure, safe, sure. Best for children. Recommended and sold by B. J. Pulver.

Many a bank has been wrecked through recklessness.

Half the ills that man is heir to, come from indigestion. Burdock Blood Bitters strengthens and tones the stomach; makes indigestion impossible.

NEARING DOOMED CITY

Japanese Firing Line Slowly Closing In on Port Arthur.

SHIP VIEWS THE BOMBARDMENT

Jap Army In Liao Yang Carrying Out Flanking Movement—Bandits Getting In Their Work—Eighteen Killed In Skirmish.

Chefoo, Aug. 18.—According to news here the Japanese line has been drawn still closer around beleagured Port Arthur. The right wing of the Japanese line has penetrated to the vicinity of Pigeon bay, while the center has moved forward from Paling Ching, which is south of Shushiyen and two miles north of the town. Chinese are authority for the above outline of the new Japanese positions.

Splashes of Fire.

Passengers on board of the steamer Deicimi, which anchored off Port Arthur at night, witnessed the bombardment from Pigeon bay. The Japanese shells were visible during their whole course. They circled cometlike to the town and their explosions were marked by great splashes of fire which shot up into the sky.

London, Aug. 18.—According to the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Chefoo, refugees arriving there bring news of a serious condition of affairs at Port Arthur. They say that Japanese shells have ignited lighters in the docks which contained supplies of coal, resulting in a terrific conflagration. Many of the buildings have been demolished and the hospitals are crowded.

Liao Yang, Aug. 18.—A general Japanese flanking movement is developing to the east and parallel with the railway. The movement involves the whole mass of troops from Dalin Pass (about 25 miles southwest of Tatchekiao) to Diodinshan, on the Taitse river (25 miles southwest of Mukden). It is evident that these troops have combined with the object of forcing the Russians out of Liao Yang without a fight and thus securing advantageous winter quarters.

Bandits Active.

Three days of rain has temporarily checked all movements. Chinese bandits are more active than ever. They again blew up the railway near here. Bandits under the command of the celebrated Toulisan cut up a party of scouts under the command of Captain Transoff in the village of Syaba, twenty-five miles west of Liao Yang. Captain Slushivski, coming up with reinforcements, scattered the bandits, killing eighteen and capturing four. The village was burned.

TO ENFORCE DEMANDS.

Japanese Squadron Is Expected at Shanghai.

Shanghai, Aug. 18.—A Japanese squadron is expected here today. Japan is determined, it is stated, that the protected cruiser Askold and the torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi shall leave port promptly or dismantle.

FEELING IS INTENSE.

Another Negro Put to Death—Farmers Are Plotting.

Register, Ga., Aug. 18.—The latest information gathered from a long drive through the country about Statesboro shows that the race feeling has not subsided. The body of a negro, shot through the body, was found early in the day behind the highway about five miles from here. It is supposed to be that of Handy Bell, one of the suspects released from jail last night for lack of evidence. A meeting of white farmers was held at Riggs Hill, one mile from here, at which plans were laid for ridding the community of obnoxious negroes.

Statesboro, Ga., Aug. 18.—Over half the members of the Statesboro guards, one of the two companies that were guards over the prisoners who were lynched, have asked for their discharges. The negro found shot to pieces on the bridge eight miles from here is not Handy Bell. The body has not yet been identified.

Revolution Is Spreading.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 18.—Refugees from Asuncion, the capital of Paraguay, declare that the conditions there are insupportable. All business has been suspended, the streets are deserted and only the patrols are visible. The refugees say that the revolution is spreading and it is believed that the government will not offer serious resistance to any attack on the capital. Gen. Ferreira, the leader of the revolution, will probably be declared president. Cannonading was heard last night near Asuncion, but there is no definite news that the capital is being bombarded.

Twelve Persons Injured.

Kansas City, Aug. 18.—Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific passenger train No. 12, which left Kansas City at 6:30 last evening for Chicago was wrecked near Altamont, Mo. The two day coaches were thrown down an embankment. The remainder of the train did not leave the tracks. Twelve persons were injured, two fatally.

Fought With Custer.

Big Rapids, Mich., Aug. 17.—The funeral of Edgar Pierce, former mayor of this city, was held Tuesday afternoon. Post Andrews, G. A. R., of which he was a member, was in charge. A touching scene was the sounding of "lights out" by Bugler Thomas Shaw, who, like the deceased, was a veteran of the civil war. He used the same bugle that he blew forty-one years ago at the battle of Winchester, in which both he and Mr. Pierce participated as members of Gen. Custer's famous cavalry brigade.

Port Huron Must Hustle.

Port Huron, Mich., Aug. 17.—There is a rumor in circulation to the effect that the officials of the Pere Marquette are figuring on removing the shops in this city to Saginaw, but if sufficient property can be secured they will be retained here. An effort will be made by Port Huron citizens to retain them, and if possible bring the railroad shops from Saginaw to Port Huron.

A party of Macon people enjoyed a trip to Port Huron Wednesday.

Healthy Mothers.

Mothers should always keep in good bodily health. They owe it to their children. Yet it is no unusual sight to see a mother, with babe in arms, coughing violently and exhibiting all the symtoms of a consumptive tendency. And why should this dangerous condition exist, dangerous alike to mother and child, when Dr. Boschee's German Syrup would put a stop to it at once? No mother sould be without this old and tried remedy in the house—for its timely use will promptly cure any lung, throat or bronchial trouble in herself or her children. The worst cough or cold can be speedily cured by German Syrup; so can hoarseness and congestion of the bronchial tubes. It makes expectoration easy, and gives instant relief and refreshing rest to the cough-racked consumptive. New trial bottles, 25; large size, 75c. JOHN J. ORR.

BIG 'VARSITY SCHEME.

Chicago Man Looking For Site In Western Michigan.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Aug. 18.—Charles H. Sercombe of Chicago is in the city and took a drive to look at the scenery and lands along the St. Joseph river as a site for a million-dollar university, which shall be different from any other university in the world.

Wherever the school is located it must have a site of 1,000 acres of land located upon water, either a lake or river. Sercombe insists the land must be donated.

Sercombe says the company would not want the title to the property until it had fulfilled the terms of the contract. The initial investment in buildings would be from $100,000 to $150,000. The school would have no endowment, but would be made self-sustaining. The students would be taught to do things, but it would differ from manual training schools, for here the students would be compelled to put in a certain number of hours each day in useful employment that would bring in revenue for the school. A specialty would be made of engineering.

End of Illustrous Career.

Capac, Mich., Aug. 17.—Judge D. C. Walker is very low and his death is hourly expected. The veteran jurist was 92 years old July 17 last, and his illness dates back into early June. Hon. Dewitt C. Walker was born in Vermont in 1812. He was a graduate of Middlebury college and of the Yale law school in 1836. He came to Michigan and located at Romeo, Macomb county, where he practiced his chosen profession for twenty years. He was elected twice to the house and once to the senate. He was regent of the state university in 1845 and was a member of the constitutional convention in 1850, when the present constitution for this state was framed. Then he was elected prosecuting attorney of Macomb county and in 1852 judge of probate for St. Clair county.

Lightning Struck Clock.

Ypsilanti, Mich., Aug. 17.—During the severe electrical storm a bolt of lightning struck the high school tower and put the clock out of business. The fire burned downward, reaching the big bell, but left it unharmed, though ruining the clock beyond repair.

An Easy Time For Mothers.

Zoa Phora Relieves All Pain and Suffering and Makes the Road for Mothers Smooth.

Trial Bottle Free to Every Woman.

The freedom and relief from pain and suffering that Zoa Phora has brought to women during childbirth alone is enough to render it the greatest blessing of the age to women. In addition to this it cures all irregularities of the sex, misplacements, suppressed and painful periods, leucorrhea, piles, kidney, bladder and liver troubles and regulates the change of life.

Zoa Phora makes the change from maidenhood to womanhood safe and easy and is a matchless remedy for young girls during this critical period of their lives.

The women of America endorse and praise Zoa Phora. All women can secure perfect health and happiness who will use Zoa Phora. All who have used it are now rejoicing in these blessings as their words of praise and gratitude prove. The following letter is only one of thousands which we receive:

Mrs. C. H. Clark, Box 865, Lake View, Mich., says: "I wish to say a few words of praise for Zoa Phora, as it is certainly the best medicine I have ever used for women's troubles. I have suffered with leucorrhea for seven years, and I also fell causing misplacement, from which I suffered for five years. I had a six months birth, which nearly caused death, and ever since I have been sickly.

"Last Christmas one of Dr. Pengelly's books 'Advice to Women,' came within my reach and so highly recommended Zoa Phora, that I decided to try a bottle, and have found the very best of results. February 22d I gave birth to a little girl, and she is strong and smart, and I am in the best of health I have had for over seven years, all from the use of Zoa Phora. I will say anyone who is troubled in like manner or expecting confinement should take Zoa Phora, and it will certainly be of great benefit to them. I know it makes childbirth much easier than without it."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will give gladly free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

B. J. PULVER.

On Wednesday of last week at midnight Mrs. Shipman Kelsey, a widow living alone in Augusta township, was awakened to find her house in flames and the rear part about to fall in. She frantically attempted to save some of her furniture but succeeded in removing nothing but two feather beds, which from their proximity to the house, ultimately burned. The house and its contents, among which was her wardrobe, some money, a check and some valuable papers, were utterly consumed. There was no insurance.—Milan Leader.

A young man named Bert Muck was at Adrian last Saturday night and when he went to his home about three miles west of the city about 11 o'clock was accompanied by Arthur Henig. They went to bed together in a room in the second story of the house and when they awoke the next morning found that the room had been burglarized, their pocket books having been emptied and a watch taken. It is supposed some one followed them from the city and had entered the room from a shed adjoining and possibly chloroformed the sleepers.—Hudson Post.

In the terrific hail and storm of July 23, lightning struck the barn of E. G. Buck of Moline, setting fire to the hay and killing a fine pacer, five years old, belonging to Mrs. Buck. The men saw the ball of fire strike the barn and rushing out succeeded in extinguished it. Two loads of damp hay just spread over the mow is all that saved the barn, which at the time contained 110 loads. After the storm Mr. Buck, going for the cows, found another horse, four years old, one of a matched team, dead in the pasture one-fourth mile from the barn. The insurrnce company promptly settled the loss. Mr. Buck is a brother of Dwight Buck of this city.—Hudson Post.

REPUBLICAN

County Convention held at the COURT HOUSE

In Adrian yesterday. They nominated Good Men to fill the Offices.

The Republican county convention was held in Adrian yesterday afternoon at the court house. The convention was called to order at 11:05 by Col. B. F. Graves, who appointed the committees on resolutions, permanent order of business and credentials and announced that the first legislation district would meet at Tecumseh Saturday, Sept. 10. A recess was taken until one p. m.

At one o'clock chairman Graves called to order nearly every delegate being in his seat. The reports from the committees were listened to first. The nomination of Judge of Probate was taken up and Hon. B. L. Hart of Morenci, presented the name of Hon. Harry L. Larwill of Adrian, for nomination and it was carried by unanimous vote. For sheriff, Oliver Holt of Blissfield, William H. Knox of Hudson, Artemus Cooper of Hudson City, William Britton of Ridgeway.

The whole number of votes cast for sheriff were 174 and the result of the fourth ballot was: Holt 93, Britton 69, Cooper 11, Bettis 1. The nomination of Oliver Holt was made unanimous.

For county clerk the name Fred A. Acker of Adrian, was presented first. James H. Elliott of Tecumseh, second. James Elliott is a young man, not only well known and liked in Tecumseh, but well educated by his work in Lansing, to fill the office of county clerk. The HERALD thinks his nomination would have helped the ticket, but then the works of the republican party are peculiar and perhaps Acker of Adrian, is the etter man. This is, however, only a tart for Elliott. He is bound to be a politician and will come up again at the first opportunity always smiling.

The vote stood as follows: Whole number 173. Fred A. Acker 120, James H. Elliott 53.

The selection of a candidate for register of deeds was next in order. The result of the ballot was as follows, John A. Poucher of Medina, 88, Sidney Kimball 48, C. L. Greenleaf 38. Charles Kisinger was named for county surveyor and was declared unanimous choice.

The remainder of the ticket is as follows:

Treasurer—Frank Bradish.

Prosecuting Attorney—Theodore Joslin.

Commissioners—W. B. Alexander, Edward H. Griffin.

Coroners—Henry W. Stevens, B. P. Thomas.

Program for Carnival Day.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Montpelier won a game of ball with Wauseon at Adrian Wednesday by a score of 11 to 5. Ten errors were made during the game.

At Blissfield's day of sports, Wednesday, Riga defeated Ogden by a score of 3 to 2. Ogden left the field in the eighth inning dissatisfied with a decision of the umpire.

The famous Nebraska Indians were defeated in a fine game of ball with the Petoskey Champs, at Petoskey Wednesday. This is the second game the Indians have lost in the State. The score stood 6 to 3.

In 1900 Adrian had a population of 9,624. In 1904, it is 10,686. In 1900 Hudson had a population of 2,403 and Tecumseh 2,400. At that time Hudson made a great outcry over having three more in population and to the fact that she was next to Adrian in the county. The above figures for 1904 gives to Hudson 2,307, Tecumseh, 2,525 a gain of 125 for Tecumseh and a loss of about 100 for Hudson.

Tecumseh is a little ahead of her sister city in population and as a beautiful and well kept town, is in most ways far ahead but it must be remembered that Tecumseh has no sewers and that at this season of the year the stench from some localities is long and loud. In the lack of sewers the health officer should have full power to order the cleaning or removal of offensive out houses and so far as he is concerned I think he has no power at all or at least does not use it.

It is regretted that the Chicago street sewer was defeated last year for some day the sewer must come and it might as well have been built then, Tecumseh had the use of it and today this would have been by far the best town in the county.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abcess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright. Drug store price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Polly, the 3-year old daughter of William Crosby of Lake Odessa, fell under a moving binder Monday and now lies at the point of death with both legs cut off and her body mangled. The binder was driven by a hired man and the entire machine passed over the little girl. Physicians give no hope for her recovery.—Reese Review.

Albert Hilston, a tenant on the farm of J. M Spaulding on the Saline road, died Monday at 1 o'clock at University hospital, death resulting from a kick from a horse. While harnessing the animal Sunday, he was kicked in the abdomen, the injury being so serious that Martin's ambulance was called and he was taken to his home. Monday morning he was brought to University hospital, when the danger increased by peritonitis setting in and the man died at 1 o'clock. He was 28 years of age and leaves a wife and two children. The remains were taken to Cortland, Ont., Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock on the Michigan Central. This is Mr. Hilston's old home, where his parents and his wife's parent's are living.—Ann Arbor Argus.

Mrs. C. D. Luce of Jefferson, seven miles southeast of the city, who has been an invalid and under medical treatment for some time, had a narrow escape from death by burning about two o'clock yesterday morning. Her son, Ernest, and wife, who were asleep upstairs, were awakened and upon reaching the bed room of the sick woman found her in bed in a semi-rational condition and the bed clothing afire. One corner of the bed and the pillows were badly burned and the fire had also severely burned the hands of the invalid, of which she has but little use. The fire was quickly extinguished and the sufferer made as comfortable as possible under the circumstances. It is supposed the fire caught from a lamp on the stand near the head of the bed. The old lady is a widow of Chas. D. Luce, former representative in the legislature from this county.—Hillsdale Standard.

Be honest and your friends will call you rude.

DYSPEPSIA REMEDY THAT CURES

If Mi-o-na does not cure C. A. Wright will refund your money.

Among all the remedies in C. A. Wright's popular drug store there are few that he is willing to sell on a guarantee to refund the money if they do not cure. Mi-o-na, the famous dyspepsia remedy, has made so many cures among his customers that C. A. Wright says: "If this remedy does not cure you, bring back the empty box and I will cheerfully return your money."

Any one who has dyspepsia, indigestion, headaches, dizzy feeling or liver troubles should take advantage of this chance to be made well without any risk of spending their money to no purpose. Mi-o-na will cure; will regulate the digestion; will enable any one to eat what he wants. If it does not do all this the medicine will not cost you a cent.

C. A. Wright has sold a great many boxes of Mi-o-na in the last few weeks and has yet to receive the first complaint from any customer. Such a record is simply marvelous and speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

It is easy enough to fill a column with the symptoms afflicting those who have dyspepsia, but there is no need of describing their condition. What they want is a cure. And they have it in Mi-o-na.

Do not suffer a day longer with disordered digestion. If Mi-o-na cures you it costs 50c a box and if it does not, you have C. A. Wright's personal guarantee to return your money.

ROUND ABOUT US.

Thursday morning about 5 o'clock a terrific thunder-clap awakened the people of the village. As they jumped out of bed almost everyone felt that a building had been struck. It was found that lightning had struck the chimney at Dr. Tallman's, shattering it and splintering wood, while a large hole in the roof testified to the instantaneus power of electricity. Plaster, bricks and soot flew over the interior of the house. Providentially, no one was injured.—Weston Kodac.

A policeman on West Main street beat had peculiar experience yesterday morning during the wee sma' hours. When the silence of night enshrouded everything, and the whole world was calm and still—and spooky, a shadowy, white object appeared on the walk and moved towards him with a pecular undulating movement. Nearer and nearer the object, and the copper's hair began to assert itself and stand up for its rights. The white object approached nearer and nearer and finally a weak voice said:

"Please take me home. I've walked in my sleep from the car barns." The officer started and well he might for they were standing on the corner of Main and Jackson streets and she had just come from North Jackson street. It is to be presumed a carriage was called and the women conveyed to her home. She was quite cold being only thinly clad. It is the worse case of somnambulism to occur in this city up to date.—Jackson Patriot.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Hyomei only guaranteed cure for this common and disagreeable disease.

Hyomei cures catarrh by the simple method of breathing it into the air passages and lungs. It kills the germs of catarrhal poison, heals and soothes the irritated mucons membrane and effectually drives this disease from the system.

If you have any of the following symptoms, catarrhal germs are at work somewhere in the mucous membrane of the throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs.

Offensive breath, dryness of the nose, pain across the eyes, pain in back of the head, pain in front of the head, tendency to take cold, burning pain in the throat, hawking to clear the throat, pain in the chest, a cough, stitch in side, losing of flesh, varible appetite, low spirited at times, raining of frothy mucous, expectorating yellow matter, difficulty in breathing, frequent sneezing, huskiness of voice, discharge from the nose, stoppage of the nose at night, aching of the body, droppings in the throat, mouth open while sleeping, tickling back of the palate, formation of crusts in the nose, dryness of the throat in the morning, loss of strength, spasms of coughing, cough short and hacking, cough worse nights and mornings, loss in vital force, a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest.

Hyomei will destroy activity of all catarrhal germs in the respiratory organs and in a few weeks the cure will be complete.

This is a strong statement, but C. A. Wright emphasizes it by agreeing to refund your money if Hyomei does not cure.

Cure or Hay Fever.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose and intense burning of hay fever. It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

MUST BELIEVE IT,
When well-known Tecumseh people tell it so Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Tecumseh the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

George Merritt, the well known proprietor of the cigar manufactory, says: "I can testify to the honesty and worth of Doan's Kidney Pills. There is no humbug about them. I was annoyed for some time with a dull aching pain in my back at times quite severe. I heard so much about Doan's Kidney Pills that I procured a box at C. A. Wright's drug store and after taking them a short time I found they were helping me. Finally the pain in my back disappeared entirely. Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy for all kidney ailments."

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

One of our local trout fisherman has sent the Exponent the following receipt on How to Cook a Carp.—Clean the fish nicely, let it dry for two days in the sun. Nail the fish to a pine board, cover with salt, and after standing for two days longer put in the oven and bake six hours. Then draw the nails out, throw the carp away and eat the nails and board, which are said to be the best part of the fish.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Constipation, Its Cause and Cure.

A person in order to be healthy must get rid of the waste products (or poisons) of the body. Nature has provided four ways to get rid of them: The Bowels, the Kidneys, the Bladder and the pores of the Skin.

If the bowels become inactive, that portion of the food which should be thrown off lies in the intestines and decomposes, causing blood, nerve, liver and kidney trouble, and closes the pores of the skin, thus creating disease in the entire system.

You can immediately relieve and permanently cure yourself of stubborn constipation or distressing stomach trouble and perfectly regulate your kidneys and liver by taking one dose a day of DRAKE'S PALMETTO WINE. Any reader of this paper can secure absolutely free a bottle by writing to Drake Formula Co., Drake Building, Chicago.

A FREE trial bottle alone has brought health and vigor to many, so you owe it to yourself to prove what it will do in your case.

Write the company this very day.

What to Eat With the Fingers.

A man who has forgotten to get married and is consequently obliged to dine about town in various restaurants says that he can readily pick out persons not accustomed to dining away from home from their inexperience in using their fingers. At table d'hote places especially things are served as courses which are expected to be eaten with the fingers. No idea as to what is right can be obtained from the waiters, for it is the custom to put cutlery enough for the entire meal on the table with the soup.

Olives should be eaten with the fingers, though many of the uninitiated try to split them with a fork. Asparagus should be eaten with the fingers. That is why the cook does not throw sauce over the root ends. Green corn should be eaten with the fingers and not scraped from the cob with a knife. Spaghetti should be eaten with a fork and a crust of bread. In Italian restaurants a man who cuts his spaghetti into small pieces with a knife, as he would salad, is looked upon as a rank outsider.—New York Press.

Puts an end to it all.

A grievous wail oftimes comes as a result of unbearable pain from over taxed organs. Dizziness, backache, liver complaint and constipation. But thanks to Dr. King's New Life Pills they put an end to it all. They are gentle but thorough. Try them. Only 25c. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright's drug store.

The Peanut.

The home of the peanut, or ground pea (also often called pindar and goober), is believed to be Brazil, although it very soon spread to Africa, China, Japan and India and was recognized as a valuable agricultural product in these countries long before it was cultivated on a large scale in its native soil, which was not until the year 1870. In the old world, however, it has always been planted and harvested for the sake of the oil that it yields. This is said to rival olive oil in quality and to be used for the same purposes. The nuts raised in the east are far richer in oil than the American varieties.

The most popular of the American peanuts is the "Virginia running variety." The pod and nut of the Virginia variety are twice as large as those of the North Carolina or African peanut. The Spanish nuts, usually sold only after being shelled and salted, are still smaller, but of excellent flavor. Tennessee has two varieties, called the white and the red, the kernels of the latter having a dark red skin.

Ainu Women.

When Ainu, especially Ainu women, meet after a separation that has lasted some time they have a pretty way of telling each other their experiences in a sort of chant, and in the pleasant sound of their singularly sweet voices one forgets their wild and unkempt looks. The Japanese women are equally remarkable for the sweetness of their voices, but have the advantage over their Ainu sisters of delicate and dainty ways, the charm of which the most stolid globe trotter is constrained to own. If the women of Ainu-moshiri, as the Ainu call their land, are the drudges of the men in their youth and middle age their opportunity for revenge comes with the lapse of years.

The curses of an angry old woman excite the utmost terror in the bravest bear hunter. He flies, panic struck, from such names as shunumaash (mangy deer), tontoneppo (bald pated boar) or, worst of all, rai-guru (corpse) or inao-sak-guru (godless fellow). After death her ghost is regarded with even deeper dread.

Shifting Eyes.

No matter of what color, beware of the eyes that have no desire to look you full in the face. There is something wrong behind the shifting, uneasy glance, and the owner of such optics will prove to be unworthy of trust. Read well the signs, for if actions speak louder than words eyes speak even louder than actions, and to be forewarned is to be forearmed.

Dee's Magic Mirror.

There are several accounts of the manner in which the famous gunpowder plot of 1605 was discovered, but among the students of occult science the belief is that its timely discovery was made by Dr. John Dee by means of a magic mirror. Proof of how general this belief was at one time is given by the fact that in some editions of the Common Prayer Book, published in the eighteenth century, is to be found an engraving inserted before the service for Nov. 5 depicting a circular mirror on a stand in which is the reflection of the houses of parliament by night and a person carrying a dark lantern. On the left side are two men in the costume of the reign of King James looking into the mirror. On the right side at the top the eye of Providence throws a ray on to the mirror. Beneath are legs and hoofs, as if evil spirits were making their exit.

She Shut.

A story is told of Count Schouvaloff, a former Russian ambassador to England. He greatly admired Englishwomen and was heartily annoyed when he offended any one of them. While he was in London he learned English, and, having heard one famous English beauty say "Shut up!" to another, he imagined it to be a phrase of polite agreement, such as "Say no more." In this sense he himself addressed it to an illustrious lady the next night at dinner, to the lady's consternation, and his own when later he discovered his mistake.

The Filigree Ball

CHAPTER IV.

"A woman's heart is a great mystery," he remarked, with a short glance at Mr. Jeffrey.

It was a sentiment we could all echo, for he to whom she had alluded in these few lines as one she could not love was a man whom most women would consider the embodiment of all that was admirable and attractive.

That one woman so regarded him was apparent to all. If ever the heart spoke in a human face it spoke in that of Miss Tuttle as she watched her sister's husband struggling for composure above the prostrate form of her, who but a few hours previous had been the envy of all the fashionable young women in Washington. I found it hard to fix my attention on the next question, interesting and valuable as every small detail was likely to prove in case my theory of this crime should ever come to be looked on as the true one.

"How came you to search here for the wife who had written you this vague and far from satisfactory farewell? I see no hint in these lines of the place where she intended to take her life."

"No! No!" Even this strong man shrank from this idea and showed a very natural recoil as his glances flew about the ill omened room and finally rested on the fireside over which so repellent a mystery hung in impenetrable shadow. "She said nothing of her intentions; nothing! But the man who came for me told me where she was to be found. He was waiting at the door of my house. He had been on a search for me up and down the town. We met on the stoop."

The captain accepted this explanation without cavil. I was glad he did. But to me the affair showed inconsistencies which I secretly felt it to be my especial duty to unravel.

CHAPTER V.

No further opportunity was afforded me that night for studying the three leading characters in the remarkable drama I saw unfolding before me. A task was assigned me by the captain which took me from the house, and I missed the next scene—the arrival of the coroner. But I repaid myself for this loss in a way I thought justified by the importance of my own theory and the evident necessity there was of collecting each and every point of evidence which could give coloring to the charge, in the event of this crime coming to be looked on at headquarters as one of murder.

Observing that a light was still burning in Uncle David's domicile, I crossed to his door and rang the bell. I was answered by the deep and prolonged howl of a dog, soon cut short by his master's amiable greeting. This latter was a surprise to me. I had heard so often of Mr. Moore's churlishness as a host that I had expected some rebuff. But I encountered no such tokens of hostility. His brow was smooth and his smile cheerfully condescending. Indeed, he appeared anxious to have me enter, and cast an indulgent look at Rudge, whose irrepressible joy at this break in the monotony of his existence was tinged with a very evident dread of offending his master. Interested anew, I followed this man of contradictory impulses into the room toward which he led me.

The time has now come for a more careful description of this peculiar man. Mr. Moore was tall and of that refined spareness of shape which suggests the scholar. Yet he had not the scholar's eye. On the contrary, his regard was quick, if not alert, and while it did not convey actual malice or ill will it roused in the spectator an uncomfortable feeling not altogether easy to analyze. He wore his iron gray locks quite long, and to this distinguishing idiosyncrasy, as well as to his invariable custom of taking his dog with him wherever he went, was due the interest always shown in him by street urchins. On account of his whimsicalities he had acquired the epithet of Uncle David among them, despite his aristocratic connections and his gentlemanlike bearing. His clothes formed no exception to the general air of individuality which marked him. They were of different cut from those of other men, and in this as in many other ways he was a law to himself—notably so in the following instance: He kept one day of the year religiously and kept it always in the same way. Long years before he had been blessed with a wife who both understood and loved him. He had never forgotten this fact, and once a year, presumably on the anniversary of her death, it was his custom to go to the cemetery where she lay and to spend the whole day under the shadow of the stone he had raised to her memory. No matter what the weather, no matter what the condition of his own health, he was always to be seen in this spot, at the hour of 7, leaning against the shaft on which the name of his wife was written, eating his supper in the company of his dog.

The detective visits Uncle David

So much for one oddity which may stand as a sample of many others.

One glance at the room into which he ushered me showed why he cherished so marked a dislike for visitors. It was bare to the point of discomfort, and had it not been for a certain quaintness in the shape of the few articles to be seen there I should have experienced a decided feeling of repulsion, so pronounced was the contrast between this poverty stricken interior and the polished bearing of its owner. He, I am sure, could have shown no more elevated manners if he had been doing the honors of a palace. The organ, with the marks of home construction upon it, was the only object visible which spoke of luxury or even comfort.

But enough of these possibly uninteresting details. I did not dwell on them myself except in a vague way and while waiting for him to open the conversation. This he did as soon as he saw that I had no intention of speaking first.

"And did you find any one in the old house?" he asked.

Keeping him well under my eye, I replied with intentional brusqueness:

"She has gone there once too often!"

The stare he gave me was that of an actor who feels that some expression of surprise is expected from him.

"She?" he repeated. "Whom can you possibly mean by she?"

The surprise I expressed at this bold attempt at ingenuousness was better simulated than his, I hope.

"You don't know!" I exclaimed. "Can you live directly opposite a place of such remarkable associations and not interest yourself in who goes in and out of its deserted doors?"

"I don't sit in my front window," he peevishly returned.

I let my eye roam toward a chair standing suspiciously near the very window he had designated.

"But you saw the light?" I suggested.

"I saw that from the doorstep when I went out to give Rudge his usual five minutes' breathing spell on the stoop. But you have not answered my question—whom do you mean by she?"

"Veronica Jeffrey," I replied. "She who was Veronica Moore. She has visited this haunted house of hers for the last time."

"Last time!" Either he could not or would not understand me.

"What has happened to my niece?" he cried, rising with an energy that displaced the great dog and sent him, with hanging head and trailing tail, to his own special sleeping place under the table. "Has she run upon a ghost in those dismal apartments? You interest me greatly. I did not think she would ever have the pluck to visit this house again after what happened at her wedding."

"She has had the pluck," I assured him, "and, what is more, she has had enough of it not only to re-enter the house, but to re-enter it alone. At least, such is the present inference. Had you been blessed with more curiosity and made more frequent use of the chair so conveniently placed for viewing the opposite house, you might have been in a position to correct this inference. It would help the police materially to know positively that she had no companion in her fatal visit."

Uncle David hears of his niece's death

"Fatal?" he repeated, running his finger inside his neckband, which suddenly seemed to have grown too tight for comfort. "Can it be that my niece has been frightened to death in that old place? You alarm me."

He did not look alarmed, but then he was not of an impressible nature. Yet he was of the same human clay as the rest of us, and, if he knew no more of this occurrence than he tried to make out, could not be altogether impervious to what I had to say next.

"You have a right to be alarmed," I assented. "She was not frightened to death, yet is she lying dead on the library floor." Then, with a glance at the windows about me, I added lightly, "I take it that a pistol shot delivered over there could not be heard in this room."

He sank rather melodramatically into his seat, yet his face and form did not lose that sudden assumption of dignity which I had observed in him ever since my entrance into the house.

"I am overwhelmed by this news," he remarked. "She has shot herself? Why?"

"I did not say that she had shot herself," I carefully repeated. "Yet the facts point that way and Mr. Jeffrey accepts the suicide theory without question."

"Ah, Mr. Jeffrey is there!"

"Most certainly; he was sent for at once."

"And Miss Tuttle? She came with him of course?"

"She came, but not with him. She is very fond of her sister."

"I must go over at once!" he cried, leaping again to his feet and looking about for his hat. "It is my duty to make them feel at home; in short, to—to put the house at their disposal." Here he found his hat and placed it on his head. "The property is mine now, you know," he politely explained, turning, with a keen light in his gray eye, full upon me and overwhelming me with the grand air of a man who has come unexpectedly into his own. "Mrs. Jeffrey's father was my younger brother—the story is an old and long one—and the property, which in all justice should have been divided between us, went entirely to him. But he was a good fellow in the main and saw the injustice of his father's will as clearly as I did, and years ago made one on his own account bequeathing me the whole estate in case he left no issue or that issue died. Veronica was his only child; Veronica has died; therefore the old house is mine and all that goes with it—all that goes with it."

There was the miser's gloating in this repetition of a phrase sufficiently expressive in itself, or, rather, the gloating of a man who sees himself suddenly rich after a life of poverty. There was likewise a callousness as regarded his niece's surprising death which I considered myself to have some excuse for noticing.

"You accept her death very calmly," I remarked. "Probably you knew her to be possessed of an erratic mind."

He was about to bestow an admonitory kick on his dog, who had been indiscreet enough to rise at his master's first move, but his foot stopped in midair in his anxiety to concentrate all his attention on his answer.

"I am a man of few sentimentalities," he coldly averred. "I have loved but one person in my whole life. Why, then, should I be expected to mourn over a niece who did not care enough for me to invite me to her wedding? It would be an affectation unworthy the man who has at last come to fill his rightful position in this community as the owner of the great Moore estate. For great it shall be," he emphatically continued. "In three years you will not know the house over yonder. Despite its fancied ghosts and death dealing fireplace, it will stand A1 in Washington. I, David Moore, promise you this, and I am not a man to utter fatuous prophecies. But I must be missed over there."

Here he gave the mastiff the long delayed kick. "Rudge, stay here! The vestibule opposite is icy. Besides, your howls are not wanted in those old walls tonight even if you would go with me, which I doubt. He has never been willing to cross to that side of the street," the old gentleman went on to complain, with his first show of irritation. "But he'll have to overcome that prejudice soon, even if I have to tear up the old hearthstone and reconstruct the walls. I can't live without Rudge, and I will not live in another place than in the old home of my ancestors."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

Former Adrian Ball Player Mobbed

A Newark dispatch says: "Rube Kissinger, the Michigan boy who is Buffalo's star twirler this year, was mobbed by a crowd of Newark fans yesterday afternoon, after an exciting game that Newark won, 6 to 3, in a hot finish. There had been a kicking and scrapping throughout the nine innings and every now and then a halt had to be called to give a couple of the ground policemen time to lead a player off the field at the orders of Umpire Sullivan. Gatins and Dillard were put out of the game, while McAllister, of the Buffalo team, was fined $5 for throwing the ball over the fence in a fit of anger after the sailors had scored three runs in the eighth inning and thereby won the game. All the wrangling was on account of the umpire's rulings.

As the Buffalo players climbed into the bus after the game they were surrounded by 1,000 angry fans, who hurled derisive remarks at them. One overheated individual threw a stone into the wagon, striking Kissinger on the leg. Kissinger jumped out of the bus and fought his way through the crowd toward his assailant. He was roughly treated, but might have been worse had not Brockett and Atherton jumped into the crowd to rescue him. Brockett and Atherton, too, got into way of several blows, but the arrival of a squad of police saved the players."

Mr. Kissinger is well known in Tecumseh, having played ball here a number of times.

Mrs. Pollany Deneen, Marine City, Mich., says: "I humbly thank you for the good your medicine has done for me, after suffering for four years with nervous and heart trouble. I would have spells when I would drop down anywhere and would remain unconscious for as long as 24 hours at a time. The doctor said it was a hard case of dropsy and something that could not be cured. I heard of your remedy and took it according to directions and found relief with the first bottle, so I continued it until I had used six bottles and now I am well and able to do a good day's washing, which I could not do before. I can't thank you enough for what your remedy has done for me, and I recommend it to all who suffer, as it is worth its weight in gold to sick women."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by Thos. Biddle, a brother of the Biddle brothers, who made such a sensational escape from the Pittsburg, Pa., prison and were afterwards mortally wounded by officers, went to Windsor, Ont., and was married to Miss Dollie Wheeler. Both parties reside here, where young Biddle is in business and doing well. He is the very opposite to the two brothers, who met such a violent death and although he does not court publicity in the matter he does not deny the relationship existing between him and the dead men. He is a native of Amherstburg, Ont., and even while a young boy, was entirely different from his brothers, who were of a wild disposition. It was he who went to Pittsburg and took charge of the bodies of his two brothers and gave them a decent burial.—Milan Leader.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly say "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They can't as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by John J. Orr.

Some ministers do not practice as they preach and some base ball players do not play as they practice.

Nothing on the market equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy.

This fact is well known to druggists everywhere and nine out of ten will give their customers this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr. Obe Witmer, a prominent druggist of Joplin, Mo., in a circular to his customers, says: "There is nothing on the market in the way of patent medicine which equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy for bowel complaints. We sell and recommend this preparation." For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. It's the best salve on earth and will prevent fatality when burns, sores, ulcers and piles threaten. Only 25c at C. A. Wright's drug store.

THE FAMOUS OPTICIAN of Detroit,

The eye, when properly cared for affords the keenest delight because of the pleasures we are able to enjoy through its medium When not cared for and its warnings are unheeded, it becomes an intrument of torture. Headaches, eye pains, burning, itching sensation, strained vision, nervous troubles and many bodily ills are the results accruing from over worked eyes, eyes that need help. My examination reveals all hidden troubles, and it is my province to fit the right glasses to any and all defects of vision. SATISFACTION GUARANTEED BY is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years; tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by C. A. Wright.

ACCIDENTS

Quite Serious happened to TECUMSEH PEOPLE

But None very badly Hurt.

Last Friday a Jackson & Battle Creek Interurban trolley car struck a threshing machine at Butler's crossing, a couple of miles west of Jackson, breaking the engine to pieces and injuring several, who were in the car. The Tecumseh base ball team were on, though none of them were injured. Mrs. Beasley, wife of Tecumseh's first baseman, was hurt though not seriously. She was taken on to Jackson and brought to Tecumseh Saturday night. One of the injured men was J. A. Bucknell, freight agent on the line. The motorman was cut badly about the face and hands.

The wind played havoc with the electric light wires Friday night and blew the one that connects to the opera house on the ground back of the Coller house. Mr. Coller, in walking across the yard, stepped on it. It whirled him to the ground like a top and knocked out his false teeth. He was helped to the house and at noon was alright except being quite weak and unable to speak distinctly. It was a close call, however, and Mr. Coller does not care to repeat it. Several people, whose residences are wired, report a slight shock in turning on the lights.

Engineer Thomas Hill of the Detroit Southern, who was seriously injured when running his train into Detroit, is now able to sit up in bed. He occasionally opens his eyes and now recognizes his wife and tries to talk to her, but it is hard for him to speak more than two or three words at a time. He was in the sanitarium at Detroit several days, unconscious. Hr. Hill and family resided here at one time and their many friends hope that he may fully recover.

James McKinney fell from his dray on Saturday afternoon, fracturing his shoulder and bruising him considerably. He was taken home and made as comfortable as possible, but will be laid up for some time. His nephew, Clyde Hazlett, is driving his dray.

Horace Holdridge.

The afternoon of Monday, Aug. 16, witnessed the interest which Lenawee county, and especially Raisin township, had in the worthy citizen, who bore the above mentioned name. An unusually large concourse had assembled at his late home to render him their appropriate tribute of respect. The tasteful and abundant floral offerings gave outward token thereof as its symbol. The Sunbeam quartette of Tecumseh, sang beautiful selections. Rev. J. A. DeSpelder, a former pastor, preached the funeral sermon. Rev. L. C. Chase, a former schoolmate and the life-long friend of the deceased, gave a character sketch, full of sympathetic appreciation. A long procession formed an escort of the remains to the Presbyterian cemetery in Raisin, where in the lengthening shadows of a typical August day, the burial took place under Masonic auspices.

The Holdridge family moved from New York to Michigan in 1837. In the fall of that year the father and the grandfather of the subject of this sketch settled in Raisin township, where at one time they owned 340 acres of land. Horace was the second of eight children. He was born Aug. 28, 1740. His education was largely received at the Raisin Valley Institute of "Aunt Laura" and at Adrian college in its earliest years. On Jan. 1, 1862, he was united in marriage to Miss Adeline Holloway. Their children are Mrs. A. R. Boyd and Clarence E., both living in Raisin.

About twelve years after his marriage Mr. Holdridge joined the First Presbyterian church of his native town. He was also a respected member of different fraternities, devoting special interest and energy to Raisin Grange, No. 214, of which he was for several years the Worthy Master.

The extent to which he had the confidence of his fellow citizens, is shown by the fact that year after year, from 1878 to 1885, and again from 1886 to 1892, he was elected supervisor and in the last mentioned year a member of the state legislature.

Those of his immediate kindred who survive to mourn his loss are his wife and son and daughter, together with five grandchildren, also the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. H. Camburn, Adrian; Thomas J., Pond Creek, Oklahoma; Mrs. W. Harvey, Williamston; Mrs. G. Olin Green, Adrian; Eleazer S., Grand Rapids.

"Sweet is the scene when virtue dies,
When sinks a righteous soul to rest;
How mildly beam the closing eyes,
How gently heaves the expiring breast.
Its duty done,—as sinks the day,
Light from its load the spirit flies;
While heaven and earth combine to say,
'Sweet is the scene when virtue dies!'"

CARD OF THANKS.

We fully appreciate the kindness of so many neighbors and friends during the illness and at the death of the late Horace Holdridge.

MRS. HOLDRIDGE AND FAMILY.

During the severe thunder shower Tuesday morning, the farm home of Fred Wright, southwest of town, was struck by lightning. The bolt entered the house through the chimney, and down the stove pipe. The pipe was shattered and considerable plaster on kitchen and pantry was loosened from the walls. It then unceremoniously left the house without further damage, by way of the siding to the ground.—Dundee Reporter.

For several years Toledo has been a good place for thieves and crooks to make their headquarters and it is claimed there is a tacit understanding with the police that so long as there is no crooked work in the city the police force will not trouble them. A crusade has been started by other parties, however, and in consequence there is an exodus of the chaps, who toil not, neither do they spin, but enjoy the fruits of the land.—Hudson Post.

Concerning

THE KINGDOM OF GOD.

2 Tim.
4:2

Cor. 1
9:16

XXVI

I have said that "the History of the Early Church reveals most clearly such a wide prevalence and unanimous acceptance of the Episcopate as cannot possibly be accounted for except upon the supposition that so it was ordained of the Apostles." It is said that seeing is believing: and as very few Christian people have any adequate realization whatever of the testimony of History to the early and wide prevalence of Episcopacy in the Church, I propose to give a brief view of such testimony in this article. For that purpose I shall do little more than simply quote from Dr. Cutts' "Turning Points of General Church History"—only leaving out MUCH OF THE EVIDENCE he adduces, that my article may not be too long.

When we come from the apostolic times to the most early records of the succeeding age, we find that the succession of bishops was preserved in all churches of which we have any account. Ignatius suffered martyrdom about A. D. 115 which was only about fifteen years after the death of St. John, at which time he had been forty years bishop of Antioch. He is said by Theodoret to have immediately succeeded Evodius, the first bishop, and to have been appointed by St. Peter's own hand. The Epistles of Ignatius to the various churches are full of exhortations to private Christians to be obedient to the clergy; and to the lower orders of the clergy—viz., presbyters and deacons—to be obedient to their bishop. For instance, to the Church of Smyrna he writes: "Let all of you follow the bishop, as Jesus Christ doth the Father; and the college of presbyters as the apostles; and reverence the deacons as the commandment of God. Let no man do anything which concerns the Church without the bishop. Let that Eucharist be accounted valid which is ordered by the bishop, or one whom he appoints. Where the bishop appears there let the people be, even as where Christ is there is the Catholic Church. Without the bishop it is neither lawful to baptize nor to celebrate the feast of charity, but that which he approves is well-pleasing unto God."

Irenaeus, the disciple of Polycarp the disciple of St. John was first a presbyter and afterwards (A. D. 180) Bishop of Lyons (in France), succeeding the venerable Bishop Pothinus, who was martyred. He makes the appointment of bishops in all the churches by the apostles and their regular succession an argument against the heretics who had crept into the Church in his days. "We" he says "can reckon up those whom the apostles ordained to be bishops in the several churches, and who they were that succeeded them down to our own times." He adds, "Because it would be endless to enumerate the successions in all the churches he would instance in that of Rome."

About the same time (A. D. 170) lived Hegesippus, who travelled through a great part of the world on purpose to learn the doctrine and traditions left by the apostles in the churches which they founded. And after this inquiry, he uses against the heretics the same argument, which Irenaeus makes use of. He says he had conversed with many bishops, and received the same doctrine from them all. Polycrates, Bishop of Ephesus, writing A. D. 196 says that at that time he himself had been seventy-five years a Christian. He was therefore born about thirty years after the death of St. John and was contemporary with Simeon of Jerusalem, Ignatus, Polycarp and others, diciples of the Apostles. He, writing about the time of keeping Easter, appeals to the tradition of former bishops and martyrs and the practise of those who lived in his own time. Among others he mentions Polycarp, Bishop of Smyrna and martyr; Thraseas Bishop of Eumehia and martyr; Sajaris Bishop of Laodicea and martyr; seven bishops of his own kindred and great multitudes of bishops who assembled with him to consult about the Easter question.

Clement of Alexandria (A. D. 192), the greatest scholar of his age, the man who made the Catechetical school of Alexandria the most famous school of Christian learning of that and succeeding times, speaks of the gradual promotion of bishops, presbyters and deacons, which he likens to the orders of angels.

Origen in the beginning of the third century, the more illustrious scholar of the illustrious Clement, also speaking of the "debts" in the Lord's Prayer, first insists on the debts or duties common to all Christians and then adds; "Besides these general debts, there is a debt peculiar to widows who are maintained by the Church, another to deacons, another to presbyters and another to bishops, which is the greatest of all and exacted by the Saviour of the whole Church, who will severely punish the non-payment of it."

We are now in a position to appreciate the testimony of Dr. Lightfoot: "The institution of the Episcopate must be placed as far back as the closing years of the first century and it cannot, without violence to historical testimony, be dissevered from the name of St. John." Says Archbishop Potter, "It is as impossible for an impartial man to doubt whether there was a succession of bishops from the apostles, as it would be to call in question the succession of Roman emperors from Julius Caesar, or the succession of kings in any other country."

BE YOUR OWN JUDGE.

Mi-o-na costs you nothing if it does not cure, says C. A. Wright.

Mi-o-na, the remarkable cure for dyspepsia, has won fame by the unusual way in which it is sold. It is the only remedy offered for the cure of dyspepsia which costs the user absolutely nothing unless it cures.

C. A. Wright, the popular druggist, is selling a great many packages of Mi-o-na and with every 50c. box is given his personal guarantee to refund the money if Mi-o-na does not give satisfaction, you to be your own judge as to whether the remedy helps or not.

Mi-o-na is an unusual combination, regulating the digestive organs and removing irritation, congestion and inflammation from the stomach, liver and intestines. It enables those organs to extract from the food all that goes to make rich blood, firm muscle, steady nerves and a sound body.

Mi-o-na puts the digestive system into proper working order, gives health, strength and good flesh, and is the only natural cure for indigestion. Even in chronic cases, where life is one long drawn out pain, this remedy will effect a cure. It is the simplest and most reliable of all remedies. Just one small tablet before or after meals and you can eat what you want with no distress.

If Mi-o-na does not do all that is claimed for it, C. A. Wright will cheerfully return your money.

Base Ball.

The Tecumseh base ball team defeated the Toledo All-stars here Saturday afternoon by a score of 10 to 0. Striker pitched a good game and was well supported. He allowed only four hits, while Wynn for the visitors, was hit quite freely, the locals getting 13 hits.

The visitors were very weak and played as if they had never been on the field together before, having six errors. Striker led in the strike outs, striking out 10 men and Wynn 5.

Following is the score:

STOMACH DOSING WILL NOT CURE

Ask any physician if catarrh is a blood disease and he will tell you that it is a diseased condition of the mucous membrane and that it cannot be cured by blood purifiers, pills, tablets, or other forms of stomach dosing. The only sensible and scientific way of curing catarrh is by the use of Hyomei.

Breathed for a few minutes, four or five times a day, through a hard rubber inhaler that is so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket, Hyomei will absolutely destroy all catarrhal germs and cure the disease. Catarrh can never exist where Hyomei is used. It has a two-fold action, destroying the disease germs in the air passages and lungs and soothing and healing the inflamed mucous membrane.

C. A. Wright, one of the most reliable firms in Tecumseh is giving his personal guarantee with every package of Hyomei he sells, that it will effect a cure or he will return the money. He has had scores of reports of remarkable cures of both acute and chronic cases of catarrh by Hyomei.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

Cure or Hay Fever.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose and intense burning of hay fever. It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

A woman never feels so truly grateful for the advantage of being a woman as when she meets a bow-legged man.

ARE YOU A COMING MOTHER?
ARE YOU EXPECTANT?

MOTHER'S FRIEND

makes childbirth easy by preparing the system for parturition and thus shortening labor. The painful ordeal is robbed of its terrors, and the danger lessened to both mother and child; the time of confinement is shortened, the mother rested, and child fully developed, strong and healthy.

Morning sickness, or nausea arising from pregnancy, is prevented by its use.

As pregnancy advances, the breasts enlarge, become swollen and hard. Long before the child is born, they are preparing for the secretion of milk. It is important that they receive early attention. Mother's Friend softens the skin and facilitates the secretion of Life Fluid. Undeveloped breasts, hard-caked shortly after delivery, are the result of non-treatment, and likely to culminate in Mammary Abscess, from which so many suffer excruciating pain and are left with these organs permanently impaired.

Softness, pliability and expansion are given to the muscles and sinews, thus bringing comfort and causing an easy issue of the child. Try it. Of druggists $1.00. Our book "Motherhood" free.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As many a Tecumseh reader knows too well.

When the kidneys are sick,
Nature tells you all about it.
The urine is nature's calendar.
Infrequent or too frequent action;
Doan's Kidney Pills cure all these ills.
Tecumseh people testify to this.

F. A. Ferguson, tinsmith, residing in western section of Tecumseh, says: "I had symptoms of kidney trouble. The secretions were very irregular and at times too frequent and highly colored. Having seen so many cases of kidney trouble I thought it wise to do something at once, so I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at C. A. Wright's drug store and took them. I began to improve from the very start and continued to do so. I emphatically declare them to be up to the representations made for them."

A Bird Friendship.

The rector of Woolstone, Mr. Gilbert Coventry, told me of a wild rock dove which one of his stable boys had reared from the nest. It slept in the open, however, and had full liberty. Soon the good things on the rector's table attracted it, and it would appear through the open window at mealtimes, take hot soup with much zest and even sip sherry from a wineglass. At night it often slipped in and slept in the rector's bed on its back under the coverlet. One Sunday morning during the reading of the lesson the dove flew swiftly through an open window into the church and settled on the rector's head. Broad smiles spread over the faces of the elders and audible titters came from the youngsters. A gentle touch sent the bird down to the edge of the clerk's desk below, where it sat undisturbed.—Pall Mall Gazette.

The Art of Making Hay.

How and when men first learned to make hay will probably never be known, for haymaking is a "process," and the product is not simply sun dried grass, but grass which has been partly fermented, and is as much the work of men's hands as flour or cider. Probably its discovery was due to accident, but possibly man learned it from the pikas, the "calling hares" of the steppes, which cut and stack hay for the winter. That idea would fit in nicely with the theory that central Asia was the "home of the Aryan race" if we were still allowed to believe it, and haymaking is certainly an art mainly practiced in cold countries for winter forage.—London Spectator.

Myrtle.

The creeping plant we call myrtle is not a myrtle at all, but should be called by its proper name, periwinkle. Botanically it is Vinca minor. Long ago it used to be called "the ivy of the ground." Chaucer mentions it as "fresh pervincke, rich of hew." The large blue flowers are very pretty. In Tuscany it is known as "the death flower" on account of its being so often planted upon graves, a custom which is beginning to prevail in this country. There is a pretty variegated leaved variety and also a sport with white flowers not so pretty as the blue.

Inebriety.

Inebriety is called a disease, but is a disease of the will. As with the hysteric, the inebriate said, "I cannot;" it looked like "I will not;" it is "I cannot will." Its successful treatment involves the problem of how to rehabilitate a human will.—Exchange.

Some Red Saunders Philosophy.

"Of all the worlds I ever broke into this one's the most curious," said Red Saunders, "and one of the curiousest things in it is that I think it's queer. Why should I, now? What puts it into our heads that affairs ought to go so and so when they never do anything of the sort? Take any book you read or any story a man tells you. It runs along about how Mr. Smith made up his mind to do this or that and proceeded to do it. And that never happened. What Mr. Smith calls making up his mind is, when you come down to bed rock, nothing more nor less than what Mr. Smith pleasantly calls his mind dodging to cover under pressure of circumstances. That's straight. Old Lady Luck comes for Mr. Smith's mind, swinging both hands. She gives it a stem winder on the ear, lams it for keeps on the smeller, chugs it one in the short ribs, drives right and left into its stummick, and Mr. Smith's mind breaks for cover; then Mr. Smith tells his wife that he's made up his mind—he, mind you! Wouldn't that stun you?"—McClure's.

Ancient Cooking School.

We of the twentieth century are inclined to think of cooking schools as belonging exclusively to our day and generation. Therefore it may be news to many people that as long ago as the reign of good Queen Anne a Mr. Kiddee had a school of cookery in Queen street, Cheapside, and another in Holborn. Here is his advertisement—the original is on good paper, with a neatly engraved border:

> To All Young Ladies:
> At Edward Kiddee's pastry school, at Little Lincoln's Inn Fields, are taught all kinds of pastry and cookery, Dutch hollow works and butter works on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, in the afternoon, and on the same days in the morning at his school in Norris street, St. James, Haymarket, and at his school at St. Martin's le Grand on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, in the afternoons.

What Dutch hollow works may be none of the cooking schools of today seems to know, but they sound good.

The Fierce Caterpillar.

A more harmless, inoffensive creature does not crawl than the common garden caterpillar, yet this small worm will put up an appearance so fierce upon occasion as to frighten its enemies away. Soft and pulpy, with no defensive or offensive weapons, this destroyer of cabbages and lettuces will bluff itself into a veritable armored cruiser and frighten many more formidable insects into ungovernable flight. Its method of procedure is like this: Immediately anything approaches, the slow moving, fat caterpillar raises its hairy body, wags a formidable looking head and looks the essence of strength and defiance, so much so that it requires a bird of a particularly valiant disposition to attack it.—Chicago Record-Herald.

When Doctors Were Slaves.

Romans of means had physicians in their own houses. These men were slaves, for, odd as it seems, many Roman slaves were accomplished in literature, art and science. At one time the selling price of a slave doctor was about the equivalent of $300 in our money.

After the time of Julius Cæsar, who encouraged physicians, the art began to "lift its head" in Rome, and later men of character and position, though generally foreigners, entered the profession. Some of them accumulated large fortunes, and one made the equivalent of at least $500,000 in a few years.

Sarcastic.

In a volume of memoirs it is told that on the first council day after Lord Derby's elevation to the premiership Greville showed his disapproval by not appearing in his place as clerk. Some busybody asked Lord Derby whether he had noticed Greville's absence, and Lord Derby replied, with a face of benevolent apology: "No, really! You know, I am the most inattentive fellow in the world about these things. I never notice, when I ring the bell, whether John or Thomas answers it."

Boon Island.

Probably Boon island would be but little known outside of New Hampshire, Maine and Massachusetts if it were not for the fact that the island is the terminal of the Cape Ann trial course. Perhaps it would be more proper to call the island the northern terminal, but at any rate Boon island gains a mention in this way every time a new battleship or cruiser is tried off this coast, as all those not built on the Pacific always are.—Boston Globe.

Artists and Poets.

Artists and poets are like stars—they belong to no land. A strictly national painter or a strictly national poet is bound to be parochial, a kind of village pump. And you may write inscriptions all over him and build monuments above him, but he remains a pump by a local spring.—Robert Orange.

His Ideal.

Critic—Simply this: She does not dance, sing or play, but she can sharpen a lead pencil, drive a nail and keep a secret.

Left the Worry to the Doctor.

"How about that little bill?" asked the doctor.

"Why, doctor," was the reply, "only a little while before you sent it in you told me not to let anything worry me, and I haven't."—Chicago Post.

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

A prominent physician writes:
"Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

Irrecoverable Waste.

The utilization of what formerly were considered waste products and the resurrection of materials from a used up state to a new condition of serviceableness have in recent times been developed to such a degree of completeness that we are scarcely prepared to admit that anything is ever irrecoverably lost. In this respect we believe in the conservation of material just as we have long been taught to believe in the law of conservation of energy. From a purely practical point of view, however, some things certainly may be so completely lost to further use that their loss may well be considered absolute, and one of these is the metal lost in the wear of railway rolling stock brasses. For the speculator in copper values, the promoter of a copper "corner," to use the broker's cant, the copper which has gone into railway brasses need have no terror. It is not likely ever to be available again in full measure. It is dissipated so completely, in part at least, that its practical recovery is not likely to receive much serious consideration. From the best available deductions on the subject it appears that 5 per cent of the annual copper production of the world disappears in this way every year.—Cassier's.

Played an Organ.

The little daughter of a well known New York musician was much chagrined the other day by the ingenuous remark of a "new friend." Said the little girl proudly:

"My father is an organist."

"And does he have a monkey?" was the prompt rejoinder.

Novelty Excited Curiosity.

Ingenious Swindle In Curios.

The craze for antiques and curios is responsible for some ingenious swindles, but it is doubtful if many could surpass that which victimized an American woman traveling abroad who while in Holland purchased some alleged Dutch pottery which proved on close examination to be common granite ware made in America in odd shapes and decorated in Dutch fashion to be sold in Holland as antique cooking utensils.

American enterprise is frequently encountered in various ways in Europe, as, for instance, the experience of an American gentleman in London who bought a pair of rubber overshoes in a London shoe shop which were unusually satisfactory. On examining them preparatory to buying another pair he made the discovery that they were manufactured in Providence, R. I., by an American firm, although they were sold as English rubbers or "gums."

The fact is well known that there is a considerable industry in the manufacture of so called Egyptian scarabs in America which are sent to Egypt to be sold to unsuspecting tourists as genuine antiques.—Boston Transcript.

Mistletoe and Holly.

Hanging rooms with holly wreaths and bunches of mistletoe is a time honored custom which can be traced to the days of the Roman saturnalia and even early Persian customs. Our own custom of decorating our rooms at Christmas comes more immediately from ancient Germany, where evergreens were hung in honor of the midwinter festival.

The Druids used to cut the mistletoe from their sacred oaks with elaborate ceremony. A golden knife was used to sever the parasite from the tree. During the ceremony two white bulls were sacrificed, and music and processional formed part of the rite. The groves of Mona, once the favorite retreat of the British Druids, were cut down by the all conquering Romans and have passed from the popular memory, but the mistletoe, which the old Druids called "all healing," is still an object of veneration. In some parts of England a berry is plucked from the mistletoe for every kiss that is given under it, and when there are no more berries left no more kisses are allowed.

A Parallel.

An old farmer said to his sons: "Boys, don't you wait for somethin' to turn up. You might jest as well go and sit down on a stone in the middle of a meadow with a pail 'twixt your legs and wait for a cow to back up to you to be milked."

Not Fatal.

No Matter What Doctors Say—We Know That Heart Trouble in Many Cases Can Be Cured.

There are seven main features of heart disease, viz.: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidence will prove thousands of so-called "incurables" have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to Indigestion, Liver Complaint, etc.

Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise. Smothering Spells. Pain in Chest, left Shoulder and arm. Discomfort in Lying on one side. Fainting Spells. Nervous Cough. Swelling of Feet and Ankles. Paleness of Face and Lips. Palpitation. Nightmare. Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and speak of its merits whenever opportunity presents. I can now go up and down stairs with ease, where three weeks ago I could hardly walk one block." One year later.—"I am still in good health; the Heart Cure did so much for me, that I find it a far greater medicine than you claimed it to be."—S. D. YOUNG, D. New Cure for Rheumatism.

Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil cures diarrhea and stomach troubles, neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, backache, contracted joints and muscles, stiffened joints, sprains, bruises, cuts and wounds, burns and scalds, soreness of all kinds, frost bites, chilblains, swellings, and spinal affections. It can be taken internally or applied externally. It is a sovereign remedy for diphtheria, sore throat, colds, croup, quinsy and costs only 50c. a bottle.

"I have used Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil as a general household remedy for years. In my work as locomotive engineer, I have found it very valuable by putting a few drops in water before drinking. It is a sure preventive for all stomach pains and bad effects from impure water." John H. Weeks, 117 Chittock Avenue, Jackson, Mich. Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil costs only 50 cents per bottle. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Keep Your Blood Pure.

Its Purity Means Health, Its Impurity, Disease and Death—How to Make Pure Blood and New Blood.

Blood is essentially the fluid of life. It permeates every portion of the body to the remotest tips of the members. Any poisonous or diseased particles that enter into the blood are scattered throughout the entire system and infect all its parts. They are transmitted to succeeding generations and cause disease and suffering indefinitely.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic cures absolutely and permanently scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, salt rheum, erysipelas, boils, tumors, tetter, sores, ulcers, ulceration of the stomach and bowels, female weaknesses, dyspepsia, debility, dropsy, syphilis in all its forms, and all diseases arising from hereditary taint or impoverished condition of the blood.

As a tonic, Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is unexcelled. It makes new, rich, healthy blood and relieves lassitude and tired feeling, puts new life and vigor into the system, makes the old young and the weak strong. It strengthens the stomach, aids digestion and imparts force into all the functions of the body.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is guaranteed to give satisfaction or the purchase price will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by The Mischievous Magpie.

Here is an anecdote illustrative of the magpie's love of mischief and of sport: There was a field wherein clothes were often hung out to dry on posts which were let down into deep wooden sockets buried in the ground and were carried away and put under cover when they were not in use. A gravel path ran round the field, and a tame magpie, which had the run of it, was observed to walk repeatedly and demurely from the path to a particular point in the field, conveying each time a stone in her bill and then returning without it. A magpie seldom continues at any one amusement for any length of time, but this amusement went on so long that the curiosity of the owner was aroused. There must be something unusually novel or piquant about it. He went to the spot and found that a large toad had fallen into one of the wooden sockets and that the magpie was amusing herself by deliberately stoning it! As each shot told, the toad gave a little hop of distress in the hole deep below, which the magpie capped by a big hop of satisfaction and an irresistible "curruck" of delight above. —R. Bosworth Smith in Nineteenth Century.

The Goose and Gridiron.

There existed in London long before the great fire in St. Paul's churchyard a very popular music house called the Miter. Here concerts were held, and the music at these performances had at least the merit of volume and joyousness. But the great fire laid the building in ruins and banished the music. When the place was rebuilt, the new tenant, wishing to ridicule the character of the former business, chose as his sign a goose stroking the bars of a gridiron with her foot and wrote below, "The Swan and Harp." At the Goose and Gridiron Sir Christopher Wren presided over the St. Paul's lodge of Freemasons for over eighteen years, and he presented to the lodge the trowel and mallet with which he laid the first stone of the cathedral. The goose is still preserved with her unmusical "harp" in Guildhall.—Julian King Colford in St. Nicholas.

Colombian Natives.

In Colombia the huts of the poor are of logs, with bamboo plaited sides and mud filled chinks. The windows have wooden shutters, but no glass. Sleeping places are bamboo benches with hide thrown over them, or hammocks woven by the women. Gourds of various shapes and sizes do duty for dishes, spoons and knives. Chairs and benches are hollowed logs of wood. But the peons get their living easily and enjoy life well. They delight in music and dancing, and women as well as men are smokers. Cockfighting is a favorite amusement.

The peasant women are usually barefooted and bareheaded, with mantillas for special occasions. Their dress is a short skirt and bodice or an ample frilled low necked garment called a pollera. Even the poorer classes are bedecked with jewelry.

Wooden Shoes.

Wooden shoes in France are produced to the extent of about 4,000,000 pairs yearly. They are made in Alsace and Barriers by machinery and in Lozere by hand. In the last named province 1,700 persons are engaged in this manufacture, and the yearly product is more than half a million pairs. The best are made of maple. In the provinces nearly every lady possesses a pair of the finer sabots for wearing out in damp weather. These have monograms and other designs carved on the vamps, and they are kept on the foot by ornamented leather pieces over the instep. The manufacture of these pieces of leather is a regular business in France.

How She Got New Clothes.

The lawyers at Iola were swapping yarns the other day during a recess in the district court. A lawyer whose wife is marked for her good dressing told how he had come to be such a good provider. Soon after he was married his wife met a girlhood friend. The friend said to her that she wasn't as well dressed as she used to be before marriage. "Oh, you are mistaken," said the wife. "I am wearing the same clothes I did then."—Kansas City Journal.

Suitable Text.

"Dr. Thirdly is certainly an up to date clergyman," said Fosdick.

"So?" said Keedick.

"Yes, sir. One of his parishioners was killed by the explosion of his automobile, and the doctor took for the text of his funeral sermon the Biblical account of Elijah going to heaven in a chariot of fire."—Smart Set.

A Traitor.

Ethel (aged six)—Oh, gracious! She's just a horrid person. She's forever wishing she was a boy.

Minnie (also six)—Well, I'm sure I wish I was too.

Ethel—Of course, but she wishes it out loud so the boys can hear her.—Philadelphia Press.

About Heads.

The head of the true Rhinelander is wide at the temples. If the hat is the exact length in nine cases out of ten it has to be stretched sideways in order to make it fit. English heads are wide, but not so pronounced as those of Germans. There is more of a "sliding scale" with them as to the relative length and breadth. The Celtic head is almost invariably round or oval and is without pronounced phrenological bumps.

For general smoothness of the cranial protuberance the Italian comes next to the Celts, either of the two besting the classic Greeks in that respect. Odd as it may seem, anatomists declare that the Turkish skull is almost identical in shape, size, etc., with that of the enlightened inhabitant of the United States.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

This Testimony

Will surely interest many readers of this paper.

James G. Gray, Gibson, Mo., writes about Drake's Palmetto Wine as follows: I live in the Missouri Swamps in Dunklin County and have been sick with Malarial fever and for fifteen months a walking skeleton. One bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine has done me more good than all the medicine I have taken in that fifteen months. I am buying two more bottles to stay cured. Drake's Palmetto Wine is the best medicine and tonic for Malaria, Kidney and Liver ailments I ever used or heard of. I feel well now after using one bottle.

A. A. Felding, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: I had a bad case of sour Stomach and Indigestion. I could eat so little that I was "falling to bones" and could not sleep nor attend to my business. I used the trial bottle and two large seventy-five cent bottles and can truthfully say I am entirely cured. I have advised many to write for a free trial bottle.

J. W. Moore, Monticello, Minn., makes the following statement about himself and a neighbor. He says: Four bottles of Drake's Palmetto Wine has cured me of catarrh of Bladder and Kidney trouble. I suffered ten years and spent hundreds of dollars with best doctors and specialists without benefit. Drake's Palmetto Wine has made me a well man. A young woman here was given up to die by a Minneapolis specialist and he and our local doctor said they could do no more for her. She has been taking Drake's Palmetto Wine one week and is rapidly recovering.

The Drake Formula Company, Drake Bldg., Chicago, Ill., will send a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine free and prepaid to any reader of this paper. A letter or postal card is your only expense to get this free bottle.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., says: I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

FINAL STAND IS MADE

Russians Determined Japanese Shall Not Take Port Arthur.

OUTER FORTS RECAPTURED

Big Guns Distinctly Heard in Chefoo—Russians Believe Japanese Battleship Mikasu Was Sunk Aug. 10—Germans Frustrating Jap Movements.

Chefoo, Aug. 20.—Chinese who recently embarked from Liaotinshan promontory, report the continuance of heavy fighting. They say the Japanese have occupied Pigeon bay and are within striking distance of the Liaotinshan forts, which, however, are still occupied by the Russians.

According to the Chinese, the Russians at Port Arthur are making their final stand.

Chefoo, Aug. 20.—Firing at Port Arthur by big guns was distinctly heard here last night.

Late advices from Port Arthur say that Palung Chang, although retaken by the Russians, has not been occupied by either side. The Russian batteries have contented themselves with preventing the Japanese from reoccupying this position and planting guns which would command the Russian warships in the harbor.

Russian naval officers believe that the Japanese battleship Mikasa was sunk in the engagement of Aug. 10.

Chefoo, Aug. 20.—Chinese who have arrived here from Port Arthur declare that the Japanese position at Patung Chang, from which they poured a heavy fire into Port Arthur and the inner forts, has been retaken, the Japanese retiring to Sushiyen. The German authorities at Tsintau have sent a guard of 100 men fifteen miles east of that place for the purpose of frustrating an expected attempt on the part of the Japanese to erect a wireless telegraph station.

FEAR SHE'LL ESCAPE.

Japanese Impatient Over Decision Regarding Cruiser Askold.

Tokio, Aug. 20.—The Japanese are growing impatient at the delay in the decision of the status of the Russian cruiser Askold at Shanghai. The Askold has docked and is refitting and evidently intends to endeavor to rejoin the Russian fleet and resume its place in the naval campaign. This is declared to be an open violation of neutrality, which the Chinese government evidently is powerless to prevent. Many Japanese openly urge the dispatch of a squadron to Shanghai to seize and remove the Askold. The government is particularly desirous of respecting the neutrality of Shanghai, but it is unwilling to suffer the Askold to escape. It is possible that a Japanese squadron will go up to Shanghai and require that the Askold be disarmed, leaving her thereafter in the possession of the Chinese.

Shanghai, Aug. 20.—Despite the taotai's decision to allow the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Grozovoi and the cruiser Askold to remain in port for what would be considered a reasonable length of time to make repairs, the Japanese consul-general has made these demands: That the vessels either leave port or disarm. The ships are carefully guarded by customs officials and lighters are waiting to coal the Askold.

Gen. Kuroki's Headquarters in the Field, Aug. 20.—The section of Manchuria is at present experiencing the heaviest rains of the season. The strong downpour of the past week flooded the valleys and turned brooks into rivers.

With the exception of meetings between outposts, there have been no hostilities recently.

Northville Banks Consolidate.

Northville, Mich., Aug. 20.—J. S. Lapham & Co., bankers of Northville for some forty years, have consolidated with the Northville State Savings bank. Mr. Lapham retires. The consolidated bank will occupy the Lapham office.

A SCORE OF CRIMES

Innumerable Burglaries and Hold-ups Occur in Detroit.

PERPETRATORS EVADE POLICE

Citizens Fear to Venture Out After Dark—Police Captain Advises Inhabitants to Go Armed—Police Officers Doing Extra Duty.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 20.—Within ten days over a score of desperate hold-ups and burglaries have taken place in Detroit, and with two exceptions the perpetrators have not been caught. Residents living in the outlying districts and even downtown, where the streets are fairly well policed, are panic-stricken and many persons absolutely refuse to go out after dark for fear of staring into the muzzles of highwaymen's revolvers. Many police officers are doing extra plain clothes street duty after dark and are patroling those districts which seem to be infested with thugs and footpads.

"Carry a gun and use it," is Capt. McDonnell's advice to the midnight pedestrians.

Yesterday brought no less than four reports of evil deeds, three being hold-ups, or attempted ones; and the fourth a robbery in which a man's bedroom was delibertely entered and his clothing appropriated. In every case the robbers escaped. The crimes were:

Escorted Him Home.

Raymond Hansen, living at 376 Putnam avenue, was on his way home early yesterday morning when a couple of thugs poked guns in his face, took his watch and money and then escorted him to the front door, disappearing with a parting injunction to "dig in and don't lose any time." Raymond did as he was advised.

Dr. E. J. Panzer of 597 St. Antoine street met a couple of men on High street near Market. They asked him for a match, but the doctor was next and threatened to pull a gun. The suspected robbers dove off as fast as their legs could carry them.

George Schaffner, when about to enter his house at 280 Putnam avenue nearly walked into two revolvers which stared him in the face. He stopped a moment to consider the demands of the two robbers and then turned and ran as hard as he could. The thugs took alarm and disappeared.

Levi Rosenstock of 228 Montcalm street east awoke yesterday morning to find that his room had been entered and his clothing stolen. About $25 is also missing.

Fowle Hopes.

A reporter interviewed Police Commissioner Fowle on the situation. He was asked if there was any hope of the performance letting up in the near future.

"Well, we are trying to do our best," said the commissioner. "You see, Detroit is a big city and our force is not large enough to cover every corner of it at the same time. We have a large number of our officers out in plain clothes. Why, we had several men in citizen's attire within a short distance of the place where that man was held up on Martin place. He didn't make any noise and our men knew nothing of it until notified from headquarters.

"I do not think there is any gang, although we are sure there are two or three very bold men working in Detroit. But never fear, we will land them one of these days."

Supt. Downey when seen regarding the "epidemic' of crime, expressed the opinion that the bold hold-ups of the past few days were perpetrated by a couple of experts at the game.

Three Carloads of Butter.

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 20.—The Lansing Cold Storage Co. has received 200 barrels of butter from the Central Michigan Produce Co. of Alma, and is shipping the purchase, which will fill three carloads, to eastern dealers. This company has also shipped seven carloads of eggs and six additional carloads of butter during the present week.

Arrested For Old Crime.

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 20.—Charles Erickson has been arrested at Nathan, forty-four miles north of here, on the charge of murdering his brother-in-law, Gus Adams, in 1902. He is now in the Menominee jail. The evidence against him is wholly circumstantial.

TWELVE WERE KILLED

Tempest Swept Minnesota Doing Enormous Amount of Damage.

HEAVY BRIDGE WAS TORN DOWN

Damages Will Total a Million—Many Persons Injured—Minneapolis and St. Paul Greatest Sufferers—Phone and Telegraph Wires Down.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 22.—Death to ten persons, injuries to many others and destruction to property, both private and public, estimated in round numbers at $1,000,000, resulted from the furious gale which tore down the valley of the Mississippi at about 9 o'clock Saturday night from a point somewhere near the confluence of the Minnesota and Mississippi rivers near Fort Snelling. At about that point the fury of the elements seemingly divided and with a roar descended on the Twin Cities and their environs.

There are many others less seriously hurt. Beginning at a point below Fort Snelling, there is the first known evidence that the storm struck with damaging effect. It came from the southwest and, howling in its fury, uprooted trees and demolished buildings in its pathway toward St. Paul.

It tore off two spans of the high bridge as completely as if they had been unbolted from the rest of the structure and carted away by workmen. There the bridge connected with the high bluffs at West St. Paul, and it is 180 feet above the river. This mass of steel was carried to the flats below, where flying steel girders and heavy planks fell on several small frame houses of the flat dwellers and crushed them completely. None of the occupants of these houses was hurt, they having seen the storm coming, took refuge in the caves in the hillside, where they were safe.

The storm tore along the flats, uprooting trees on Harriet island and then struck this city at the Wabash street bridge.

The storm then rushed on to the northeast, over the wholesale district, and here the greatest destruction to property was wrought. After causing havoc in St. Paul the tornado swept onward to Minneapolis and its suburbs. Here, however, the restruction of property was not so great, although telephone and telegraph wires were torn down in great numbers.

Of the ten fatalities three of the victims met death in St. Paul, four at Waconia, a small station near Minneapolis, and three at St. Louis park, a suburb of Minneapolis.

FOUR PERSONS KILLED.

Other Victims of Storm Which Swept Minnesota.

Glencoe, Minn., Aug. 22.—A tornado struck the townships of Rich Valley and Bergen Saturday night, killing four persons, Mary O'Donnell, aged 13, daughter of Patrick O'Donnell, and the 7-year-old son of Anthony O'Donnell, and Frederick Gross and his mother, and destroyed thousands of acres of grain and many barns, houses and sheds.

The storm extended over many counties. As telegraph and telephone wires are down in all directions, it is impossible to get particulars in this section.

Killed in Ontario.

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 22.—Mrs. Leonard Dodge of Saginaw, Mich., and Mrs. Thomas Knox of Lyndon, Ont., were struck by a train near Jerseyville and killed.

Von Plehve's Assassin Dead.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 22.—It is rumored here that the assassin of M. von Plehve, minister of interior, died a few days ago.

Nothing on the market equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy.

This fact is well known to druggists everywhere and nine out of ten will give their customers this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr. Obe Witmer, a prominent druggist of Joplin, Mo., in a circular to his customers, says: "There is nothing on the market in the way of patent medicine which equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy for bowel complaints. We sell and recommend this preparation." For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

MORE TROUBLE PENDING.

Turkish Porte Does Not Recognize Minister Leishman's Demands.

Constantinople, Aug. 22.—A note from American Minister Leishman, dated Aug. 16, was handed to the Turkish authorities within twelve hours after the receipt by minister of the Turkish note of Monday. In this note Mr. Leishman holds the government to its solemn undertaking coming direct from the sultan, respecting equal treatment with other nations for the United States, concerning the question of educational institutions.

This allusion to the imperial pledge apparently embarrassed the porte, which had previously announced that it would ignore the formal verbal assurance which Minister Leishman declared he had received. It is considered improbable that the porte will reply to the minister's note, and therefore the question is looked upon as shelved, ending the execution of the process of recognition, when, it is considered not improbable, fresh difficulties will arise.

Notwithstanding the assertion by Izzet Pasha, the secretary of the palace, that $25,000 has been deposited as compensation due to an American citizen at Smyrna, for land illegally taken, no such deposit has yet been made.

AMERICAN PASSPORTS.

United States Wants Russia to Recognize Them.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 22.—The United States government has again formally proposed to Russia the opening of negotiations for the unrestricted recognition of American passports. In accordance with the law of the empire, only foreign Jews of specified classes—merchants having business connections in the country, etc.—are allowed to enter Russia, but quite a liberal policy has been pursued in making exceptions to the rule where legitimate reasons therefor are given. The exceptions, however, are seldom made in the cases of Russian Jews who have been naturalized abroad. The inhibition is not against the United States alone, but extends to the Jews of every country.

The United States government on several occasions, especially while James G. Blaine was secretary of state, sought opinions regarding this question, but the Russian government always declines to begin such negotiations on the ground that the question involved the entire readjustment of the internal policy of the empire toward the Jews.

Drowned Near Monroe.

Toledo, Aug. 22.—Charles Niles, son of C. F. M. Niles, president of the Security Bank & Trust Co. of this city, was drowned in Lake Erie Sunday afternoon, about five miles north of Monroe, Mich. He and a companion, Charles Rakestraw, of this city, were in a canoe, which was capsized by a squall. Rakestraw was picked up by a launch nearly exhausted. Niles' body has not yet been found. He was 21 years old.

Won Prize at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 22.—Battle Creek, Mich., company No. 12, uniform rank Knights of Pythias, has been awarded first prize, $700, in class B in the drill contest held at Jockey Club park. The company was under the command of Capt. S. M. Fowler and the average was 95.60.

Alleged Murderer Arrested.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 22.—John Lewis, a negro, suspected of being Stephen Galloway, wanted in Virginia for outrage and murder, committed in July, was arrested at Steelton last night. He was committed to jail in this city.

Marshall Residence Rifled.

Marshall, Mich., Aug. 22.—The residence of Samuel F. Dobbins, proprietor of the Marshall Furnace Co., was burglarized Saturday night. The thieves gained entrance through the front door, which was left unlocked while the family was uptown attending the carnival. Two gold watches, two gold watch fobs, gold rings and a revolver were taken, the total being valued at $80. Local talent is suspected.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. CHAPTER V.

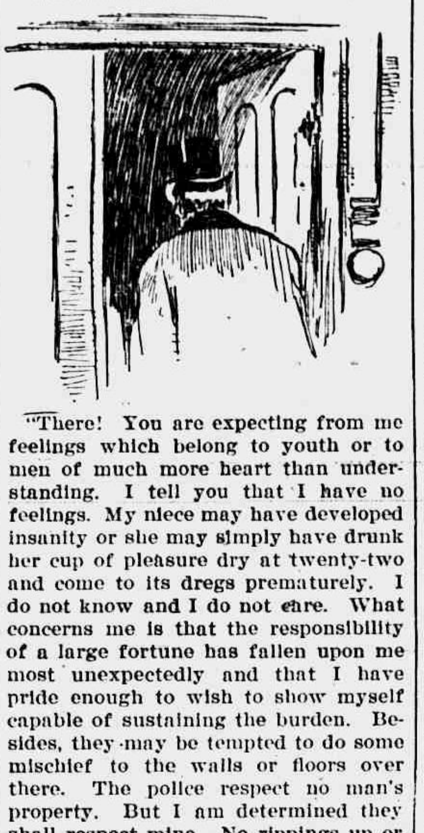
I was by this time following him out.

"You have failed to answer the suggestion I made you a minute since," I hazarded. "Will you pardon me if I put it now as a question? Your niece, Mrs. Jeffrey, seemed to have every thing in the world to make her happy, yet she took her life. Was there a taint of insanity in her blood, or was her nature so impulsive that her astonishing death in so revolting a place should awaken in you so little wonder?"

A gleam of what had made him more or less feared by the very urchins who dogged his steps and made sport of him at a respectful distance shot from his eye as he glowered back at me from the open door. But he hastily suppressed this sign of displeasure and replied with the faintest tinge of sarcasm:

Entering the forbidding portal



"There! You are expecting from me feelings which belong to youth or to men of much more heart than understanding. I tell you that I have no feelings. My niece may have developed insanity or she may simply have drunk her cup of pleasure dry at twenty-two and come to its dregs prematurely. I do not know and I do not care. What concerns me is that the responsibility of a large fortune has fallen upon me most unexpectedly and that I have pride enough to wish to show myself capable of sustaining the burden. Besides, they may be tempted to do some mischief to the walls or floors over there. The police respect no man's property. But I am determined they shall respect mine. No rippings up or tearings down will I allow unless I stand by to supervise the job. I am master of the old homestead now and I mean to show it." And with a last glance at the dog, who uttered the most mournful of protests in reply, he shut the front door and betook himself to the other side of the street.

As I noticed his assured bearing as he disappeared within the forbidding portal which, according to his own story, had for so long a time been shut against him, I asked myself if the candle which I had noticed lying on his mantelshelf was of the same make and size as those I had found in my late investigations in the house he was then entering.

CHAPTER VI.

NEXT morning the city was in a blaze of excitement. All the burning questions of the hour—the rapid mobilization of the army and the prospect of a speedy advance on Cuba—were forgotten in the engrossing topic of young Mrs. Jeffrey's death and the awful circumstances surrounding it.

Though I was the hero of the hour and, as such, subjected to an infinite number of questions, I followed the lead of my superiors and carefully refrained from advancing any theories beyond the obvious one of suicide. The moment for self exploitation was not ripe; I did not stand high enough in the confidence of the major, or, I may say, of the lieutenant of my own precinct, to risk the triumph I anticipated ultimately by a premature expression of opinion.

I had an enemy at headquarters; or, rather, one of the men there had always appeared peculiarly interested in showing me up in the worst light. The name of this man was Durbin, and it was he who had uttered something like a slighting remark when on that first night I endeavored to call the captain's attention to some of the small matters which had offered themselves to me in the light of clews. Perhaps it was the prospect of surprising him some day which made me so wary now as well as so alert to fill my mind with all known facts concerning the Jeffreys. One of my first acts was to turn over the files of the Star and reread the following account of the great wedding. As it is a sensational description of a sensational event, I shall make no apology for the headlines which startled all Washington the night they appeared:

"STARTLING TERMINATION OF JEFFREY-MOORE WEDDING.

The Traditional Doom Follows the Opening of the Old House on Waverley Avenue.

One of the Guests Found Lying Dead on the Library Hearthstone.

Letters In His Pocket Show Him to Have Been One W. Pfeiffer of Denver.

No Interruption of the Ceremony Follows This Ghastly Discovery, but the Guests Fly In All Directions as Soon as the Nuptial Knot Is Tied.

"The festivities attendant upon the wedding of Miss Veronica Moore to Mr. Francis Jeffrey of this city met with a startling check today. As most of our readers know, the long closed house on Waverley avenue, which for nearly a century has been in the possession of the bride's family, was opened for the occasion at the express wish of the bride. For a week the preparations for this great function have been going on. When at an early hour this morning a line of carriages drew up in front of the historic mansion and the bridal party entered under its once gloomy but now seemingly triumphant portal, the crowds, which blocked the street from curb to curb, testified to the interest felt by the citizens of Washington in this daring attempt to brave the traditions which have marked this house out as solitary and by a scene of joyous festivity make the past forgotten and restore again to usefulness the decayed grandeurs of an earlier time. As Miss Moore is one of Washington's most charming women and as this romantic effort naturally lent an extraordinary interest to the ceremony of her marriage, a large number of our representative people assembled to witness it, and by high noon the scene was one of unusual brilliancy.

"Halls which had moldered away in an unbroken silence for years echoed again with laughter and palpitated to the choicest strains of the Marine band. All doors were open save those of the library—an exception which added a pleasing excitement to the occasion—and when by chance some of the more youthful guests were caught peering behind the two Corinthian pillars guarding these forbidden precincts the memories thus evoked were momentary and the shadow soon passed.

"The wedding had been set for high noon, and as the clock in the drawing room struck the hour every head was craned to catch the first glimpse of the bride coming down the old fashioned staircase. But five minutes, ten minutes, a half hour, passed without this expectation being gratified. The crowd above and below were growing restless when suddenly a cry was heard from beyond the gilded pillars framing the library door, and a young lady was seen rushing from the forbidden quarter, trembling with dismay and white with horror. It was Miss Abbott of Stratford Circle, who in the interim of waiting had allowed her curiosity to master her dread and by one peep into the room, which seemed to exercise over her the fascination of a Bluebeard's chamber, discovered the outstretched form of a man lying senseless and apparently dead on the edge of the hearthstone. The terror which instantly spread among the guests shows the hold which superstition has upon all classes of humanity. Happily, however, an unseemly panic was averted by the necessity which all felt of preserving some sort of composure till the ceremony for which they had assembled had been performed, for simultaneously with this discovery of death in the library there had come from above the sound of the approaching bridal procession, and cries were hushed and beating hearts restrained as Miss Moore's charming face and exquisite figure appeared between the rows of flowering plants with which the staircase was lined. No need for the murmur to go about: 'Spare the bride! Let nothing but cheer surround her till she is Jeffrey's wife!' The look of joy which irradiated her countenance and gave a fairylike aspect to her whole exquisite person would have deterred the most careless and self centered person there from casting a shadow across her pathway one minute sooner than necessity demanded. The richness of the ancestral veil which covered her features and the natural timidity which prevents a bride from lifting her eyes from the floor she traverses saved her from observing the strange looks by which her presence was hailed. She was consequently enabled to go through the ceremony in happy unconsciousness of the forced restraint which held that surging mass together.

"But the bridesmaids were not so happy. Miss Tuttle especially held herself upright simply by the exercise of her will, and, though resplendent in beauty, suffered so much in her anxiety for the bride that it was a matter of small surprise when she fainted at the conclusion of the ceremony.

"Mr. Jeffrey showed more composure, but the inward excitement under which he was laboring made him trip more than once in his responses, as many there noted whose minds were not fixed too strongly on flight.

"Only Dr. Auchincloss was quite himself, and by means of the solemnity with which he invested his words kept the hubbub down, which was already making itself heard on the outskirts of the crowd. But even his influence did not prevail beyond the moment devoted to the benediction. Once the sacred words were said, such a stampede followed that the bride showed much alarm, and it was left for Mr. Jeffrey to explain to her the cause of this astonishing conduct on the part of her guests. She bore the disclosure well, all things considered, and once she was fully assured that the unhappy man whose sudden death had thus interrupted the festivities was an intruder upon the scene and quite unknown, not only to herself but to her newly made husband, she brightened perceptibly, though, like every one around her, she seemed anxious to leave the house, and, indeed, did so as soon as Miss Tuttle's condition warranted it.

"The fact that the bride went through the ceremony without her bridal bouquet is looked upon by many as an unfavorable omen. In her anxiety not to impose any longer upon the patience of her guests, she had descended without it.

"As to the deceased, but little is known of him. Letters found on his person prove his name to be W. Pfeiffer and his residence Denver. His presence in Miss Moore's house at a time so inopportune is unexplained. No such name is on the list of wedding guests, nor was he recognized as one of Miss Moore's friends either by Mr. Jeffrey or by such of her relatives and acquaintances as had the courage to enter the library to see him.

"With the exception of the discolored mark on his temple, showing where his head had come in contact with the hearthstone, his body presents an appearance of natural robustness, which makes his sudden end seem all the more shocking.

"His name has been found registered at the National hotel."

Turning over the files I next came upon the following dispatch from Denver:

"The sudden death in Washington of Wallace Pfeiffer, one of our best known and most respected citizens, is deeply deplored by all who knew him and his unfortunate mother. He is the last of her three sons, all of whom have died within the year. The demise of Wallace leaves her entirely unprovided for. It was not known here that Mr. Pfeiffer intended to visit Washington. He was supposed to go in quite the opposite direction, having said to more than one that he had business in San Francisco. His intrusion into the house of Miss Moore during the celebration of a marriage in which he could have taken no personal interest is explained in the following manner by such as knew his mental peculiarities: Though a merchant by trade and latterly a miner in the Klondike, he had great interest in the occult and was a strong believer in all kinds of supernatural manifestations. He may have heard of the unhappy reputation attaching to the Moore house in Washington and, fascinated by the mystery involved, embraced the opportunity afforded by open doors and the general confusion incident to so large a gathering to enter the interesting old place and investigate for himself the fatal library. The fact of his having been found secluded in this very room, at a moment when every other person in the house was pushing forward to see the bride, lends color to this supposition; and his sudden death under circumstances tending to rouse the imagination shows the extreme sensitiveness of his nature.

In the hotel reading room

"He will be buried here."

The next paragraph was short. Fresher events were already crowding this three days old wonder to the wall.

"Verdict in the case of Wallace Pfeiffer, found lying dead on the hearthstone of the old Moore house library.

"Concussion of the brain, preceded by mental shock or heart failure.

"The body went on to Denver today."

And below, separated by the narrowest of spaces:

"Mr. and Mrs. Francis Jeffrey have decided to give up their wedding tour and spend their honeymoon in Washington. They will occupy the Ransome house on K street."

The last paragraph brought me back to the question then troubling my mind. Was it in the household of this newly married pair and in the possible secret passions underlying their union that one should look for the cause of the murderous crime I secretly imagined to be hidden behind this seeming suicide, or were these parties innocent and old David Moore the one motive power in precipitating a tragedy the result of which had been to enrich him and impoverish them? Certainly a most serious and important question and one which any man might be pardoned for attempting to answer, especially if that man was a young detective lamenting his obscurity and dreaming of a recognition which would yield him fame and the wherewithal to marry a certain clever but mischievous little minx of whom you are destined to hear more.

But how was that same young detective, hampered as he was and held in thrall by a fear of ridicule and a total lack of record, to get the chance to push an inquiry requiring opportunities which could only come by special favor? This was what I continually asked myself, and always without result.

True, I might approach the captain or the major with my story of the telltale marks I had discovered in the dust covering the southwest chamber mantelshelf, and, if fortunate enough to find that these had been passed over by the other detectives, seek to gain a hearing thereby and secure for myself the privileges I so earnestly desired. But my egotism was such that I wished to be sure of the hand which had made these marks before I parted with a secret which, once told, would make or mar me. Yet to obtain the slight concession of an interview with any of the principals connected with this crime would be difficult without the aid of one or both of my superiors. Even to enter the house again where but a few hours before I had made myself so thoroughly at home would require a certain amount of pluck, for Durbin had been installed there, and Durbin was a watchdog whose bite as well as his bark I regarded with considerable respect. Yet into that house I must sooner or later go, if only to determine whether or not I had been alone in my recognition of certain clews pointing plainly toward murder. Should I trust my lucky star and remain for the nonce quiescent? This seemed a wise suggestion, and I decided to adopt it, comforting myself with the thought that if after a day or two of modest waiting I failed in obtaining what I wished I could then appeal to the lieutenant of my own precinct. He, I had sometimes felt assured, did not regard me with an altogether unfavorable eye.

Meantime I spent all my available time in loitering around newspaper offices and picking up such stray bits of gossip as were offered. As no question had yet been raised of any more serious crime than suicide, these mostly related to the idiosyncrasies of the Moore family and the solitary position into which Miss Tuttle had been plunged by this sudden death of her only relative. As this beautiful and distinguished young woman had been and still was a great belle in her special circle, her present homeless, if not penniless, position led to many surmises. Would she marry, and, if so, to which of the many wealthy or prominent men who had openly courted her would she accord her hand? In the present egotistic state of my mind I secretly flattered myself that I was right in concluding that she would say yes to no man's entreaty till a certain newly made widower's year of mourning had expired.

But this opinion received something of a check when in a quiet talk with a reporter I learned that it was openly stated by those who had courage to speak that the tie which had certainly existed at one time between Mr. Jeffrey and the handsome Miss Tuttle had been entirely of her own weaving, and that the person of Veronica Moore, rather than the large income she commanded, had been the attractive power which had led him away from the older sister. This seemed improbable, for the charms of the poor little bride were not to be compared with those of her maturer sister. Yet, as we all know, there are other attractions than those offered by beauty. I have since heard it broadly stated that the peculiar twitch of the lip observable in all the Moores had proved an irresistible charm in the unfortunate Veronica, making her a radiant image when she laughed. This was by no means a rare occurrence, so they said, before the fancy took her to be married in the ill starred home of her ancestors.

That I might the more readily determine which of these two theories had the firmest basis in fact I took advantage of an afternoon off and slipped away to Alexandria, where, I had been told, Mr. Jeffrey had courted his bride. I wanted a taste of local gossip, you see, and I got it. The air was fully charged with it, and, being careful not to rouse antagonism by announcing myself a detective, I readily picked up many small facts. Brought into shape and arranged in the form of a narrative, the result was as follows:

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

His Head Cut Off.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 22.—Early Sunday morning the mangled body of a man supposed to be Frank Stuart, 731 Talbot street, St. Thomas, Ont., was found on the Grand Trunk tracks between Wesson and Junction avenues, where it had been thrown from a moving train. The head was severed from the body and lay on the opposite side of the track. From letters on the deceased it is thought he was "hoboing" his way to Chicago to become a strike breaker in the stock yards.

Reunion of Twenty-Third Infantry.

Freeland, Mich., Aug. 20.—The thirty-ninth annual reunion of the Twenty-third regiment, Michigan volunteer infantry, will be held here Tuesday, Sept. 13. The citizens of this village are pushing the preparations and it is expected that the reunion will be a very successful one.

Bad For Waterhouse.

Galesburg, Mich., Aug. 20.—While trying to kick out a decayed tooth that was evidently aching, "Bonaparte," a $500 horse owned by George Waterhouse of this village, was choked to death, his hoof being caught in his throat. That is, the hoof was caught in Bonaparte's throat, not in Mr. Waterhouse's, as the affidavit says.

A Sweet Breath

is a never-failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years; tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by C. A. Wright.

It is very uncomfortable for a girl to sit three in a buggy seat—three girls.

DeWitt is the Name.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure, unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on the market. The genuine bears the name E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by C. A. Wright.

MRS. POLLANY DENEEN, Marine City, Mich.

Mrs. Pollany Deneen, Marine City, Mich., says: "I humbly thank you for the good your medicine has done for me, after suffering for four years with nervous and heart trouble. I would have spells when I would drop down anywhere and would remain unconscious for as long as 24 hours at a time. The doctor said it was a hard case of dropsy and something that could not be cured. I heard of your remedy and took it according to directions and found relief with the first bottle, so I continued it until I had used six bottles and now I am well and able to do a good day's washing, which I could not do before. I can't thank you enough for what your remedy has done for me, and I recommend it to all who suffer, as it is worth its weight in gold to sick women."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by Mrs. Bert Gray.

Mrs. Ella Gray, wife of Bert Gray, was born in Milan, Mich., June 9, 1881, died in Tecumseh Aug. 22. She came to Tecumseh from Milan with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Shurtz in 1894 and has since been a resident of this place. She was united in marriage Sept. 11, 1901 to Bert Gray. Two children were born to them Marvin, age two years and Charles, age three months.

In the short eventful experience of her life there was ever shown marks of generous hospitality and kindness. She was always ready to bestow sympathy and assistance as far as possible and was loved by all who knew her. She is survived by a husband and two children, who have the heartfelt sympathy of the many friends.

The funeral was held at 2 o'clock on Wednesday at her late home on VanBuren street, Rev. Sedweek officiating. Those from out of town who attended were Mrs. Morton, of Everett; Harry Shurtz, of Kalcaska; Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey, of Milan; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Clark, and two sons of Jackson; Miss Nina McCoffin, and Mrs. Hessie Eastlick, of Milan; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Guy and son, of Detroit.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our thanks and gratitude to the kind friends and neighbors for their sincere interest and needed assistance during the death of our wife and daughter. We especially thank the choir and for the beautiful floral offerings.

BERT GRAY.
MR. AND MRS. W. W. SHURTZ.

SPORTS DAY

Was celebrated in Tecumseh

TUESDAY

And it proved a success in every detail.

The committee of arrangements made the plans for Sports day in Tecumseh Tuesday and the Lord furnished the weather, all did well. The arrangements were complete and never was there finer weather. Early in the morning the crowd of farmers commenced to come and before afternoon it was all that could be wished for. The baloon went up in the morning.

Three bands, Adrian, Holloway and Tipton, furnished music all day, two ball games were played and well attended, two dances furnished entertainment aside from fun for the little folks furnished by the merry-go-round. This was all in all a fine holiday, every one happy and good-natured and not a man drunk enough to be put in the cooler. It almost seems that this third annual event was so much of a success that it will now occur yearly.

The first was the tug of war. This was to settle an old dispute between Tecumseh and Macon—one of long standing—as to which town furnishes the strong men. There were twelve on a side and they were weighed up to make a ton on each side. Then the pull began and it was a pull too, but Tecumseh brawn was the strongest and won in two straight heats. The prize was $25.

Then came the harnessing contest and several women tried their hand at that also, Bert Bice won the first prize in 2:14 time, Clarence Conklin won second in 2:24 time. The prizes were $3 and $2.

The shoe lacing contest was won by Earl Updyke, prize $3. Second prize Ira Rogers $2.

The shot putting contest was won by Ed Pritchard, who put the shot 34 feet and 4 inches. Prize $5.

AFTERNOON.

In the early afternoon the Knights Templar bugle corps of Adrian, gave a fine parade on Chicago street and afterwards at the ball park. Three Tecumseh men, F. B. Wood, Levi Hayden and Joe Smith, are members of this organization.

SHOUTING CONTEST.

Miss Blanch Castle proved her lungs to be the strongest in the shouting contest, winning a beautiful diamond ring, given by Hicks, the Jeweler, for shouting the loudest, "Buy that watch of Hicks, the Jeweler."

The Anthony Fence Co. offered a prize of a 40 rod roll of fence to the party who would guess the nearest number of feet of wire required to make the knots in a roll of wire. Rods in roll 34 4-5 rods, 761¼ feet. The guesses were as follows:

D. J. VanValkenburg, Tipton, winner, guesss, 762 ft.; S. W. Bordine, Tecumseh, guess 760 1-3 ft.; Roy Snyder, Adrian, guess, 760 ft.; J. B. Colvin, Tecumseh, guess, 760 ft.; Carl Erhart, Adrian, guess, 758 ft.; A. D. Macham, Holloway, guess, 758 ft.; E. F. Harris, Tecumseh, guess, 765.6 ft.

Gravel Train Wrecked.

Last night when the Lake Shore gravel train got down to Lee's farm, about half way between Tecumseh and Lenawee Junction, a flange broke off the car wheel and five cars were ditched. The wreck was not cleaned up this morning so the trains could go over the track and in the mean time, they use the Detroit Southern from Tecumseh to Adrian.

Mrs. Adelaide Tilton.

Mrs. Adelaid Tildon died at Tecumseh Monday night. She was poisoned by eating green corn.—Adrian Times.

The correspondent of the Times must have got in a bad way on sports day for Miss Adeline Tilton although very ill, is alive, but Mrs. Gregg, who died last Sunday, did not eat green corn nor was she poisoned, but simply overate green peas and died of bowel trouble. Five errors in four lines even outdoes the Times.

THE CHURCHES.

Union service in the Presbyterian church in the evening.

Rev. Wm. Dawe D. D. of Detroit, will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church Sunday morning. You are invited to hear him.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abcess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright. Drug store price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Old Papers.

BE YOUR OWN JUDGE.

Mi-o-na costs you nothing if it does not cure, says C. A. Wright.

Mi-o-na, the remarkable cure for dyspepsia, has won fame by the unusual way in which it is sold. It is the only remedy offered for the cure of dyspepsia which costs the user absolutely nothing unless it cures.

C. A. Wright, the popular druggist, is selling a great many packages of Mi-o-na and with every 50c, box is given his personal guarantee to refund the money if Mi-o-na does not give satisfaction, you to be your own judge as to whether the remedy helps or not.

Mi-o-na is an unusual combination, regulating the digestive organs and removing irritation, congestion and inflammation from the stomach, liver and intestines. It enables those organs to extract from the food all that goes to make rich blood, firm muscle, steady nerves and a sound body.

Mi-o-na puts the digestive system into proper working order, gives health, strength and good flesh, and is the only natural cure for indigestion. Even in chronic cases, where life is one long drawn out pain, this remedy will effect a cure. It is the simplest and most reliable of all remedies. Just one small tablet before or after meals and you can eat what you want with no distress.

If Mi-o-na does not do all that is claimed for it, C. A. Wright will cheerfully return your money.

TONIGHT

Will end the

BASE BALL SEASON

For Tecumseh.

And it has been in every way the most successful one yet. It is thought that now the team is about even and in the line of successful base ball the Tecumseh team is this year far ahead.

A Strange Report.

Mrs. James Gregg and her daughter, Mrs. Gamble, live on Democratic street and last week ate very freely of green peas which brought on severe trouble. Mrs. Gregg died Sunday and Mrs. Gamble is still very ill, can hardly recover.

A report has been in circulation that the sickness was caused from eating "second growth" peas, impure milk and other causes. A reporter for the HERALD interviewed Dr. North yesterday and he says Mrs. Gamble has been sick for years and her mother was 87 years old.

They both overate of green peas and had they been in good health it would, no doubt, never hurt them, but this is the time of year for all kinds of bowel trouble and on account of the extreme age of Mrs. Gregg and frail health of Mrs. Gamble it affected them seriously

Leg Broken.

Wednesday in the game at Hudson when making the home plate, LaBelle slipped and broke his leg in two places, bones of the foot and between the ankle and the knee. He was given all care, but it is a serious affair which will take him weeks to get over.

He was brought home yesterday morning and at the present time is resting as easily as possible. LaBelle is pitcher in the Tecumseh team, is a great favorite and has the sympathy of every one in his bad luck.

STOMACH DOSING WILL NOT CURE

Ask any physician if catarrh is a blood disease and he will tell you that it is a diseased condition of the mucous membrane and that it cannot be cured by blood purifiers, pills, tablets, or other forms of stomach dosing. The only sensible and scientific way of curing catarrh is by the use of Hyomei.

Breathed for a few minutes, four or five times a day, through a hard rubber inhaler that is so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket, Hyomei will absolutely destroy all catarrhal germs and cure the disease. Catarrh can never exist where Hyomei is used. It has a two-fold action, destroying the disease germs in the air passages and lungs and soothing and healing the inflamed mucous membrane.

C. A. Wright, one of the most reliable firms in Tecumseh is giving his personal guarantee with every package of Hyomei he sells, that it will effect a cure or he will return the money. He has had scores of reports of remarkable cures of ~~both acute~~ and chronic cases of catarrh by Hyomei.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

Cure or Hay Fever.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose and intense burning of hay fever. It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

A woman never feels so truly grateful for the advantage of being a woman as when she meets a bow-legged man.

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

A prominent physician writes: "Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As many a Tecumseh reader knows too well.

When the kidneys are sick,
Nature tells you all about it.
The urine is nature's calendar.
Infrequent or too frequent action;
Doan's Kidney Pills cure all these ills.
Tecumseh people testify to this.

F. A. Ferguson, tinsmith, residing in western section of Tecumseh, says: "I had symptoms of kidney trouble. The secretions were very irregular and at times too frequent and highly colored. Having seen so many cases of kidney trouble I thought it wise to do something at once, so I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at C. A. Wright's drug store and took them. I began to improve from the very start and continued to do so. I emphatically declare them to be up to the representations made for them."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

PACKERS VIOLATE LAW.

Housing Men In Buildings Without Fire Escapes.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Corporation Counsel Tolman has given to Mayor Harrison an opinion declaring the packers at the stock yards have no legal right to house men in their packing houses.

The opinion was given in response to the request of the mayor, who was informed by the Chicago Federation of Labor, that the packers were boarding men contrary to law.

The opinion of Corporation Counsel Tolman declares that the packers are not violating any provision of the ordinance regulating lodging houses, for the reason that they are not letting lodgings for hire. The opinion does hold, however, that the regulations calling for fire escapes and exits in buildings where large numbers of people are housed have not been complied with, and suggests that the packers be given a period of three days to commence the alterations in their buildings or to find new quarters for the men.

The mayor, after receiving the opinion, sent it to Chief of Police O'Neill with instructions to see that the packers obeyed the law.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

"I have used Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil as a general household remedy for years. In my work as locomotive engineer, I have found it very valuable by putting a few drops in water before drinking. It is a sure preventive for all stomach pains and bad effects from impure water." John H. Weeks, 117 Chittock Avenue, Jackson, Mich. Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil costs only 50 cents per bottle. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Keep Your Blood Pure.

Its Purity Means Health, Its Impurity, Disease and Death—How to Make Pure Blood and New Blood.

Blood is essentially the fluid of life. It permeates every portion of the body to the remotest tips of the members. Any poisonous or diseased particles that enter into the blood are scattered throughout the entire system and infect all its parts. They are transmitted to succeeding generations and cause disease and suffering indefinitely.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic cures absolutely and permanently scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, salt rheum, erysipelas, boils, tumors, tetter, sores, ulcers, ulceration of the stomach and bowels, female weaknesses, dyspepsia, debility, dropsy, syphilis in all its forms, and all diseases arising from hereditary taint or impoverished condition of the blood.

As a tonic, Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is unexcelled. It makes new, rich, healthy blood and relieves lassitude and tired feeling, puts new life and vigor into the system, makes the old young and the weak strong. It strengthens the stomach, aids digestion and imparts force into all the functions of the body.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is guaranteed to give satisfaction or the purchase price will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

This Testimony
Will surely interest many readers of this paper.

James G. Gray, Gibson, Mo., writes about Drake's Palmetto Wine as follows: I live in the Missouri Swamps in Dunklin County and have been sick with Malarial fever and for fifteen months a walking skeleton. One bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine has done me more good than all the medicine I have taken in that fifteen months. I am buying two more bottles to stay cured. Drake's Palmetto Wine is the best medicine and tonic for Malaria, Kidney and Liver ailments I ever used or heard of. I feel well now after using one bottle.

A. A. Felding, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: I had a bad case of sour Stomach and Indigestion. I could eat so little that I was "falling to bones" and could not sleep nor attend to my business. I used the trial bottle and two large seventy-five cent bottles and can truthfully say I am entirely cured. I have advised many to write for a free trial bottle.

J. W. Moore, Monticello, Minn., makes the following statement about himself and a neighbor. He says: Four bottles of Drake's Palmetto Wine has cured me of catarrh of Bladder and Kidney trouble. I suffered ten years and spent hundreds of dollars with best doctors and specialists without benefit. Drake's Palmetto Wine has made me a well man. A young woman here was given up to die by a Minneapolis specialist and he and our local doctor said they could do no more for her. She has been taking Drake's Palmetto Wine one week and is rapidly recovering.

The Drake Formula Company, Drake Bldg., Chicago, Ill., will send a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine free and prepaid to any reader of this paper. A letter or postal card is your only expense to get this free bottle.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., says: I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
Cures Colds; Prevents Pneumonia

Just a Moment, Please!

Why not let The Royal Tailors of Chicago make your fall suit or overcoat? When delivery is made, there will also be delivered a direct guaranty covering the quality of goods, the style and fit of the garments and the workmanship.

And that guaranty is worth one hundred cents on the dollar to you. It means that you are to be satisfied with the garments when you get them—satisfied that they were made expressly for you, to your own measure—and it means that they will wear well, give you good service, and hold their shape as rightly-tailored garments should.

The cost of Royal tailoring is so low that you might almost think price was the first consideration. But it isn't. Value is first. Value-giving is at the basis of The Royal Tailors' success. The best for the money always—that is the Royal idea.

Customers of The Royal Tailors are invited to guess how many people will attend the World's Fair at St. Louis. They offer prizes consisting of ten Automobiles, to be given to the ten persons making the closest guesses. The cost of these Automobiles is $13,700. There are also eight cash prizes of $100 each, making the total value of the prizes $14,500. For every dollar you pay on an order for Royal tailoring you can make one guess; on a $15 suit you can make fifteen guesses, and on a $20 suit you can make twenty guesses, and so on—a guess for every dollar.

The Royal Tailors carry a million-dollar stock of woolens—something sure to please everybody; suits and overcoats for men and boys—ladies' man-tailored skirts and coats—all made strictly to measure at an actual proven cash saving of fully twenty-five per cent.

But the thing to do is to see the goods and get the prices. You can do that by calling on

EXCELLENT SHOWING

Philippine Commerce Has Increased Wonderfully Lately.

EXPORTS HAVE FALLEN OFF

But Custom House Returns Show Increase of 7 Per Cent In Imports—U. S. Leads For the First Time In Import Trade.

Washington, Aug. 29.—During the nine months ended March last the total commerce of the Philippines shows an increased value of more than a million dollars, according to a statement just given out at the bureau of insular affairs. The statement says that the Philippine import trade advanced nearly two million dollars in value and that a slight falling off is shown in the exports as a result of decreased shipments in copra and sugar, although hemp and tobacco were exported in larger amounts than for the corresponding three-fourths of the previous year.

Excluding gold and silver and United States government purchases, the customs houses returns give the total value of merchandise imported for the nine months ended March, 1904, at $25,927,024, and the exports at $22,256,169, a 7 per cent increase in imports and 2 per cent decrease in exports. The rice growing sections of the British and French East Indies have enjoyed most of the increase in trade, the latter territory sending three-fourths of the $10,000,000 worth of rice received.

Except for those countries from which rice is obtained, the statement says that for the first time since American occupation the United States leads in the amount of merchandise sent to the islands, and that the outgoing trade with the principal countries shows a decline in the value of shipments to the United States, more than $700,000 of the loss being credited to sugar exports, and $600,000 to hemp. More than one-half of the imports consisted of food and animals, while the exports were chiefly agricultural products, hemp exports amounting to $16,000,000 in round numbers. The figures on the carrying trade show an increase in value of business done under the American flag, the amount carried to the islands being $1,535,027, while $2,227,805 of the exports left the islands under the American flag. British vessels took $18,172,819. Importations of flour, meats and live stock increased, while there was a falling off in receipts of liquors and beverages owing to local brewers and distillers having increased their output.

Double Tragedy.

New York, Aug. 29.—Herman Smith, 52 years of age, shot and wounded Bertha Homberg, 15 years old, at her home in Elmhurst, and then shot and killed himself. The girl will probably recover. Smith, who was a metal polisher by trade, had boarded with the Homberg family for many years. For some time past he had been acting somewhat strangely. Smith asked the girl to get him a drink of water and she refused. He drew a revolver and fired two shots at her. She ran down stairs and he followed her and shot at her again. The bullet entered her right shoulder. The girl fell and Smith, standing over her body, shot himself in the left breast and right temple. He died in a few minutes.

Negro Murderer Caught.

Macon, Ga., Aug. 29.—A few days ago J. B. Bishop, a prominent farmer of Wilcox county, was murdered on an Atlantic & Birmingham train by a negro named Scott, who at once escaped. The murderer was located last night near the village of Rebecca. He refused to leave his house and it was burned by the mob, and the negro, running out, was shot though not fatally. It is said he made a confession, implicating others, who are now being sought for. When these are taken the mob now holding the wounded man will decide upon further action.

Puts an end to it all.

WERE ORDERED BACK

Russian Forces Disappointed at Not Meeting the Enemy.

JAPS DID NOT FOLLOW THEM

Czar's Men Encountered Superior Forces and Withdrew Nearer to Liao Yang—Chinese Hurrying Women and Children Away to Safety.

Liao Yang, Aug. 29.—The Russian forces have been disappointed by another unexpected withdrawal. The whole eastern division and the troops on the Anshanshan position have been ordered to fall back to positions nearer Liao Yang just as the soldiers were expecting another advance.

The Japanese are not following the Russians.

The advance from the south is apparently being pushed home. Sounds of artillery from that direction are plainer than they were.

The Chinese at Liao Yang are bringing out women and children, which they usually do when expecting a Japanese advance.

The Russians had sustained a hot artillery fight all of Aug. 26 on the eastern front, but held all their positions.

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon the Associated Press correspondent crossed over to the left flank. The understanding was that the Russians would concentrate heavily in the morning for an attack of the Japanese in that direction and the surprise was greater therefore at the order to retire.

The explanation is given that the Tenth corps, especially Gen. Herschelmann's division on the extreme left, was confronted by a greatly superior force of Japanese. Though the Russians fought bravely and held all their positions they had lost an immense number of officers.

FALL IS IMMINENT.

Port Arthur Probably Can Not Hold Out Much Longer.

London, Aug. 29.—The Chronicle's correspondent with Gen. Kuroki, cabling under date of Aug. 24, via Fusan Aug. 25, says:

"The fall of Port Arthur is imminent. The Japanese are now within the main defenses and their guns command the town. Desperate fighting occurs night and day and the losses on both sides are enormous.

"The Russians are making furious counter attacks, but the Japanese are clinging to the positions they have won at so great a cost."

AFRAID OF HIS LIFE.

Croatian Priest Barricades Himself In His House.

Pittsburg, Aug. 29.—The priest of St. Nicholas Croatian church, Allegheny, is barricaded in his house under the belief that an attempt to kidnap him will be made. The situation is the culmination of several months of trouble in the church. A majority of the congregation it seems accuse the priest of mismanagement of the church's finances and demanded his removal. Bishop Phelan refused to accede to the demand and ordered the church closed.

No services have been held for eight weeks and Sunday, after concerted action, nearly 500 members of the congregation headed by a brass band, formed in procession intending to call on the bishop. The bishop, it is reported, received word of the visit and notified the police, with the result that twenty-five officers met the procession at the Pittsburg end of the bridge and turned the marchers back because no permission to parade in Pittsburg had been secured. The disappointed Croats returned to Allegheny and held an indignation meeting.

The priest received word after the meeting through some source that a resolution had been passed to get rid of him by force.

Those at the meeting said such a resolution was made, but failed to carry.

Killed in a Ditch.

Lakeland, Mich., Aug. 27.—Wirt Carpenter, a farmer, aged 45, was killed on a farm three miles north of here while tiling a ditch. The bank caved, burying him under four feet of earth. His brother narrowly escaped a similar fate.

WAS HE MURDERED?

Or Did Train Kill Maynard Bixbee of Orion?

MYSTERY SURROUNDS HIS DEATH

Is Believed Robbers Took His Life and Placed His Body on Track—Engineer Saw Him, but Could Not Stop the Train.

Orion, Mich., Aug. 29.—Mystery surrounds the death of Maynard Bixbee, a young man residing in this town, who was run over by a Michigan Central freight train early in the morning. He was seen by the engineer to be lying on the track as the train approached, but it was impossible to stop the train in the short distance. Whether or not he was dead before the train struck him will probably never be known, as his body was so badly mutilated by the wheels that it was impossible to ascertain whether there were any marks of previous violence. It is thought that he may have been knocked insensible or murdered by robbers, as his watch was missing.

The robbery of William Shoemaker's store in Orion the same night gives color to this theory, but it is pointed out, on the other hand, that his pocketbook was found lying near the body, where it had apparently dropped from the pocket when the unfortunate young man was rolled along by the wheels of the engine. It is said that Bixbee sometimes had fits and that he may have been seized by one while walking along the track.

Bixbee left the powerhouse down the road, where he had been visiting, about 1 o'clock in the morning, saying he was going back to his lodgings near Rudd's mill. His way home lay along the railroad track. At 3 o'clock the northbound freight ran over his body. The engineer stopped as quickly as possible, and then, finding that the man was dead, ran on to the depot and notified the agent. An undertaker was sent out to secure the remains, which were horribly disfigured. The body was identified by the clothes.

Bixbee was not quite 20 years old and was employed at Rudd's mill.

Swallowed Carbolic Acid.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 29.—Mrs. Olive Kepp of Saginaw took her own life Sunday while stopping with her sister, Mrs. Charles Hoffman, at 212 Second street. Shortly after 7 in the morning Mrs. Hoffman was attracted to her sister's room on the second floor by the latter's screams. There Mrs. Kepp lay unconscious on the bed. An empty carbolic acid bottle near by told the story. The woman was quickly taken to Grace hospital, but died ere she had been there fifteen minutes. Mrs. Hoffman when seen said her sister was 21 years of age and had been here since the Fourth of July on a visit. Otto Kepp, her husband, is an electrician at Saginaw, where the Kepps lived. She assigned as the cause of her sister's rash act continued ill-health for two years following an operation for appendicitis.

Kalamazoo County Pioneers.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 29.—The pioneers of Kalamazoo county will hold a big picnic Sept. 14. The picnic is an annual affair, but a misunderstanding in the organization recently caused the old residents to neglect it this year, but after considerable agitation among several of the members a date was set and the picnic will be held. All the pioneers in the county will attend. Theron T. Giddings of Detroit, one of the older pioneers, will deliver one of the addresses.

Nothing on the market equal to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy.

This fact is well known to druggists everywhere and nine out of ten will give their customers this preparation when the best is asked for. Mr. Obe Witmer, a prominent druggist of Joplin, Mo., in a circular to his customers, says: "There is nothing on the market in the way of patent medicine which equals Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy for bowel complaints We sell and recommend this preparation." For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

GIRL SAVED THEM.

Steered Boat Through Storm Until Land Was Reached.

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 27.—After drifting thirty miles in a rowboat in one of the heaviest seas ever known on Green bay, two young ladies and three children have arrived safely at Graceport, eight miles from Sturgeon bay.

The members of the party were Gertrude Sawyer, aged 19, of Menominee; Inez Woessner, aged 17, and two young sons and a daughter of Frederick Baker of Marinette, Wis.

They left Fernwood, a resort about five miles from Marinette, where Mr. Baker has a summer home, and rowed out until they got into the heavy sea, then they were unable to return. They were soon lost sight of from the Marinette shore, and three tugs and many sailboats were sent out to search for them. They could not be found and it was feared that all had been lost.

The heroine of the adventure was Miss Sawyer, who is a senior in the Menominee high school. She compelled the four others to lie down flat in the boat and then steered it with an oar. They were picked up on the beach by a farmer and taken to Sturgeon bay.

WILDLY EXCITING.

Detroit People Enjoy a Series of Automobile Races.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 27.—Detroit's automobile races are on. Friday was the first day of these big events at Grosse Pointe track and fully 5,000 people witnessed them. Speeds of a mile a minute around the track became a common matter and several records were broken. To see these iron horses swinging around the circle at such a terrific rate was wildly exciting and the great crowd in attendance fairly yelled itself hoarse before the afternoon was over.

Aside from the races for the big cars the performance of the day was undoubtedly to the credit of Henry Ford's new machine. The new creation of the designer of the "999" in its two starts won a first and a second, clinging to the turns as if running on rails and setting a new world's record for cars of its class, by negotiating the second mile of the first race in 1:01 4-5. The previous best record is 1:05 2-5.

Michigan Men Outclassed.

Fort Riley, Kan., Aug. 27.—The firing in the national individual rifle match at the national range at Fort Riley was finished Friday afternoon with the completion of two skirmish runs by each competitor. In addition to the skirmish runs the 500-yard score in rapid fire, left over from Thursday's program, was shot off. In the two days' work the possible score was 500. Twelve competitors, none of whom included men from the Michigan team, will be awarded cash prizes and medals. The Michigan men again failed to make a sufficient showing to win a prize. First Sergt. George Sergeant, Fifteenth United States infantry, score 462, got a gold medal and $69, he having won first prize.

Money Awaited His Return.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 27.—Edward Pix of this city went to the world's fair at Chicago in 1893 and was never heard from again. It was supposed by his relatives that he had met with foul play. His father died about a year ago and when his will was probated an order was made that the missing man's share should be deposited with the county treasurer. Thursday Pix returned from Texas, where he had been living during his absence, and yesterday the court made an order giving him his share of the estate. The man could have been declared "legally dead," but the judge believed in being careful in such matters.

Two Men Drowned at Soo.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 27.—J. C. Patterson, teller in the Canadian Bank of Commerce here, and Herbert D. Hill, a janitor clerk in the same bank, were canoeing on the St. Mary's river when they were struck by a squall and the canoe overturned. Launches and tugs were summoned, but up to the present time no trace of the young men or of the canoe have been found.

CHAPTER VI

shown some strain of the peculiar independence of his race when, in selecting a wife, he let his choice fall on a widow who was not only incumbered with a child, but who was generally regarded as the plainest woman in Virginia—he who might have had the pick of southern beauty. But when in the course of time this despised woman proved to be the possessor of those virtues and social graces which eminently fitted her to conduct the large establishment of which she had been made mistress he was forgiven his lack of taste. Little more was said of his peculiarities until, his wife having died and his child proved weakly, he made the will in his Brother's favor which has since given that gentleman such deep satisfaction.

Why this proceeding should have been so displeasing to their friends report says not; but that it was so is evident from the fact that great rejoicing took place on all sides when Veronica suddenly developed into a healthy child, and the probability of David Moore inheriting the coveted estate decreased to a minimum. It was not a long rejoicing, however, for John Judson followed his wife to the grave before Veronica had reached her tenth year, leaving her and her half sister, Cora, to the guardianship of a crabbed old bachelor who had been his father's lawyer. This lawyer was morose and peevish, but he was never positively unkind. For two years the sisters seemed happy enough, when, suddenly and somewhat peremptorily, they were separated, Veronica being sent to a western school, where she remained, seemingly without a single visit east, till she was seventeen.

During this long absence Miss Tuttle resided in Washington, developing under masters into an accomplished woman. Veronica's guardian, severe in his treatment of the youthful owner of the large fortune of which he had been made sole executor, was unexpectedly generous to the penniless sister, hoping perhaps in his close, peevish old heart that the charms and acquired graces of this lovely woman would soon win for her a husband in the brilliant set in which she naturally found herself. But Cora Tuttle was not easy to please, and the first men of Washington came and went before her eyes without awakening in her any special interest till she met Francis Jeffrey, who stole her heart with a look.

Those who remember her that winter say that under his influence she developed from a handsome woman into a lovely one. Yet no engagement was announced, and society was wondering what held Francis Jeffrey back from so great a prize, when Veronica Moore came home, and the question was forever answered.

Veronica was now nearly eighteen and during her absence had blossomed into womanhood. She was not as beautiful as her sister, but she had a bright and pleasing expression, with enough spice in her temperament to rob her girlish features of insipidity and make her conversation witty, if not brilliant. Yet when Francis Jeffrey turned his attentions from Miss Tuttle and fixed them without reserve or seeming shame upon this pretty butterfly, but one term could be found to characterize the proceeding, and that was fortune hunting. Of small but settled income, he had hitherto shown a certain contentment with his condition calculated to inspire respect and make his attentions to Miss Tuttle seem both consistent and appropriate. But no sooner did Veronica's bright eyes appear than he fell at the young heiress' feet and pressed his suit so close and fast that in two months they were engaged and at the end of the half year married—with the disastrous consequences just made known.

So much for the general gossip of the town. Now for the special.

A certain gentleman, whom it is unnecessary to name, had been present at one critical instant in the lives of these three persons. He was not a scandal monger, and if everything had gone on happily—if Veronica had lived and Cora settled down into matrimony—he would never have mentioned what he heard and saw one night in the great drawing room of a hotel in Atlantic City.

It was at the time when the engagement was first announced between Jeffrey and the young heiress. This and his previous attentions to Cora had made much talk, both in Washington and elsewhere, and there were not lacking those who had openly twitted him for his seeming inconstancy. This had been over the cups of course, and Jeffrey had borne it well enough from his so called friends and intimates. But when, on a certain evening in the parlor of one of the large hotels in Atlantic City, a fellow whom nobody knew and nobody liked accused him of knowing on which side his bread was buttered, and that certainly it was not on the side of beauty and superior attainments, Jeffrey got angry. Heedless of who might be within hearing, he spoke up very plainly in these words: "You are all of a kind—rank money worshipers and self seekers—or you would not be so ready to see greed in my admiration for Miss Moore. Disagreeable as I find it to air my sentiments in this public manner, yet since you provoke me to it I will say once and for all that I am deeply in love with Miss Moore and that it is for this reason only I am going to marry her. Were she the penniless girl her sister is, and Miss Tuttle the proud possessor of the wealth which, in your eyes, confers such distinction upon Miss Moore, you would still see me at the latter's feet, and at hers only. Miss Tuttle's charms are not potent enough to hold the heart which has once been fixed by her sister's smile."

This was pointed enough, certainly, but when at the conclusion of his words a tall figure rose from a near corner and Cora Tuttle passed the amazed group with a bow I dare warrant that not one of the men composing it but wished himself a hundred miles away.

With this incident filling my mind, I returned to Washington. I had acquainted myself with the open facts of this family's history. But what of its inner life? Who knew it? Did any one?

CHAPTER VII.

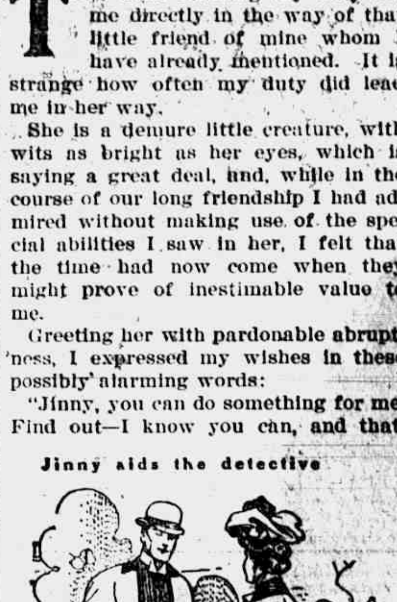
The next morning my duty led me directly in the way of that little friend of mine whom I have already mentioned. It is strange how often my duty did lead me in her way.

She is a demure little creature, with wits as bright as her eyes, which is saying a great deal, and, while in the course of our long friendship I had admired without making use of the special abilities I saw in her, I felt that the time had now come when they might prove of inestimable value to me.

Greeting her with pardonable abruptness, I expressed my wishes in these possibly alarming words:

"Jinny, you can do something for me. Find out—I know you can, and that, too, without arousing suspicion or compromising either of us—where Mr. Moore of Waverley avenue buys his groceries, and, when you have done that, whether or not he has lately resupplied himself with candles."

Jinny aids the detective



The surprise which she showed had a touch of naivete in it which was very encouraging.

"Mr. Moore," she cried, "the uncle of her who—who"—

"The very same," I responded and waited for her questions without adding a single word in way of explanation.

She gave me a look—oh, what a look! It was as encouraging to the detective as it was welcome to the lover, after which she nodded, once in doubt, once in question and once in frank and laughing consent, and darted off.

I thanked Providence for such a self contained little aid-de-camp and proceeded on my way in a state of great self satisfaction.

An hour later I came upon her again. It is really extraordinary how frequently the paths of some people cross.

"Well?" I asked.

"Mr. Moore deals with Simpkins, just two blocks away from his house, and only a week ago he bought some candles there."

I rewarded her with a smile which summoned into view the most exasperating of dimples.

"You had better patronize Simpkins yourself for a little while," I suggested, and by the arch glance with which my words were received I perceived that my meaning was fully understood.

Experiencing from this moment an increased confidence, not only in the powers of my little friend, but in the line of investigation thus happily established, I cast about for means of settling the one great question which was a necessary preliminary to all future action—whether the marks detected by me in the dust of the mantel in the southwest chamber had been made by the hand of him who had lately felt the need of candles, albeit his house appeared to be fully lighted by gas?

The point aimed at was this: To obtain without Mr. Moore's knowledge an accurate impression of his finger tips.

The task presented difficulties, but these served only to increase my ardor.

Confiding to the lieutenant of the precinct my great interest in the mysterious house with whose suggestive interior I had made myself acquainted under such tragic circumstances, I asked him as a personal favor to obtain for me an opportunity of spending another night there. He was evidently surprised by the request, and being, as I have intimated, favorably disposed to me, he exerted himself to such good effect that I was formally detailed to assist in keeping watch over the premises that very night.

As I prepared to enter the old house at nightfall I allowed myself one short glance across the way to see if my approach had been observed by the man whose secret, if secret he had, I was laying plans to surprise. I was met by a sight I had not expected. Pausing on the pavement in front of me stood a handsome, elderly gentleman whose appearance was so fashionable and thoroughly up to date that I should have failed to recognize him if my glance had not taken in at the same instant the figure of Rudge crouching obstinately on the edge of the curb, where he had evidently posted himself in distinct refusal to come any farther. In vain his master, for the well dressed man before me was no less a personage than the whilom butt of all the boys between the capitol and the treasury building, signaled and commanded him to cross to his side. Nothing could induce the mastiff to budge from that quarter of the street where he felt himself safe.

Mr. Moore, glorying in the prospect of unlimited wealth, presented a startling contrast in more ways than one to the poverty stricken old man whose curious garb and lonely habits had made him an object of ridicule to half the town. I own that I was half amused and half awed by the condescending bow with which he greeted my offhand nod and the affable way in which he remarked:

"You are making use of your prerogatives as a member of the police, I see."

The words came as easily from his lips as if his practice in affability had been of the very longest.

"I wonder how the old place enjoys its present distinction," he went on, running his eye over the dilapidated walls under which we stood, with very evident pride in their vast proportions and the air of gloomy grandeur which signalized them. "If it partakes in the slightest degree of the feelings of its owner, I can vouch for its impatience at the free use which is made of its time worn rooms and halls. Are these intrusions necessary? Now that Mrs. Jeffrey's body has been removed, do you feel that the scene of her demise need hold the attention of the police any longer?"

"That is a question to put to the superintendent and not to me," was my deprecatory reply. "The major has issued no orders for the watch to be taken off, so we men have no choice. I am sorry if it offends you. Doubtless a few days will end the matter, and the keys will be given into your hand. I suppose you are anxious to move in?"

He cast a glance behind him at his dog, gave a whistle, which passed unheeded, and replied, with dignity, if but little heart:

"When a man has passed his seventh decade he is not apt to be so patient with delay as when he has a prospect of many years before him. I am anxious to enter my own house—yes. I have much to do there."

I remounted the steps, carelessly remarking:

"I'll see you again after taking a turn through the house. If I discover anything, ghost marks or human marks which might be of interest to you, I'll let you know."

It was necessary for the success of my plan that some time should elapse before I reapproached Mr. Moore. I therefore kept my word to him and satisfied my own curiosity by taking a fresh tour through the house. Naturally, in doing this, I visited the library. Here all was dark. The faint twilight still illuminating the street failed to penetrate here. I was obliged to light my lantern.

My first glance was toward the fireplace. Venturesome hands had been there. Not only had the fender been drawn out and the grate set aside, but the huge settle had been wrenched free from the mantel and dragged into the center of the room. Rather pleased at this change, for with all my apparent bravado I did not enjoy too close a proximity to the cruel hearthstone, I stopped to give this settle a thorough investigation. The result was disappointing. To all appearance—and I did not spare it the experiment of many a thump and knock—it was a perfectly innocuous piece of furniture, clumsy of build, but solid and absolutely devoid of anything that could explain the tragedies which had occurred so near it. I even sat down on its musty old cushion and shut my eyes, but was unrewarded by alarming visions or disturbance of any sort. Nor did the floor where it had stood yield any better results to the inquiring eye.

Inspecting the library fireplace

Nothing was to be seen there but the marks left by the removal of its base from the blackened boards.

Disgusted with myself if not with this object of my present disappointment, I left that portion of the room in which it stood and crossed to where I had found the little table on the night of Mrs. Jeffrey's death. It was no longer there. It had been set back against the wall, where it properly belonged, and the candelabrum removed. Nor was the kitchen chair any longer to be seen near the bookshelves. This fact, small as it was, caused me an instant of chagrin. I had intended to look again at the book which I had examined with such unsatisfactory results the time before. A glance showed me that this book had been pushed back level with the others. But I remembered its title, and had the means of reaching it been at hand I should certainly have stolen another peep at it.

Upstairs I found the same signs of police interference. The shutter had been fastened in the southwest room and the bouquet and wrap taken away from the bed. The handkerchief also was missing from the mantel where I had left it, and when I opened the closet door it was to find the floor bare and the second candelabrum and candle removed.

"All gone," thought I—"each and every clew."

But I was mistaken. In another moment I came upon the minute filings I had before observed scattered over a small stand. Concluding from this that they had been passed over by Durbin and his associates as valueless, I swept them, together with the dust in which they lay, into an old envelope I happily found in my pocket. Then I crossed to the mantel and made a close inspection of its now empty shelf. The scratches which I had made there were visible enough, but the impressions for which they stood had vanished in the handling which everything in the house had undergone. Regarding with great thankfulness the result of my own foresight, I made haste to leave the room. I then proceeded to take my first steps in the ticklish experiment by which I hoped to determine whether Uncle David had had any share in the fatal business which had rendered the two rooms I had just visited so memorable.

First satisfying myself by a peep through the front drawing room window that he was positively at watch behind the vines, I went directly to the kitchen, procured a chair and carried it into the library, where I put it to a use that to an onlooker's eye would have appeared very peculiar. Planting it squarely on the hearthstone—not without some secret perturbation as to what the results might be to myself—I mounted it and took down the engraving which I have already described as hanging over this mantelpiece.

Setting it on end against one of the jambs of the fireplace, I mounted the chair once more and carefully sifted over the high shelf the contents of a little package which I had brought with me for this purpose.

Then, leaving the chair where it was, I betook myself out of the front door, ostentatiously stopping to lock it and to put the key in my pocket.

Crossing immediately to Mr. Moore's side of the street, I encountered him, as I had expected to do, at his own

The little boy was on his knees in his little night dress saying his prayers, and his little sister could not resist the temptation to tickle the soles of his feet. He stood it as long as he could, and then said: "Please God, excuse me while I knock the stuffin' out of Nellie."

The cottagers and campers at Sand lake have a daily visitor in the shape of a large tame crow. He is an educated fellow and is want to appear early in the morning and chatter like a parrot. He will take his meals from the hands of the people and is very mischievious and rivals the coon in this respect.—Adrian Times.

During the funeral of Mrs. Luce in Jefferson Wednesday, lightning struck one of the large pine trees in the yard, stunning John Bowditch and Barney Boyle quite seriously and knocking one or two other people down. The hail in that vicinity did considerable damage to crops. Three pieces of corn in Steamburg are shredded and will amount to nothing.—Hillsdale Standard.

During the thunder storm Tuesday morning a straw stack and shed on the "Glatz farm" south of the village, was struck and burned together with a few tools. The loss is about $100. The place is owned by Charles Schlafer and had it not been for the prompt arrival and work of neighbors, his barn, which stood only 15 feet away, would have suffered the fate of the others. The heat fried the pitch out of the knots in the barn boards while the men kept lashing on water. Luckily the wind changed, otherwise it would have been impossible to save the barn. Lightening also struck barns in Scio and Lodi, burning one large barn belonging to Mr. Lobengayer.—Manchester Enterprise.

Birthday Party.

On Tuesday, Aug. 23, 1904, a very pleasant event occurred at the residence of one of our old pioneers, the wheel of time having performed its eighty sixth circuit, marking another mile stone passed in the life of Mrs. Sarah Curtiss Norcross. The day being an ideal one her many friends with her six children and members of their families made her their usual birthday visit, the "surprise" being dispensed with because of her feeble health. New acquaintances were formed, there being present two cousins of Mrs. Norcross, Mrs. Lida Goodwin, of Cassopolis, and Mrs. Emma Baker, of Petersburg.

A very enjoyable afternoon being passed, we were seated at the table daintily spread with everything good to tempt the appetite. After heartily partaking of the repast with our old and very much respected friends we returned to our various homes, wishing Mrs. Norcross many returns of her natal day and that each may bring brighter hopes and joys and that when the final shall have passed, the scale of time may fly up to perfect trust and peace in the bright Beyond.

Those present were, Mrs. Emma Baker, of Petersburg, Mich.; Mrs. Lida Goodwin, of Cassopolis, Mich.; Ethel Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Norcross, Misses Ruth and Ruba Norcross, John Paul Norcross, Mrs. Sarah Erskine, Mrs. C. M. Zack, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stout, of Elkton, Mich.; Mrs. J. J. McElroy, Mary McElroy, E. Miranda Goheen, Mrs. M. J. Cameron, of Portland, Mich.; Mrs. Watt Aten, Mrs. Gamble Kendee, Mr. and Mrs. J. Vance Goheen, Mrs. Mary Goheen, Mrs. Mary Gray, John H. and Wm. J. Norcross.

Mrs. James Gregg.

Esther Adams was born in Ireland Aug. 4, 1816. When about 20 years of age she was married to James Gregg and some time afterward came to this country settling in New York state, where the family remained for about 20 years, removing thence to Illinois and about 20 years ago came to Tecumseh, where she continued to reside up to the time of her death. She was the mother of 12 children of whom eight survive to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Gregg was a christian woman, a member of the Presbyterian church of this place. She loved the word of God and her well worn Bible revealed how diligently and constantly she studied its sacred pages. After a long life of christian service she has been called from the imperfect rest of earth to the perfect rest of Heaven, from the infirmities of age to the vigor of eternal youth, from the fading glories of this lower world to the fadeless glories of the Heavenly life.

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

A Coldwater man was fond of doughnuts rolled in pulverized sugar and one day recently when his wife placed some of the tempting dainties on the table, picked up one of them and took a liberal bite. A second later he realized that instead of sugar, the doughnuts had been rolled by mistake in salsoda. It is unnecessary to say that there was a spitting match for a short time.—Hudson Post.

DeWitt is the Name.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure, unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on the market. The genuine bears the name E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by C. A. Wright.

Perfect Health for All Women.

Zoa Phora Will End Your Troubles and Make Your Life a Joy—It Has Always Done This for Women and Always Will.

FREE TRIAL BOTTLE TO ALL WOMEN.

No matter how many doctors have tried and failed; no matter how many remedies you have used without results, Zoa Phora will cure you and your cure will mean something. It will be complete and perfect and permanent. It always has done this and always will. All the women who have suffered from any of the diseases peculiar to their sex and who have used Zoa Phora are to-day rejoicing in the security of perfect health and all the happiness it brings.

Zoa Phora cures all diseases and irregularities of women, misplacements, leucorrhea, suppressed and painful periods, flooding, piles, kidney, bladder and liver troubles and regulates the change of life. Not a mail arrives that does not bring letters from women who have been cured of some of these terrible diseases and whose lives have been made happy by the noble and wonderful work of Zoa Phora.

Mrs. George Sidle, McClure, Ohio, R. F. D. No. 1, says: "I was so nervous and broken down that I could not do my work. I doctored with two of our home doctors, and they said I had heart trouble. I had spells with my heart when it would beat so hard and then I would faint away. I received a sample bottle of Zoa Phora, which I took according to directions, and thought it was just what I needed, so I threw the doctor's medicine away and got a large bottle of Zoa Phora. It helped me so much that I bought two more bottles, and now I am well and strong. I do not have the spells with my heart since I took Zoa Phora and I am regular now, where before I took Zoa Phora I was very irregular and had severe pain at monthly periods. I have found it to be truly a 'Woman's Friend.'

"If anyone calls in person or writes to me, I will give them the particulars in my case. I hope this will help induce some suffering woman to try Zoa Phora."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free medical advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years; tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by C. A. Wright.

An untamed horse was last week being handled on the track at Hudson by Harry Baskerville. The brute showed his heels to his trainor, both landing fiercely upon his person, on the hip and abdomen and knocking him "galley west." Baskerville went up in the air and supposed he had been hit by a Lake Shore fast mail train. Dr. Eaton hopes he will be able to get him out of bed in the course of a week or two. Baskerville is certain that a horse's hoof is made of granite and weighs half a ton. —Adrian Press.

Good Plays.

It takes two things to make successful opera houses, good plays and good audiences. This season the New Bradley has been well patronized and every show has been good. The management is taking much pains in billing the house this season so that they may play no poor shows and if the patronage keeps up as well as it has begun there will be no necessity.

There are billed now, "The Devil's Lane," for this week Friday, Sept. 2, "Two Little Waifs," Lincoln J. Carter's new play, Sept. 5, David Higgins in "The Last Dollar," Sept. 8. All three fine companies and should draw good business.

The David Higgins company in "The Last Dollar," had an open date between Toledo and Jackson and Manager Bradley was fortunate enough to capture it, so look out for a first class show.

B. J. Pulver.

One year ago last month B. J. Pulver bought out Dr. W. D. Reed, who was interested in the B. J. Pulver & Co. business and now after one year's time, he is legally obliged to change the name of the firm, which will hereafter be B. J. Pulver.

Our friend, Pulver, has been very successful in business in Tecumseh and now has one of the strongest and best equipped drug stores in Lenawee county. His many friends, amongst the best of them Dr. Reed, are delighted to see him "go it alone" and wish him all success.

Notice.

The annual meeting of School District No. 7, township of Tecumseh, for the election of school district officers and for the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before it, will be held at the central school building on Monday, the 5th day of September, 1904, at 7:30 oclock p. m.

Dated, August 24, 1904.

BASE BALL

The Last Game of the Season was played with the MARSHALL ATHLETICS

Last Friday. A Number of Tecumseh Players have Joined other Teams.

The last game of the season was played here Friday afternoon with the Marshall team and was witnessed by a large audience. The Tecumseh team carried their horseshoes with them as they usually do, winning with a 2 to 1 victory over the visiting team.

The features of the game were four double plays, three of which were made by the locals. Both teams did very fast work, but 15 balls being pitched in three innings. For the first six innings but three of the Marshall players went to bat, in each inning being retired in one two three order.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Louis Striker left for Marshall yesterday morning.

John Furlong left yesterday for Jackson for a few days' stay.

Alfred Duvall returned to his home in Monroe Saturday morning.

W. B. Hyney, Tecumseh's third baseman, left Saturday for Albion.

Lloyd Knickerbocker and Lynn Bell left last Sunday to join the Montpelier, O., team. They played against Mt. Clemens yesterday and won in a ten inning game by a score of 7 to 5. The same teams play again today.

"A Devil's Lane."

A disputed strip of farm land furnished the plot and title of the cleverest four act comedy ever written. The "Evil Genius" himself has nothing to do with it. It is one of the brightest, merriest plays ever. The company has been selected with great care from the cleverest people on the stage and the cast is headed by those charming favorites, the El More sisters. Scenery, music and the specialties are all that could be desired by the most exacting. This superb attraction will be at the New Bradley opera house on Friday, Sept. 2.

Lecture Course.

The Woman's Federation of Clubs have secured the dates for the lecture course, the first, Haskill's Indian Band, coming Thanksgiving night, Nov. 24, 1904.

McDowill, Lecturer, Dec. 8, 1904.
Ovid Musin, Violinist, Jan. 6, 1905.
The Four Stars, Feb. 1, 1905.
Lorado Taft, Sculptor, Feb. 23, 1905.
Driver, Lecturer, March 29, 1905.
$1.50 for the course.

Col. Johnson.

Early yesterday morning Col. Johnson was seen on the streets of Tecumseh. He has been for some time living in Toledo but "blew in" here some time between Saturday night and Monday morning. The "Colonel" is looking well. The last report in Tecumseh was that he was drowned but he says you could not "kill him with an axe" and no doubt this is true. His friends were all glad to see him.

End of Bitter Fight.

"Two physicians had a long and stubborn fight with an abcess on my right lung" writes J. F. Hughes of DuPont, Ga., "and gave me up. Everybody thought my time had come. As a last resort I tried Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. The benefit I received was striking and I was on my feet in a few days. Now I've entirely regained my health." It conquers all coughs, colds and throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright. Drug store price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Miss Kate McGinnis, daughter of a farmer living near Deerfield, was badly injured by having her hair caught in a revolving shaft when passing too near a windwill that was being used to grind feed. Her hair was torn out by the roots and her scalp severely injured. Her condition is critical.—Adrian Times.

Vociferous screams followed by the report of a gun were alarming noises that broke the evening's quiet in the northeast part of town Sunday and it seemed as though a small war might be in action on Russia street. There was trouble sure enough and two women were in full retreat. It was only a muskrat that chased the screams out of two frightened women who didn't know but it might be a bear. A man finally appeared with a gun and put an end to the career of the woman chaser.—Brooklyn Exponent.

Though our timepieces are frequently in error, few of us ever miss seeing that man!

SIMPLE WAY TO CURE DYSPEPSIA

"Take a Mi-o-na tablet after each meal," says C. A. Wright.

With Mi-o-na there is no bother of guessing at the dose or using so many spoonsful or anything of that kind. This valuable remedy for the cure of dyspepsia is in tablet form and is the simplest way to cure the disease.

"Just take one Mi-o-na tablet after each meal," says Druggist C. A. Wright, "and in a few days you will find digestion improved, health returning and good, solid flesh added." This remarkable remedy is not a mere digestive; it mingles with the food and is readily assimilated by the system. It aids digestion and regulates and strengthens the whole digestive tract, so that after its use for a short time healthy and natural action is restored to the stomach and bowels.

Mi-o-na may properly be termed a flesh-forming food, as when it is used every part of the body fills out with solid flesh and all the outlines become beautiful and symmetrical.

Mi-o-na is not an ordinary pepsin preparation to simply aid digestion, but it is a scientific remedy that gives health and strength, firm muscle and pure blood.

No one runs the slightest risk in purchasing it, for C. A. Wright will give his personal guarantee with every 50c. box he sells to refund the money if it does not cure.

Miss Adeline B. Tilton.

Miss Adeline B. Tilton died at the home of her nephew, Elbridge Hyde, on west Chicago street Friday, Aug. 26, at noon of bowel trouble. Miss Tilton was born in New York Dec. 2, 1861, her age being 87 years, 8 months and 24 days at the time of her death. For several years Miss Tilton has made her home with her nephew, Elbridge Hyde, was devoted to those with whom she lived and was an exemplary christian. Just one week before the day she died she was taken ill and all that could be done was done for her but of no avail.

The funeral was held from the house on Sunday, where a large concourse of friends gathered to hear the last sad rites performed by Rev. Louisa Haight, former pastor of the Universalist church. The remains were laid at rest in Oakwood.

First Legislative District of Lenawee County Convention.

The First Legislative District of Lenawee county will meet in convention on Saturday, Sept. 10, 1904, at Tecumseh. Townships representing said district are, Woodstock, Rollin, Cambridge, Rome, Franklin, Adrian, Clinton, Tecumseh, Raisin, Blissfield Deerfield, Riga, Macon, Ridgeway, Palmyra.

The convention will be called to order at one o'clock, standard time.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Hyomei only guaranteed cure for this common and disagreeable disease.

Hyomei cures catarrh by the simple method of breathing it into the air passages and lungs. It kills the germs of catarrhal poison, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane and effectually drives this disease from the system

If you have any of the following symptoms, catarrhal germs are at work somewhere in the mucous membrane of the throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs.

Offensive breath, dryness of the nose, pain across the eyes, pain in back of the head, pain in front of the head, tendency to take cold, burning pain in the throat, hawking to clear the throat, pain in the chest, a cough, stitch in side, losing of flesh, varible appetite, low spirited at times, raining of frothy mucous, expectorating yellow matter, difficulty in breathing, frequent sneezing, huskiness of voice, discharge from the nose, stoppage of the nose at night, aching of the body, droppings in the throat, mouth open while sleeping, tickling back of the palate, formation of crusts in the nose, dryness of the throat in the morning, loss of strength, spasms of coughing, cough short and hacking, cough worse nights and mornings, loss in vital force, a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest.

Hyomei will destroy activity of all catarrhal germs in the respiratory organs and in a few weeks the cure will be complete.

This is a strong statement, but C. A. Wright emphasizes it by agreeing to refund your money if Hyomei does not cure.

Cure or Hay Fever.

Hyomei is a positive cure for the sneezing, watering of the eyes, excessive running at the nose and intense burning of hay fever. It soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane and gives quick and lasting relief.

SECRETS

At the Price of Suffering.

Woman on her way to semi-invalidism caused by pregnancy suffers much pain. Ignorance prompts her to suffer alone in silence and remain in the dark as to the true cause—motherhood.

Mother's Friend takes the doctor's place and she has no cause for an interview. She is her own doctor, and her modesty is protected. Daily application to the breast and abdomen throughout pregnancy will enable her to undergo the period of gestation in a cheerful mood and rest undisturbed.

Mother's Friend

is a liniment for external use only. It would indeed be shameful if the sacrifice of modesty were necessary to the successful issue of healthy children. All women about to become mothers need send only to a drug store and for $1.00 secure the prize childbirth remedy. Healthy babies are the result of useing Mother's Friend. Our book "Motherhood" mailed free.

IT MUST BE TRUE.

Tecumseh Readers Must Come to That Conclusion.

It is not the telling of a single case in Tecumseh, but scores of citizens testify. Endorsement by people you know bears the stamp of truth. The following is one of the public statements made in this locality about Doan's Kidney Pills:

S. Erskin, proprietor of the wellknown barber shop, says: "For ten years off and on I had a dull pain in my back, imperfect action of the kidneys, and often I could hardly stoop or get up again. I think it was caused by standing so much at my work. I was in bad shape. I used a great many medicines, but without receiving much benefit until Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice and I got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store. I must confess that I was agreeably surprised, for after using one box I was much relieved. After the use of two boxes my back is stronger and better than it has been in a long time. Doan's Kidney Pills are the best medicine I have ever used and I have such faith in them, I believe I will be conferring a kindness on those suffering from kidney trouble in making known their merits."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

If all women who look back were turned into salt pillars the streets would be full of statues.

A blessing alike to young and old; Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Nature's specific for dysentery, diarrhoea and summer complaint.

After listening to a poor young man's tale of woe it's up to the heiress to give him a helping hand.

"I had a running, itching sore on my leg. Suffered tortures. Doan's Ointment took away the burning and itching instantly and quickly effected permanent cure." C. W. Lenhart, Bowling Green, O.

Five Hurt In Collision.

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 29.—Five persons were injured in a head-on collision between two interurban cars near here. The westbound car, running from Grass Lake to Jackson, collided with the eastbound car, running from Jackson to Wolf lake, owing to the motorman of the latter car mistaking a special for the westbound car and moving his car out of the switch. Both cars were badly wrecked and the five people were seriously but not fatally injured.

Heroine to Receive Reward.

Menominee, Mich., Aug. 29.—A sum of money has been subscribed by Menominee citizens to purchase a gold medal for Gertrude Swazer, the heroine who piloted a party of five children across the waters of Green bay Thursday night during a heavy storm, when the waves rolled thirty feet high and all the steamships remained in port. Her courage saved the entire party, as she remained at the oars until her hands were raw. She may receive a Carnegie medal.

Jackson's New Mystery.

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 29.—Joseph Cobb, a farmer living near Norville, dug up the skeleton of a man on his farm and so far no light has been cast upon the mystery. Amateur sleuths are looking up the murder record, but have so far been unsuccessful in making any more startling discovery than that Cobb did.

Music Cost His Life.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Paul Palmer Knapp, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Knapp of Oak Park, has paid with his life for his devotion to his musical career. Young Knapp, who was an untiring student, and the constant pressure of the instrument on his leg led to osteo-sarcoma. Change of climate proved unavailing and it was found necessary to resort to amputation. Death followed from shock.

Six Persons Drowned.

Skowhegan, Me., Aug. 29.—At least five, and perhaps six persons have lost their lives during the past two days while fishing in the southern part of Somerset county. Four were drowned Saturday at Hayden lake, about six miles from here, while the bodies of two others were discovered in a pond at Mayfield, twenty-five miles to the north.

Waylaid and Robbed.

Marshall, Mich., Aug. 29.—The holdup epidemic has finally reached Marshall, Charles Stage, a baker employed by Samuel Clark, being the first victim. He visited his brother in Jackson Saturday, returning that night on the last interurban car. Some time during the night he was waylaid and robbed of about $40 in cash, and his watch was taken but returned. He was struck two terrible blows with brass knuckles and rendered unconscious. A severe gash was inflicted upon his forehead, requiring several stitches. Sheriff Furner has several local characters spotted, but Stage refuses to give full particulars and does not want the parties prosecuted.

Doctor's Wife Sues For Divorce.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 29.—A sensational divorce suit has been started here by Mrs. E. L. Moore against her husband, Dr. Moore. An injunction restraining the latter from interfering with his wife or their six-year-old daughter has been issued. It is alleged by Mrs. Moore that her married life was happy until a year ago, when Mr. Moore's love grew cold and she was urged to apply for a divorce. It is intimated that a young woman employed in the doctor's office is responsible for the trouble and some racy testimony is anticipated.

Is Penfield at It Again?

Jackson, Mich., Aug. 29.—John Penfield, the 69-year-old horsethief who escaped from the prison Friday night, has been traced as far as Rives, where Saturday night a horse was stolen from John Losey. There is no further clue, except that a horse is said to have been found loose near Albion.

Ground Beneath Car Wheels.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 29.—Louis Ducq, a tailor, aged 35 years, attempted to board a rapidly-moving special car bound for Detroit, after attending some festivities at Grosse Pointe, early Sunday morning and was hurled beneath the wheels and literally ground to pieces. He died shortly after.

Sore at P. M. Railway.

Bay City, Mich., Aug. 29.—Bay City M. N. G. members are sore at the Pere Marquette road officials because Sidney Lake, an employe of the road, was fired for attending the state encampment at Ludington.

Given an Ovation.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 29.—The Maccabee drill team from here, which took third place in the St. Louis contest last week, was given a big ovation upon its return to this city. The team was awarded a $200 prize.

Burglary In Gaylord.

Gaylord, Mich., Aug. 29.—F. A. Kramer's dry goods store was entered by burglars during the night. About $50 worth of dry goods were taken. It was probably the work of amateurs.

Likely Murder and Suicide.

Cincinnati, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Amanda Harter, aged 38, and James Leonard Druein, aged 29, were found dead in a flat on Race street under circumstances that indicated murder and suicide. With them lived Fannie Harter, aged 14, the niece and foster-daughter of the woman. Mrs. Harter came here originally from Macon, Ga. It is reported that the girl and her foster-mother were jealous of each other on account of Druein, who had rented a room of Mrs. Harter. The theory most credited is that Mrs. Harter, in a jealous fit, gave the girl a beating, that Druein interfered, strangled Mrs. Harter to death and afterward mutilated the body with a hatchet. Then it is believed that he asked the girl to elope with him. When she refused to go with him it is supposed he killed himself by shooting.

Alaska Cable Completed.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 29.—The final splicing of the Seattle-Sitka government cable was made Sunday in the harbor, ten miles out of Seattle. Ten minutes later Mayor Ballinger of Seattle cut the rope holding the joined ends of the wires aboard the United States cable ship Burnside, and with a splash the completed wire connecting the United States and Alaska fell to the bottom of Puget Sound and the work of months on the part of the signal corps of the United States army was completed. The cable touches at Sitka, Juneau and Skagway.

Fruit Shippers Complain.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—The interstate commerce commission will meet in Chicago Sept. 27 to investigate complaints of Michigan fruit shippers that several eastern roads are discriminating in favor of Armour & Co. in the matter of rates on carload shipments of fruit.

Suffering

Will Not Help Your Disease, but Will Weaken Your Nerves.

Folks who think it is better to bear pain than soothe it—are wrong.

Old-fashioned doctors used to say it was better, because they had nothing with which to ease pain but dangerous, heart-paralyzing drugs.

But now, that a safe remedy has been found, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, it is wrong to suffer, for nothing can be gained but weakened nerves.

A safe rule to remember is: When in pain, take an Anti-Pain Pill.

This will soothe your quivering nerves.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain by restoring the natural secretions, in which they differ from opium and similar narcotic drugs, which relieve pain by checking the action of the glands.

They are sure and harmless, and are the latest medical treatment for the cure of Headache, Neuralgia, Backache, Rheumatism, Dizziness, Toothache, Stomachache, Menstrual (Monthly) Pains. Also nerve irritations like Sea-Sickness, Car-Sickness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, etc.

Pleasant to take, quick in results.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for sick, nervous headache, and have received the best results. I heartily recommend their curative properties, for they are successful."—REV. RAY A. WATROS, D. D., Iowa City, Ia.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy and then a dose of castor oil and the disease may be checked in its incipiency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all druggists, Tecumseh, Mich.

Belgium Oil Fields Ablaze.

Antwerp, Aug. 27.—The oil tanks at Hoboken, three miles from here, containing about 26,500,000 gallons of petroleum, are ablaze, together with all the sheds, wagons and paraphernalia. The fire started at the Russian company's tanks, through the ignition of escaping gas and the flames quickly spread to the Standard Oil Co.'s tanks. A high wind fanned the fire. Troops are assisting the firemen to localize the conflagration.

Will Retire From Politics.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 29.—David B. Hill, in conversation with friends here, announced that he intends to retire from politics Jan. 1 next and that no matter what the result of the coming campaign may be in state or nation he will relinquish the leadership of the Democratic party in New York. He added that in the event of Democratic success this fall he would not accept any position under the national or state Democratic administrations or again become a candidate for election to any office whatever. Former Senator Hill made these statements on the eve of his birthday anniversary, which occurs today. He was born Aug. 29, 1843.

Earl Grey to Be Appointed.

London, Aug. 29.—In political circles here it is now considered almost certain that Earl Grey will be the successor of Lord Minto as governor-general of Canada, and not the Duke of Marlborough, as many had expected. Earl Grey, who is one of England's most prominent peers and who so successfully governed Rhodesia, is a close friend of Prime Minister Balfour, and it is known that the premier has asked him to accept the position. He is well known in America, which country he has visited several times.

Burned by Fiery Acid.

New York, Aug. 29.—Two men were killed and two others fatally injured by the falling of an elevator at the Babbitt soap factory on Washington street. On the elevator with the men when it fell were eight carboys of muriatic acid, each weighing 185 pounds. These broke open and all four men were badly burned. The dead men are Thomas Prince and George Bonnett, and the injured are Louis Heinman and R. Francisco.

An Open Letter to the Public

FROM A WELL-KNOWN DRUGGIST

To Whom It May Concern:

Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines and their value. We want to say to every man, woman and child in this vicinity that the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil,—the best tonic reconstructor, health restorer and strength-creator we have ever sold in our store is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine; it contains no injurious drugs, and it actually does contain all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil, and is delicious to the taste.

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest strength-creator for old people, weak, sickly women, children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

Vinol is sold on a positive guarantee. Call and get a Vinol booklet.

Horse Shied at Auto.

Three Rivers, Mich., Aug. 27.—While driving in a rig an automobile owned by L. C. Miller of this city frightened Thomas Weston's horse and he was thrown out, breaking a leg and otherwise injuring himself, so that he may die. Weston is a farmer over 70 years and lives just west of here. Farmers are getting indignant because there is no limit to autos' speed in the county

Jealousy Led to Crime.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Jealous because of the attentions paid his stepdaughter by her sweetheart, Lorenz Lentsch last night attempted to kill both with a revolver and then ended his own life in his home at 21 Aubert avenue. Augusta Guth, 20 years old, the stepdaughter, was shot in the back as she sat at a piano, while her sweetheart, Edward Moeller, was shot in the right thigh as he stood beside her. Lentsch shot himself through the heart after he believed he had committed a double murder. The girl will die. Lentsch is said to have been in love with his stepdaughter.

"Water Won't Tell."

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 29.—A key has been found in the park near the American falls, with a card attached, on which was written "Good-bye, world, water won't tell, 822." The police learned that the key belonged to the Prospect house. It fitted the door of a room engaged by L. M. Halery of Charlestown, W. Va.

Four Seriously Hurt.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—In a head-on collision between two passenger trains on the Pittsburg division of the Baltimore & Ohio near Glenwood last night four persons were severely hurt and ten or twelve sustained minor injuries. Injured: T. Lynch, engineer, both legs crushed, may die; —— Heacock, conductor, head, face and body cut and bruised; Mildred Kuinea, infant, head and face cut, serious; Mrs. James Crawford, Washington.

Kidney Diseases Worst of All.

How to Cure These Dangerous and Fatal Maladies.

No one can afford to let a kidney disease continue unchecked a moment after he has discovered its presence. This is especially true of Bright's disease, the most dangerous and fatal of them all. The treacherous manner in which it attacks its victims enables it to become firmly established before its presence is discovered.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure never fails, and is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestions, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust deposits, cloudy urine, pains in the back and kidneys, retention and incontinence of urine, bed wetting, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genito-urinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.

"Your Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is a most excellent remedy as I know from my personal experience with it. I have had serious kidney and bladder trouble with considerable pain. This was a repetition of trouble a year back. I tried one bottle, and the relief was so great, I ordered two bottles of you by express, and am glad to say that I am all right now and recommend this medicine fully to any one suffering with these difficulties."

Truly yours, W. F. Black, Cleveland, O.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR
Cures Colds; Prevents Pneumonia

Just a Moment, Please!

Why not let The Royal Tailors of Chicago make your fall suit or overcoat? When delivery is made, there will also be delivered a direct guaranty covering the quality of goods, the style and fit of the garments and the workmanship.

And that guaranty is worth one hundred cents on the dollar to you. It means that you are to be satisfied with the garments when you get them—satisfied that they were made expressly for you, to your own measure—and it means that they will wear well, give you good service, and hold their shape as rightly-tailored garments should.

The cost of Royal tailoring is so low that you might almost think price was the first consideration. But it isn't. Value is first. Value-giving is at the basis of The Royal Tailors' success. The best for the money always—that is the Royal idea.

Customers of The Royal Tailors are invited to guess how many people will attend the World's Fair at St. Louis. They offer prizes consisting of ten Automobiles, to be given to the ten persons making the closest guesses. The cost of these Automobiles is $13,700. There are also eight cash prizes of $100 each, making the total value of the prizes $14,500. For every dollar you pay on an order for Royal tailoring you can make one guess; on a $15 suit you can make fifteen guesses, and on a $20 suit you can make twenty guesses, and so on—a guess for every dollar.

The Royal Tailors carry a million-dollar stock of woolens—something sure to please everybody; suits and overcoats for men and boys—ladies' man-tailored skirts and coats—all made strictly to measure at an actual proven cash saving of fully twenty-five per cent.

But the thing to do is to see the goods and get the prices. You can do that by calling on

NEW HOME DEDICATED

Three Thousand Oddfellows Assembled at Jackson.

REBECCAS WERE ALSO THERE

Dedicatory Exercises Under Direction of Grand Master Daley of Kalamazoo—Exhibition Drill Held—O'Donnell Was Ill—His Address Read.

Jackson, Mich., Sept. 1.—The new Oddfellows' home was dedicated here Wednesday, about 3,000 members of the order, including Rebeccas, being in the city from various points in the state.

The long line of Oddfellows formed down town in the morning and marched out to the home on Wildwood avenue, where an informal reception was held. In the afternoon exercises began with a speech by Col. Robinson of Detroit. The dedicatory services were under the direction of Grand Master F. H. Daley of Kalamazoo. Grand Secretary H. N. Wilder of Kalamazoo acted as grand marshal. The principal speech of the afternoon was made by F. C. Badgley, prosecuting attorney of Jackson county, and was along the line of an historical survey of the work of the order in Michigan.

O'Donnell Was Ill.

Hon. James O'Donnell was slated for a speech on behalf of Jackson Oddfellows, but was prevented by illness from being present, and his paper was read by A. H. Traver. Others who took part in the exercises were: D. E. McClure of Lansing, grand chaplain of the order; Grand Warden C. H. Haskin and wife of Jackson, and Col. Chris Rath of Jackson, who acted as marshal of the day.

After the dedicatory exercises were concluded an exhibition drill, given by Detroit Canton No. 1, Patriarchs Militant, finished the doings of the day.

An Incident.

An incident that was not down on the program was participated in by Canton No. 38 of this city. The canton was taking part in the exhibition drill on Main street when the city officials turned in a false fire alarm so that the visitors might see the fire department in action. The canton had halted in the middle of the street near the engine house as the department dashed out and came at breakneck speed toward the military line, which was standing at "parade rest." Although the horses were coming directly toward the line not a man offered to move one step until in a ringing voice Capt. C. R. Workman gave the sharp commands for "attention," "backward guide right," when the canton moved in perfect order just out of the way of the charging team. The excellent discipline displayed in this action brought forth rounds of applause from the people who were watching the drill.

Lenawee Farmer's Predicament.

Adrian, Mich., Sept. 1.—A prominent Madison township farmer, whose name is withheld from the public, will have to pay a note for $500, collection of which is being forced, or have his wife proceeded against for forgery. It appears that he did not know of the existence of the note until yesterday, when it was presented with a batch of others purporting to be signed by him.

To Build Theater.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 1.—A company has been formed here to erect a new theater on the Wagner property on South Main street. The promoters of the new company are Frank Case, manager of the Ypsilanti opera house, and Louis J. Liesmer. The building will be strictly up-todate and is expected to be ready for occupancy by Jan. 1.

Dog Chewed Child's Face.

Ypsilanti, Mich., Sept. 1.—Frank Lockhead, aged 7 years, was bitten by a shepherd dog on the farm of Charles Combs. The child's face was terribly lacerated.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

Has world wide fame for marvelous cures. It surpasses any other salve, lotion, ointment or balm for cuts, corns, burns, boils, sores, felons, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, chapped hands, skin eruptions; infallible for piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at C. A. Wright's, druggist.
